Games here this week: Oregon vs. Idaho, Wednesday and Thursday.

By PHIL COGSWELL

The Webfoot baseball team jumped back into the northern conference race last Saturday by taking both ends of a double-header from Washington State. Reynold "Big Train" MacDonald shut out the Cougars in the first game, 4 to 0, and allowed only five hits. Ken Scales pitched for Oregon in the nightcap. Washington State nicked him for two runs in the first and then staged a four-run rally in the sixth, but Oregon had a safe lead.

Nelson Doubles
In the first game the Webfoots gathered three of their four runs in the fourth inning. Carl Nelson doubled with one away. Then Chuck Hoag laced out a single to score him. Hoag was safe at second and Londahl at first when Lee muffed Londahl's grounder. Franny Andrews fanned, but MacDonald drew a walk. Kermit Stevens hit the ball just over the third baseman's head, and Hoag and Londahl scored.

In the eighth, three singles in a row by Andrews, MacDonald, and Stevens gave Oregon their final run.

In the second game the Webfoots scored two runs in the first, two in the second, and two in the third. Stevens, first man up, doubled.

Robie sacrificed, and then Cece Gabriel singled and Kramer Barnes completed the damage with a two-bagger. In the second three blows from the sticks of Minnaugh, Robie, and Nelson, along with a walk and two sacrifices, brought in two tallies. Minnaugh's double in the third scored Johnny Londahl and he counted later on a sacrifice fly.

Mitchell and McLarney, first men up for the Cougars in the sixth, greeted Scales with safe hits. Then two errors, a walk and another hit succeeded in giving the Staters four runs. However, this was not enough to match the Webfoots' seven-run lead and the game ended in the seventh.

Football Mix Set For Charity Fund Saturday's Game Last of Spring Practices

The last game of the University spring football season to be played Saturday afternoon, will be a benefit for the Eugene community chest, "Doc" Robnett, assistant graduate manager, announced yesterday. The game will be handled entirely by the chest drive promoters, and the proceeds will go to the fund.

University students may attend the game without paying an admission fee. However, in order to protect the chest people from non-students who might try to gain admittance free, Robnett has stipulated that all students must show their student body tickets at the gate.

Dr. Edwin T. Hodge To Talk To Journalists

The land where there are no journalists, and news travels without a newspaper, will be the topics described by Dr. Edwin T. Hodge, geologist and explorer, in a lecture to be given before the members of Sigma Delta Chi, men's journalism honorary, at a noon meeting in the College Side Wednesday.

The lecture, in which Dr. Hodge will give an account of his recent travels in Africa, will be followed by a short business meeting, at which officers of the group for the year 1930-1931 will be elected. Plans for the publication of the Green Goose, scandal sheet published yearly by Sigma Delta Chi, will be discussed at the meeting.

The Webfoots found themselves again Saturday and came through with a pair of wins over the Washington State nine. It seemed like old times for the Oregon ball tossers to come out on top and it looks like the Webfoots have hit their stride. Bill Reinhart and Ray O'Donnell have a hustling bunch and if the boys keep on hitting there is no reason why they should not be very much in the running for conference honors.

Reynold "Big Train" MacDonald looked like the MacDonald of two years ago and he easily pitched the best game for the past couple of seasons. Mac is unbeatable when he gets going and his fast ball was booming across the plate in fine style Saturday.

Buck Bailey came through in fine style and the crowd certainly enjoyed his antics. However, Bailey and Tyler Christian, the umpire, didn't get along quite so well and the wise-cracking Cougar mentor was sent to the stands during the second encounter. Buck is a great character and he is perhaps the best liked of all except Oregon coaches.

The Oregon sophomore hurler, Ken Scales, showed that he is a great prospect when he tamed the Cougars in the second game. Scales was hit rather hard but he is the type of fellow who learns a lesson from every game and he should develop into a great pitcher.

The Oregon sprint medley relay team walked off with first honors against Northwest conference teams at the annual Washington relays at Seattle Saturday. Coach Bill Hayward has built up a real quartet of runners in Lowry, Bale, McKennon, and Hill and the boys have won both of their starts this year.

Big Ed Moeller was defeated for the first time in two years in the discus by the bigger Paul Jessup, star Washington weight man. Ed hasn't been able to get the distance with his tosses since injuring his elbow in a sledging accident last winter. Last year there wasn't anyone in the Northwest who was able to come near his mark in the discus.

The Oregon golf team continued its march upon another coast title over the Eugene Country club course Saturday. Captain George Will and Yinc Dolp were low men and they look to be the cream of the conference divot diggers. Skeptics declared that Oregon would be lost without the services of Don Moe but the boys are showing fine form.

Coach "Doc" Spears has his football squad hard at work in preparation for the big Community Chest game on Hayward field next Saturday afternoon. The Webfoots will be divided into two squads and the boys will mix in a regulation game, the proceeds of which will go to help fill the chest coffers. The battle will wind up Spears' intensive spring practice program.

Wide Publicity Given To Press Conference

The Oregon Press conference, held here last February 7, 8, and 9, received wide publicity in the last issue of the Linotype News, published in New York City.

A complete story of the conference was accompanied by three photographs of the meet. One of them was of George Turnbull, professor of journalism and secretary of the conference, and L. D. Felsheim, editor of Bandon Western World, and president of the conference.

Dunn Will Read Paper At Faculty Association

Frederic S. Dunn, professor of Latin, will read a paper on a subject yet to be announced, at the second meeting of the newly-formed association of language teachers on the campus, Thursday, May 8. The meeting will be held at the Faculty club at 6 o'clock.

Golf Entrants Fine Mudders; Must Start Now

Begin Second Week Club Welding in Emerald Spring Handicap

Rounds To Continue Rain Or Shine, Says Short

Entrants in the Emerald's spring divot-digging handicap proved to be great mudders and the mashees of the campus start the second round of their club swinging today, according to Faulkner Short, chairman. The second stanza must be completed by Friday because of Junior Week-end activities. Golfers may don life preservers and play water polo if the water hazard proves too great, but the round must begin at once.

George Beechler, low medalist, came through in fine style to defeat Dick Harper in a close match, two up and one, and gained the second round. Beechler is paired with Charles Gruenig, nine up and seven, in the championship flight.

Other pairings in the championship flight are: Chuck Williams, three up and two, vs. Keith Hall, three up and one; Harold Ollinger, three up and two, vs. Wilston Johnston, four up and three, and Jerome Lillie, default, vs. Thomas Chave, four up and three.

Two Scores Announced

Because the scores of two of the matches in the first flight have not been turned in, only two pairs can be announced. The pairings of the other two matches will be published as soon as the scores are received. Pairings in the first flight are: Ellis K. Short, six up and five, vs. Bob Holmes, default, and Joe Freck, one up, vs. Bob Bishop, four up and three.

Two players in the second flight have no criterion of their opponents' strength except their qualifying scores. Wally Boyle, who drew a bye in the first round, is paired with Frank Young, who won by default. Other pairings in the flight are: Vernon Arnett, one up, vs. Wally Giles, four up and three; Bob Keeney, one up, vs. Phil Cogswell, three up and one, and Art Schoeni, four up and three, vs. Howard Hughes, five up and four.

Fraternity Brothers Vie

In scores received yesterday, Joe Freck and Don B. McCormick, members of the same fraternity, played a hotly contested match that went to the 20th hole. Freck won the match, one up, on the 20th. In other matches, Wilston Johnston defeated Steadman Shaw, four up and three; Harold Ollinger won from Bill Horner, three up and two, and George Beechler beat Dick Harper, two up and one.

WHAT seems like a slight difference, in one cigarette, grows mighty important in a month's smoking. You might take Chesterfield's silky mildness for granted—but just notice that it never tastes "flat." And where else but in Chesterfield will you find such delicate shading of flavor, such spicy aroma of choice tobaccos, such rich and satisfying character? Better taste is always important—and in Chesterfield it's "TASTE above everything"
