

Assemblies Coming

The assemblies are coming—for there is a demand for them from students and faculty. But what kind of assemblies do you want? Your statement will help in the decision.

VOLUME XXX

KORE-Eme. Programs Get New Quarters

Cocoanut Grove Scene of Future Campus Air Broadcasts

Visible Studios Installed With All Necessary Facilities

All future broadcasts of the "Oregon Daily Emerald of the Air" programs over station KORE will be relayed direct from the new Cocoanut Grove ballroom, Art Potwin, director of the Emerald-KORE radio hours, announced last night.

Visible Studio Installed

A visible studio, equipped with all the facilities required for the campus broadcasts, is being installed in the dance pavilion and will be ready for next Thursday night's program. Installation of this studio in the heart of the University district will afford campus radio talent easy access to the broadcasting rooms and will eliminate the long trek to the main studios of station KORE in downtown Eugene.

The new Emerald studio is being constructed in such a manner that the broadcasts may be witnessed by onlookers who chance to drop in on their way through the campus.

Violins Featured Sunday

Last Sunday night's program was the last to be broadcast from the main unit of KORE. A violin trio, with Peggy Sweeny, George Kotchik, and Larry Fischer pushing the bows, was a feature of the evening. Dale Brown, piano, and Wilbur Thibault, violin, were back Sunday with several of their own arrangements of tunes of the day. "The Oregon Blueboys," with "Slug" Palmer, "Sing" Harper, and Torry Shell in the title roles, sang "Blue Nights," "What's the Use," and "Quaker Town" to the satisfaction of all.

"Bye Bye Blues," by Connie Baker, was very nice to listen to.

Leo's Midway Varietians, a regular feature of the Emerald hours, did orchestra work of merit.

See Will Assist

Barney Miller located Hassen Been Home, famous crystal gazer from India and all points east, to assist Art Potwin and Chet Knowlton, in revealing the parlor propaganda for the evening. Hassen Been Home got some excellent results out of his globe of glass.

Potwin and his assistant, Chet Knowlton, are preparing an unusual program for Thursday night's broadcast at which time the new Emerald studio will be dedicated. Outstanding among the celebrities for the event will be Johnny Kitzmiller, famous Oregon football player, who will tell the radio audience something about the game in which he specializes.

Church Relations Subject of Meet

YWCA Inter-church Group Will Have Dinner

Members of the inter-church committee of Y. W. C. A., headed by Elizabeth Scruggs, are sponsoring an inter-church dinner to be held at the Y. W. C. A. bungalow at 6 o'clock today, for the purpose of discussing problems of Y. W. C. A., Y. M. C. A., and church relationships.

Daphne Hughes will speak from the campus standpoint; Leila Anderson, a visiting Y. W. C. A. and church worker from the University of California, will discuss inter-church groups as she has found them elsewhere; and Dorothy Thomas will lead discussion of how the best cooperation may be achieved here.

The minister, student worker, and a boy and girl member of each church will attend.

Insurance Man Will Talk Before Efficiency Class

Stuart R. Strong, general agent at Portland of the State Mutual Life Insurance company of Worcester, Massachusetts, will speak to the class in personal efficiency management at 11 o'clock today on the "Field of Insurance" as it affords opportunities for investment and as a profession.

Oregon Emerald

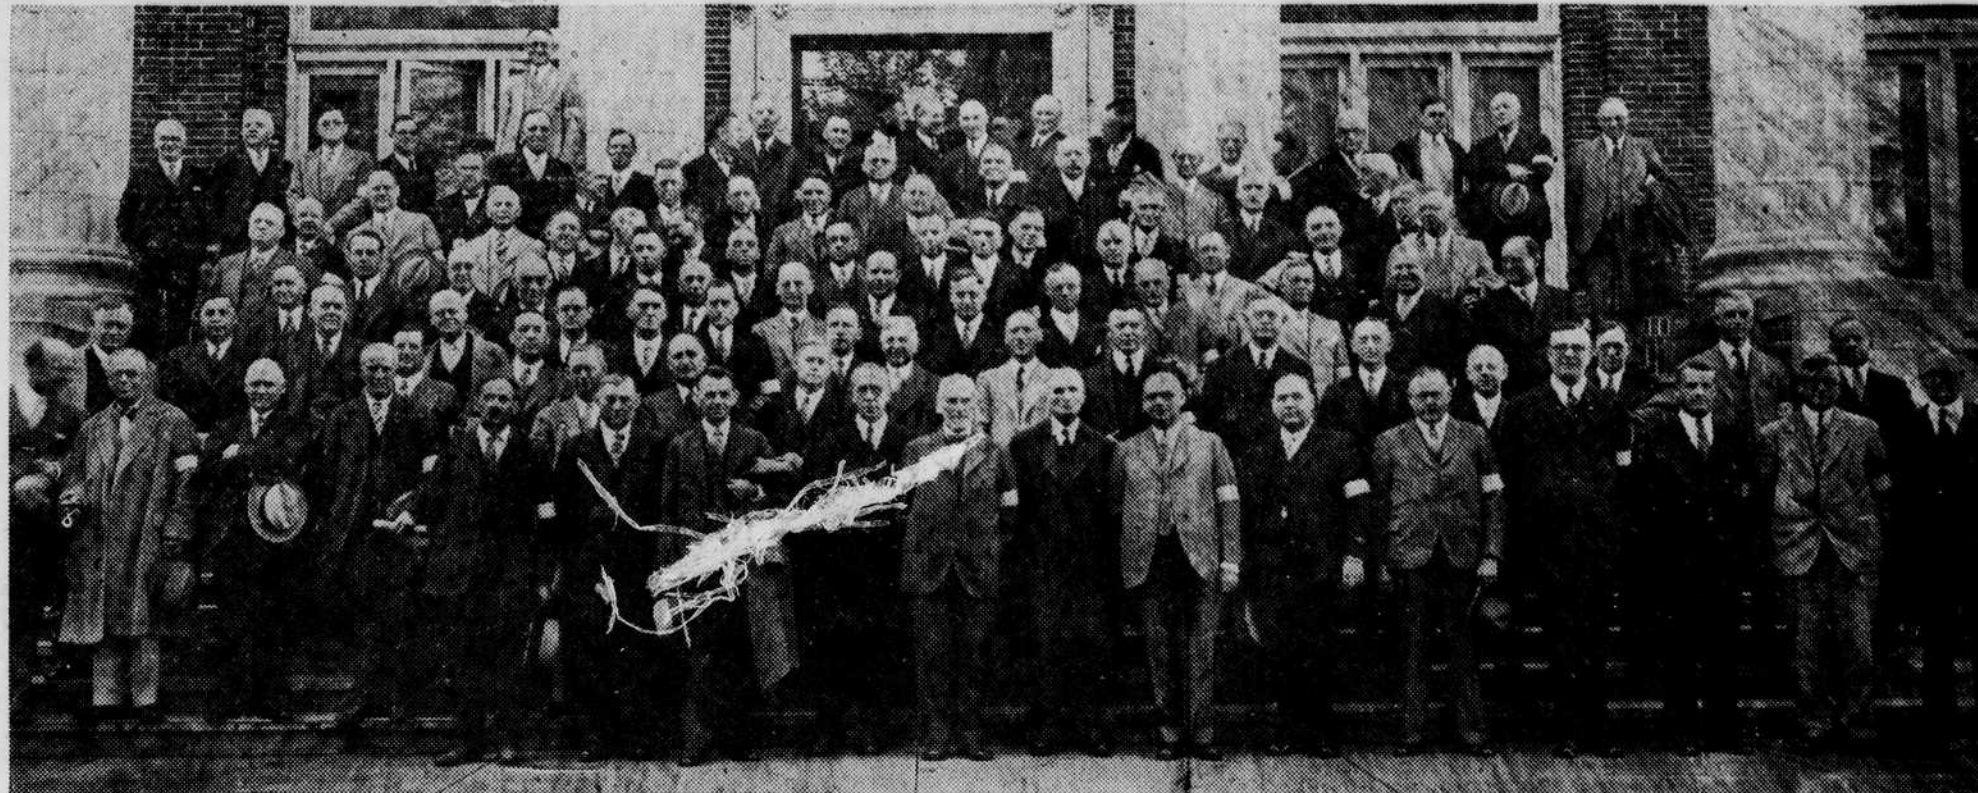

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, EUGENE, TUESDAY, OCTOBER 28, 1930

The Weather

Maximum 63
Minimum 46
Precipitation 23

NUMBER 19

Dads From All Parts of the Pacific Coast Gathered Here October 25

AWS-Kwama Tea Will Honor Deans Next Wednesday

Two Groups Combine for Formal Event; All Women Invited

One of the features of the Associated Women Students-Kwama tea to be given Wednesday from 3 to 5 in Alumni hall is that it is really two teas in one.

In past years it has been the custom for members of Kwama, sophomore honorary, to give a formal tea for the dean of women. It was also traditional for the Associated Women Students to entertain at tea honoring the foreign scholar.

This year there is no foreign scholar, since it was voted last spring by the A. W. S. to pay the debt on Peters lodge out of the fund ordinarily used to support a foreign scholar rather than pay interest on the borrowed money. A foreign scholar will be brought to the campus again next year.

So the A. W. S. and members of Kwama got together and decided to have a big formal tea honoring Mrs. Hazel Prutsman Schworing, dean of women, and Mrs. Alice B. Macduff, assistant dean of women.

Plans for the tea are being completed rapidly, according to Virginia Grone, in charge. Mrs. George T. Gerlinger, former regent of the University and still an active supporter of its interests, is to be in the receiving line with the honor guests.

Twelve tables will be set in the sun porch adjoining to serve guests at the tea. Individual centerpieces of flowers will be placed on each table. Fall leaves will be used for decorations in Alumni hall. Members of Kwama, Mortar Board, and Thespian will serve.

All women on the campus are invited to this tea, which is the one big social event of the year which affords an opportunity for everyone to meet the dean of women and the assistant dean socially.

All women who are attending the district convention of the Federated Women's Clubs will be invited to the A. W. S.-Kwama tea, it was announced late Monday by Margaret Cummings. A number of A. W. S. council members are expected to attend the convention also.

Honorary Receives Cup Sent by Former Student

A cup, to be awarded to the member of the W. F. G. Thacher chapter of Alpha Delta Sigma, national advertising honorary for men, has just been received from R. W. Byington, a former member now connected with the advertising firm of Foster and Kleiser in San Francisco.

Mr. Byington was a member of the class of 1930 and was well known here on the campus. He was a journalism major and won one of the summer advertising scholarships with a firm in Portland.

Each year the name of the person showing the most value and loyalty to the chapter will be engraved on the cup.

Hall Concludes Frosh Lectures

AT 10 o'clock this morning all freshmen will gather in the music auditorium to hear Dr. Arnold Bennett Hall, president of the University, give the concluding lecture of a series dealing with college success.

The topic chosen for his speech today is "Spiritual Values."

John Stark Evans will appear on the program again, playing several numbers on the organ.

In order that all freshmen may attend, since the assembly is a regular part of their academic curriculum, all freshman classes meeting at this hour will be dismissed.

Famous Printer Stops at Campus

Dr. Nash Will Give Address To Men at Banquet

Dr. John Henry Nash, world-famous printer of San Francisco and lecturer in typography at the University of Oregon, stopped at the campus over the week-end on his way to a banquet being given in his honor by ten of the leading citizens of Portland at the Benson hotel.

Doctor Nash, who will be the principal speaker of the evening, will be introduced by Dr. A. E. Hall, president of the University.

(Continued on Page Four)

Language Instructors Meet Literary Notables in France

Edward Champion Shows American Girls Through His Book Store

"Perhaps the most interesting person we met in France was the novelist, Edoard Estauine. We saw him in Dijon, the city of his birth. He is one of the most original thinkers that France has along literary lines."

The Misses Christina and Helen Crane, instructors in romance languages, who have just returned from a year's study in Paris, were privileged to meet many literary notables. Monsieur Estauine granted Miss Christina Crane an interview, one afternoon concerning his work.

"L'Appel de la Route" is considered his masterpiece, and I am sure that the school edition of his "Tels qu'ils furent" and also "L'infirmé aux mains de lumière" have been used here in the university," she said.

A French authoress whom they met was Simone Ratel, a young woman of about 29, whose first novel has just appeared. Her book, "Trois parmi les autres," has been compared to Rosamond Lehmann's "Dusty Answer."

The Misses Crane also met again Edoard Champion, who may be remembered as having visited the University campus as a lecturer in the fall of 1929. "He was kind enough to show us through his famous book store on the Quai Malaquais, which recalls memories of Anatole France," Miss Christina said.

An American born novelist who is living in Paris and with whom they became acquainted is Ellen DuPais Taylor, author of "Towers Along the Grass," and "One Crystal and a Mother." Mrs. Taylor was a pupil of Gertrude Stein, who in turn was a star pupil of the great psychologist, William James.

While in France the Misses Crane hunted up some of the towns which furnish the setting for Estauine's novels. They said that the little village of Semur, wherein the scenes of "L'Appel de la Route" were laid, was fascinating, retaining many of the aspects of a town of the middle ages. Before returning they went to Germany to see the Passion Play, then spent a month in Italy and the last two weeks before sailing in England.

Drama Honorary Elects Officers

Pledging of New Members Also Announced

The National Collegiate Players, drama honorary, at a meeting held last Sunday afternoon, elected the following officers: Carl F. Klippel, president; C. Addison Brockman, vice-president; Nancy Thielsen, secretary-treasurer.

The organization also announced.

(Continued on Page Three)

Journalism Jam To Be Held In McArthur Court

Annual Big Bust Declared Something New and Different

Plans for the Journalism Jam-boree, annual homecoming event, have been altered somewhat. The big bust will come off November 7 as planned but it will be in the Igloo instead of the New Men's dorm.

Sigma Delta Chi, national journalistic fraternity for men, and Theta Sigma Phi, national journalistic society for women, have combined to present a new and unique Jam.

Dot Kirk, president of Theta Sigma Phi, will assist the general chairmen, Ralph David and Jack Burke.

Committees from Theta Sigma Phi to act with those from Sigma Delta Chi are: refreshments, Lavina Hicks; features, Dorothy Thomas; concessions, Dot Kirk; and programs, Bea Bennett.

Deb Addison has been appointed to assist in the production of features and according to him, there will be an entirely new and different type of features provided.

Underwood Announces Forming of Music Group

The formation of the University string quartet, a professional music group which will give several concerts during the winter season, has been announced by Rex Underwood, head of the violin department at the University music school. Their first concert is scheduled for Sunday afternoon, November 9.

Mr. Underwood will play the first violin in the new quartet. The cellist will be Ferenz Steiner, solo cellist of the Portland Symphony orchestra, who has recently become a member of the faculty at the University music school. Buford Roach, well-known instructor of violin in Eugene, will take the viola parts, and Howard Halbert, a student from Corvallis who is concert-master for the University orchestra, will be second violinist.

Patient Rewards Nurse With Gift of Pheasant

Being a nurse at the infirmary isn't such a bad life after all. At least so thought Helen Fleming when one of her ex-patients brought her a pheasant a few days ago.

"The bird was exceptionally tasty," declares Miss Fleming, "and amply repaid me for the care I gave my patient."

Dr. Packard To Speak at Science Meeting Tonight

Dr. Earl Packard, professor of geology and geography will speak tonight on "Oregon's most Recent Sea," at the Sigma Xi, science honorary meeting. Dr. Packard is retiring president of the organization.

The business meeting will be opened at 7:30 in room 103 of Deady hall. At 8 o'clock the meeting will be opened to the general public.

Canary Dies But Exams Rescued

"NO, I didn't have much of a fire," Professor Lesch said when interviewed in regard to the fire that was reported at his house on Fairmount boulevard Sunday afternoon. "The canary perished and the cat left home. Outside of that, not much happened. I was over to my neighbor's for a few minutes and when I got home there was a fire in the house. How did it start? I don't know. My neighbor and I put it out before the fire department arrived. When they did come, they just chopped a hole in the roof to see if it was out."

"As for actual damage, well, let's see, a picture that I didn't particularly like got burned. The whiskers of a Japanese actor's mask were singed along with the tail of a tomahawk. I saved the examination papers, however, as they were all corrected. That's about all I guess—about $300.00 damage—and for goodness sakes," the professor closed, "don't say I have a wife and children."

Homecoming Decorations Group Named

Wallace Baker, Chairman, Appoints Committees For Big Day

Work Will Be Divided Into Five Fields Under Seven Students

The first of the Homecoming committees for this fall was appointed yesterday by Wally Baker, general chairman of decorations.

Baker, general chairman of decorations on the Homecoming directorate. This committee of seven students will work under Baker and the directorate on decorations for the week-end, which is scheduled for November 7, 8, and 9, a week from this coming Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Sub-committees on decorations also have been organized, each of Baker's appointees having named a group of students to assist in directing the various phases of the work.

Besides Baker, the decorations committee consists of the following: Jack Edlenses, assistant chairman; Carol Werschkul, secretary; Jack Cate, materials; Horace Allen, Hayward field decorations; Corwin Calavan, campus decorations; Ralph Walstrom, Homecoming arch; and Dick Givens, cleanup.

Sub-committees Named

Campus decorations: Corwin Calavan, chairman; Howard Ragan, Bob Hall, Bob Weller, Graham West, and Bill Manning.

Hayward field decorations: Horace Allen, chairman; Rolf Bodding, Art Clark, Clarence Moore, and Adrian Schroeder.

Homecoming arch: Ralph Walstrom, chairman; Jack Frost, Kenneth Schwann, Gene Ison, and Warner Guiss.

Materials: Jack Cate, chairman; Jack McCannel, Robert Stevens, and Curtis Curry.

Cleanup: Dick Givens, chairman; Jim Blair, Martin Allen, Bill Robertson, Ray Smith, and Bill Dobbin.

Campus Will Be Decorated

Plans for decorating the campus in honor of the returning grads include a welcoming arch across 13th street near Condon hall, streamers hung across the street on wires placed at intervals from University to Hilyard, and a scheme for glorifying Hayward field with Oregon colors, yet to be worked out.

As a new feature this year, Baker and his committee have contracted with a Portland firm to erect a huge neon sign across the pillars in front of the ad building, reading "Welcome Grads!"

Sophomore Meeting To Have Two-fold Purpose

There will be a meeting of the sophomore class tonight at 7:30 in Villard hall, according to an announcement made yesterday by Jim Travis, president of the class.

"The purpose of the meeting is two-fold," he said. "Nomination of candidates for the position of class treasurer will occupy the first part of the meetin, with the latter half given over to the announcement and discussion of plans for the Sophomore Informal which is to be held November 1."

Due to the new constitution the election will be held by ballot Tuesday, Nov. 4, one week from the date of nominations.

Varsity Manager's Club Dines at S.A.E. House

Members of the Varsity Managers' club, composed of senior and junior athletic managers, will meet at the Sigma Alpha Epsilon house tonight at 6:15 for a special dinner.

Hugh Rosson, graduate manager of the University, Tom Stoddard, assistant graduate manager, and George Cherry, president of the A. S. U. O., will be featured speakers. Robert E. (Hack) Miller, senior manager of managers, is in charge of the dinner.

'Twas a Great Day for Dad

