

Track Team Plans Grind For Big Meet

Comparative Showings Made This Season Are Listed

Cougar and Washington Sprinters Good

Editor's note: This is the first of a series of articles by Jack Burke, giving the relative strength and the comparative times made this season by the teams entered in the Pacific Northwest Conference track meet to be held at Pullman, Washington, May 31.

With two barriers in the form of dual meets with Oregon State and Washington successfully surmounted, the Oregon track team may now turn its attention to the Pacific Northwest Conference meet which will be run off next Saturday, May 31.

Oregon has been very successful in the past two meets, but in the big meet many factors will be present that are not found in the dual competition. There will be entries from five colleges in the Northwest entered in the Pullman races and events, Oregon, Oregon State, Washington, Washington State, and Idaho. Montana may be represented and here another unknown enters. The Montana men are noted for their speed and as they have not been in competition in the Northwest this season nothing is known of their strength.

Sprinters Strong

Other factors which will determine the fate of the Lemon and Green squads is the distribution of first places. Oregon took nine first places from Washington and tied for a tenth in the high jump in the Oregon State meet the Webfoots took 12 firsts.

The century will find a trio of speedsters competing. Tyrrell Lowry, Oregon; Pendleton, Washington, and Foster of Washington State. By times made Foster must be given the edge as the big Cougar made 9.9 against the Huskies to beat Pendleton, who in turn was beaten by Lowry. Johnson, the Oregon State hope in this event has not turned in as fast times as have the other runners and he in turn holds a win over Jossis the best Idaho entry. This would give the Washington State team a first in this event with Oregon and Washington vying for the second and third positions.

Record Looms

The best time in the 220 turned in this season is 21.2, made by Pendleton, Washington, against Washington State. Against him in this race will be the group which will compete in the 100 and Paul Bale of Oregon who set a new Oregon-O. S. C. mark of 22 flat in this event last Saturday. Bale, Pendleton, Lowry, and Foster should fight for the places in this event with the Husky star taking a slight edge.

Two more first places go to Washington in the hurdles with Steve Anderson on deck. Anderson hasn't been approached this season and the big question is who will take the remaining places in the races.

Lowry, of Oregon, has beaten Whiting, Anderson's team-mate in the low sticks and has also beaten his own team-mates and Prentiss of Oregon State. As Whiting finished third in the Husky-Cougar meet this would give Lowry a good chance against Whittington, the Cougar, for second, with third place a toss up between Ed Siegmund, Oregon, and Prentiss, Oregon State, in addition to the one who loses out in the fight for second.

Anderson Cinch

In the high sticks, Anderson again is a cinch. For second place Martin of Oregon State looks good although he was shut out in the Idaho meet by Lemp. Siegmund beat out O'Neill of Washington who came in close to Steve's heels against the Cougars and was in turn beaten by Martin. So second and third should be hotly contested.

This would give Washington three firsts with the other first place going to Washington State. Seconds and thirds in these four races should be evenly divided with any edge going to Oregon.

Tomorrow times and showings in the middle distances will be reiterated. In these events Oregon looks much better.

Baseball team back after loss of four northern games, losing two; Frosh in form; Hayward saving Ralph Hill.

By PHIL COGSWELL

The Oregon varsity baseball team is back after a rather unsuccessful tour of the Northwest. The team won two games from Idaho, but dropped two games to both Washington State and the Huskies.

The Webfoots encountered miserable weather after playing Idaho. At the Cougar camp the first game was played in a steady drizzle and losing this contest seemed to have a bad effect on the team's spirit. The Cougars scored a flock of runs in the last half of the ninth while, although it was pouring rain, the umpire refused to call the game. The next game against Washington State was played on the football field because it was impossible to use the regular diamond due to the mud. Ken Seales, one of Oregon's two best pitchers, played in the outfield during the game and twisted his ankle badly. This cost the team his services against the Huskies.

Despite the fact that at Seattle a steady and cold wind made baseball playing very unpleasant, the Webfoots and the Huskies had a real battle in their first game, which Washington finally won, 2 to 1. The second game was easy for the Huskies. They took it, 5 to 0. This gave them the lead in the conference again with nine victories against two defeats.

Only three games remain on the Duck baseball schedule. These are all against Oregon State. The Staters have one game to their credit, but with a little recuperation the Webfoots will give them a battle for the remaining three.

Bill Reinhart can look with pleasure on the frosh baseball crop coming up for next season. Jack Hughes is one of the best pitchers the Fro. 3 have had in a long time. He has plenty of speed and good control. All he needs is experience. Then there is Peter Schmitz, who is handicapped by a twisted leg, but has a wonderful throwing arm. Peter can make that ball curve marvelously. In the last rook game he pitched, he lost, but he struck out 11 men.

Ted Jensen is probably the leading slugger in the frosh ranks. He was going great in the last game and knocked the ball all over the field. The fielding of the whole frosh team has been good. LeRoy Shaneman is another star. He should make a regular receiver for the varsity next year.

Oregon's star miler took it easy against O. S. C. last Saturday. Ralph Hill was under orders from Bill Hayward not to run under 4:30. Hayward is not taking any chances with his champion. He wants him to be in top form when he meets Kiser again in the Northwest championship meet at Washington State.

Frosh Nine Wins From O.S.C., 8-7

Ted Jensen Is Star Hitter In Saturday's Battle

The frosh-rook baseball series was completed last Saturday on Reinhart field when the Oregon babes nosed out the yearlings from Corvallis by an 8-to-7 score. The Frosh established supremacy over their ancient rivals, taking three out of the four games.

Saturday's fray was a real battle. The score was tied three times. In the ninth the rooks counted three runs when Biancacone, Beaver shortstop, socked a homer over the fence to score two ahead of himself. This knotted the score, but the frosh came back in their half to win. Ted Jensen was the star hitter in the frosh lineup. He made four hits during the game. His double in the ninth scored the winning run.

Jack Hughes pitched for the frosh, winning his second from the rooks. Peter Schmitz won the other victory from the rooks.

Oregon Literary Grads Hold Reunion Saturday

A group of former Oregon students, now famous writers, held a reunion at the Osburn hotel last Saturday evening. The writers attending were Edison Marshall, internationally famous novelist; Robert Ormond Case and Ernest Haycox, novelists and short story writers from Portland; Palmer Hoyt, short story writer and dramatic editor of the Portland Oregonian; and Edward Miller, automobile editor of the Oregonian.

The writers were guests of Ye Tabard Inn chapter of Sigma Upsilon, national honorary literary fraternity, and were welcomed by W. F. G. Thacher, professor of English, who had formerly had them in his classes.

Oregon Defeats O. S. C. 77-54 in Dual Track Meet

Dickson Sets New Record For Northwest in Javelin Throw

Hill Lets Steele Win Mile Then Finishes Second

Oregon varsity runners ran true to form to defeat Oregon State Saturday 77 to 54 at Corvallis. The lemon yellow and green squad took the lead in the first event on the afternoon's program and the Beavers never succeeded in catching up with the Oregon runners. The Orangemen were able to take only four first places, including the relay which Coach Bill Hayward conceded to the Corvallis team. Homer Dickson set a new Northwest javelin record of 195 feet 11-1/4 inches to feature the meet.

Homer Dickson and Tyrrell Lowry headed the Webfoot point getters with eight points. Virg Schreiber, sophomore dashman, upset the dope in the hundred to beat Lowry and Johnson, the Oregon State star, to the tape in :10.2. Lowry won the 220 yard hurdles to cop his other five points. He didn't enter the 220-yard dash and Paul Bale, another sophomore, came through to win it for Oregon in :22 flat.

Beavers Win 880

The Orangemen made their strongest bid in the 880 when Young and Johnson placed one-two to garner eight points between them. Pat Moran was off form and finished third. Martin won the high hurdles and Berguson won the shot-put to get the only other first places won by the Beaver men.

The Oregon mile board of strategy succeeded wonderfully well in the mile run with Steele placing first and Ralph Hill, who last week broke the world's intercollegiate record, coming in second. Hill was content to jog along and let Steele set the pace. Mullins, Orange runner, was obviously waiting for Hill to sprint and take the lead but he waited too long. Steele finished with a comfortable margin while Hill toyed with Mullins and finished a stride ahead of him. Afterwards, Hill admitted that he had cooked up the game by himself.

Everts Beats Rival

Bob Everts won the high jump from his old rival, Carter, with a leap of 6 feet, and Hubert Allen jumped 21 feet 10-1/2 inches to win the broad jump. Bobby Robinson had to go to 12 feet 9 inches to win the pole vault but Coach Hayward decided not to let him try for a new record for fear of injuries.

Captain Ed Moeller showed his old-time form in the discus and easily won with a toss of 150 feet 6 inches. Clarence Hill covered the two-mile run in 9:47.6 and he was not pressed. He ran his usual deliberate race and finished with many yards to spare.

Veteran Wins Quarter

Claire McKennon proved himself the master of Kirk and Phillips of Oregon State in the quarter. After being trapped at the first turn he stretched out to win the event in :50.6.

Summary:
100-yard dash—Schreiber (O).

first; Lowry (O), second; Johnson (OSC), third. Time :10.2.

Mile run—Steele (O), first; Hill (O), second; Mullins (OSC), third. Time 4:32.2.

880-yard run—Young (OSC), first; Johnson (OSC), second; Moran (O), third. Time 1:59.6.

Discus—Moeller (O), first; Hildreth (O), second; Luce (OSC), third. Distance 150 feet 6 inches.

Pole vault—Robinson (O), first; Lyman (OSC) and McClain (OSC), tied for second. Height 12 feet 9 inches.

220-yard low hurdles—Lowry (O), first; Siegmund (O), second; Prentiss (OSC), third. Time :25.6.

High jump—Everts (O), first; Carter (OSC) and Lyman (OSC), tied for second. Height 6 feet.

Two-mile run—C. Hill (O), first; Chapsen (OSC) and Cantine (OSC), tied for second. Time 9:47.6.

Broad jump—Allen (O), first; Duff (OSC), second; Rodman (OSC), third. Distance 21 feet 10-1/2 inches.

Javelin—Dickson (O), first; Horton (OSC), second; Eilers (OSC), third. Distance 195 feet 11-1/4 inches. (This establishes a new Northwest record.)

Relay—Conceded to Oregon State.

Dr. Moore Will Leave For Study in Europe

Dr. A. R. Moore, head of the department of animal biology, and his wife will leave this summer to spend a year in Europe for study. Dr. Moore is going to study at the marine station at Roscoff, France, at the embryological laboratory in Brussels, and at the zoological station at Naples.

Dr. and Mrs. Moore are planning to attend the eleventh international Zoological congress to be held at Padua, Italy, in September.

Honorary To Initiate Four Men on Sunday

Four business administration students, specializing in foreign trade, were pledged yesterday to Pan Xenia, international foreign trade honorary. The four men are Norman Jesse, Arthur Woods, Leonard Jee, and Charles Yoshi.

Formal initiation, it was tentatively announced, will be held in the men's lounge of Gerlinger hall next Sunday, June 1.

Vivian Coss Wins From Grace Vath To Lead in Tennis

Cannon and Wingate Play For First; Junior Doubles Ahead

Vivian Coss has completed all of her tennis matches without dropping any, and succeeded in upsetting Grace Vath, veteran Portland star, in the process to take the lead in the position 2, singles matches. Sally Cannon and Alice Wingate, both Portland stars, will fight it out for first place.

The junior doubles team, Gladys Haberlach and Beth Salway, have completed all of their matches without a loss, though two of the matches went to three sets, each. The sophomore doubles combine, Frances Haberlach and Lucille Murphy will probably be the opponents in the finals.

Several matches have yet to be played, and must be played today. These are: Sally Cannon vs. Alice Wingate; Grace Vath vs. Mally Kurtz; Grace Vath vs. Adele Wedemeyer; and Frances Haberlach and Lucille Murphy vs. Helen Hieber and Virginia Vaughn. All of these matches must be played today as the finals will be held tomorrow. Substitutes may be secured.

Second-team matches are moving very slow. Captains of these teams must see that they are played before Thursday.

Several upsets have occurred in the recent games. Mally Kurtz upset the dope bucket when she won from Adele Wedemeyer, 6-2, 6-1; Vivian Coss defeated Grace Vath, 6-1, 6-1; Vivian Coss, again spilled Adele Wedemeyer, 6-1, 6-3; and Irene Greenbaum won from Adelaide Church, 6-2, 6-4.

Theta Sigs Publish Annual Alum Paper

"The Handshake," published annually by the Theta chapter of Theta Sigma Phi, was released from the press yesterday, according to Elise Schroeder, retiring president of the organization. The publication was edited by Mary Frances Dilday, assisted by Dorothy Kirk and Ruth Newman. It contains news of the chapter, its members, and the school of journalism, and is designed to give the alumnae a glimpse of the work of the organization.

Vernon White, major in chemistry, has accepted a position with the American Potash and Chemical corporation, of Trona, California. He expects to leave as soon as commencement is over. Mr. White is a member of Phi Sigma Kappa.

Light 'Em Up Studes, Warn Vigilant Cops

STUDENTS who plan not to make repairs on their campus crates for the rest of the term—believing that perhaps they are not worth the time or money required—or that improvements may come out of the family purse when they get home, may be alarmed to hear that policemen are planning some careful "light" raids to be staged soon.

Lights that have not the right "candle power" will be closely checked, and violators will be stopped. A raid was to be staged in Corvallis last night, and officers were expected to raid the rest of the county following that ordeal.

Final R.O.T.C. Drills Concluded Yesterday

The R. O. T. C. drills for the term were brought to a conclusion yesterday. The five battalion parades took the place of the five drills that would have otherwise been held. Uniforms will be received at the military department headquarters today, and the five dollar deposit will be returned, according to Sergeant Edward Conyers.

Webfoots Sweep To Second Win Over Orangemen

Frosh Lose Net Match To O. S. C. Rooks 4 to 3

Winning six out of seven matches, the Webfoot tennis squad swept to their second conference victory over Oregon State while the Rooks were eking out a 4-to-3 decision over the Frosh.

Sherm Lockwood, Stan Almquist, Don Ragen, and Joe Kalsky won in the singles with ease, although Alfred McLaren lost a closely contested duel with Cook by a score of 2-6, 7-5, 6-3. The doubles combinations of Lockwood and Almquist and Ragen and Kalsky also triumphed easily.

Tom Mountain and Freeman Young were the only Frosh fortunate to enter the win column in the singles, but the doubles were divided when Mountain and Ray Adams overwhelmed their opponents. Jim Woodruff, Allen Spalding, and Corwin Calavan constituted the remainder of the Frosh team.

When the frosh burned lids at Indiana university, theatres offered a cup to the first one to toss his cap on the fire.
