'Pep' Dancing Friday To Stir Oregon Spirit

Free Rally Entertainment At McArthur Court Is Planned

Dad's Day Prelude Headed By Chairman Brian Minnaugh

The first rally dance of the year will be held at McArthur court Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock, to stir up pep for the Dad's game against the University of Idaho eleven, to be played on Hayward field Saturday afternoon. Brian Minnaugh, chairman of the rally committee announced the plans for the dance after a meeting of the committee last night.

The dance will be free to all students on the campus and music will be furnished by one of the leading campus orchestras. The affair will be held from 4 to 6 o'clock in the afternoon and it is planned to make it one of the largest rally dances ever staged on the campus.

"We are endeavoring to exhibit all of our spirit before and during the game this year," Minnaugh declared last night. "The committee feels that a dance before the game will be much more popular than one held a couple of days after the encounter."

New Stunts Ready

Several new stunts are being worked out by the committee for the Idaho game, and it is planned to stir up as much pep as possible for the encounter.

Appreciation for the cooperation of the student body in the two rallies held in Portland was expressed by Minnaugh. The affairs were considered the best ever staged in the Rose City and several complimentary reports have been received by the committee.

Dads To Root

"The Dads will probably have their own rooting section at the game, as they have done in past years," Minnaugh stated. "It will be up to the Oregon students to turn out for the game and show them that we have the old Oregon spirit and that we enjoy having our Dads here as our guests."

The big Oregon band will again offer its share in the program and several new tunes have been prepared for the occasion.

Hall To Speak at Frosh Assembly

President's Subject To Be 'Spiritual Values'

A second freshman assembly is scheduled for next Tuesday, October 28, at 10 o'clock in the Music auditorium. Dr. Arnold Bennett Hall will again appear before the students, this time speaking on "Spiritual Values."

In addition to the address a musical program consisting of organ selections is being planned by John Stark Evans, professor of organ of the school of music.

Freshman classes occurring at this hour will be dismissed.

Dr. Hodge Receives Amusing Letter From Japanese Boy

Dr. Edwin Hodge, geology professor, recently received a letter from E. J. Boku, a Japanese boy whom he met while abroad a year ago. He met Boku on a ship going from Chosen to Shimnesho. Boku was returning to Korea, his home, from Matsue, Japan, where he had been attending high school. The letter gives a slant on life and problems of a Japanese boy of about the same age as a university student.

"I am going to enter the Tokyo or Kyoto Imperial university," Boku writes. "My father wishes me to study law or economics, but I am going to enter the department of esthetics. Why? I don't know and can't tell it. I like esthetics very much and like economics too, but I don't like to study law."

Boku continues by telling something of conditions in Japan.

Sophomore Class To Choose Officer Tuesday Evening

Due to the failure of "Spec" Stevenson, treasurer of the sophomore class to return to the campus this year, the class of '33 will hold a convention in Villard hall on Tuesday, October 29, at 7:30 p. m., for the purpose of nominating candidates for the vacant position.

Stevenson was expected to be back until last week when it was learned definitely that he would not return this year. Every member of the class is urged to be present at this meeting, says Jim Travis, class president.

"At this same meeting," Travis stated, "the plans for the Sophomore Informal will be revealed." The annual class dance will be held on November 1.

Editor To Speak At Open Meeting For Journalists

Theta Sigma Phi Will Hear Frank Jenkins Tonight At Alumni Hall

An open meeting of Theta Sigma Phi, national journalism honorary for women, for all women journalism majors will be held this evening at 8 o'clock in Alumni hall, to hear Frank Jenkins, editor of the Eugene Register, speak on women in the journalism field.

Lavina Hicks and Dorothy Thomas are in charge of arrangements of the meeting tonight. This meeting is an annual affair, and is sponsored by Theta Sigma Phi. Refreshments will follow the talk of Mr. Jenkins.

Mr. Jenkins is a prominent newspaper editor of the state, and is widely known outside of the state. Last spring a story of his success written by Bob Allen, now managing editor of the Emerald, was printed in Editor and Publisher.

Mrs. Anne L. Beck On Music Journal

Elected to Editorial Board; Member of Music Faculty

Mrs. Anne Landsbury Beck, member of the University school of music faculty, has been appointed a member of the editorial board of the Music Supervisors Journal, a monthly magazine published by the National Music Supervisors' conference in the interests of public school music.

The editorial board consists of a half-dozen supervisors throughout the country who are widely known for their work. Most of the writing for the magazine is done by this small group of the editorial board.

Mrs. Beck is head of the department of public-school music at the school of music, and is also director of music in the public schools of Eugene, which are practical laboratories for students of industry at the University school.

Mrs. Beck already holds a place on the board of directors for the National Music Supervisors' conference.

Barney Miller Added to KORE Program Staff

Continuity Editor Named By Broadcasting Director

Midway Orchestra To Be Regular Feature of Emerald Hour

Barney Miller, feature editor of the Emerald and cocreator of the popular Wetfoot column now appearing in current issues of the paper, has been named continuity editor for all future Emerald-KORE hours, it was announced Wednesday night by Art Potwin, director of the broadcasts.

In making Barney Miller known the appointment, Potwin said: "I believe the success of our radio programs depends upon the interest aroused by our continuity stunts. Barney Miller is the one man who can prolong this interest in radio dialogue, and it shall be his part to edit "Parlor Propaganda."

Something a little different in campus chatter has been promised by Miller for tonight's program. Headlined on the broadcast is the Midway orchestra. This orchestra, which plays for Friday, Saturday, and Sunday night dinner-dances at the Midway, will be a regular feature on the Emerald hour.

Bob Goodrich, who has appeared before the microphone many times previously, will be back with some blues numbers. Wilbur Thibault on the violin and Dale Brown at the piano will offer a special arrangement of "Singin' in the Rain." These two boys are newcomers to the University.

Hatton to Tap Dance

Hal Hatton, known all over the campus for his tap dancing, will thump out original arrangements for the world to listen to. Johnny Smedburg and Dave Eyre will be presented in several double piano numbers. These boys are also freshmen. Smedburg will give a piano dialogue which he calls "That's Grandma."

Sunday night's broadcast will find "The Parlor Propagandists" back in full swing, Art Potwin and his assistant, Chet Knowlton, announced Wednesday.

Tonight's "Emerald of the Air" program is scheduled for 8:15 o'clock.

'Big Top' Is Idea Of Soph Informal

Dick Jackson Named Head Of Soph Informal

"The circus is coming to town," is the cry of the Sophomore Informal committee, headed by Ted Jensen, who last night released plans for the affair, which this year comes on November 1. The spirit of the "big top" will be the spirit of the dance, and decorations and features are being planned accordingly.

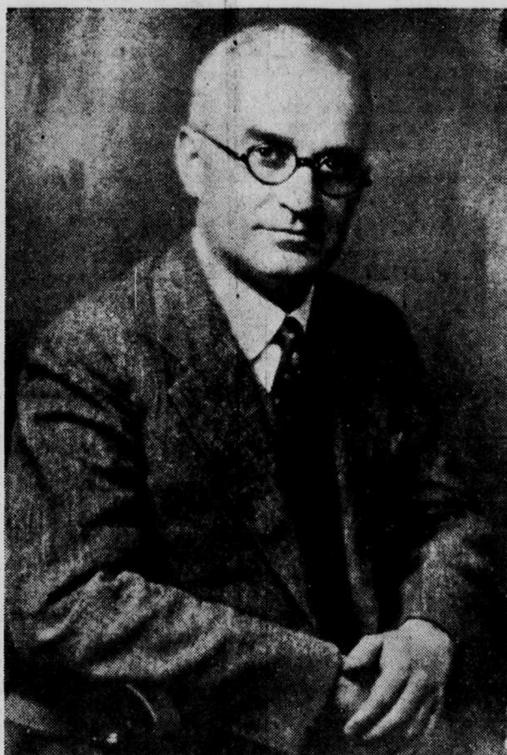

Although the orchestra has not yet been definitely chosen, it will probably be either Cole McElroy's band from Portland or the Thomas Brothers of Salem, Jensen says. Dick Jackson has been named on the program committee, and is planning something original and appropriate for the occasion.

A general meeting of the sophomore class has been called for tomorrow evening, at which time a general call for workers will be issued. The informal directorate will meet directly afterward.

Duggan, director of the Institute of International Education, is delivering over a nation wide network of the Columbia broadcasting system, 12 addresses on the general topic, "Our Changing World" on successive Thursdays. ## Hi-Y Conference To Be Held Here During Week-end

Meeting Is First of Kind Ever To Be Held on Campus

Approximately fifty delegates from various neighboring towns will arrive in Eugene next Saturday afternoon to attend the Hi-Y conference being sponsored by the Frosh commission of the campus Y. M. C. A.

The purpose of the conference, which is one of several being held yearly throughout the state, is to aid the various groups in their Hi-Y affairs and incidentally to give the delegates a glimpse of college life and activities.

Following the discussions and group conferences Sunday morning, a banquet will be held at the Anchorage at 12:30, at which time the delegates are to be entertained with musical numbers, and talks by various student-leaders in campus affairs.

At the meeting held last week to outline the events of the conference a committee consisting of Russell Cooke, Joe Simpson, Otto Vanderbilt, Miles McKay, Reed Sutherland, and Oren Freerkens was appointed to take charge of the entertainment. Mr. Miers, of the campus "Hut," and Dick Goebel, student chairman, are making all arrangements for the banquet on Sunday. The down-town Y is arranging for the delegates to be housed in private homes throughout the city.

This is the first time a conference of this sort has been attempted on the campus, but through the more rapid organization of this year's committees it is expected to be a yearly affair.

Psychology Books Now In New Classification

The Congressional Library in Washington, D. C., is working on an elaborate expansion of the Dewey decimal system for the arrangement and classification of psychology books. This system at present is widely used in libraries.

Dr. E. S. Conklin, department chairman in psychology at this University, was sent a copy of the new system for criticism.

Oberlin college students of zoology were treated recently to the rare sight of fresh water jellyfish, discovered by Dr. R. A. Budington, head of the department, in the Vermilion river, west of here. Dr. Budington told his classes this was the sixth time in zoological history that jellyfish, regularly found in salt water, had been found inland.

Dr. Arnold Bennett Hall, president of the University, was honored yesterday at the inauguration of Dr. Robert Gordon Sproul, new president of the University of California, with an honorary degree of doctor of laws, according to word received here last night. One of the first acts of the new president was the conferring of this degree on President Hall and a number of other men of national prominence.

National recognition has been accorded Dr. Hall for his work in the field of social science and education. At the University his establishment of a lower division system and a personal service has attracted widespread attention. The University is also noted for its research work and teaching methods under the leadership of Doctor Hall.

Besides writing several books, among which are "The Monroe Doctrine," "Popular Governments," "Dynamic Americanism," and authoritative law treatises, Doctor Hall is a member of the American Political Science association, the American Social society, the American Institution of Criminology, American Society for Judicial Settlement of International Disputes, and the Institute of Pacific Relations. He is also one of the founders of the Social Survey research council and head of the Pacific Coast committee. ## Seniors in 1898 Get Special Leave

Dr. Booth First To Make Use of Ruling

With the outbreak of the Spanish-American war so many seniors were desirous of going to the defence of their country that special provision was made by the graduate council of 1898 allowing them to graduate with their class, records of the University of Oregon show.

Among the first to be awarded this special leave was Dr. Joel C. Booth, Republican nominee for senator from Linn and Lane counties.

Dean Emeritus John Straub was influential in bringing about the action of the council. Doctor Booth says, and 25 men in the University at that time took advantage of the ruling. Doctor Booth has practiced medicine at Lebanon for the past 30 years.

Advisory Board Suspends Two For Intoxication

As a result of misconduct in Portland last week-end, two University of Oregon students were suspended for a term by action of the student advisory committee yesterday.

Although the names were not released by the committee, it is generally known that the suspended men were Allan Spaulding, a member of Phi Sigma Kappa, and Bob Steiwer, Chi Psi pledge. Spaulding is a sophomore, and Steiwer a freshman. The men were arrested for intoxication, and the customary action was taken by the committee on students breaking University regulations regarding behavior.

Freshmen To Use Many New Plays In Rook Contest

Joe Lillard Likely To Play Half; McLellan Back At Center

Several new plays given out by Coach Frank Callison early this week were gone over thoroughly yesterday by the frosh squad so that a varied attack may be used against the Oregon State Rooks Friday night.

Although the starting lineup will not be known for sure until just before the game, several men seem sure to see action against the Rooks. Joe Lillard, speedy half-back brought from the East by Coach Spears, appears to be a "natural." A clever passer, speedy, shifty, and above all, a smart player, he will undoubtedly prove to be a main cog in the yearling machine.

Fred Kennedy, the 220-pound fullback from Sand Point, Idaho; Howard Bobbitt, ex-Commer high star; Ray Kelly from Tacoma, Bill Benston from Portland, and Romey DePittard, McMinnville, are among the backfield men most likely to play.

The return of Ed McLellan, first string center, who has been absent from practice this week, will bolster the line. The situation in the forward remains the same with several men fighting it out for each berth.

Clark Presides At History Meet

Society Members Collect in California

Final arrangements are rapidly being completed to care for and entertain the vast horde of Oregon Dads who will start registering tomorrow morning for the third big annual Dad's Day.

Announcements from Hal Paddock, chairman, and Wilma Enke, secretary of the Dad's Day directorate, indicate preparations and features on a larger scale than ever before attempted.

Dick Goebel is in charge of down-town decorations and Winton Hunt on the campus. Chuck Van Dine, Jim Hutchinson, George Turner, Bruce Hamby, Fred Ahern, George Root, Graham West, Bill Douthit, and Howard Bredeen are assisting the preparation of the decorations.

1000 Places at Banquet

More than 1000 places will be set at the big banquet Saturday night, according to Jack Stipe, in charge of arrangements. Every table will be scientifically placed so that everyone will be able to see the arena after the banquet. The seating is arranged so that it will be easy to hear all speakers. Assisting Jack Stipe are Ralph Walstrom, Ed Goodwood, Bob Deaver, John Berton, Leo Lauren, and Ed Schreiber.

Halloween Decoration Motif

Decorations for the banquet will be in the spirit of Halloween and will consist of autumn leaves and pumpkins, according to Marguerite Tarbell of the directorate. She has as her assistants John Yerkovich, Dick Keasey, John Hall, Mildred Collins, Dorothy York, Mary Lowry, and Harriette Hofman. Dorothy Hughes is in charge of the serving, and plans have been made to facilitate the work, allowing rapid service.

Instructor Rambles Across England in Tiny Blue Car

"We, Florence Evans and myself, rambled all over England this summer in the Blue Cow," said Florence Alden, head of the physical education department in speaking of her summer vacation. "We hired a little English car, a Morris-Cowley, that was a cross between a Ford and an Austin. It was blue so we shortened the last name and called it the Blue Cow."

"We took turns driving it over the country and enjoyed it immensely. We spent one evening in a 14th century country manor, in the ball-room of which Lady Mary was reputed to have danced."

"The odd thing about foreign cars is the placing of the driving apparatus on the right side of the car. We had to drive on the right side of the road, make all our turns differently, and do all our parking backwards."

"They have so many queer terms for our American names, over there. They call the traffic cop the 'man on point duty,' because he stands out there in the middle of the street and points this way and that way." (The latter was with demonstrations.) "And they call the low gear the bottom gear."

"In the evening when one takes the car to the garage there is no receipt given nor collected the next morning. I don't see what was to prevent one from parking a little Morris-Cowley in the evening and returning in the morning and picking out a big Pierce-Arrow and driving away in it. But, of course, one couldn't get off of the island."

"We also went to the continent, visiting the Netherlands and France. We were at Quimperle on market day and saw hundreds of
