

Student Vote May Be Held By Recheck

Large Discrepancy Noted In Addresses Given Clerk and Census

Koke Says Not Definite Decision Yet Made

No further action had been taken by authorities up to a late hour yesterday afternoon relative to discrepancies between permanent addresses given by students when registering for voting in the city of Eugene municipal elections and the permanent addresses given to the federal census takers.

However, according to J. H. Koke, district census supervisor, a recheck may be made later of those houses with whose figures he is dissatisfied, but probably not for some time because of the pressure of work in the office.

Such a recheck, if made after election time, May 16, will not save the students from a challenge of their vote. He still has 30 days in which to make this check.

According to County Clerk W. B. Dillard yesterday afternoon, no action will be taken by him at the present time, as his office is not concerned with the matter.

"However," he said, "if anyone wishes to check back on the records of my office that is his (the student's) funeral. I haven't anything to do with it."

When and if a recheck is made, according to Mr. Koke, he will require all the members of the houses to make out individual census slips showing from which place each individual desires to be registered.

Wednesday afternoon Mr. Koke and Mr. Dillard released figures showing that a large percentage of students in the fraternities in precinct 22 had registered in Eugene for the municipal elections, giving the fraternity houses as their permanent residences. In direct contrast to this, the census figures show an overwhelming number of students living in these same fraternities as giving their permanent addresses elsewhere than Eugene.

Some lucky cuss at Tomona college will get to escort Clara Bow to the Junior Prom where she is to be the guest of honor.

Saturday Is Deadline For Fee Payments

THERE are over a thousand students who have yet to pay their fees. Saturday noon is the deadline. After that time a fine of $3 for the first day and 25c for each subsequent day late will be added to the amount of unpaid fees," said E. P. Lyon, cashier.

"This delay on the part of students will cause long waiting lines and a great burden of work suddenly thrust upon the cashiers."

The windows open at 8 o'clock in the morning and Mr. Lyon strongly advises all who have not yet paid their fees to come early and avoid the waiting line.

Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Henry D. Sheldon, who is the following Pi Lambda Theta, spoke before the pledges, discussing the purposes and ideals of this organization.

Although tomorrow has been set as the last day for seniors to order caps and gowns and commencement invitations, only about half of them have turned in their orders so far, according to Marlon McClain, manager of the Co-op, where orders are being placed.

Mr. McClain urges that all seniors place their orders immediately, in order that the Co-op may order what equipment is necessary to supply the class for commencement.

The rental for caps and gowns is $2.50; commencement invitations sell for 11 cents each, and leather-covered souvenir booklets are 60 cents.

Deferred Pledging Hypocritical, High Fraternity Group Charges

Underhand Methods Used By Greeks' Indictment Against Late System

Editor's Note: This is the sixth of a series of articles giving both arguments for and against deferred pledging in order to give some knowledge of the way the system might work if installed at the University of Oregon.

By RALPH DAVID

At the interfraternity conference held in New York City in November, 1929, a committee that had been appointed the year previous to make an exhaustive study of deferred pledging turned in its complete report with conclusions and recommendations. The report was unfavorable to deferred pledging.

In the report the committee submitted the following conclusions: "A survey of the reasons advanced for deferred pledging shows that they are reducible to just two: (1) to give the student an opportunity to know the fraternities; (2) to give the fraternities an opportunity to know the student."

"Yet the peculiar effect of deferred pledging is to produce the OPPOSITE result. Elaborate rules for non-intercourse are laid down, and severe penalties for violation are provided. This system of non-intercourse extends anywhere from three weeks to more than a year.

"Fraternities in Foreground The almost universal complaint against deferred pledging is that it keeps the student's mind centered on "making" a fraternity instead of getting down to business of study. Those colleges seem best satisfied which get rushing out of the way BEFORE the opening of college or during the first week. That mistakes are made on the part of both man and fraternity is admitted, but the settled state of the student body outweighs this disadvantage.

"Recommendations: Common sense dictates that the only way for a student to learn the fraternities and the fraternities the student, is to throw them together frequently. What is required is not an elaborate scheme of non-intercourse with a long term of deferred pledging, but a carefully planned system of intercourse, on honor, which shall get the parties acquainted in the shortest possible time."

Skulduggery Rampant

It has been found that where there is deferred pledging there is often hypocrisy, secret pledging, and solemn agreement. The temptation for the fraternities to transgress the rules laid down, and to secretly pledge some of the "prize" freshmen, is too great to resist. Even when a fraternity is caught breaking a rule the detector often refuses to lodge a complaint for fear that a counter charge may be launched.

With this secret promising taking place and some freshmen carrying pledge pins in their pockets until the pledging day, there results between fraternities an intensified rivalry and ill-feeling. At the same time, the secret rushing tends to have an ill effect on the scholarship of both the old and the new student.

Hoot Gibson gives his old time western fans a new thrill in "Trailing Trouble," opening today at the Rex theatre. As if riding and fighting were not enough to keep a cowboy busy, he throws in a few airplane thrills for good measure, including a spectacular parachute jump that is quite breath taking.

"The Virginian," with Mary Brian and Richard Arlen, is an American classic of pioneer days bound to thrill student's aboriginal psychology. It will keep them guessing trying to diagnose Walter Huston as the very convincing mad man.

"Young Nowheres" at the State is a typical Barthelme picture. Marion Nixon is a very good femme for pathetic Dick. "High Society Blues," and "Not So Dumb" are of course, major attractions at the McDonald and Heilig respectively.

Co-eds still blush—believe it or not, as Ripley might say. Anyway, that is the confession of women at Boston university.
