Baseball Nine Loses Tilt 8-3; Rain Spoils Field And Delays Game

Contest Called in Seventh To Catch Train

Oregon's baseball team met defeat for the second time on its northern trip yesterday when it groveled in the mud to lose 8 to 3 to the Washington State Cougars.

This loss is the second at the hands of the same team in as starts on the trip and makes the Webfoot road percentage an even .500, two games having been taken from the Idaho Vandals at Moscow.

After waiting until 4 o'clock for the rain to stop the game was finally started on a very wet turf field, the regular diamond being too muddy to play on. Ken Seales started on the mound and was hit for three runs in the first frame. He was relieved by Dave Bloom in the third.

As the team had to catch a train the game was called in the seventh inning.

At least two games remain on the Webfoot schedule for the present trip, both of which will be played against the Washington Huskies at Seattle. Three games may be played in the Husky camp as one of the tilts scheduled for Eugene was cancelled because of rain.

The percentage of the Webfoot team is now .428 with five conference games remaining on the schedule.

The problem of unemployment will be used as the subject for the Jewett extempore speaking contest to be held next week, and all who are intending to enter the contest have been invited to attend the discussion.

Hayward oval found to be true quarter-mile; Oregon looks to be favorite against Oregon State.

All possible measures to assure the acceptance of Ralph Hill's new mile record have been taken and it remains to be seen what action the powers that be will take. The oval on Hayward field has been surveyed by an engineer and was found to be an exact quarter of a mile, the watches have been checked and Doc Spears will submit his and the timers reports to Alonzo Stagg at the University of Chicago. Then all that will be left to do is sit and watch the A. A. U. ponder over the matter how long no one knows.

Now with the foregoing matter disposed of we can go on to the contemplation of probable happenings when the Webfoots meet their old friends, the Beavers, on Bell field next Saturday.

Oregon State got beaten by the Huskies and Oregon beat the latter outfit, this on the face of it makes the Lemon and Green look to be the best. However, to prove the point we will cite a few examples.

Tyrrel Lowry won the 100 against the Huskies and Pendleton, the Seattle man, beat Johnson, the Oregon State flash. That makes Lowry look good, and anyway Pendleton won the event against the Beavers in 10.2 which is time Lowry can beat easily.

As the mile in the Idaho, Oregon State meet was won by a Vandal in 4:34 we will say no more about that.

Clarence Hill's time of 9:34 in the two-mile also looks very good beside the record made by Chapman, the Oregon State man, against the Idaho team. Chapman's time was two-fifths under ten minutes.

Oregon's performance in the shot should be much better than it was against Washington as the best mark that Bergeson, the 35-gauge hope, has made is 44 feet 3 inches which took this event against the Idaho team. Moeller can do better than this and Ben Stadelman took the event in the Oregon trials with a heave of 44 feet 8 inches.

Steve Anderson won the hurdles last week and Ed Sigmund finished fairly close to the winning time of 15.2. We give Ed a break over Dufrane of the Aggies, as the latter finished second to the first Oregon State man in a 16 flat race. In the low steeple, too, Ed should be among those as his time of 25.2 made in the trials looks better than the time of 26.6 by Prentiss which took the event from the Idaho bunch.

Maybe we are optimistic, but we can't help it. Oregon's chances of beating Oregon State are a great deal better than their chances were to beat Washington and that was accomplished.

Don Moe is going to take a shot at the English open title June 16 to 21. He will have a hard time beating his team mates let alone the best of the home talent as Bobby Jones and George Von Elm of the Walker team will compete in addition to Horton Smith and Leo Giegel, who will represent the American professional. Hoylake is the site of the tournament and it is conceded to be a shade less difficult than the Sandwich course where Don made himself the center of the golfing stage, so his chances look good in spite of the field entered.

The real test of Don's entire European invasion will come this week when he will compete in the English amateur tournament at St. Andrews. It seems this is one title Bobby Jones hasn't won and is one that he especially wants. St. Andrews is his favorite course, it seems, and he will be hard to stop.

Last Jewett Contest Set for May 27 and 28

Next Tuesday and Wednesday, May 27 and 28, marks the last of the Jewett prize contests. The sum of $250 is to be distributed among the prize winners in the different sections for the best extemporaneous speech. All students interested are advised to try out for one of the many prizes.

"So far," states Walter E. Hempstead, of the speech division, "so few students have announced their intention of entering the contest, that it would seem that the majority of students taking public speaking are not interested in bettering their financial conditions. This contest is the most lucrative of all the Jewett speaking contests."

CONCERT, JULLIARD RECITAL MERIT PRAISE

In the Tuesday evening recital, Miss Adleman, who studies with Arthur Boardman, used most interesting songs which seemed especially fitted to the clear, vital quality of her voice. She sings with much ease and has unusual volume for a young singer. She sang from the French composers—among them Puccini—from Schubert, of the Germans, and from the English. Her poise before her audience is undoubtedly further reason for the charm of her dramatic voice. Miss Haberlach in her two groups which included Mendelssohn's Rondo Capriccioso, displayed much facility and power.

Sigma Chi-Phi Psi.
Sigma Phi Epsilon-Friendly hall.

Theta Chi kept their record intact by losing yesterday's intramural game, 11 to 0. Intermittent showers failed to dampen the enthusiasm of the Phi Sig warriors for they merrily pounded Ken Raley's offerings all over the lot.

Theta Chi nearly spoiled their spotless record by filling the sacks in the second on an error and two walks. Schroeder bore down then and the danger was over. Schroeder has doled out only five safe blows in as many games, Zeta hall being the only nine fortunate enough to get more than one bingle.

Phi Sig and Sigma Nu will battle for the championship of League D on Thursday. Sigma Nu took advantage of Phi Sig errors to cop the first encounter, but in turn fell victim to the Psi Kappas. Despite the previous outcome, the Phi Sigs are favored to win, due to the addition of two new players, MacMurray and Charles, who are playing brilliant ball.

Reinhardt Accepts Place at Stanford

German Professor Will Teach Advanced Work

Dr. Kurt G. Reinhardt, assistant professor in German and lecturer in art, has accepted a position in the German department of Stanford university for next year, he announced yesterday. He will teach modern German literature and will have only advanced students.

Dr. Reinhardt has taught here two years, and had previously been on the faculty of the university extension of Freiburg university, editor of the International Publishing House of Herder company, Freiburg, and correspondent in Canada for European papers for two years. He studied at the University of Munich, at Heidelberg, and at Freiburg, where he received his Ph.D. degree.

BUNCO ARTIST FAILS WITH WARREN SMITH

(Continued from Page One) ing, a telegram was received at the University stating in part: "Sounds like that old impostor, J—W—S—, who has taken money under false pretenses in this part of the country, posing as an archaeologist."

Dr. Smith had made arrangements to meet the "explorer" downtown Monday morning, but instead asked him to come out to the University. There he was taken to the office of Dr. James H. Gilbert, dean of the college of literature, science, and the arts, where he was confronted with the telegram from Dr. Bowman. He broke down completely, and when asked by Dean Gilbert for his credentials explained that he had lost them in the Mexican revolution. The University officials allowed him to go, and it is said he hitchhiked out of town. The manager of the Osburn hotel was warned, and held his baggage, which had not been claimed.

Happens Last Summer

This all happened six months ago, and when the "explorer's" baggage was opened this week, Dr. Smith, with hotel officials, found letters addressed to different "aliases." Evidence showed that he had mailed special delivery and air-mail letters to himself at his points of destination, presumably to lend weight to his visitations.

"The reason the University of Oregon has not made this matter public beforehand and did not put it into the hands of the police," Dr. Smith said today, "is due to the fact that we were not absolutely certain that this man was the one referred to by Dr. Bowman, and because we did not wish to do injustice to anyone, particularly to our fellow-scientists. It was only upon the opening of his baggage that we gained conclusive evidence."

The baggage has been claimed by the hotel management in default of payment of the price of the hotel room.

The impostor claimed to have been a close personal friend of President Leguia of Peru. He had stayed at the leading hotels throughout the country, and lived rather lavishly. He had impressed

This afternoon at 4:15 the school of education will be deserted by all students and faculty members, when books and studies are cast aside for the wide-open spaces.

A picnic for the purpose of getting acquainted with everyone connected with the education department is to take place at the Eugene Auto park behind Skinner's Butte. Cars will be at the education building to take those who have no means of conveyance.

Many features have been planned by the committee in charge for those who are athletically inclined. Worthy prizes will be awarded the winners of the sack race, 50-yard dash, and three-legged race. Henry D. Sheldon, dean of the school of education, as horseshoe champion of the department is scheduled to meet all those desiring to contest his title.

The main event of the day will be the first appearance of the professional league in a baseball game. One side is to be captained by Harold S. Tuttle, while the other will be headed by Fred L. Stetson. Tentative line-up for the two teams is as follows.

Amphibian Club To Hold Pageant

The Wai Ili, the Hawaiian expression for water god, is the title of the annual Amphibian demonstration that will be held Tuesday, May 27, in the pool of Gerlinger hall. This is to be a picture of a Hawaiian beach at twilight and at night, according to Ernestine Troemel, adviser of the club.

The pageant will be in three acts. Clara Maertens is the chairman in charge of the affair, and she is from the "islands" so the demonstration should have a genuine flavor to it.

Chairmen of committees must get their groups together for practices by Saturday. Committees in charge of the pageant are as follows: dancers—Winifred Schoonmaker, chairman; Elizabeth Keene, Lucille Murphy, Jane Stange, and Minnie Heral; divers

In his stunt, McDonald imitates the action of the burning lava balls by dressing up in a uniform saturated with kerosene, and leaping in flames from the tower.

Featured swimming strokes will be shown by Lola S. McDonald, who holds the world record for form in swimming, and Lottie Belle, their six-year-old daughter, who was formerly the youngest swimmer in the world.

Mr. and Mrs. McDonald will teach swimming at the Anchorage all summer, and their feature Saturday night is the first of a series which will be put on throughout the summer.
