Letter Received From Dr. Moore

Padua Congress Attended By Professor

A member of the biology department has received a letter from Dr. A. R. Moore, former professor of biology, who is on leave of absence in Europe. The letter is dated Sept. 29.

"The congress in Padua was a great success," Dr. Moore writes. "Nearly 500 attended. The best groups were the Italian and German, although the French were well represented. The English and Americans were few and far between, so most of the reports were in German or Italian. The best thing was making acquaintances with interesting people. Since the session lasted eight days and there were many social parties, this was quite possible. Most of our old friends from Naples were there, including the director.

"After the session we visited Venice, Vicenza, Verona, Mantua, Parma and Genoa. These, except the first and last mentioned, are not often visited by Americans so we were invariably spoken to in German. Mantua and Parma are especially interesting as there is a great wealth of Roman and medieval remains. The cruise across the Italian lakes from Como to Stresa was very lovely in the sunlight.

Dr. and Mrs. Moore are now doing research work at the Marine biological station in Brussels.

Prominent Speakers To Appear at Math Groups

Several prominent speakers will appear before the Mathematics seminars in the near future. Dr. D. R. Davis, professor of mathematics, announced yesterday. The subject will concern the factoring of numbers and will be interesting. Professor Davis said, not because of the methods used but because of the results obtained.

The mathematics seminars are held three times a week on Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Saturdays at 10 o'clock. All those interested are invited to attend and to participate in the general discussion.

Railroad Inquiry Is Made by Wood

Results of Research Used In Book

An investigation into a cooperative plan in use among important eastern railroads was conducted by Louis A. Wood, of the economics department, during the year 1928-1929 with Yale university as his headquarters. The results of this investigation were incorporated by Professor Wood in a book, "Union-Management Cooperation on the Railroads," which will be released early next year by the Yale University press under the auspices of the William McKean Brown Foundation.

This enterprise has been conducted almost solely by Professor Wood, as he made the eastern investigation alone and wrote the book with little or no collaboration. His research took him into the shops of four railway companies; namely, the Baltimore and Ohio, the Chicago and Northwestern, the Canadian National system, and the Milwaukee system.

Juan B. Rael Collecting Folk Lore in New Mexico

Juan B. Rael, instructor in Romance languages, is now in New Mexico enthusiastically engaged in his research, according to word received by the Romance language department from Mrs. Rael.

Collecting folk stories is the research work that is being done by Mr. Rael. So far he has found conditions better than he anticipated and is meeting with great success in compiling his tales, he writes.

He spent much time last summer trying to collect these tales, but the people were too busy to tell them at that time.

Folklore Talk Featured At Spanish Club Meeting

A talk on Mexican folklore by Dr. L. O. Wright, head of the Spanish section, will be the principle feature of the meeting of "La Corrida de Todos," Spanish club, which will be held at 7:30 tonight at Westminster house.

Dr. Wright plans to particularly mention the folk tales of New Mexico, where Mr. Juan B. Rael, instructor in Romance languages, is spending his leave of absence collecting stories from the natives. The entertainment will consist of Spanish card games and the singing of Spanish folk songs. Mr. Carl J. Furr, president of the club, planned the program.

Oregon's New Librarian Visits University Campus

Miss Harriet Long, Oregon's new state librarian, is a distinguished visitor on the University campus today. She will be a guest of Mrs. Arnold Bennett Hall.

Miss Long will speak at the Rotary club luncheon today. This evening the library staff will give a formal dinner in her honor at 6:30 in the Anchorage. Members of the Eugene library staff and their wives and others interested in library work have been invited to attend. After the dinner Miss Long will give a short talk on library work.

Dean Schwering Leaves to Speak At High Schools

Mrs. Hazel Prutsman Schwering, dean of women, left the campus Monday night to be gone all week. She will speak before groups in Molalla and Canby, and will attend a tea being given by Oregon Mothers in Portland.

The dean of women will speak before the Girls' League and the student body of Molalla high school on Tuesday, and Wednesday she will address similar bodies in Canby. Friday a tea is being given by Oregon Mothers at the home of Mrs. Walter M. Cook. Mrs. Schwering plans to return Saturday.

Varsity Debate Tryouts Postponed Until Nov. 25

Varsity debate tryouts have been postponed one week, and will be held in Villard hall on Tuesday, November 25 at 4 o'clock. All men, excepting freshmen, are entitled to compete.

They will speak on the question, Resolved: that the United States should gradually lower its tariff rate so as to adopt a policy of free trade within 20 years.

About 35 men are expected to turn out, and from this group about 18 will be chosen. These 18 will form the varsity squad from which the teams will be picked sometime during the winter term.

Hicks, Gillespie Named Chairmen Of Forum Hours

International Week Event To Have Assistants In Each House

Lavina Hicks and Charles Gillespie were yesterday named as co-chairmen for the arrangements of the forum hour to be conducted in each living organization on the campus as a special feature during International week, Dec. 1 to 7.

The forum hour on Tuesday evening which will consist of a talk on international relations and a general discussion of topics presented is to be presided over by an appointed speaker. Each speaker will be a dinner guest of the particular house he is in charge of, and the forum hour will be conducted directly afterwards from 6:30 to 7:30.

Representatives are being chosen in each house to keep the house informed as to the various affairs during the week and to help conduct the forum hour. The representatives for the women's organizations are:

- Alpha Chi Omega, Elaine Henderson; Alpha Delta Pi, Marjorie Swafford; Alpha Gamma, Bernice Conly; Alpha Omicron, Elizabeth Plumber; Alpha Xi Delta, Mildred McGee; Alpha Phi, Carolyn Haberslach; Chi Delta, Katherine Dunlop; Chi Omega, Harriet Kibbee.

Snowy Weather Prolongs Jaunt

GETTING snowbound in the mountains is one way of prolonging the week-end. Catherine Bourhill, of Susan Campbell hall, went for a day's trip to Mt. Hood this last week-end and is staying three days. She telephoned Sunday night that the party was snowed in and would not be able to return until Monday. It is thought that they are staying at the government camp which is located in that region.

Dr. Hodge Recommends African Film as Gentine

That all African movies aren't fakes was admitted by Dr. Edwin T. Hodge yesterday, when he recommended "Africa Speaks" as being legitimate and bona fide photography of wild life in the Dark continent. The picture appeared recently at the McDonald theatre.

"Unlike other pictures that have appeared recently in Eugene, the scenes in 'Africa Speaks' appeared to be genuine. They had been taken on the game preserve at Athi in Kenya. The shots of lions, giraffes, and antelopes were excellent.

Zane Addresses P.-T. A.; Taylor To Present Topic

Nowland B. Zane, associate professor of design, addressed the Belfountain Parent-Teacher association near Monroe on November 15, discussing the subject of "Alaskan Art."

On November 21, Howard R. Taylor will speak to the Junction City Parent-Teacher organization on the topic of "The Psychology of Childhood."

Leo's Orchestra Scores Sunday At KORE Studio

Programs Will Be Relayed From College Side In Future

Leo's Midway Varsityians, playing the same selections they have been offering during the past month of programs sponsored by "The Oregon Daily Emerald of the Air," occupied the majority of the minutes on Sunday night's broadcast which originated in the main studios of station KORE.

"Sing" Harper, an old favorite, sang "Sweet Jenny Lee" and "One More Waltz" in his usual good fashion. Bob Goodrich, a competitor of Harper's, was also back in the studio with "What's the Use" and "Nobody's Sweetheart."

An instrumental trio, composed of Bud Nicklaus, Carl Collins, and Carl McDowell offered "Confession" and "Just a Little Closer."

Bud Nicklaus and "Sing" Harper presented a double piano arrangement of "Girl From Agua Caliente" in rhythmic rattles and rumbles.

"You Brought a New Kind of Love to Me," by Johnny Smedburg, was well received.

Barney Miller and Willie Johnson, the parlor propagandists, had several new features in their repertoire. Outstanding among these skits was the modern version of "Little Red Riding Hood." Vinton Hall, editor of the Emerald assisted in this brief production.

The broadcasting of the Emerald-KORE hour from the main studios last Sunday was only temporary and the broadcast will be relayed from the campus studios in the College Side Inn henceforth. This arrangement for broadcasting was made possible by Newt Smith, manager of the College Side, and has proved extremely popular among college students who may easily call at the inn and dance and sup while the programs are being broadcast.

Dean Faville Lists New Books for Business Men

Business condition today and its history of yesterday is completely outlined in the list of books which Dean David E. Faville, school of business administration, has recently compiled.

Dean Faville will give a talk at the Rotary club this noon at which a mimeographed copy of these books will be given to those who attend. These books are not too technical but what everyone can readily understand them, yet they do bring out the important points in the business discussion of today.

Anyone who is interested in these books may obtain a copy of the list at the library or at the offices of the school of business administration.

Checking on Study Time

A time card system is being introduced for the engineering students at Wisconsin to aid the professors in measuring the amount of work actually required to cover their assignments. The results so far are varied. One engineer spent 14 hours on a thesis, while another, less studiously inclined, spent only 14 hours on seven courses including his thesis. The report does not intimate how the system works, but it is certain that the device will not measure efficiency in the use of time.

WHAT SHOW TONIGHT?

Colonial—"Let's Go Native," with Jack Oakie. Comedy.
McDonald—"Those Three French Girls," with Reginald Denny. Farce.
Hellig-Bebe Daniels in "Dixiana." Musi-extravaganza.
Guild Hall—"Holiday." Wednesday, Thursday, Friday. Opening play of Guild theatre.

McDonald Show Naughty But Nice
Reginald Denny and Fifi Dorsay head a dazzling cast in "Those Three French Girls," mildly naughty farce of Gay Paree, which opens today at the McDonald theatre for a three-day run.

The plot of the farce was written by P. G. Wodehouse, one of America's best humorists, and it is said to contain a laugh in every reel and a howl in every line of the dialogue. The three girls are Fifi Dorsay, Sandra Ravel, and Yola D'Avril. The picture contains but one song, "Your Simply Delish," sung by Miss Dorsay.

Brevities
"The Way of All Men" is the title of the Hellig theatre's next attraction. . . Jackie Coogan has released his first talking picture, "The Adventures of Tom Sawyer." . . Norma Talmadge's "Du Barry," due in Eugene presently, is regarded as the final test of the future Miss Talmadge has in films. It would be interesting to see a return of "Holiday," as interpreted

First Social Swim Draws Fifteen to Gerlinger Pool

Fifteen people turned out to the first social swim of the year, Friday night at Gerlinger hall, in spite of the conflicting entertainments occurring at the same time, the Frosh-Rook game and the Junior Jinx. Mrs. French and Mrs. Scafe acted as chaperons.

The swims, which will occur regularly on Friday evening from 7:15 to 9, are open to everyone. They are classed under the recreational activities of the University and charge no admission. Paul Lafferty, who is managing in the films, soon after the Guild production. Ann Harding has the part Nancy Thielsen is playing.

Oakie at Colonial
In the best talkie of his career, Jack Oakie arrives at the Colonial theatre today in "Let's Go Native." The film is much superior to "The Lion Tamer," appearing here several months ago.

Jeannette MacDonald, one of the screen's loveliest women, is his feminine lead, which assures the audience that what singing there is in the picture is in capable hands.

Dixiana Closes Today
"Dixiana," musical extravaganza of the Old South, starring Bebe Daniels, is one of the most colorful pictures of its type to come to Eugene. There are some excellent sequences in technicolor. As in all such pictures, the thread of plot is weak, but Bebe Daniels' voice, along with the famous Daniels of the Metropolitan, adds much to make "Dixiana" other than just a mass of color.

"Midnite Mystery," which is playing at the State theater tonight, has an unusually exciting plot. Betty Compson handles the feminine role very well and gives a surplus of thrills in addition to those supplied by the plot. Lowell Sherman, who is playing with Miss Compson, is all that a hero should be.

lifeguard and he will be assisted throughout the year by Edith Greene. Mrs. Letty Mowry will chaperon the weekly splashes.

ONE WILL ALWAYS STAND OUT

Whole-hearted, natural, real!

EQUALLY genuine is the response of smokers to Chesterfield's satisfying goodness, its wholesome smoothness.

No one ever has to "acquire" a taste for Chesterfields. You don't have to learn to like them. Smokers take to their pleasing flavor instinctively . . . and here's why:

MILDNESS — the entirely natural mildness of tobaccos that are without harshness or bitterness.

BETTER TASTE — Such as only a cigarette of wholesome purity and better tobaccos can have.

for MILDER BETTER TASTE

Chesterfield Cigarettes are manufactured by LIGGETT & MYERS TOBACCO CO.

They Satisfy
— that's Why!
