

Racquet Wielders Of Coast Schools Here Next Week

Seven Colleges To Enter Annual Tournament On May 16-17

Entries have been received from seven Pacific coast conference schools for the annual conference tennis championships to be held here May 16 and 17. California will be the only southern school that will not be represented at the meet.

Stanford will enter a four-man team in the meet in an endeavor to regain the championship lost to Oregon last year. The Cardinal quartet will include Ted Eston, No. 1; Lawrence Hill, No. 2; Harry Plymire, No. 3; and either Lawrence Driscoll or Charles Weeser, No. 4. Southern California will enter a two-man team.

The Montana Grizzlies will be represented in the tennis tourney for the first time in several seasons, and two men will make the trip here to compete. John Lewis, Montana state champion, will play No. 1 for the Grizzlies and the second man will be chosen from Ron Mackenstadt, Horatio Kilroy, or Eugene Sunderlin.

The racquet wielders to represent the University of Washington will not be chosen until after the dual meet with Oregon this week-end at Seattle. The Huskies will enter a four-man team. The Oregon State team has not yet been chosen but the Orangemen will enter the play. Washington State and U. C. L. A. have not yet entered but they are expected to be on hand when the tourney opens. Idaho has definitely announced that it will not compete in the meet.

The Webfoots, defending champions of the north, are well on their way to another title following a decisive victory over the Oregon State team recently. Sherm Lockwood and Stan Alquist, Oregon's two mainstays, are playing a great game and should give the southern players plenty of competition for individual honors.

The frosh baseball tossers ran up a score of 14 to 3 on the visiting Salem high school team on Reinhart field yesterday afternoon.

The Capital City squad played loose ball, making a total of nine errors, while the yearlings were scoring their runs on only seven hits. Jack Hughes, star freshman hurler, fanned eight Salem men in the five innings that he worked on the mound.

Summary: R. H. E. Salem high 3 7 9 Frosh 14 7 2 Batteries—Seguin and McCaffery; Hughes, Schmitz and Shaneman.

Oregon Fencing Team To Compete With OSC

Oregon's varsity fencing team composed of Lee Winetrot, Dick Waggoner, and Dave Killion, will compete in a round robin tournament at Corvallis today.

Washington State, and Reed college are also entering teams in the battle. This is O. S. C.'s first year in intercollegiate fencing and Coach Otto Mauthe's Beavers have shown to advantage having wins over both Oregon and Reed college to date. Of the Congrats, little is known except that Oregon defeated them at Seattle last year. Coach Warren Powell expects the Webfoot trio to repeat their defeat of Reed, and to even things with the Beavers by a win in this tournament.

Art Gallery To Show Display of Drawings

Drawings from the Lehigh Airports competition will go on exhibition in the gallery of the Art building today. The display is a reproduction set, including 32 drawings, comprising the 16 prize and honorable mention entries. The exhibition of the drawings is authorized by the Portland Cement company, and is being shown at a number of colleges and universities over the country, for the use of classes in architecture, engineering, and aeronautics.

King Football will again rule today with the big benefit game between the Pansies and Cream Puffs slated to be played on Hayward field. In a special interview last night, Austin Colbert and George Christensen, rival captains, confided that their respective teams are in tip top shape and each declared he was confident of victory. Of course one team must lose unless the contest ends in a tie but one thing may be relied upon—the boys will battle hard to win the climaxing event of the spring program.

Almost every varsity star of last year, along with several promising newcomers, will be found in the starting lineups. The teams have been evenly matched, with each squad boasting of several men who are very well known up and down the coast for their football prowess. Coach Doc Spears has arranged a variety of individual events and prizes will be awarded for the most proficient men in each event.

Naturally the most interest will be centered around Johnny Kitzmiller's showing. Kitz has not played since he broke a bone in his ankle in the annual Homecoming tilt against Oregon State last fall. Whether or not he will be his old self remains to be seen. For some time the attending doctors feared that the flying Dutchman would never again be able to cavort on the gridiron for Oregon but the injury is completely healed.

Godfrey Returns From Trip East About Drake Fray

Finds Oregon Well Known Through Dr. Hall's Active Program

After an absence of nearly a month, during which time he attended the annual meeting of the American College Publicity association in New York, and made preliminary arrangements for publicity for the Oregon-Drake football game to be played in Chicago October 3, George Godfrey, director of the public relations bureau, has returned to the campus.

"The Drake game is going to be the first big night football game ever played in Chicago," said Godfrey, "and is creating a great deal of interest in the Middle West. Oregon has a splendid chance to break into national prominence."

Everywhere he went Godfrey found great interest in the University. Much of this is due, Godfrey asserted, to Dr. Arnold Bennett Hall's progressive program as head of the institution. Particularly attracting the attention of easterners are the Mothers' and Dads' organizations, the work of the personnel bureau, and the lower division plan.

"Oregon is on the upgrade athletically, so far as the East is concerned," declared the public relations man, "largely because we have Doc Spears out here. Everywhere I went I found great interest in him."

The meeting of the American College Publicity association was held in New York university. Godfrey left Eugene about April 10 for the meeting, making the round trip via the Canadian Pacific railroad. The Canadian Rockies are especially beautiful this time of the year, he averred, and he found the trip very enjoyable.

Field for Ball Game Changed to Phi Deltas

MONDAY'S GAMES

Fiji-Sigma Pi Tau. Omega hall-S. P. E.

The baseball game between the department of economics and the law school is to take place on the field across from the Phi Delta Theta house, instead of the field behind the R. O. T. C. barracks as first announced. The game is scheduled for 10 o'clock Saturday morning.

The members of the law school team have been practicing this past week and held their last practice Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock on this field.

Travel Books Among New Ones at Library

Books of travel seem to predominate among the new books received at the library within the last week. "When You Go to London," by H. V. Morton; "Scotland for the Motorist," by J. Inglis Ker; "Ideal Italian Tour," by Henry Forman, and "The Epicure's now and Kitz declares that he is ready to go.

The rival teams have been working out for several days and last night Coach Spears sent the men through a snappy signal drill to top off training activities. Both teams looked to be in regular conference season condition and if it had not been spring one might have thought they were putting on the final touches for a regular conference game. Spears has certainly made the boys hustle in the spring training period and the hard work is reflected in their perfect condition.

Two downtown men have been serving as coaches for the two teams. Dave Graham, well known member of the board of strategy, has dubbed his eleven the "Board of Strategy Speedsters" while Obak Wallace, the famous pipe merchant, will call his squad the "Curbstone Coaches Orphans." Varsity track tryouts for the Washington meet and a grade school relay race will also be on the afternoon's list of events.

Real football atmosphere will be added to the occasion by the appearance of two bands at the game. The Oregon horn tooters will be togged in regulation form and will alternate with the Eugene high band. The affair is an annual event on Coach Spears' spring program and last year, while at Minnesota, Spears idea was a huge success.

Prince Campbell Art Museum Will Soon Be Finished

Building To Hold Murray Warner Exhibition and Indian Collection

Construction work on the Prince L. Campbell memorial art museum is nearing completion. Romanesque architecture has been used for the exterior design of the building. The exterior finish is in tapestry brick with cast stone trim.

One of the features of the building is the memorial court, which is now being constructed at the rear of the building. This court, which will be open to the sky, is to be surrounded by a covered corridor which will have smooth face brick and ornamental sculpturing.

A pool has been placed in the center of the court, and will be surrounded by shrubbery plantings suitable to the decorative motif. At one end of the court a fountain will play into a basin which will in turn empty a miniature cascade into a larger pool.

The entrance is yet to be constructed. It will be through an arch of the late Romanesque design which features light and attractive ornamentation.

In keeping with modern museum design and for the purpose of best preserving the valuable art collections, the building has no windows, and the interior will be illuminated exclusively by artificial light.

When completed, the museum will contain the fine arts collection belonging to the University, including the Murray Warner collection of Oriental art. The Warner collection, now in the Gerlinger building, will take up most of the space of the building, but there will be room for the North American Indian collections which are being collected by the University.

Century-old Japanese Book Given Library

A Japanese book which is 108 years old was added to the Murray Warner art library by Mrs. Murray Warner when she returned from the Orient this spring.

"Illustrations of Japan" is the title of the book which was written by M. Titsingh in French. The volume contains private memoirs and anecdotes of the reigning dynasties or sovereigns of Japan, and descriptions of the ceremonies observed throughout the year.

The book, which is beautifully bound in red morocco, contains several colored plates copied from Japanese original designs.

Spanish Teachers To Convene Here

State Instructors Eye Plans For Chapter

At least 25 teachers of Spanish from various sections of Oregon are expected to be in Eugene this week-end for the founding of a chapter of the American Association of Spanish teachers, according to Dr. Leavitt O. Wright, of the romance language department.

Thirty-five answers have been received from the questionnaires sent out with the invitations to Spanish teachers all over the state, asking their opinion and interest in forming an Oregon chapter of the association. This chapter, if formed, will make the fourth one on the Pacific coast.

The meeting for the forming of the chapter will be held at 10 o'clock this morning in room 5, Oregon hall. A tea will be given this afternoon at the Westminster lounge in honor of the visitors by members of Sigma Delta Pi, Spanish honorary and La Corrida de Todos, Spanish club.

Third and fourth year students of Spanish have been invited to bring their mothers to this function.

Frosh Paint Slingers To Yellow-up 'O'

Freshmen who are delegated to paint the concrete "O" on Skinner's butte must meet at the Sigma Chi corner at 8 o'clock this morning, Ted Park, chairman of soph-frosh events, announces.

All sophomores and freshmen other than the above are to gather on Kincaid field across from the Phi Delta house at 8:45 o'clock where green lids will be burned. After the ceremony sophomores and freshmen will battle in a tug-of-war on the mill-race.

Larry Bay, frosh president, urged yesterday that every freshman cooperate with the officials in turning out for the traditional soph-frosh mele.

"Today's activities are the only real traditions that remain for freshmen at Oregon. I want to see every freshman out for all of them, particularly the tug-of-war. If enough frosh are at the bridge today, I think we can get at least half the sophomores into the water."

Eating Place To Offer Prize for Best Name

Opening of their eating place at 8 o'clock yesterday morning, the managers of the addition to campus businesses, located between the Walora Candy Shop and Ye Old Oregon barber shop, are offering a prize of $5 in food or other forms of refreshment for the best name for the shop. Stebinger will be assisted in selling milk shakes, hamburgers, and light lunches by Art Potwin, Frank O'Bryant, and Paul Leedon, all students in the University.
