19 Dances Scheduled

With 19 house dances scheduled for the week-end, a sudden burst of gaiety is sweeping over the campus before the Thanksgiving holidays.

Psi Psi Feudal Dance

The charm and the graciousness of a manor house of the old feudal style will be the atmosphere of the Psi Psi Psi informal dance which will be given tonight at the chapter house.

Coats of arms will decorate the walls and the windows are being done over to resemble painted glass.

Robert W. Johnson is general chairman. Patrons and patronesses will be Mr. and Mrs. W. F. G. Thacher, Mr. and Mrs. James Harding, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred West.

Sigma Kappa Gives Dance

The Sigma Kappa dance which will be held tonight will portray a return to the land of imagination and wonderland. It is to be extravagantly fantastic and as yet no details of the decorations have been given out.

Dena Lieualien is in charge. The list of patrons and patronesses includes Mrs. Jennie Burrows, Mr. and Mrs. I. A. Mather, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Robers, and Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Stillman.

Betas Go "Apache"

Beta Theta Pi is going Apache at their dance tonight. The house will be turned into a Bohemia with red and blue checked table-cloths, girls with berets and high heels.

Bill Barendrick, with Treve Jones, has charge of the affair. The patrons and patronesses will be Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Gage, Mr. and Mrs. Art Morris, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Riggs, Mr. Hal Chapman.

Psi Deltas at Eugene

The Eugene hotel will be the scene of the Psi Delta Theta fall informal tonight. The ballroom will be formally decorated with palms and colored flood-lights.

Ken Siegrist is making the arrangements. Patrons and patronesses will be Mr. and Mrs. Campbell Church, Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Spencer, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Wagner, Mr. John Walker.

Pledge Pin Dance Motif

The black and gold pledge pin will be used by the Chi Psi lodge as the motif for their pledge dance which will be given tonight at the Golf club.

Arthur Babson is in charge of the plans. The patrons and patronesses are: Mr. and Mrs. Robert Neighbor Jr., Mr. and Mrs. W. F. G. Thacher, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hardy, and Dean David E. Faville.

S. A. E. To Have Circus

With a reputation for giving some of the cleverest dances known on the campus, Sigma Alpha Epsilon will tonight uphold that reputation with a circus dance at the Osburn hotel.

The walls will be hung with burlap, as if it were a tent; wild animals in circus cages will glare on the assembled multitudes.

Don Eva is general chairman. The patrons and patronesses will include: Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Eva, Mr. Edward Lesh, Mr. R. Coggeshall, Mr. and Mrs. John Stark Evans.

Kappa Sigs Use Barn

Hay! Hay! Kappa Sigma is entertaining tonight with a barn dance. Ye fair co-eds will be shot down a slide from the second floor in order to enter. Old-fashioned buggies will perambulate around the room. Chickens, ducks, turkeys will hang from the rafters, and the usual dark atmosphere will pervade.

Jack Burke is in charge. Patrons and patronesses are: Dr. and Mrs. D. C. Starnard, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Lucas, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Shields, Mr. S. Stephenson Smith.

Hoboes Inhabit Alpha Hall

Hoboes will inhabit the hobo jungles of Alpha hall at the dance which will be given at the men's dormitory.

The programs are of tin. Trees will grow along the walls and tin cans will lie among them.

Dave Totton is chairman for the affair. Patrons and patronesses are: Dr. and Mrs. Leo Friedman, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Manerud, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Wilderman.

House Becomes Harlem

Alpha Gamma Delta turned its house into Harlem, paneling the walls with street scenes and tall sky-scrapers. A tap-dance by a cub-loed man was the feature of the evening.

Josephine Damasch was in charge. The list of patrons and patronesses included: Mr. and Mrs.

George Godfrey, Mrs. Jeanette Lange, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Hold, Miss Maude Kerns, and Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Adams.

Theta Omega Pledge Dance

Green parrots with flashes of brilliant autumn leaves will line the walls of the Theta Omega chapter house at their pledge dance this evening.

The chairman is Corinne Carpenter. Patrons and patronesses are: Mrs. John Hershner, Mr. and Mrs. Earl M. Pallett, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Hawkins.

Autumn Leaves Motif

Chi Delta will entertain this evening with an informal dance at the Craftsman's club. Autumn leaves and flowers will be used for decorations.

Catherine Duer is in charge of the affair. Patrons and patronesses include: Mrs. May Burkhardt, Mrs. Warren D. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin L. Knapp, and Mr. and Mrs. Dan Clark.

"Paddle Idea" Used

The Sigma Alpha Mu pledge will be given at Lee Duke's tonight and will use the "paddle-idea" as motif. David Bloom is in charge.

Patrons and patronesses are: Dr. and Mrs. Leo Friedman, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Manerud, and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Wilderman.

Thanksgiving Bachelordom Motif

Ten other dances made the night merry yesterday evening. Bachelor-don used a Thanksgiving idea, decorating with cornstalks and pumpkins.

Those in charge were Keith Maguire and Joe Haslinger. The chaparronees were: Professor and Mrs. F. S. Dunn, Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Miller, and Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Morris.

Tri-Deltas Have Card Dance

A card dance, with huge cards hanging on the walls, transparent dice around the lights, dice with candles inserted were used as centerpieces, and programs which were like hands of cards that shuffle out, characterized the pledge dance which Delta Delta Delta gave.

Olive Ritan was chairman. Patrons and patronesses were: Dr. and Mrs. Robert Betts, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Rogers, and Prof. and Mrs. A. R. Sweetser.

A. T. O. Uses Paddles

A paddle dance, the motif for which was huge modernistic paddles, modernistic Greek letters painted thereon, was given by Alpha Tau Omega honoring its pledges.

George Vaughan was in charge. Patrons and patronesses were: Dean H. L. Biggs, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Finsley, Dr. Mark Phyllis.

Theta Pledges Entertain

Using an "art idea" with original and very fine paintings, architectural plans and statues, brilliant scarfs and rugs to decorate. Kappa Alpha Theta's pledges of 1929 honored the pledges of 1930 at a formal dance.

The patrons and patronesses were: Mrs. Grace Russell, Mr. and Mrs. Campbell church, Mrs. Dean Walker, and Miss Celia Stoddard.

WHAT SHOW TONIGHT?

Guild theatre — Last day, "Holiday," with Nancy Thielsen. Legit. comedy.

McDonald — Saturday only, "Derelect." Drama. Sunday and Monday, "Rain or Shine."

Colonial — Saturday only, "Garbo in 'Anna Christie.'" Tragic drama. Sunday, "Gold Diggers of Broadway." Musi-comedy.

Heilig — Saturday only, "Officer O'Brien." Melodrama. Sunday and Monday, "The Office Wife." Melodrama.

Rex — Saturday and Sunday, "Trails of Danger." Western.

Bancroft in Sea Film — "Derelect," with George Bancroft, and playing for the last day at the McDonald, has some of the best photographic work of any picture in recent months; certainly the best among sea pictures. For sheer thrill of seeing the action of the ocean in stormy weather, some of the odd shots can't be beat.

"Anna Christie" at Colonial — In her finest dramatic piece since "Flesh and the Devil," Greta Garbo (she talks) is playing the Colonial theatre for the last time today in "Anna Christie." The film is a tense drama of human emotions. It has a masterly cast, Marie Dressler playing the best role of her career, and is faithfully recorded from the famous play by Eugene O'Neill.

William Boyd Plays Policeman — In the role of a policeman desperately trying to save his father from a career in crime, William Boyd is playing for the last time Saturday at the Heilig theatre in "Officer O'Brien." It is an underworld melodrama, with Ernest Torrence doing the outstanding work in the character of the wayward father.

Famous Novel Is Screened — The Heilig is bringing on Sunday and Monday, "The Office Wife," stirring novel that sold like fire all over the country last summer. It is the story of men who have two wives, one the legal, and the other, the stenographer or secretary. It is advertised as a picture with a moral.

Western at Rex — The Rex theatre continues its policy of week-end westerns this week with "Trails of Danger," a blood and thunder story of the West when bandits were bold and ladies were forced to carry firearms.

McDonald Features New Comedian — Joe Cook, the famous "one-man show," makes his debut in "Rain or Shine," the McDonald attraction for Sunday and Monday.

He can, but not only does, it is said, do an entire show by himself. He sings, plays various musical instruments, performs acrobatic stunts, dances and conjures, with a little trick shooting thrown in. Louise Fazenda is thrown in as a certain laugh hit.

Colonial Has Big Musi-Comedy — Winnie Lightner, and a line up of performers that would make Ziegfeld envious, including Ann Pennington and legs, comes to the Colonial on Sunday in the musicomedy hit, "Gold Diggers of Broadway." Rated as much superior to the ordinary type of filmed musical shows, the picture is done in technicolor. Tremendous scenic effects are some of the big features.

Lantern Slides Will Show Greek Theatres to Class — Lantern slides depicting the Greek and Roman theater will be shown at 11 o'clock Monday morning in 107 Oregon, Dr. Clara Smertenko, instructor of Latin and Greek, announced yesterday.

The class in Latin comedy, which meets at that time, will be open to any students interested in the slides. The presentation will take the place of the regular class work, as Dr. Smertenko will be spending the week in California, where she will attend the Pacific coast branch conference of the American Philological association.

Sigma Pi Tau Has Guest — Walter F. Patrie, past president of the Portland Delta Upsilon Alumni club, is a guest of Sigma Pi Tau during a short stay in Eugene. Mr. Patrie is traveling on business. He is a graduate of the University of Washington.

Vice-President Here — Burt Brown Barker, vice-president of the University, arrived in Eugene yesterday in order to address the American Association of University Women at the Osburn hotel this noon.

Pi Sigma Adopts Rules for Award

Plaque of Mythical Horse Will Be Prize

At a meeting of Pi Sigma, Latin honorary, Thursday afternoon the following rules were adopted to be used in making an award for excellent work in Latin.

1. Candidates shall be ready to take courses numbered 300 or over.

2. Only undergraduates shall be eligible.

3. Candidates shall submit to a competitive examination, the time and place of which shall be announced two weeks in advance.

4. Papers shall be submitted to at least one faculty member of another institution in addition to two local instructors.

5. The department shall send uniform instructions to all judges for ranking the papers.

6. These provisions shall be published before the examination.

7. The prize shall be awarded at the banquet held in the spring term.

The award being given by Pi Sigma is a plaque of the mythical horse, Pegasus, carved in wood. It has been on exhibition in the Co-op for several weeks.

Cool Weather Brings on Annual Autumn Ailment

The present cool spell, according to infirmary records, is increasing the epidemic of colds on the campus. For some time the health service has not had to cope with this popular autumn ailment, but yesterday two cases of colds were admitted to the infirmary.

The students confined to the care of the health service at the present time are: Betty Prindle, Zephia Houston, Phyllis Wold, Lloyd Brough, Virgil LaClaire, Donald McClintock, and George McFarland.

Store Comptroller Talks To Class in Accounting

H. F. Puppe, comptroller of the May Company store in Eugene, addressed the accounting system class in the school of business administration on Thursday concerning himself with the subject of "Department Store Accounting," in which he discussed the methods of purchasing, the mark-ups and mark-downs, and the retail method of inventory.

On Monday he will return to the campus to address the same class on the subject of the handling of the recording of sales and the distribution of expenses in department stores.

Etchings and Sketches Are Displayed in Gallery

An exhibit of etchings and sketches done in water color by W. F. McIlwraith is being shown in the gallery of the school of architecture.

The sketches were made while McIlwraith was in Europe last spring, but the etchings have been made at different times in Portland where he has resided for the last few years.

Mr. McIlwraith studied at the Art Student's League in New York under Mr. Twachtal, well known teacher. Before coming to Portland, he was interested in advertising art in New York.

Student In Far-away Turkey Takes Course Through Mail

Half the way round the world, Helen Sahagian, 17-year-old Armenian girl, is registered in Constantinople, Turkey, for a University of Oregon correspondence course in the elements of English composition.

Miss Sahagian is at the present time residing with Mrs. Lucile McDonald, a former University of Oregon student in journalism, at the American consulate in Alexandria, Egypt. Of the circumstances under which the Armenian girl works, Mrs. McDonald writes:

"You can't imagine how discouraging it is to try things like this under the present conditions—no libraries, in a country with poor credit, prohibitive tariffs on paper and similar imported articles. Trying to buy these paper was a typical incident. We waited three days for the best stationer in town to rummage in his warehouse for a pad of something that remotely resembled the brand used at home."

When the McDonalds returned to the United States, they plan to bring Miss Sahagian with them to enter the University of Oregon, where she wants to study English.

Miss Sahagian has made higher than a II average on the first 12 lessons in her course, although she is forced to write laboriously in a foreign tongue.

Physical Ed Majors Will Hike to Baldy and Caves

Phi Epsilon Kappa, men's national physical educational honorary, is sponsoring a hike for physical ed majors to Baldy mountain and the Coburg caves today. The affair is planned as a social get-together.

At their Wednesday night meeting the honorary was entertained by a talk given by Wendell L. Van Loan of the education department. The honorary is featuring a series of speakers at its weekly meetings and all members are urged to be present.

National Red Cross Roll Call Is Successful Here

The National Red Cross roll call being conducted on the campus among the living organizations, faculty members, and members of personnel and the administrative staff, has been very successful so far, according to Dr. Philip A. Parsons, dean of the school of applied social science, who has general charge of the campaign.

"We are well pleased with the interest that has been taken in the drive. Both students and members of the administrative staff and faculty have been generous in their contributions," Dr. Parsons said.

Articles Lost at Bell Field At Grad. Manager's Office

Some of the personal articles lost by Oregon women at the Oregon-Oregon State game last Saturday can be obtained by identifying them at the University graduate manager's office in Friendly hall, where they have been forwarded from Corvallis.

According to the letter received by "Doc" Robnett, assistant graduate manager of the University, from Bernard Hafenfeld, assistant graduate manager of Oregon State college, the list includes a number of umbrellas, gloves, purses, pens, and pencils, which were found under the Oregon women rooters' section at Bell field.

Independent Men To Hold Special Meeting Monday

The Independent Men of Oregon will hold a special meeting Monday night at 7:30 in the men's lounge of Gerlinger hall, for the purpose of completing ratification of the new constitution, selecting a name, and discussing the part the organization will take in International week, according to Clifton Culp, temporary president.

The constitution was ratified, with the exception of the article

"Mathematics and Music" To Be Topic for Meeting

The Mathematics club will hold its second meeting of the year on Monday, November 24, at 8 o'clock in Westminster house. Kenneth Kienzie, senior in mathematics, will read a paper on "Mathematics and Music."

A short business meeting will precede the speaker's talk. Music will furnish the entertainment for the evening, and punch will be served. All members, including graduate assistants, are urged to attend.

Mu Phi Alpha Sponsors Program for Vespers

A musical program given by members of Mu Phi Alpha, national music fraternity for men, and a reading by Professor W. F. G. Thacher will constitute the vespers service to be given at the music auditorium at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

George Barron will play Tschalkowsky's Andante Cantabile on the organ. Gifford Nash, baritone, and Hadsey Crawford, tenor, will both sing. Nash's selection is the aria "Draw Near All Ye People" from Mendelssohn's "Elijah."

PLEDGING ANNOUNCEMENT

Hermian club, women's physical education honorary, announces the pledging of Vivian Coss and Mary Wilburn.
