Oregana Drive Sets New Mark Of 1300 Sales

All Records for First Day Broken as Campaign Gets Under Way

Fourteen Houses Sign Up 100 Per Cent; Quota Set at 2000

With more than 1300 copies sold already, and 14 houses signed up 100 per cent, the Oregana sales campaign got under way yesterday and broke all records for the first 24 hours of the drive.

Thursday will be the last day of the drive. Bill Pittman and Alice Carter, circulation managers, have set for this year a goal of 2000 books, to be sold by that time.

Prizes to Be Given

Eleven sororities and three fraternities had sold 1931 Oreganas to all of their members, according to reports submitted at a meeting held last night.

At the meeting last night, those in charge of the drive expressed confidence that the sales this fall will far exceed those of any previous year.

Cost to Go on Fees

With the start already made, and the enthusiasm being shown by the Oregana representatives, everything is in line for a record number of sales before the close of the campaign.

Larger Book Planned

Henrietta Steinke, editor, in outlining her plans for the 1931 number, has added 75 pages to the length of the books of previous years.

Houses which have reached the 100 per cent mark before the time of the meeting last night are Kappa Delta, Chi Omega, Alpha Delta Pi, Alpha Gamma Delta, Alpha Gamma, Delta Zeta, Kappa Alpha Theta, Kappa Kappa Gamma.

Freshmen Don Traditional Lids; Unaware of Honor

This morning the newly caught frosh will bow their heads most humbly and don the small green lids that are a symbol of their inexperience and unimportance.

But once upon a time the frosh fought for the HONOR of wearing this same green cap. They fought with iron handuffs, shackles, for an hour or more . . . and the freshmen won.

The first reference to the fight for the lid on the Oregon campus appeared in the Oregon Weekly for Jan. 26, 1903, which read: "The freshmen are in a quarrel. They have sent in their order for a lot of little caps. If they get to wear them it looks as if they

Committee Gives Violators of Law Rigid Penalties

The student advisory committee today assessed penalties upon certain students who were involved in an automobile ride on which liquor was consumed, as follows:

An upper classman who provided the car and secured the liquor was suspended from the University for a quarter, his return conditioned upon good behavior during the interval. If he is permitted to return he is to be on disciplinary probation for the next two terms and the privilege of having a car at the University is denied so long as he is an undergraduate.

A freshman girl and a sophomore girl were each placed on disciplinary probation for the year.

It was said that the episode occurred as a result of a desire for a celebration after a recent campus election. The use of liquor in connection with such celebrations, as at all other times, is regarded by the committee as improper conduct on the part of University students and meriting severe disciplinary action.

It was explained that there was no evidence of disorderly conduct and the previous records of these students had apparently been good and that the normal penalty of at least suspension was not imposed on the underclass members of the party.

Junior Class Will Elect Secretary At Villard Today

Class Members Are Urged To Cast Ballots in Filling Vacancy

Today, the junior class will elect a secretary, according to Art Potwin, president of the class. The election will be held in Villard hall and the polls will be open from 9 a. m. until 3 this afternoon.

The candidates for the office are Marie Meyers and Carol Hurlburt. Every member of the class is urged to cast his vote in filling the vacancy left when Alice Wingate, elected secretary of the class last spring, failed to return to school.

The members of the election board are Kelsey Slocum, chairman; Dorothy Mutzig, Tommy Blake, Mildred Collins, Virginia Grove, Esther Kaser, Helen Chaney, Alexis Lyle, and Lois Murphy.

Freshmen Interested in Y.M.C.A. Work To Meet

All freshmen on the campus who have had contact with the Y. M. C. A. or Hi Y clubs in high school are to meet in the Y hut on the campus today at 5 o'clock. Preliminary organization of the commission cabinet will be attempted.

The Frosh Commission is a service organization on the campus helping with many activities during the year. According to a check made by the Y. M. C. A. administration, there are more men on the campus who have had contact with the Y than ever before.

Four Chosen To Contest In Rhodes Exam

Cox, Halderman, Jackson, Wilson Are Winners, Rebec Announces

District System of Awards Will Be Used for Further Competition This Year

The winners of the 1931 Rhodes scholarship examination for the University of Oregon, as announced late yesterday afternoon by Dean George Rebec, chairman of the committee, are John Cox, Robert Jackson, John Halderman, and David Wilson.

Cox and Jackson were candidates in the state competition last year.

"The committee," said Dean Rebec in announcing the winners, "experienced great hesitancy in omitting several of the contestants, who were found to be only slightly less worthy of the honor which these young men have won. Three candidates were rejected for failure to file their applications in time for the committee to prepare the documentation of their education, while four others were rejected on their lack of a full year's residence at the University. The committee is highly satisfied with the representatives for the 1931 state examination."

Candidates Listed

Cox is a part time assistant in history and social science survey. He also will receive his degree in history this coming June. He lives in Springfield.

Bob Jackson is part time assistant to Dr. Milne in the mathematics department, and will receive his M.A. this year.

John Halderman comes from Astoria, and is a second-year student in law. He is a Sigma Nu. According to Dean Rebec, a change in the manner of determining the award of the scholarships may increase the chances of the Oregon entrants to win.

Under the new provisions, four scholarships are awarded to every geographical group of six states every year. Two winners are selected in the state examinations, and these compete with the two winners from Idaho, Washington, Montana, Wyoming, and North Dakota. Of the 12, four are chosen. Each receives $1960 yearly for three years and tuition at Oxford.

Annual 'Art Bust' Occurs This Eve

Event Honoring Frosh Art Majors at 7:30

The annual Art Bust, in honor of freshman art majors, is tonight. Music for the event will be furnished by Dale Brown and his "Harmony boys." The gathering of "artistic temperaments" will be held at the Craftsman's club, beginning at 7:30 and lasting until 10. Campus clothes will be in vogue.

The committee in charge is as follows: Frances Humphrey and Jack Vaughn, refreshments; Melvin Lofton, invitations; and Harold Hudson, posters.

Patrons and patronesses will be Dean Ellis F. Lawrence, Dean K. W. Ontbank, Mr. and Mrs. N. B. Zane, Mike Mueller, Mr. and Mrs. Richard W. Buell, and Mr. and Mrs. Percy Adams.

Girls Must Have Permits To Attend Portland Game

Co-eds, have you obtained your permits from the dean of women to attend the Oregon-Washington game? This year it is necessary for all girls who are not Portland residents to receive permission from Dean Schwering before leaving town. Also approved chaperones must accompany Oregon women planning to stay in hotels over the week-end.

Another Warner at Oregon

Jean Warner should feel natural in the company she is pictured with as her father, Bill Warner, was at one time head football coach at the University and her uncle is the famous Glen "Pop" Warner, head coach at Stanford.

Y.W.C.A. Drive Gets Under Way; $1030 Set as Goal

Six Captains To Supervise Representatives; Drive To End Friday

The Y. W. C. A. membership and finance drive got officially under way yesterday afternoon at the bungalow when some 50 women students and campus leaders were guests of the drive organization. The drive, which will seek $1,030, will last until Friday afternoon.

Guests included Mrs. Hazel Prutsman Schwing, dean of women, who spoke, and Mrs. Alice B. Macduff, assistant dean. Others called on to talk were Margaret Cummings, president of A. W. S., Bess Templeton, last year's drive chairman, and Daphne Hughes, president of Y. W. C. A., and Marguerite Mauezy, membership chairman.

Hostesses for the tea were Eleanor English, Alyce Cook and Ruth Eryant. The drive will be led by six captains who will supervise the work of house representatives.

House representatives are: Helen Chaney, Alpha Xi Delta; Ruth Dickey, Zeta Tau Alpha; Marion Camp, Kappa Alpha Kappa Theta; Dorothy Clifford, Gamma Phi Beta; Mary Lou Patrick, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Peggy Slauson, Alpha Phi; Ruth Campbell, Phi Mu; Margaret Walstrom, Alpha Gamma Delta; Virginia Patterson, Delta Zeta; Jessie Foley, Alpha Delta Pi.

Oriental Libe Now Open To University Students

The Oriental library, which is located on the third floor of the Gerlinger building, is open to the students of the University from 2 until 5 o'clock on week days. According to Miss Mabel Klockars, who is in charge of the library, the books will be circulated in the library but will not be allowed to be taken out.

Philomelete Officers Selected at Meeting

Officers of the international group of Philomelete were elected at the first meeting held Sunday morning in the woman's lounge of Gerlinger hall. Ruth Dickey was chosen vice-president; Margaret Hunt, secretary; Celia Thoma, editor-historian. The president, Louise Webber, was elected last spring.

Research Aid Awarded U.O. Medic Expert

G. E. Burget Granted $500 For Further Study in Physiology Field

Total of 48 Major Projects Under Way at School Campus in Portland

In recognition of the high quality of research being done by him and others under his direction at the University of Oregon medical school in Portland, a special grant of $500 to aid in study of physiology research projects has just been awarded to Dr. G. E. Burget, professor of physiology, by the American Medical Association, it is announced by Dr. Richard E. Dillehunt, dean.

The award will permit Dr. Burget to purchase laboratory supplies and obtain additional assistance in his work, a field in which he has already achieved prominence. Three important studies, each carried on with the assistance of others on the school staff, are now under way under the direction of Dr. Burget.

Three Projects Aided

The three projects which will be aided by the award are "The effect of hydrostatic pressure in closed jejunal loops upon the clinical condition of the animal"; "The effect of hydrostatic pressure in closed loops of ilium- upon the clinical condition of the animal," and "An investigation of the enzymes formed in closed loops of small intestines." In the first of these Dr. Burget is being assisted by Dr. K. H. Martzloff, with technical assistance of R. Thornton and G. Suckow. In the second, Dr. Martzloff is aiding and A. B. Baker is providing technical assistance, and in the third, Miss R. Schwichtenberg is technical assistant.

Dr. Burget, a graduate of the University of Chicago, has been a member of the faculty of the medical school since 1917.

Program Large

The three projects under Dr. Burget's direction are a part of the general research program of the school, which includes a total of 48 major studies, and in addition seven others of importance being carried on by advanced students. Projects include nine in the department of anatomy, one in chemistry, four in chemistry and medicine, five in pharmacology, 11 in physiology, eight in pathology, four in bacteriology, two in surgery, two in medicine, one in special research, and one in Collins Nutritional Laboratory.

National recognition has also come to the school here through publication of important findings of faculty members. During the (Continued on Page Three)

Get-Wise Party Is On for Thursday

Feature Idea for Annual Affair Deep Secret

Skits showing the opportunities and activities for women on the campus will be a feature at the Get-Wise party at which the Associated Women Students will be hostesses to all freshman women. The party, given annually, is scheduled for Thursday afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock, and will be given in the women's gym.

Carol Werschkul has been appointed by Margaret Cummings, president of A. W. S., as general chairman for the party. She has announced her committee chairmen as follows: Carol Hurlburt, skits; Carolyn Haberland, music; Aimee Sten, food; Dorothy Derleth, properties; Dorothy Eads, invitations; Kathryn Perigo, patronesses; and Betty Anne Macduff, programs.

A special feature which will make the party entirely different from any given in past years is being planned by Miss Werschkul and Miss Hurlburt. So far it is a deep secret. They promise, however, that it will make the program much more interesting and intriguing.

Between skits there will be dancing, for which Carolyn Haberland will play. Refreshments will be served all the afternoon.

Fee Collections Started Today At Cashier's Office

The payment of all laboratory, class, and syllabus fees to the University cashier's office will commence October 15.

All such fees must be paid in full between the dates of October 15 and October 25. Students failing to meet their obligations during this time will be charged in addition to the regular amount of the fees, $3 for the first day late and 25 cents for each subsequent day.

The collection of fees will begin promptly at 8 o'clock today and payments may be made during the hours of 8-12 a. m. and 1-4 p. m.

To facilitate the work of fee collections and eliminate the usual waiting while lengthy receipts are written out for each student, all fee cards have been carefully checked as to fees due and a receipt stub will be stamped and given to each student.

Anyone desiring an itemized statement of fees paid may secure this later by calling at the cashier's office.

Hall Emphasizes Valuable Traits At Frosh Meeting

Importance of Scholarship, Mastery and Character Is Stressed

Dr. Arnold Bennett Hall, president of the University, addressed the freshman class Tuesday morning at the Music building on "Scholarship, Mastery, and Character."

Hugh L. Biggs, dean of men, opened the assembly with the statement that one of the most valuable features of our college career is an ability to know and to hear the college faculty.

Dr. Hall began his address by saying that if the University can aid the students by helping them to help themselves, it is doing the best that it can do. He brought out the facts that all students should sit down in a spare moment and ask themselves what they are going to be, what is the biggest thing they can do, and how can they get the best out of whatever they do.

"Everyone should plan a blueprint of his life in every detail so that he can approach it wisely and effectively," Dr. Hall said. "He should build up habits that are worthy until they crystallize into good character."

"Just as the beauty in the setting sun brings out the best in one, friends tend to bring out fine qualities," said Dr. Hall in stressing the importance of estimable friends.

"The first things that go into the blueprint of life, and into philosophy are habits of industry, perseverance, and mastery."

In concluding his address, Dr. Hall stated, "Self-respect revolts at unpreparedness. If you go out of this University leaving a path of mastery, opportunity will open her doors to you. Mastery is success."

Theta Sigma Phi Elects Bea Bennett Secretary

Beatrice Bennett was elected secretary of Theta Sigma Phi, women's national journalistic honorary, at a meeting held last night. She will fill the vacancy left by Ruth Newman, who did not return to school.

Large Crowd Pleased With Marine Band Presentation

By JANET FITCH

A program in which semi-classical numbers were tucked in among popular ballads and marches was chosen by the United States Marine band for their appearance last night in McArthur court.

The traditional favorites of the Marine band, the marine hymn "Semper Paratus," and Sousa's "Field Artillery," as well as "Stars and Stripes Forever," came booming out as encores, with all the gusto and fervor of patriotism.

The printed program contained only a few of the selections played, as Captain Taylor Branson, the band's leader, was generous in the matter of encores. Those mentioned, however, were a wide choice,

Frosh To Don Lids Today At Big Assembly

Rally Plans To Be Given Out at Gathering; 11 A.M. Classes Dismissed

Graduate Manager Rosson Will Be Featured on Program

A special coronation assembly, at which all freshmen will don their green lids for the year will be held at 11 o'clock this morning at McArthur court. All 11 o'clock classes will be dismissed.

Following the capping of John Kendall, president of the class of 1934, by George Cherry, A. S. U. O. president, all yearling men will be wearers of the green dinks until Junior Week-end spring term, when the caps will be burned after the usual ceremonies.

Hugh Rosson, graduate manager of the University, will be the principal speaker at today's assembly, according to Cherry. Rosson is making a special trip from Portland to give the entire student body a message concerning the coming Washington game Saturday.

At least half of the assembly time will be given over to Johnny Creech, yell king, members of the rally committee, and the Oregon band. Plans for the biggest rally ever held in Portland will be revealed at that time.

Start From Hotel

Following a change in arrangements last night, the Friday night and Saturday noon rallies in Portland hotel will both start from the Portland hotel on Sixth street. Rooters will serpentine to Multnomah stadium from this point.

Two new Oregon yells will be taught the rooters at the assembly, Creech said yesterday. "This will be in preparation for the big Friday night rally in Portland," Creech said, "and everyone must be at the assembly to learn the yells."

New Yells Presented

A locomotive yell, originated by Steve Fletcher, Brian Minnaugh, and Creech will be the first one introduced to the students. It is as follows:

O-O-ORE-G-G-G-GON
ORE-GON
ORRREGON
The yell will be repeated three times, starting softly and increasing in speed and volume each time.

A "growler" yell composed by members of the yell staff, Creech, Kelsey Slocum, and Eddie Wells, is as follows:

RrrRrrRrrAH
RrrRrrRrrAH
VARSITY
This yell will only be given once.

The band, under the direction of John Stehn, will be at the assembly to play the new Oregon marching song. Rooters will learn a special whistle and chant to accompany it.

The University band has made more than a good name for itself this year, it is shown by the following telegrams received yesterday by Arnold Bennett Hall, president of the University.

The telegram is as follows: University of Oregon, Eugene, Ore.
