

Oregon Emerald

University of Oregon, Eugene

Vinton Hall, Editor
 Robert Allen, Managing Editor
 EDITORIAL WRITERS
 Dave Wilson, Rex Tussing, Bill Dunaway, Harry Van Dine
 UPPER NEWS STAFF
 Neil Staff: Sports Editor
 Jack Burke, News Editor
 Barney Miller, Features Editor
 Carol Hurlbert, Society Editor
 Lester McDonald, Literary Editor
 Warner Guiss, Chief Night Editor
 Katherine King, Chief Editor
 Editor's Secretary: Mary Helen Corbett

NEWS STAFF
 Star Reporters: Lois Nelson, Melvin Hale, Ralph David, Elinor Jane Ballantyne, Betty Anne Macduff, Lenore Ely, Jessie Steele, Isabelle Crowell, Thelma Nelson, Helen Cherry, Jack Bellinger, Betty Davis, Helen Rankin, Beth Salway, George Thompson, Roy Sheedy, Thornton Shaw, Zora Beeman, Rufus Kimball, Virginia Wente, Ted Montgomery, Jim Brook, Carl Thompson, Isabella Davis, Eleanor Coburn, Joan Cox, Allan Spaulding, Fletcher Post, Kenneth Fitzgerald.
 General Assignment Reporters: Mary Boboskey, Eleanor Coburn, Joan Cox, Fred Fricke, Eleanor Sheedy, Barbara Jennings, Madeline Gilbert, Katherine Mancrud, Katherine King, George Rod, Frances Taylor.
 Day Editors: Dorothy Thomas, Thornton Gale, Phil Cogswell, Lenore Ely, Thornton Shaw.
 Night Staff: Monday—Harold Birkenshaw, George Kerr, Marion Phobes, Marion Vordland; Tuesday—Eugene Mullens, Byron Brinson, Lois Weedy, George Sanford; Wednesday—Dore Wight, Eleanor Wood, Dorice Gonzal, Betty Carpenter; Thursday—Stan Price, Earl Kirehoff, Gwen Elmose, Rita Swain; Friday—Fred Fricke, Elsworth Johnson, Joseph Salsavsky, George Bladett.
 Sports Staff: Mack Hall, Bruce Hamby, Alfred Abranz, Erwin Lawrence, Kelman Kenzy, Vincent Gate, Mahr Keymers, Esther Hayden, Ed Goodnough.

BUSINESS STAFF
 Jack Gregg, Advertising Manager
 Larry Jackson, Foreign Advertising
 Ken Sierist, Circulation Manager
 Addison Brockman, Assistant Manager
 Ned Mars, Copy Manager
 Mae Mulhaly, Manager Foreign Adv. Mgr.
 Edith Peterson, Financial Adm.
 John Painton, Office Manager
 Betty Carpenter, Women's Specialties
 Harriet Hoffman, Sez Sue
 Carol Werschul, Executive Secretary
 Larry Day, Asst. Circulation Manager
 Bob Goodrich, Service Manager
 Marie Nelson, Checking Department

Copy Department: Janet Alexander, Beth Salway, Martin Allen, Barney Miller, Victor Kaufman.
 Office Assistants: Marjorie Bass, Jean Cox, Jean McCroskey, Virginia Frost, Roselle Gomers, Virginia Smith, Ruth Durland, Mary Lou Patrick, Carolyn Trimble, Harriett Kinney.
 Production Assistants: Gwendolyn Wheeler, Marjorie Painton, Marian McCroskey, George Turner, Katherine Frenzel.
 Advertising Solicitors This Issue: Dick Goebel, Jim Hutchison, Art Woods, George Sanford, Dick Henry.

The Oregon Daily Emerald, official publication of the Associated Students of the University of Oregon, Eugene, issued daily except Sunday and Monday, during the college year. Member of the Pacific Intercollegiate Press. Entered in the postoffice at Eugene, Oregon, as second class matter. Subscription rates, $2.50 a year. Advertising rates upon application. Phone, Manager: Office, Local 214; residence, 324.

Welcome, Grads!

"HOME TO HONOR OREGON."
 Hundreds of Oregon graduates will gather in Eugene today to attend the annual Homecoming football game and to take in the various alumni meetings. Homecoming is generally recognized as the greatest celebration of the school year and much has been done by the student directorate to insure a good time for the visiting alums.

The Emerald takes this occasion to officially welcome the former students who are attending the celebration. "Welcome back, grad, we are certainly glad to have you with us."

Each year the plans for Homecoming become more elaborate and this year those in charge have done their utmost to make the occasion the greatest ever. The feature attraction, naturally, will be the football game between the Webfoots and the U. C. L. A. Bruins, with the big Homecoming dance scheduled for this evening where alums and students will gather together to enjoy a good time.

The present student body members owe much to these alums who will visit the campus. When any new enterprise is planned it is always the members of the alumni association who are first asked to do their share to help put the idea across. In past years they have responded nobly and we, as members of the student body, are greatly indebted to them.

Oregon has a great alumni organization which functions over the entire country and today plans will be laid to have it spread out to include the whole world.

"Once an Oregon student, always an Oregon student," might well be the slogan of the association. We want the visiting members to feel as much at home now as they did in their undergraduate days and for those who were unable to come back we extend you a standing invitation and hope you will be with us next year at Homecoming.

"Handshaking, Huh?"

"A HA! Handshaking the prof again, huh?"
 These are the words with which derisive classmates greet the student who has just turned away from the exchange of a few words with a professor. It represents a widespread type of public opinion on the campus which is vicious and intolerant.

A student should be allowed to gain more from college than what he can get from text-books. If that was all there was to acquiring a higher education, there would be no need for centralized universities; the correspondence school and extension services could meet the demand for canned knowledge satisfactorily.

Contact and conversation with members of the faculty, many of them men of brilliant minds and magnetic personalities, should be the unrestricted right of every student. But let him make a move toward developing any sort of cultural association with an instructor—let him pause at the desk a moment after a class to discuss some fine point of the day's lecture, or stop to speak to the instructor on the street, and cries of "handshaking" and "grade-raising" arise from the unthinking.

This smothering point of view is so widespread that it seems to have been adopted by some members of the faculty, whose attitude becomes coldly impersonal or even hostile at the approach of a student who desires special information.

The basis of the whole evil is, of course, our grading system. In English universities there are no term grades, and relations between professors and students are richly productive. But here the cry is: "Handshaking, huh?"

Let's Call In Science

THERE'S no way out of it, folks. If we are ever going to solve the student-ticket puzzle, we are going to have to get the scientists, those Delphian oracles of today, to lend us the aid of the robot.

Let's be constructive. Here's a practical suggestion for telling without any doubt whether or not a person who approaches a gate to a grandstand with a student ticket clenched defiantly in his mitt is a bona-fide scholar or just a member of the great proletariat trying to cut down the high cost of living.

Send to police headquarters in Portland and borrow a "lie-detecting" machine. A simple mechanism, but oh, how effective! As each football fan approaches the student gate, he is grasped firmly by two huge guards, and a rubber tube filled with mercury is dextrously wrapped round the bicep of his left arm. He is then told to look directly at a stern inquisitor, preferably a faculty member, who asks him in a deep and solemn voice: "Are you a student at the University of Oregon, duly registered and in good standing?"

The quaking neophyte says, "Yes." The inquisitor turns to look at a big dial which is connected to the mercury tube. If the man has lied, his blood pressure rises from the strain on his conscience, and the pointer on the dial waggles ominously higher.

"Avast with him, varlets! He's no true man of Oregon." Simple, isn't it?

The two freshman girls who meekly complied when ordered to appear in bathing suits for a mill racing were a credit to their class and sex. In furnishing an example in sportsmanship to many boys who will be shivering to find themselves in the same situation they showed exceedingly good form.

CAMPUS CALENDAR

All women interested in riding and who would like to go on Sunday morning rides W. A. A. is sponsoring, sign up on the bulletin board just inside Gerlinger hall.

All lettermen, including alumni, will meet on freshman field at 1:45 today and will follow the band onto the field, where they will occupy a special section in the stands.

House representatives for Health Week are to meet Monday afternoon at 5 o'clock in room 121 of the Gerlinger building.

All-campus vesper service at Y. W. C. A. bungalow on Armistice day at 10:30 a. m.

All of the departments of the library which serve the public will be open Armistice day from 8 a. m. to 10 p. m., quoted Mr. Douglass, the librarian.

'Leave Car Home,' Eugene Police Say

To relieve parking congestion for townspeople and out-of-town visitors, students are requested to leave their cars on the campus instead of driving them to the football field at the time of the Homecoming game. If students and alumni will go to the game on foot, parking and traffic difficulties will be minimized.
 —EUGENE POLICE DEPT.

Campus Chatter Will Be Feature Of Emerald Hour

Campus Musicians Also To Take Part in Radio Program Sunday

"The Parlor Propagandists," Barney Miller and Willie Johnston, will be given a third of the time on Sunday night's "Oregon Daily Emerald of the Air" program, Art Potwin, director and chief announcer for the broadcasts stated Friday night. Giving of some 20 minutes to this campus chatter is the result of constant demand for bigger and better propagandizing by students who make up the radio audience. Miller and Johnston announce a continuity for Sunday that will represent practically every living organization on the University grounds.

Theta Trio Feature
 Beth Ann Johnson, Nancy Taylor, and Georgia Miller, who have appeared previously this year, will return to the studios to offer some trio work. The girls are known as the Theta trio.

Another singing group made up of three individuals will be the Varsity trio. "Dubs" Palmer, Henry Kaaha, and Fletcher Udall are the vocalists. They also have appeared before the KORE microphone this year.

Wally Palmer and Norman Johnson will bring their trumpets to present some novel duets of popular compositions. Another radio old-timer, Johnny Smedberg, will be back at the piano with a few numbers to offer.

Varsitarians Play Again
 George Nieme, George Barron, Leo Lohikoski, Joe Haslinger, Byron Patterson, and Morgan Johnson are members of Leo's Midway Varsitarians, and the boys will again play tunes of the day.

Broadcasting facilities in the new College Side Inn studios have proved superior to any yet used. A large crowd of University students was present in the visible studios last Thursday night and thoroughly enjoyed witnessing the making of a radio program.

Sunday night's program is slated between the hours of 6 and 7 o'clock. Art Potwin is director of the broadcasts and Chet Knowlton is his assistant.

UCLAS PRESENT STRONG TEAM IN GAME TODAY

(Continued from Page One)
 has been shifted to fill the gap, has worked well in practice, but lacks the experience he should have, since he has not been in the lineup thus far.

Coach Spears is expected to take no chances on the U. C. L. A. game, and will probably continue his custom of starting his first string men.

Oregon—Steve Fletcher and Orville Bailey, ends; George Christensen and Bill Morgan, tackles; Austin Colbert and Irvin Schulz, guards; Eric Forsta, center; John Kitzmiller, Al Browne, and Lawrence, backs.

U. C. L. A.—K. Albertson and Neill, ends; Norfleet and Wiloughby, tackles; Jones and J. Duncan, guards; Oliver, center; Solomon, Roberts, Decker, and N. Duncan, backs.

'Foolish Versions' At Local Theatre

Colonial Features Football Knockout Tonight

A real comedy, made right here on the University campus, is "Foolish Versions," which will be presented for the last time tonight at the Colonial theatre. It was made under the direction of Aaron Frank of Portland, originally for Oregon-Washington game promotion, but has proved to be so much real fun that it has attracted a lot of attention wherever shown.

The comedy has a number of campus celebrities in its cast. John Kitzmiller, Coach Spears, and several grid men are seen in action.

THE WETFOOT

"ALL THE NEWS THAT'S FOOT TO PRINT"

WELL, LADIES AND GENTLEMEN, HOMECOMING IS COMING MORE UPON US. ALTHOUGH THEY HAVE DONE THEIR BEST, THE STUDENTS IN BUILDING BONFIRES, HOMECOMING SIGNS, ETC., HAVE FAILED TO USE UP ALL THE UNSIGHTLY TRASH ON THE CAMPUS. IF YOU DON'T BELIEVE US, TAKE A LOOK AT THE HOMECOMING ARCH. WE WILL NOW BREAK INTO THAT OLD SONG OF LOVE. "SHE WAS JUST A CARPENTER'S DAUGHTER, BUT SHE BORE ME NO MALLETS."

HANDKERCHIEFS, PLEASE
 Sing a dirge for Willie Tate
 On his chest pray lay a 'mum';
 He pulled that time-worn chestnut,
 "What, can't whistler? Try Alum."

Yes, that's James, just spreading another cannibal.

LITTLE JUNIUS WOULD LIKE TO KNOW WHY THE RALLY

Mildred McGee To Speak On YW Work in Europe

"What does it mean to be a Christian in world friendship?" is to be the topic for discussion at the Sunday evening service of the Wesley club, which meets at the Methodist church, 12th and Willamette streets.

Mildred McGee, who is to be the leader for the occasion, will tell the group of her experiences in Europe this summer as delegate of the Y. W. C. A. on a student pilgrimage to the continent.

ALPHA BETA CHI WINS FIRST IN SIGN CONTEST

(Continued from Page One)
 alternately on the same background by means of an ingenious lighting device, the winning sign was deemed to show originality of mechanical arrangement as well as artistic merit. The first of the two representations pictured a duck close to the heels of the U. C. L. A. bruin, and the second showed an Oregon student vigorously shaking hands with an old grad in front of the ad building.

Duck Shelters Bruin

The entry which won first honorable mention for Sigma Pi Tau depicted a baby bear cub being sheltered from a realistic shower of northwestern rain by the expansive wing of an Oregon duck. Phi Sigma Kappa showed the bear going down in defeat at a blow from a mighty webbed foot, coming up again only to be again subdued.

Omega hall featured an enclosure inhabited by live ducks placidly quacking in contemplation of a central nest filled with footballs in place of eggs, while the inscription, "Oregon—Where Better Grads Are Hatched" heralded the display. Chi Psi's welcoming tribute was a float on the mill race, bearing the figures of a webfoot organ-grinder and a dancing bruin, putting on a show all their own.

The Bristow cup will be officially presented to Alpha Beta Chi to-

STARTED FROM THE KAPPA SIG CORNER LAST NIGHT INSTEAD OF THE SIGMA CHI CORNER AS HAS BEEN THE CUSTOM HERETOFORE. WELL, JUNIUS, THE RALLY LEADERS WERE EVIDENTLY TAKING NO CHANCES ON NOT BEING ABLE TO GET THERE ON TIME.

RAEL TRACES SPANISH TALES AMONG NEW MEXICO FARMERS
 (Headline from yesterday's Emerald.)
 Ah, another Darwin in our midst.

If some of our students look washed out after the homecoming festivities don't blame it to overwork and overplay; they may have simply stayed under the shower too long.

A young Theta just told us that Hugh Chapman is so bow-legged that when he gets on a horse he right at the Homecoming dance, by Walt Evans, general chairman for Homecoming features.

Working under Evans as chairman of the committee for the sign contest, Hobart Wilson has been in charge of the competition. His committee consists of Helen Darby, Charles Jones, and John Painton.

GRADS ARE GUESTS AT MANY FESTIVITIES

(Continued from Page One)
 lids to carry out the general scheme.

Several of the cleverest Homecoming signs will be transplanted to the floor of the Igloo today before the dance, and will blaze forth again this evening as an additional decorative feature. With finds his feet in the opposite stirrups.

WE HEAR THAT THEY AREN'T SERVING COFFEE AT THE FROSH BONFIRE THIS YEAR.

ALL CHIME IN
 There's a guy we'd like to kill
 And we'll do it, too, the pup,
 When we're snoring
 In our ear he's roaring.
 It's seven, time to get up.
 It doesn't sound right, does it?
 Oh, well, neither does our roommate when he's giving the frosh a lecture on Emily Post.

An then there's the one about the retired admiral who got a job in a hospital. He had charge of all the vessels on the third floor.

It's certainly getting to be the rocks when you can't tell whether it's an A. T. O. house meeting or a homecoming directorate conclave which is going on in the College Side.

the "pep" idea at the center of tonight's affair, informality will prevail.

Immediately preceding the dance and lasting throughout the evening, the alumni reception, an annual feature of Homecoming, will be held in Gerlinger hall, starting at 8 o'clock. A program of music will provide entertainment for those attending.

CLASSIFIED ADS

STOP, LISTEN—Navajo Indian blankets direct from the reservation in Arizona on sale at very reasonable prices in Public Market Stall 83. Come, look.

FOR SALE—Complete drum set for sale. See Jack Hewitt at men's gym or 1454 Onyx.

The Green Lantern

Offers

SPECIAL MEALS

Every Day for Alums

SUNDAY

Turkey and Steak Dinners

Welcome Grads

Oregon alums will see Doc Spears lead his Webfoots into his first Homecoming battle today. We're backing the team to ruin the Bruins, and to finish the year undefeated.

Drop down and see our window display of pictures of teams that have made Oregon football history in former years.

WELCOME GRADS

We're glad you're back again.

Here's hoping you have a Big Time this week-end.

COME IN AND SEE US

OREGON PHARMACY
 13th and Kincaid
 PHONE 1086

UNIVERSITY "CO-OP"
 10 YEARS OF SERVICE TO OREGON STUDENTS

Hello Alums!

Have a BIG TIME and REMEMBER We're Here To Serve You

UNIVERSITY PHARMACY
 11th and Alder

May this prove to be the Biggest, Best and most successful Homecoming of all.

May Stores Inc.

Eugene's Oldest Emporium
 977 WILLAMETTE

New Dinner Dresses

New Knitted Suits

and

New Formals

From $16.75 to $28.50

The Smartest Styles at Popular Prices

THE FRENCH SHOP

East Broadway