

University Orchestra, Polyphonic Choir Will Present Choruses

A. Boardman Highly Praises Composition

Concert by Symphony and Polyphonic Group Is Slated Sunday

To Use Proceeds Obtained For New Instruments

If world championships were held by things like books and music, Wagner's Lohengrin would probably get the operatic gold medal.

Arthur Boardman, head of the voice department, who is regarded in America as one of the best authorities on Wagner—and that's straight dope—thinks it would. He didn't say it in quite that way because he frowns on slang, but that's what he meant.

He was talking about the two famous choruses from Lohengrin which the University of Oregon orchestra, conducted by Rex Underwood, and the Polyphonic choir, of which Mr. Boardman is director, will present next Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. There will be a 25 cent charge for the program, and proceeds are to go to the orchestra, which is badly in need of instruments. Members of the orchestra and school of music officials are hoping there will be a large crowd Sunday. It will be the year's only Sunday program at which an admission fee will be charged.

To Sing Bridal Chorus

The choir will sing the famous Bridal Chorus and the Prayer and Finale at the end of the first act. Explaining the background of the music, yesterday, Mr. Boardman said: "The prayer is the King's prayer for the victory of the righteous in the dual between Lohengrin and Frederick, the chorus joins in the prayer, which is followed by the dual, to be represented by the orchestra. Following the dual comes Lohengrin's declaration of victory and the laudation of the multitude as well as a short song of thanks by Elsa.

"The part of the King will be sung by Edward Fisher, Lohengrin by John Spittle, Frederick by Eugene Pearson, Elsa by Sara Addeleman and Ortrud by Margaret Simms."

Opera Within Range

Speaking of the plan of using the orchestra and choir together in concert presentations of opera, Mr. Boardman declared: "It is much better to have a good concert performance than a poor stage performance of opera. Such a performance puts opera in the range of many communities which could not otherwise be familiar with such music."

Roy Bryson, baritone, assistant director of the choir, will present the third Wagnerian number, singing the famous song of the Evening Star from Tannhauser. It is the song of Wolfram in the third act, second scene, and is delivered just prior to Tannhauser's return from his vain trip to Rome to seek forgiveness for his sins.

To Assist Orchestra

The orchestra will have two other numbers in its concert, for which the choir members will be the assisting artists.

Members of the polyphonic choir

Women Golfers Are Guests of Sororities

Women who are playing in the golf tournament here in Eugene are staying as house guests of the various sorority houses in which they have friends. Florence Sellers is visiting the Alpha Chi Omegas; Muriel McClain, freshman on the campus last year, is staying at the Alpha Omicron Pi house, of which she is a member; Mrs. Luke Faffenepp of Astoria is at the Chi Omega house; Jean Plageman and Frances Scott, of Portland, are at the Kappa Alpha Theta house, as are also Mrs. Robert Stonerood, Mrs. James McConkie, and Mrs. Mabel Berwyn.

Miss Scott turned in the lowest qualifying score of 86, while Miss Plageman came in second with a score of 87.

Weddings, Betrothals Announced at Houses

The engagement of Miss Frieda Pahl, Gamma Phi Beta, to Sture Johnson, Kappa Sigma, was announced at the Gamma Phi house Monday night.

Doris Pugsley, alumna of Delta Gamma, has also announced her engagement to a Kappa Sigma, Ed Meyers, who was on the campus two years ago.

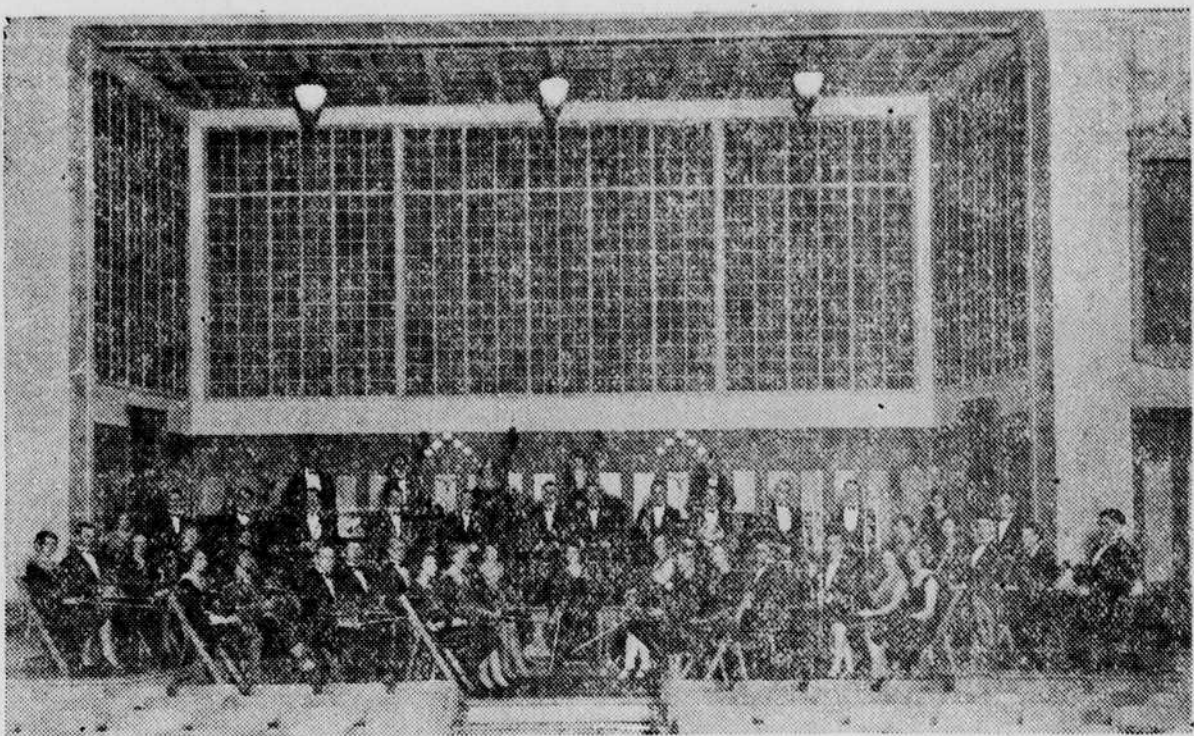

The marriage of Miss Margaret Daigh, Chi Delta housemother, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Edwin Daigh, took place in Seattle May 23 at the home of her parents, to Frank Van Allst of Kirkland, Washington. The couple will make their home in Kirkland.

Phi Mu House Honors Graduating Members

The Phi Mu seniors were entertained at breakfast at the Anchorage by Miss Fae Badollet, their housemother.

The underclassmen are giving them a dinner-dance at the chapter house, and Miss Marion Lowry,

To Fiddle for More Fiddles!

Here are the 40 students playing in the University of Oregon orchestra this year under Rex Underwood, conductor. They will give a concert Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock, and will charge a 25-cent admission fee, which will go to an orchestra fund for needed new instruments. The organization gave a concert in Lebanon on May 7.

alumna and society editor of the Guard, is acting as hostess at a luncheon at the Eugene hotel.

Wrights Are Hosts To Spanish Students

Dr. and Mrs. Leavitt O. Wright will entertain Spanish students and faculty members at their home at 2262 Birch lane, next Sunday afternoon from 4:30 until 6. The affair will be quite an informal one, according to Dr. Wright, and all present and former Spanish students or any interested in Spanish are welcome to come.

Mrs. Juan B. Rael and Miss Anna M. Thompson will be joint hostesses with Mrs. Wright.

Writer Is Delt Guest

Edison Marshall, one of the most famous of popular fiction writers, and a graduate of the University of Oregon, was a guest of Delta Tau Delta over the last week-end.

Mr. Marshall was graduated in 1913. His next novel, "Forlorn River," will appear in Good Housekeeping in a few months.

Houses Give Dinner

The Alpha Beta Chi house was host to Chi Omega Tuesday night and will entertain Alpha Xi Delta tonight. Phi Gamma Delta has invited Hendricks hall to dinner tonight, as has also Phi Sigma Kappa asked Alpha Chi Omega. Last Monday night Sigma Kappa had the S. A. E.'s to coffee in honor of the engagement announcement, and the Alpha Phis had the Chi Psis as guests at dessert Tuesday. Kappa Kappa Gamma entertained Sigma Nu on Tuesday.

Hayes-Erkenbrecher

The engagement of Miss Ruby Hayes to Joseph Erkenbrecher was announced jointly at the Alpha Phi and Phi Kappa Psi houses last night, with which they are affiliated. The wedding will take place late in June at the home of Miss Hayes' sister in Portland.

At the Alpha Phi house the announcement was made on small cards with rosebuds. Pink roses and snapdragons formed the table decorations.

Miss Hayes is a senior in education, and comes from Burns, Oregon. Mr. Erkenbrecher is also a senior, in military science. His home is in Pasadena, California.

Swartz Back To Take Master's Examination

Ben Swartz, who was a graduate student here last year, has just returned to the campus to take his examination for a master's degree in psychology.

During the past year he has held a position as teaching assistant at the University of California, where he has been studying for his doctor's degree.

Annual Banquet Planned

The annual interfraternity banquet, featuring the election of officers in the Interfraternity council for the coming year, will be held in the men's dormitory Thursday, June 5, Hugh L. Biggs, assistant dean of men, announced yesterday.

Both present and past house presidents will be invited, in accordance with the usual custom.

A Much Misused Word

is that word "Service." And still it is one of the most important ones. Service is more than mechanical, it is a spirit of willing co-operation. It is this "feeling" of service that we have tried to give to our student patrons, this past year. You who are driving home will feel perfectly secure if you have the ear well looked over at the —

Among Other Things "SEZ SUE"

I want to advise you to buy most of your summer wardrobe before leaving for home. It is the undeniable truth that the college town shops have the edge on the more isolated communities (a good two-bit phrase). And along with other things, I want to offer my heartiest congratulations to the seniors, and to tell the rest of you that I am hoping to talk to you all next year, and now . . . for some more things that I have to tell you.

For the Gift Problem

I would suggest that you go no farther than the Ko-ed shop right next to the College Side. There you will find all of the frills so dear to your blessed feminine hearts. Linen handkerchiefs . . . silk hose . . . lingerie . . . costume jewelry . . . morocco bags in beige and colors.

A Friend of Ours Sends Wishes

Personally— I Insist

That every senior have a new hat for the Senior Reception. Of course, that is impossible, but even the most economical grows a wee bit "persuade-able" when she sees the lovely summer hats at Letitia Abrams . . . 878 Willamette.

And, of Course, Decoration Day

You will want to telegraph flowers as a token of your consideration and respect. The University Florist will do this service for you in the nicest possible way . . . and from experience I assure you that you will make no mistake. Phone today, and make arrangements.

AND NOW, MY DEARS, I WISH YOU A VERY HAPPY SUMMER, SUE

"Concentrated" charm . . . in very small gifts!

So often, you know, some very small gift fascinates you more than one of larger proportions. "Concentrated" charm, you might call it . . . It has always been a hobby with us to assemble gifts with "more originality per square inch." . . . Regardless of size or price, you may be sure of distinctiveness in any article you buy here.
