

Program For Mother's Day Is Completed

Registration Will Start on Friday Afternoon at Johnson Hall

Prizes Will Be Awarded Living Organization

The complete program for the annual University of Oregon Mothers' day, which is to extend over Friday, Saturday, and Sunday of Junior Week-end, was released last night by Miss Marian Phy, executive secretary of the University of Oregon Mothers' association.

Beginning with registration of the visiting mothers at the Administration building Friday and Saturday, the week-end is filled with events to be given in their honor.

Among the most important of these is the annual Mothers' day banquet, scheduled for 6 o'clock Saturday evening in Gerlinger hall. About 350 of the 850 available places have already been sold, according to Hugh L. Biggs, assistant dean of men, who is in charge of the sale of tickets.

The annual mass meeting of all the mothers, to be held in Guild hall at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon, will be featured by the election of officers for the coming year, and reports on the past year's work. Retiring officers of the mothers' association are Mrs. Walter M. Clark, Portland, president; Mrs. John Runyan, Roseburg, vice-president; Mrs. Wilson H. Jewett, Eugene, secretary; and Miss Marian Phy, Eugene, executive secretary.

Two affairs honoring the Oregon mothers—a breakfast Saturday morning and a tea from 2 to 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon—are being given by the Associated Women Students. Tau Delta Delta will hold a special Mothers' day vespers service Sunday afternoon, at which Mrs. Virginia Judy Esterly, dean of women, will read the scripture.

The executive committee of the Oregon Dads will hold its regular quarterly meeting Sunday morning at 9 o'clock, at the home of President Arnold Bennett Hall, with Paul T. Shaw of Portland presiding.

Official registration of the visiting mothers, to be provided for in the first floor lobby of the Administration building, will open Friday morning at 9 o'clock, and close at 1 o'clock Saturday.

Awards are to be given the men's and women's living organizations having the largest percentage of mothers registered on the campus for the week-end.

Mrs. F. A. Heitkemper, of Portland, will present a silver vase to the women's house winning the contest, and Mrs. Charles Hall, of Marshfield, will award a silver trophy to the men's house which places first. Both prizes will be on exhibition at the Co-op within the next few days.

The committee in charge of the awards includes Bess Templeton, chairman, Jane Cutlers, Eleanor Lewis, and Dorothy Teepe. Alberta Rives is in charge of registration.

The prizes will be awarded annually and will rotate from year to year until won three times by the same house.

Following are the committee chairmen for Mothers' day:

Student committees—General chairman, Kathryn Langenberg; assistant chairman, Joe Freck; awards, Bess Templeton; banquet, Reba Brogdon; registration, Alberta Rives; reports, Dorothy Thomas; decorations, Jack Card; vespers, tea, and style show, Dorothy Eberhard; secretary, Leone Barlow.

Faculty committees—General chairman, Earl M. Pallett; Leonard Hagstrom, Hugh L. Biggs, Mrs. Charlotte R. Donnelly, Miss Dorothy Thomas, George H. Godfrey, Max Adams, Miss Marian Phy, Paul W. Ager, Mrs. Maud H. MacDonald, and Dr. John F. Board.

Marquette will hold an all-university boxing and tennis tournament this spring.

"Yellow Jacket" Has All-Star Cast; Commencement Play Answers Call

Florence McNeerney

Addison Brockman

Loleta Jaeger

By CAROL HURLBURT

At last we have what the public craves: a campus production with an all-star cast.

The commencement play, "The Yellow Jacket," has a cast in which not only the leads but also the minor characters have played to University audiences time and time again.

Florence McNeerney, facile artist that she is, takes another kind of part in that of the nurse to Plum Blossom, the heroine. She is a dear, sweet kind of Chinese nurse, and very, very conventional-minded.

Loleta Jaeger abandons her usual role of "the nice woman" and fairy tale princesses to take the role of Chow Wan in the well-known love boat scene, where she lowers her fan to show the hero her eyes and the alluring contours of her lovely cheeks in attempting to lure him to paths of Pleasure and Ruin.

Addison Brockman usually plays not only the part of a fine uprighteous man, but also that of a thoroughly masculine and vigorous character. Now he has changed. He takes the part of the Daffodil, the chief villain and rival of the hero for name, fortune, honor, and heroine.

He is an aesthetic, charming, graceful villain, pitting brain against brawn. He is the kind who plots the downfall of the hero in the midst of his mulberry bushes, smelling of the blossoms from time to time to refresh himself. He was the Constable in "Escape," Titus in "The Ivory Door," and Olivier, the Barber, in "If I Were King."

All of these three persons are members of National Collegiate Players.

Gamma Phi Beta Tea Held in Honor Of Guest

Members of Gamma Phi Beta entertained yesterday with an informal tea at the chapter house honoring Mrs. H. L. Stover, national vice-president of the sorority, and Mrs. Earl Hovey, president of the alumnae chapter. About one hundred invitations were issued for the affair.

The rooms of the chapter house were decorated with spring flowers. Mrs. Josephine Stewart poured.

Mrs. Stover and Mrs. Hovey were guests of honor at a formal banquet held at the Gamma Phi Beta house last evening. The table was decorated with pink carnations and tapers.

Guests included: Mrs. Virginia Judy Esterly, Dr. and Mrs. C. L. Schwering, Mrs. Otilie Seybolt, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Johnson, Dr. and Mrs. John Straub, Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Stafford, and Mr. Hugh Biggs. Miss Jane Cookman was in charge of the affair.

Formal Dinner Dance Given By Phi Mu

Phi Mu held a formal dinner dance Saturday evening at the Eugene hotel. Table decorations consisted of rose tapers and spring flowers. Miss Mardell Herman was in charge.

Patrons and patronesses were: Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Tiffany, Mr. and Mrs. A. Baker, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. G. Thacher, and Miss Sue Badollett.

Kappa Kappa Gamma Has Sport Dance

Underclass members of Kappa Kappa Gamma entertained Saturday evening at the chapter house with a sport dance. Miss Maxine Myers made arrangements. Patrons and patronesses were L. W. Manerud, and Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Doane.

Betrothal Announced

The engagement of Miss Margaret Brooks, Portland, to Horace Cochrun, Oakland, California, was announced recently. Miss Brooks is a senior at the University, and Mr. Cochrun is a student at Oregon State college.

Short-Blackman
Miss Marilla Blackman and Eugene F. Short were married April

27 in Portland. Mr. Short is a graduate of the University of Oregon, where he was a member of Alpha Tau Omega. He also belongs to Sigma Delta Chi, national journalism honorary for men, and Alpha Delta Sigma, national advertising fraternity.

Sigma Alpha Mu Has Informal Dance

Tennis racquets and golf clubs lent a sporting atmosphere to the Sigma Alpha Mu informal dance which was held Saturday evening at Lee Duke's. Patrons and patronesses were: Dr. and Mrs. Leo Friedman, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Williams, and Mr. Richard Rohm.

Freshmen at the University of California are to be "kings for a day" soon when members of that class will take over all important campus offices and run them for a day.
