

Chemistry Grads Plan Radio Stunt

Dinner Speeches Will Be Broadcast Over Air

As a novel feature for a chemistry research dinner Carl Klemm and Shaler Peterson, graduate students, are formulating plans to institute a radio discussion with the research departments of some other college not definitely decided.

Their plan is to send the pictures of speakers together with their own names over to the research dinner being held by the other colleges and to connect the two banquets by radio. Then as the speaker here in the University addresses them they can look at his picture and will be able to identify him.

At the end of the talks it is customary to have an open discussion by all the members present, or by those wishing to criticize the project outlined. By a reverse connection with the radio it would be possible for any person at the other college to give his criticism to the Eugene speakers and for a general discussion to take place.

This system has been used before in giving radio debates where by each side of the debate team can hear the other side's argument and can reply to the other team's arguments, the two teams being miles apart.

Beta Gamma Sigma Will Initiate Four Senior Men

Beta Gamma Sigma, national honorary scholastic fraternity in business administration, will hold an initiation of members Sunday evening in the men's lounge of Gerlinger hall.

Paul Walgren and Ford Smith of Portland, Bennett Swanton and Sidney Hoffman of Eugene, all seniors in the business ad school will be initiated.

Following the ceremonies at Gerlinger hall, a banquet will be given at the Anchorage. Professor C. D. Hadley of the school of business administration, will be the chief speaker.

Extension Student Promotes Course

National Problems Planned For Lodge Study Work

The University of Oregon has been asked to cooperate in an educational project originated by the Knights of Pythias order in Oregon, which if successful, may spread all over the English speaking world.

The plan proposes an organized study by lodges of the problems of a social and political nature which confront our country. Mrs. C. M. deLespinasse, of Hubbard, Oregon, who has completed five correspondence courses offered by the University is in charge of planning the details of the study program. In a letter to Mozelle Hair, director of extension administration, Mrs. deLespinasse writes:

"The officers at the head of it are willing and anxious to try out my plan which is the study of social and political economics from a non-partisan standpoint so that the membership in general may learn what a government is and how it is conducted and how the finances of a nation are managed. Instead of having charity as a seeming objective such as it has been in the past we plan to teach how to avoid such charity."

"It is a big undertaking as the plan will possibly spread all over the English speaking world if we can make it work in Oregon."

Mrs. de Lespinasse requested that the University recommend reliable text books for use in connection with the detailed outlines prepared for the study course. The lodge is particularly anxious that a standardized and reputable list of references be used in order that Bolshevist ideas may not be scattered at random.

Only Six Students Now Confined to Infirmary

Yesterday's infirmary records showed a slight decrease in the number of cases confined to the care of the University health service. According to infirmary officials, colds are still the predominant ailment with which they have to cope, and are the cause of the majority of confinements at the present time.

On Thursday there were six students under the care of the health service. These students were: Raymond Force, Helen Fisher, Helen Rankin, Virgil LaClaire, Allen Spaulding, and Rebecca Morgan.

Miss Morgan came to the infirmary yesterday evening suffering an attack of bronchitis.

the "alligators" and the "mud-turtles," the last intramural hockey game of the season will have been played. According to Mary Wilburn, head of hockey, it has been a very successful season and full of exciting games, of which the one tonight promises to be the best.

sity press and will be ready for distribution some time later in the month.

The bulletin is the result of investigations carried on and prepared by Professor A. L. Lomax and Research Assistant Theodore N. Van Guilder of the business administration and is the eighth bulletin to have been so prepared for general distribution by the business ad school.

Frosh Women's Hockey Team Defeats Juniors

The junior women's class suffered their first defeat last night at the hands of the freshmen when they were downed in intramural hockey by a score of 3 to 2.

The contest which was played to offset a tied previous game, was full of excitement and closely fought from beginning to end.

When the all-star contest is played tomorrow night between

Myers Will Read Negro Poetry at Gerlinger Hall

Sunday afternoon at 2:30 the Prose and Poetry group of Philomele will meet in the women's lounge of Gerlinger building to discuss and hear selections of negro poetry read by Mr. L. M. Myers, instructor in romance languages.

Membership in the group is open to women on the campus who are eager for a closer familiarity with modern writing and for friendly contact with other women of similar interests. Dr. Clara M. Smerstenko, associate professor in the language department, has been elected to honorary membership in the group.

Next term a scrapbook will be constructed under Miss Pauline Schuele's supervision.

"Sez Sue" Varsity Shopping News of Town and Campus Shops

Merry Christmas!

It's almost here and we of the feminine class must look our very best. Let the Eugene Hotel Beauty Parlor aid you in looking your best. Whether it's to be a finger-wave, marcel, trim, manicure, or a permanent, the operators will gladly give you their best services so that you may make your mark at the Christmas social functions. Just call 647 or stop at their beauty salon in the Eugene Hotel and make your appointment, and you will soon see what it really means to look your best for all occasions.

Shine Away Your Blues

As "Sue" suggested once before this term. Don't let writing term papers make you forget to look your best. Stop in the Campus Shine Shop today on your way home down Thirteenth from the campus and get one of their famous shines. You'll notice how much better you will feel and how much more like finishing up your paper. And, remember, it's not too late to get one of the tickets by which you receive eleven shines for one dollar.

The Delicate Touch

Perfecting the smart costume can be achieved by wearing a strand of crystals which Laraway's Jewelry Store has in stock for you. No matter what your personal taste may be, you can satisfy it, as there are long crystals and choker length crystals. A complete set may be had consisting of necklace, earrings, and bracelet. The style will be distinctly different as each individual will prefer one of the new "cuts" which are so new this year. A set of crystals will make a delightful Christmas present. Have you seen the new green amber? It's an adorable new novelty in beads and "very" different!

Only 16 More Shopping Days

Until Christmas, as the columnists say! "Sue" wishes to add, too, that most of these days will mean finals for you. So drop into the University Pharmacy on Eleventh today and select your gifts early.

"Stew" Johnson has just the remembrances for all the "folks at home." Smart fountain pen and pencil sets, clever compacts, masculine leather wallets and cigarette cases, the newest sets of toilet goods—you're certain to find individual gift suggestions at the Pharmacy.

Only 21 More Days

My, everyone is certainly going to hurry with their Christmas shopping. "Sue" has a few hints on Christmas gifts which might be well to take heed to. The Eugene merchants have a large variety of gifts which one can find suitable for every member of the family. Make this Christmas cheery! Use bright colored wrapping paper, ribbon, and lively Christmas stickers. Let's help Uncle Sam, too, by mailing our gifts early!

What's the Matter

With you, Co-eds? Don't you know that now is your chance to buy the shoes and hose that you've been needing? Buster Brown's on Willamette have amazing cut prices in their new stock! Good-looking sport pumps, formal footwear, and brogues—in such smart styles and so reasonably priced that "Sue" expects all of you who are clever to race down today and select your favorite models from Buster Brown's.

Holly Wreaths!

Which can be sent to your friends in Eastern Oregon may be purchased at the University Florist on Thirteenth for a small sum. Don't you just love to keep things which you get for Christmas? Then why not get a candle arrangement with preserved flowers? They make a lovely centerpiece and will last forever. For decorating the house lovely cut flowers and potted plants would be in keeping. Let's all get into the Christmas spirit by saying it with flowers!

Bathing Beauties For 1931

New dusting powder, soap, and bath crystals, delicately tinted in alluring boxes to match may be purchased at McMorran and Washburne's for the mere sum of $1.00 and $1.95. All of the bath novelties are imported directly from Paris and give one that Parisian atmosphere which is so mysterious. The French odors which these novelties come in are: avander, chypre, sweet pea, and jasmine rose. French novelties are just the thing for Christmas gifts, and they are not only attractive but useful as well.

"Hand-blocking"

Of course you know what that means. A hat hand-blocked on your head will, without doubt, be just your style and this is exactly what the U. of O. Ko-Ed Dress Shop does. It matters not whether it's velvet, felt or satin, it can be made distinctively different from anything else you've ever had. And, another item which is very important is remodeling your last year's hat into 1931 style. No co-ed wants to be out of date, so let the "Ko-Ed" aid you in keeping in date and keeping your dates by rejuvenating your old hat into a 1931 model.

Just Imagine

How you would like a hot toasted sandwich and a cool, thick milk shake tonight after you have finished that term paper! Of course you would like just such a refreshing lunch for an intermission on your big "study night." You know what perfect service the Sandwich Delivery gives to its patrons, so call 3204 tonight, and give yourself a treat. You will enjoy the delicious food served in the Delivery's best manner, and afterwards—well, try it tonight and see how refreshed you feel!

Throw a Light

On your Christmas gift suggestions by dropping down to the Oriental Art Shop, next to the Eugene Hotel, you know, where you can have your choice of any number of attractive candle holders. Graceful, wrought iron holders that may decorate a wall or ornament a table, candle holders of the French period, Chinese models, Colonial stands, and adorable brass antique night lights—these quaint candle holders will make perfect gifts for your friends!
