

No Not Gone

Who said the "hello spirit" is dead? Yesterday disproved it when we actually saw two strangers meet, smile, say "good morning" and pass by.

The Weather

Maximum 49
Minimum 28
No precipitation.

VOLUME XXXII

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, EUGENE, TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 25, 1930

NUMBER 38

Exam Schedule For Fall Term Is Announced

Committee Releases List So That Students Can Make Plans Early

Examinations Will Be Held In Regular Classrooms As Usual

The examination schedule for fall term, 1930, has just been released by the examination schedule committee.

Miss Stephenson, secretary of the committee, announced that the schedule is published at this time in order that students may have a definite plan before the Thanksgiving holidays.

All the examinations will be held in the regular classrooms unless the instructors make other arrangements. Those classes which are not scheduled below take irregular status by arrangements made in consultation with Miss Stephenson.

Saturday, December 13
1-3—Personal Hygiene for Women.

Monday, December 15
8-10—Eight o'clock classes meeting M W F or any two of these days, and four and five hour classes at 8.

10-12—Eight o'clock classes meeting Tu Th S or any two of these days.

1-3—Survey of Physical Science, all sections.

3-5—First and Second Year Spanish, all sections. Third Year Spanish Literature, all sections.

Tuesday, December 16
8-10—Nine o'clock classes meeting M W F or any two of these days, and four and five hour classes at 9.

10-12—Nine o'clock classes meeting Tu Th S or any two of these days.

1-3—Background of Social Science, all sections.

Three o'clock classes meeting Tu Th.

3-5—Two o'clock classes meeting Tu Th.

Report Writing, all sections.

Wednesday, December 17
8-10—Ten o'clock classes meeting M W F or any two of these days, and four and five hour classes at 10.

10-12—Ten o'clock classes meeting Tu Th S or any two of these days.

1-3—First and Second Year French, all sections. Third Year French Literature, all sections.

3-5—Constructive Accounting, all sections.

Thursday, December 18
8-10—Eleven o'clock classes meeting M W F or any two of these days, and four and five hour classes at 11.

10-12—Eleven o'clock classes meeting Tu Th S or any two of these days.

1-3—Two o'clock classes meeting M W F or any two of these days and four and five hour classes at 2.

3-5—Psychology Laboratory, all sections.

Friday, December 19
8-10—One o'clock classes meeting M W F or any two of these days, and four and five hour classes at 1.

10-12—One o'clock classes meeting Tu Th.

1-3—Three o'clock classes meeting M W F or any two of these days, and four and five hour classes at 3.

Germans Fall In "Dutch"

THE raucous sound of a table-spoon upon a wash-tub, accompanied by three voices singing "Oh Tannenbaum," aroused Susan Campbell hall to startled action at the witching hour of 9 o'clock Saturday night. A few minutes later the source appeared in the form of three Susan Campbell inmates, of whom the first bore the aforementioned impromptu and the slogan "German Club Christmas Party" and the other two followed after, dressed as German farmers.

"What's the harm in our doing a little advertising?" shouted the Germans, incognito, when conducted to their rooms by a group of determined juniors and seniors. "If everybody else advertises the thing, why can't we? No, no, don't speak to us. Don't speak to us. We talk only German."

But the German revelers had put themselves very much in Dutch.

Special Rate To St. Mary's Game Now Cancelled

Lack of Interest Results In Withdrawal of Rally Train

Lack of interest in the Oregon-St. Mary's Thanksgiving day game at San Francisco has resulted in the cancellation of plans for a special train rate to the Bay city, which was offered by the Southern Pacific company at the request of the University graduate manager's office.

Instead of the regular fare of $30 round-trip with a 16-day stop-over privilege, the company agreed to give a $24.75 rate with a 10-day stop-over privilege provided that 24 or more persons signed up for the trip. Only three replies were received, so the company was compelled to withdraw the special rate.

Frank G. Lewis, ticket agent of the Southern Pacific, said that he believed the small amount of interest in the offer was caused by a slump in football enthusiasm due to the recent defeat at Corvallis.

Ten Students Are Teaching Music

'Cadets' Do Practical Work In Eugene Schools

A good part of the music instruction in the public schools of Eugene is being done this year by ten "cadet-teachers," students in the music school of the University who are finishing off their year of theoretical training in public school music with practical work.

Nelson L. Bossing, professor of education, is in general charge of cadet teaching, but the music cadets work under Mrs. Anne Landis-Burke, director of public school music in the city schools.

The cadet-teachers this year are: Hugh Miller, Eugene; Helen Ashliman, Salem; George Barron, Ashland; Marabel Braden, Lebanon; Margaret Cummings, Klamath Falls; Esther Frost, Estelle Johnson, and Marguerite Spath, Portland; Dena Lieuallen, Adams; Lucy Spittle and Helen Elliott, Astoria.

The main work of these instructors is to teach group singing, but they have in addition organized orchestras in a number of schools.

Bill Pittman To Handle Annual Prep Meeting

High School Conference Is Scheduled for Campus January 9 and 10

Convention To Be Eleventh Sponsored at Eugene By University

Bill Pittman, president of the senior class, has been appointed chairman of the eleventh annual High School conference to be held on the campus January 9 and 10, according to an announcement from George Cherry, president of Associated Students, last night.

"The chairman for this eleventh annual conference, Bill Pittman, having had an unusual amount of experience, is in itself an assurance of success, but his greatly broadened plans will require a certain amount of responsibility from each one of us," said Cherry in speaking of his appointment.

Conference Justified
"The very nature of the High School conference," he continued, "with its far-reaching possibilities, is such that only this feeling of individual, as well as group responsibility can justify its continued existence."

Pittman, in speaking of the conference, said: "The success of this year's High School conference does not rest upon the work of any one individual or group, but upon the co-operation of the Associated Students as a whole."

"The paramount purpose of this conference is to create better relations between the high school students and institutions of higher education. And to that end we are endeavoring to bend the combined efforts of the student body."

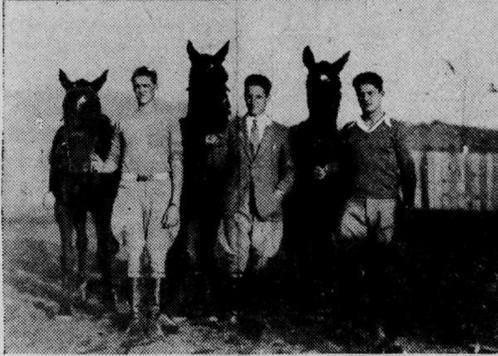

A. W. S. to Aid
"The A. W. S. has expressed a willingness and desire to aid in whatever way they can to be of assistance in the new plans. The necessity of this type of co-operation on the part of every organization that is in position to assist in accomplishing the true purpose of the conference cannot be over-emphasized."

"The conference," he concluded, "will be divided into several sections—high school journalists, student body executives, woman's league officials, and others—with the possible addition of athletic managers to the list of invited guests."

Manager's Office Open To Students on Friday

For the convenience of students who are remaining on the campus over the Thanksgiving vacation, the graduate manager's office will be open all day Friday as usual. The office will not be open on Thanksgiving day or on the following Saturday forenoon. On Saturday afternoons the office is always closed.

Riding Their Hobby

A few of the Boots and Spurs club riders who took part in a recent paper chase. The club sponsors afternoon and evening rides. The students from left to right are: Willis West, Bill Hedlund, John Catlin, Bob Catlin, Helen Burns, Homer Spencer, and Elma Vaughn. Below are shown the three winners, left to right: Bill Hedlund, who finished third; John Catlin, who finished first; and his brother, Bob Catlin, who came in second.

Former Oregon Student Drowned In River Sunday

Dayton Skirving Perishes In Columbia While on Hunting Trip

Dayton Skirving, 19, University student last year and a member of Bachelordon, local social fraternity, was drowned in a deep channel of the Columbia river near The Dalles Sunday, according to a report from that city yesterday.

Young Skirving had just shot a goose from the bank of the river and in attempting to retrieve it from the water plunged in the cold, swirling channel. The swift current of the treacherous eddy carried him away from shore, though he was known as a strong swimmer. Two companions attempted to rescue him, when he was seized with cramps caused by the cold water. They succeeded in reaching his side and had towed him a short distance when the freezing waters overcame their efforts.

The swirling eddies of the river, which makes this place unusually treacherous, especially in the winter seasons, carried Skirving under and away from shore, as his two companions were barely able to reach land themselves.

Skirving had attended Oregon (Continued on Page Four)

Two Trios Make Radio Debut on Sunday Program

Program of Foreign Talent Presented in Interest of International Week

A men's trio that promises to go far in the lighter type of musical circles on the campus made its first public appearance on Sunday night's "Oregon Daily Emerald of the Air" program over station KORE. Johnny Smedberg, Kelsey Slocum, and Bob Goodrich are the three boys who make up the new organization. They have patterned their work on that of the famous Rhythm Boys and already have a splendid duplication.

The radio parlors of College Side Inn also witnessed the debut of another trio on the campus. The Kappa Trio—Lois Conover, Betty Hudson, and Janet Thacher—sang "Confessin'" and "South Sea Rose" in perfect harmony.

Hugh Biggs, dean of men, gave an interesting description of his work in the University. He discussed with Chet Knowlton, who conducted the interview, the matters of student loans, school activities, a University-owned radio, and student government.

In the interest of International (Continued on Page Three)

Series of Five Concerts Will Be Held Here

Season Opens With Piano Ensemble at Igloo December 9

Student-Body Cards Entitle Owners To Free Admission

Five splendid concerts, instead of the usual four, are scheduled to be given in McArthur court under the auspices of the Associated students on the 1930-31 concert series, according to Ronald Robnett, assistant graduate manager.

Holders of student body cards will be entitled to hear all of the concerts free, since the major portion of the expense of bringing the artists to the campus is born by the Associated students.

The series opens on Tuesday, December 9, with a presentation of Guy Maier and Lee Pattison, two-piano ensembles, and closes sometime in April with a joint appearance of the University symphony and University choir. The Portland Symphony orchestra, appearing Sunday, February 22; Florence Austral, soprano, who is billed for February 5 and Nathan Milstein, violinist, scheduled for January 21, comprise the other three attractions on the series, which is considered by musical authorities of the campus to be the most brilliant ever to be sponsored by the Associated students.

On Farewell Tour
Maier and Pattison are two American pianists who, after 12 years of artistic and daring work in the little-frequented field of two-piano music, are now on their farewell tour. They have revived forgotten compositions for two pianos by classical composers, and many modern composers have been inspired to compose others by their work in developing this field.

Nathan Milstein is a young Russian who is now universally held to be one of the five greatest violinists in the world. Last winter he appeared as soloist with several Pacific coast companies, and created such a sensation that he was immediately engaged to return on another tour this winter.

Singer Australian
Florence Austral is an Australian singer who seems to be on her way to eclipse the record of her famous compatriot, Nellie Melba. She is best known for her concert work in England and the United States, and many of the most discriminating critics of these countries do not hesitate to call her the greatest soprano of today.

Symphony Appears
The Portland Symphony orchestra is appearing for the third time in the last five years on the campus. Students have been quick to appreciate an opportunity to hear one of the best six orchestras in the country, and have packed the hall every time. Departing from the customary evening performance, the orchestra concert will be given on Sunday afternoon.

The date for the joint appearance of the University symphony and the University choir has not been set as yet, but it will be during April.

Schedule Planned for Thanksgiving at Library

"During the Thanksgiving recess the library will be open as follows," quoted Mr. Douglass, librarian.

On Wednesday, November 26, the reserve departments will close at 6 p. m., but the circulation and reference departments will be open until 10 p. m. as usual.

On Thanksgiving day the circulation department will be open from 8 a. m. to 12 p. m., but the reserve departments will be closed all day.

On Friday and Saturday all departments will be open from 8 a. m. to 6 p. m. and on Sunday, November 30, from 2 to 6 p. m.

Westminster Guild Will Have Benefit Tea Today

Westminster Guild will hold a silver tea this afternoon from 3 to 5 at Westminster house. This tea is to benefit the funds for foreign work and to give a chance to show an interest for peoples in other countries.

The chairmen in charge of arrangements are: Leone Barlow, reception; Florence Nombalais, pouring and serving; Gwen Metzger, music; Marian Jones, decorations.

The tea will be informal with campus clothes in favor. Everyone is invited to attend.

Classes To Be As Usual Tomorrow

REGULAR classes will be held all day Wednesday, it has been announced from the office of the dean of women.

Women students who remain on the campus over the Thanksgiving vacation are asked to be in by 11 o'clock on week nights, and to observe the regular ruling of 12:15 on Friday and Saturday nights.

To those who are planning to go home, late driving or night trains are to be avoided if possible, the dean stated. All the women's living organizations must have chaperones during the holidays as usual.

Oregon Yeomen Chosen as Name Of Independents

Hawkins Is Club Adviser; Nominations Planned For Next Meet

The Oregon Yeomen will be the official title of the independent men's organization, it was decided at last night's meeting of the group.

The constitution, which pended the selection of a name for the organization, was finally ratified, to go into effect immediately upon its ratification. With this ratification, the group, which has as its purpose the promotion of student activities on the part of independent men, will become permanent.

The nomination of permanent officers will take place at the next business meeting of the Oregon Yeomen, Monday evening, December 1, it was announced by Clifton Culp, temporary president.

H. C. Hawkins, of the school of business administration, was selected to act as adviser to the newly-formed group.

An international week meeting will probably be held December 2, to be sponsored jointly with the independent women, at which time some well-known speaker will address the group.

A talk on "The Teutonic versus the Romantic European Cultures" was given by Dr. Meno Spann, assistant professor of German, following the business meeting. He also explained the differences between fraternity life in the American and the German universities.

Economics To Be Topic of Contest

Italo-American Relations To Be Discussed

An essay contest on subjects of trade, industry, agriculture, finance, and like topics, to be treated with special reference to the economic relations between Italy and the United States, is being sponsored by the Italian chamber of commerce in New York City.

Graduate students and seniors in American universities and colleges are eligible to enter the contest.

Three awards will be made to the winner: a gold medal presented by that ministry or department of the Italian government in whose field the winning essay has been written; a cash prize of $100 presented by the organization which is sponsoring the contest; and a diploma presented by the same body.

Further information may be secured by writing to the Italian Chamber of Commerce, 225 Lafayette street, New York City.

Business Bards Bring Back Cash, Credit and Collections

How to wring blood from a turnip, or better yet, how to grant credit and then collect again, is the general object of a course being given in the business ad school under the guise of "credit management."

Many and subtle are the ways to perform this operation. The first step, however, is to look the prospect in the eye and guess whether or not he intends to pay you back. If the guess is wrong and the other scientific safeguards fail to work, then the wringing process must be applied.

The knack of how to wring is now being studied by the class. Without the gentle touch, the process often leads to a general rough and tumble; to avoid this, certain preliminary steps must be gone through with, such as the repetition of soothing incantations be-

Webfoot Grid Warriors Go South Today

Spears To Take 35 Men To San Francisco for St. Mary's Game

Oregon's Passing Attack May Calm Force of Gaels Thursday

BULLETIN
The final rally of the 1930 football season will be held at the Southern Pacific depot at 12:30 p. m. today when the Oregon football men entrain for San Francisco. Brian Minnaugh, rally chairman, has asked all houses to have early, informal lunches this noon to allow students to be at the station downtown before the train leaves. Yell King Creech and his staff will lead the send-off rally.

By BRUCE HAMBY
Determined to wind up the season with a victory, the Webfoot grid squad, 35 strong, will leave at noon today for San Francisco, where they will meet St. Mary's Thursday morning in the Kezar stadium.

The Thanksgiving game has attracted wide interest since St. Mary's win over Fordham last week. Fordham was one of the country's undefeated clevers and was considered the strongest in the East. A victory over the Gaels now would add greatly to the Webfoot record.

Doc Spears expressed confidence last night that his team had an even chance to win. With the exception of Austin Colbert, who is still bothered slightly with his shoulder, the entire squad is in tip-top condition. Spears stated last night that Colbert would start the game, but he expressed doubt as to whether he would be able to last the full 60 minutes.

Both teams have gone through the season with only one defeat. St. Mary's lost early in the season to California by one point, 7 to 6. Since then they have gone through a comparatively easy schedule without a loss. The one blot on the Webfoot record is the disaster at Corvallis.

The squad will go through a light practice session this morning at 9:30. Another workout will be held Wednesday in San Francisco. The field at the Kezar stadium is turf and the workout will give the Webfoots a chance to become acquainted with the grass gridiron.

A long workout was held yesterday, with most of the session devoted to pass defense and offense. From all indications Coach Spears is planning on depending upon a strong aerial attack to score upon the Gaels. With Kitzmiller back in the lineup, the backfield has shown great improvement since the Oregon State game. Many plays that had been kept under cover to be used against the Beavers have been gone over thoroughly during the last week and the Gaels may well expect to see footballs soaring all over Kezar field.

Line Must Hold
If the forward wall can live up to the expectation that was placed upon it since the outset of the season, the chances for a win Thursday will be greatly increased. While it is true that the States were the only ones to break through the Oregon line, the few times that they did so were most disastrous.

Accompanying Doc Spears are (Continued on Page Three)

Eruptions of Cascade Peaks Are Predicted by Dr. Hodge

Mt. Hood, steams of molten lava flowing down its sides, while it throws great clouds of ashes and cinders over the green forests of Oregon, is the picture described by Dr. Edwin T. Hodge, professor of geology, as an incident very likely to happen some time in the not too distant future.

"When people look at the beautiful mountains that form the crest of the Cascade range, they little realize that they are looking upon sleeping volcanoes," said Dr. Hodge. "which not very long ago were throwing out clouds of steam and poisonous gases while spreading a thick mantle of cinders over the country. North of the Three Sisters are two vents that perhaps not more than 500 years ago gushed forth with so much lava that it buried the countryside for an area of 500 square miles.

(Continued on Page Two)

The Show's Done; The Prizes Won

