

Conditions Worse In East Than in West, Says Dean

Industrial Depression Is More Prevalent Than Is Realized

The industrial depression now prevalent in the country is much worse in the East than is generally realized by people of the Northwest, according to David E. Faville, dean of the school of business administration, who returned yesterday from a two-week trip to Washington, D. C., where he attended the annual session of the United States Chamber of Commerce as national councillor from the state chamber of commerce.

"I found industrial conditions much worse than I had ever suspected," Dean Faville reported. "Business leaders who attended the conference were obviously alarmed at the unfavorable outlook, but tried to maintain an optimistic attitude. An undercurrent of uneasiness could be easily detected, however."

More Serious Than Realized

"People in the Northwest do not seem to realize the seriousness of the unemployment situation and the industrial depression that is gripping other parts of the nation. The Northwest seems to be one of the few sections that is relatively lightly affected. That it is not so seriously affected is due, no doubt, to the fact that it is not an industrial section."

The session just completed is the first at which the Northwest has had any extensive representation, Dean Faville said. Sixty-seven delegates from Oregon, Washington, and Idaho attended the convention, traveling in a special car from Seattle to Washington.

The general theme of the meeting was "What is ahead for business?" The delegates were addressed on this topic by President Hoover, Arthur M. Hyde, and others.

Faville at Convention

Dean Faville remained in Washington only three days before traveling to Iowa City, where he participated in the national convention of the American Association of Collegiate Schools of Business, on May 1, 2, and 3. At this meeting he led a discussion on "The Functions of a Bureau of Business Research in a State University."

The return trip was made by way of San Francisco, where Dean Faville spent a day in looking up prospective members for the business school faculty.

Elect Three Girls To Pot and Quill

McDowell, Hurlburt, and Constantino Pledged

Three women were pledged to Pot and Quill, women's honorary writing fraternity at a meeting held Tuesday at the home of Constance Bordwell. Those elected are Elsie McDowell, graduate assistant in the English department, Carol Hurlburt, sophomore in journalism, and Rosa Constantino.

The basis for election into membership of this organization is active interest and talent evinced in creative writing. Present active members are Serena Madsen Scheffer, president; Rebecca Morgan, Bobby Reid, Constance Bordwell, Beatrice Bennett, Laura Mae Clithero, Elaine Henderson, Marjorie Shane, and Harriet McCloud. A meeting will be held Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. George Turnbull, alumnus of Pot and Quill.

The complete list of the stores offering awards follows: Golden Rule, Wade's, Fulops, Ragan and Bowman, White Electric company, Price Shoe store, Hendershotts, The Men's store, McGinty's service station, Quackenbush, Crown Drug company, Register Publishing company, Guard Publishing company; Morris Chevrolet company; Buster Brown Shoe store, Rainbow Cafe, Western Auto Supply company, Babbs Hardware company, Cressey's, Powers', Bill Hayward, Green Parrot.

In addition to the above prizes, the football men will compete in individual contests arranged by Doc Spears. Twenty events will be held and the donors are as follows: E. C. Simmons, Graham's, C. K. DeNeffe's, Booth-Kelly, Paul D. Green, Kodak, Stevenson Drug company, Tiffany-Davis Drug company, Bristow's, Osburn hotel, Coe's, McMorrin and Washburne, Jim, the Shoe Doctor, Standard Furniture, Callahan Furniture, Keke-Chapman, Obaki's, Lowell meat market, Baker Kodak Shop, Densmore-Leonard, Luckey's.

'Cyrano' Will Be Read Wednesday

Burton James To Render Rostand's Drama

Who doesn't love Cyrano, the man with the big nose... soldier, wit, poet, braggart, and lover?

Burton James of the Seattle Repertory Playhouse will read Rostand's "Cyrano de Bergerac" on Wednesday, May 14, at 8:15 at Guild theatre.

"Mr. James, who comes under the auspices of the drama division and National Collegiate Players, is well known in the world of the theatre for his splendid work in the Seattle Repertory Playhouse where he has been for a number of years," said Mrs. Ottilie Turnbull Seybolt, head of the drama division.

"His coming will offer an opportunity for hearing a revival of one of the best known of the late 19th century romantic dramas, which includes one of the best known characters in literary history... Cyrano."

Arthur True and Wife Visitors to University dormitories the sort of atmosphere and interest in the new students which the fraternity provides.

The objection that deferred pledging would destroy the incentive to high school graduates Dr. Kelly turned into an argument for the system. If the University is not strong enough to draw students through its own reputation, and must rely upon fraternity rushing for its rolls, then the University is bringing men who may not belong in college at all.

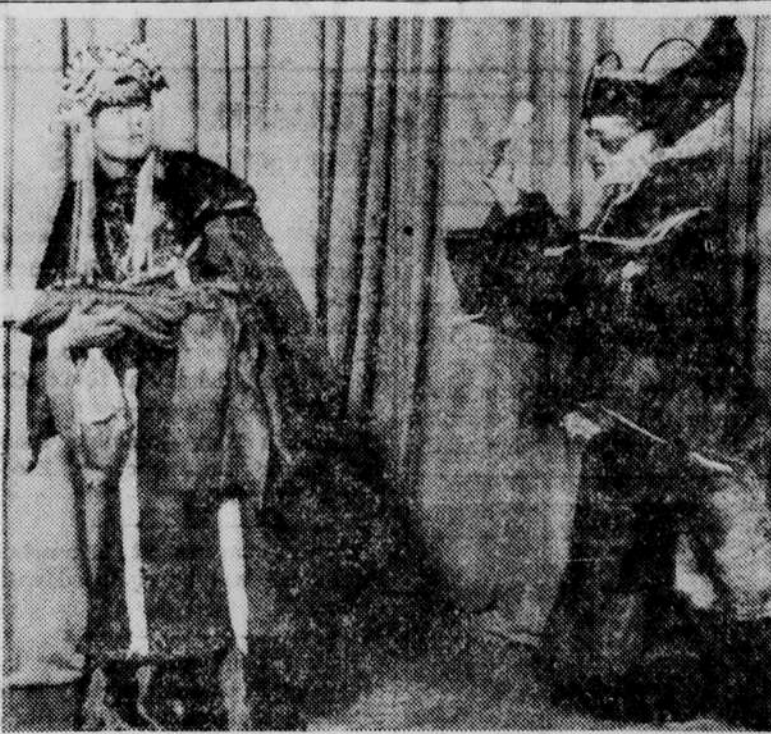

"We still have the idea that we are doing a boy a good turn by persuading him to go to college. Men enrolled through the rushing system, join fraternities, become dissatisfied, and then withdraw. Deferred pledging, with proper local conditions, would save fraternity and University energy."

Daphne Hughes Back From East

Attends Conference in Detroit

Daphne Hughes, recently elected president of the national Y. W. C. A. student council and assembly, returned to Eugene the first part of the week from the national conference which was held in Chicago for a short time on her return trip, but was unable to attend a conference in Denver, where she had planned visiting, for lack of time.

Being president of the Y. W. C. A. Miss Hughes will preside at a meeting of the national executive group which will be held at Heigtstown, New Jersey, the first week in September. Chairmen of the 11 regions of the Y. W. C. A. in conjunction with the Y. M. make plans for the coming year at this meeting.

in building such an entry in such a short time was very commendable.

"I certainly appreciate the cooperation shown by the houses entering floats this year," Hal Johnson, general chairman of Junior Week-end declared after the fete. "The fine spirit shown by the Kappas and Omega hall deserves special praise."

Sound moving pictures were taken of all floats as they came down the race by a staff of Pathe newsreel cameramen from Seattle and will be shown in the leading theatres of the country.

Music for the event was furnished by John Robinson's Varsity Vagabonds and the electrical effects were handled by the White Electrical Company.

JUST A FEW EXAMPLES Of what the Oregon Press thinks of Harry L. Corbett Republican Candidate for Governor

"Should Oregon entrust its government to him (Corbett) it will be in mighty good hands." — Sheridan Sun.

"He (Corbett) says that the state will be advanced more by hard work than oratory." — Grass Valley Journal.

"The fact that Harry L. Corbett was the only senator in the 1927 legislature who refused to accept the extra pay which the legislators voted themselves should not work to his disadvantage in his campaign to procure the republican gubernatorial nomination." — Ashland Tidings.

"Searching through all of the utterances made by candidates we find in the Corbett platform a gem to consider." — Klamath Falls Herald.

"With Mr. Corbett Governor there should be no pyramiding of bond issues, but there would be ways and means devised for legitimate, safe development." — Malheur Enterprise.

"The sanest platform that has been issued by any candidate in this generation is the one put forward by Harry L. Corbett, republican candidate for Governor. If there is any 'bushwah' in it we have not been able to locate it and that is a most unusual thing for a candidate." — Corvallis Gazette Times.

Speech Contest Held Week-end Of Graduation

Failing-Beekman Prize Contest Scheduled June 14

The Failing-Beekman oratorical contest will be held on the evening of June 14, Saturday of Commencement week-end.

Six students have already entered the contest, according to Walter E. Hempstead Jr., instructor in English. He urges all students who wish to enter to report to the speech division office before June 7.

The topics are optional, 1500 words in length, and those students entered in the contest are requested to turn in typewritten copy of their subject by the time of the preliminary which probably will come a few days before the final contest.

The Failing prize, not to exceed $150, is the income from a gift of $2500 made to the University by Henry Failing of Portland. It is awarded "to that member of the senior class in the classical, scientific or the literary course prescribed by the University, or such courses as may, at the time, be substituted for either of said courses, who shall pronounce the best original oration at the time of his or her graduation."

The Beekman prize, not to exceed $100, is the income of a gift of $1600 made to the University by C. C. Beekman of Jacksonville. It is awarded under the same conditions as the Failing prize, for the second best oration.

Stanford Men Guests At Sigma Pi Tau

Graham Young, Peter Heiser, and William Ferguson, members of Delta Upsilon at Stanford University, are visitors at the Sigma Pi Tau house this week-end. They drove north from Palo Alto yesterday with Rufus H. Kimball, president of the California-Oregon Dads. and Mothers association, who also will be a guest of Sigma Pi Tau for the next two or three days. Heiser holds a regular guard position on the Stanford varsity football team.

Junior Week-end Busy One; Mothers Are Entertained

The usual house dances, picnics, and other social events common to spring term have given place for once to Junior week-end affairs. Beginning with the campus luncheon and the tennis court dance, yesterday's events ended with the colorful Canoe Fete.

Today a number of affairs have been planned in honor of mothers who are guests on the campus for the week-end. A tea will be at 2 o'clock at Hendricks hall, and mothers will be guests tonight at the annual banquet at Gerlinger hall.

The evening will close with the last formal campus dance of the year, the Junior Prom.

Mothers Come From Idaho For Week-end

Mrs. Lois F. Gilkeson and Mrs. A. S. Hardy, both of Grangeville, Idaho, have the honor of coming the farthest for Mothers' day, of all the mothers registered up to closing time last night. Mrs. Gilkeson is staying with

Loving Cups Prizes
Silver loving cups will be offered the winners of three events, and there will also be second and third prizes.

The races will be run over a course from the portage to the Anchorage, and all entrants are requested to have their equipment at the portage by 10:30.

The committee in charge of the water carnival is as follows: Hal Fraundorf, chairman; Reina Eggersdorff, secretary; Sid Hoffman, business manager; Horace Allen, features; Ken Moore, canoe race; Ellise Sundborn, women's swimming race; Jim Gilbaugh, men's swimming race.

Edna Landros, graduate student in Spanish, was elected president of Sigma Delta Pi, national Spanish honorary, at a recent meeting held at the Westminster house. The other officers who were elected are Willmadene Richardson, vice-president; Juan Rael, secretary, and LeRoy E. Detling, treasurer.

Plans were made for the continuation of the honorary's activity during the summer session on the campus. The members who are here during the summer expect to hold an initiation at the summer session. There will also be several affairs given in honor of Moises Saenz, assistant secretary of education for the Republic of Mexico, who is to be here at the summer session, as it is now planned.
