

Students Win Prize

Six Oregon students this year received the Julliard scholarship, in competitive examination before a representative of the Julliard Foundation, for American artists.

Oregon Emerald

The Weather

Maximum 35
Minimum 29
No precipitation.

VOLUME XXXII

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, EUGENE, TUESDAY, DECEMBER 9, 1930

NUMBER 45

Seven Tilts on Oregon's 1931 Grid Schedule

Webfoots To Meet U.S.C., Washington, U.C.L.A. And St. Mary's

New York U. Oregon State And Idaho on Next Year's Slate

OREGON GRID SCHEDULE 1931

Sept. 20—Pacific at Eugene.
Sept. 27—Willamette at Eugene.
Oct. 3—Idaho at Portland.
Oct. 10—Washington at Seattle.
Oct. 17—Southern California at Los Angeles.
Oct. 21—New York U. at New York.
Nov. 14—Oregon State at Eugene.
Nov. 20—U. C. L. A. at Los Angeles.
Nov. 26—St. Mary's at San Francisco.
*Conference game.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 8 (Special)—The 1931 Oregon football machine, whether under the tutelage of Dr. Clarence W. Spears or not, will face one of the most difficult schedules of any team on the coast, meeting Southern California, New York university and St. Mary's, in addition to four other prominent teams. This is according to the schedule as released last night from Hugh Rosson, graduate manager, here for the Pacific Coast conference annual schedule session.

U. S. C. Game Scheduled
The scheduling of U. S. C. on the Oregon slate is of utmost interest to Oregon followers, who watched the rise of a crippled Duck eleven this year in playing the vaunted St. Mary's team to a standstill in the last game of the season. Oregon had hitherto played Stanford and California until this year, when the "big four," with the exception of Washington, ignored the Webfoots, leaving a comparatively weak schedule for a potential strong team and a new coach of national fame. This season, however, Dr. Spears, Oregon's mentor, was not satisfied with the schedule, so with the showing of the 1930 team, Southern California was added to the regular schedule.

Will Travel Far
An outstanding feature of the Webfoot schedule is the "Pullman complex" which is evident in the signing of a series of games in October. The first conference tilt of the season will be played at Portland, with Idaho furnishing the opposition. The following week the Webfoots journey to Seattle to meet Phelan's Huskies. Then the real "road trip" begins. One week after the Husky battle, the Ducks head south for Los Angeles to play the thundering herd of Southern California, and then continue east to the Atlantic seaboard for an inter-sectional game with (Continued on Page Three)

Activity Records Due Saturday

ALL seniors who expect to graduate in June and who are planning to have their pictures in the Oregonian must have their activity record in this week, according to Henrietta Steinke, editor of the year book. Independent students may obtain the necessary cards to be filled out at the Co-op. All other seniors, who have been reached by representatives in their respective living organizations, may turn in completed cards to Lenore Ely or Virginia Wentz.

Robert Jackson Selected Oregon Rhodes Applicant

Eugene Boy Seeks Reward Of Scholarship From Division Contest

Robert F. Jackson, of Eugene, graduate student here in physics and a research assistant to Dr. W. E. Milne, professor of mathematics, was chosen Saturday as a candidate from the state of Oregon for the Rhodes scholarship, in a hearing before the state committee at Portland. Francis F. Coleman, son of President Norman F. Coleman of Reed college, was selected by the committee as the other Oregon candidate.

Jackson and Coleman will appear before the district examining committee at Spokane Wednesday, when four students from the Northwestern district will be named for the Rhodes awards. Two students from the states of Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Montana, Wyoming, and North Dakota will go to Spokane for the finals. The men chosen for the scholarships will each receive $1960 yearly for three years and tuition at Oxford.

The Oregon winners competed with five other students before the examining board Saturday. Three were from the University of Oregon, one other from Reed college, and one from Willamette university. The state committee which conducted the hearing was composed of Dean M. Ellwood Smith, Oregon State college; Prof. S. Stephenson Smith, University of Oregon, and Dr. G. Bernard Noble, Reed college. No member of the state committee will be on the district committee Wednesday.

Allen To Leave for East To Attend Press Meeting

Dean Eric W. Allen, of the school of journalism, will leave for the East Friday or Saturday of next week to attend two meetings in connection with the research in journalism of the American Association of Schools and Departments of Journalism. He will also visit newspaper and magazine offices in New York, Chicago, Washington, and several other cities. He will return to the campus on Tuesday, January 6. Dean Allen is president of the association and chairman of the sub-committee on research.

Piano Duetists In Concert at Igloo Tonight

Guy Maier, Lee Patterson To Present Varied Program Here

Student Body Cards Will Admit Holders to McArthur Court

A well-balanced and diversified program, one that will appeal to all but the narrowest of musical tastes on the campus, is to be presented by Guy Maier and Lee Patterson, world's foremost two-piano duetists, in the concert they are to give at McArthur Court tonight under the auspices of the associated students.

The concert will be free to all students, but they will not be admitted unless they present their student body cards at the door. The program will begin at 8 o'clock.

Acoustics Improved
The acoustical qualities of the court have been improved by the construction of a sound shell across the south end of the court, and the concert stage, formerly erected against the east wall, has been moved under the shell, which eliminated most of the echoes which formerly marred purity of tone during concerts held in the court. Campus underclass regulations will be lifted to allow underclassmen and women to attend the concert, which will be over about 10 o'clock.

The program, with explanatory notes, follows:

- Program
- Rone in C-major..... Chopin (The only work Chopin ever wrote for two pianos.)
 - Prelude.....Cesar Frank (Originally written for harmonium and piano.)
 - Scherzo.....Schumann (Transcribed by Mr. Maier from a composition for string quartet and piano.)
 - Fantasy in A-minor.....Bach-Bauer (A masterly transcription of a work originally written for the now obsolete pedal-harpsichord.)
 - Variations on a theme of Beethoven.....Saint-Saens (One of the masterpieces of two-piano literature.)
 - Coronation Scene from "Boris Godounoff".....Moussorgsky-Pattison (This is a transcription of the great scene laid in the Kremlin at Moscow, made as a study in tonal resonance of the two pianos.)
 - Turkey in the Straw.....Dallies-Frantz (The turkey dance is joined by others, "Old Black Joe," "Swanee River," "Dixie," etc.)
 - Valse, Op. 15.....Arensky
 - Three Little Pieces.....Stravinsky (These satirical little pieces are not intended to be taken seriously but merely as clever bits of musical humor.)
 - Strauss' Blue Danube Waltz.....Schulz-Evler

Rebec Will Speak Before Independent Colleges

At a conference of all the independent colleges of the state this week-end, George Rebec, dean of the University graduate school, will address the representatives. The presidents and several of the faculty members of each college will attend. Dr. Rebec has not announced his subject. The conference is to be held in McMinnville, at Linfield college.

Camp Fire Girls To Hear Speaker Tonight at Y. W.

Beatrice Milligan will speak tonight at 7:45 at the bungalow to a group of Camp Fire girls who are trying to organize a permanent college group. Two Eugene girls, Mae Masterton and Gladys Simmons are the Camp Fire girls interested in getting a college group started.

All Camp Fire girls interested in forming a permanent college group are asked to be at the meeting tonight.

Siamese Twins of Piano World

Guy Maier and Lee Patterson, on their farewell tour after 12 years of international pre-eminence as two-piano duetists, who will appear in concert at McArthur court at 8 this evening under the auspices of the associated students. Student body cards will admit students to the concert.

Dana Will Speak At Noon Luncheon Of Sigma Delta Chi

Portland Editor To Address Journalism Group; All Campus Invited

Marshall N. Dana, associate editor of the Oregon Journal, has been secured as the main speaker for the Sigma Delta Chi, men's national journalistic fraternity, luncheon to be held at the College Side Inn today. He has selected as the subject of his talk, "The Value of Newspaper Surveys."

Mr. Dana will also speak to the personal efficiency class at 11 o'clock in the school of business administration on the topic of "Personal Efficiency."

In addition to his work as associate editor, he is also in charge of all news that deals with state development. In this capacity he recently published a series of articles on the betterment of the Oregon dairy industry, from data which he had secured while traveling in Australia and New Zealand.

Tickets for Ball Now Put on Sale

Dance Expected To Attract Big Crowd in Portland

Campus interest in the annual Christmas college ball, set for January 3, was on the rise yesterday following talks made at living organizations, where tickets went on sale.

Tickets will be sold at the Co-op for those not in living organizations at the Co-op Thursday and Friday.

Three "generations"—the high school students looking ahead to college, University students, and alumni—will attend the dance, to be held at the Masonic hall, with the Killoran's Kollegians playing.

Confident that the date chosen for the 1931 affair will enable many more to attend, as out-of-Portland students will be stopping in the city on their way back to school, Bess Templeton and Slug Palmer, co-chairmen,

Leave for Los Angeles Dr. W. P. Boynton, head of the department of physics, and Charles A. Goodwin, teaching fellow in physics, left yesterday afternoon at 1 o'clock for Los Angeles where they will attend a joint meeting of the American Physical Society and the Acoustical Society.

High-hat Library Manager Reveals Her "Best Sellers"

"Which books of the season's output are most popular with students?" queried Eleanor Flanagan, manager of the High Hat department of the University Co-op. "Well, I should say that the three most outstanding are Louis Bromfield's '24 Hours,' Martha Ostenso's 'Waters Under the Earth' and Charles G. Norris' 'Seed.'"

Trio Cops Honor In Emerald-KORE Sunday Program

"Three Little Warts" Warble Way Into Limelight By Radio

"Three Little Warts"—Kelsey Smedberg, Bob Goodrich, and Johnny Smedberg—continued to take the honors in the University radio world Sunday night when they were featured on the regular Oregon Daily Emerald of the Air broadcast over station KORE. This trio, although it has been in existence little more than a month, is already attracting campus attention on its merits.

Two Fraternities Reach Quotas in Sale of Seals

Alpha Upsilon and Sigma Alpha Mu are the first two living organizations on the campus to reach their quota in the sale of Christmas seals, the dean of women's office has announced. The quota consists of ten stamps per member.

Article by Dunn Appears in Educational Journal

"My Descent to Avernus" is the title of an article by F. S. Dunn, professor of Latin, which appears in the December issue of the Oregon Educational Journal. The article is a description of a trip through the vicinity of Vergil's activities where Mr. Dunn was detailed to service during the World war.

Philosophy Topic Of Message by Wilbur M. Dean

Crowd Hears Dartmouth Professor's Views on Science and Value

That the whole problem of modernism and tradition in philosophy is concentrated in a problem of values was the message that Dr. Wilbur M. Urban, professor of philosophy at Dartmouth, gave to a large audience of students and faculty members in Alumni hall of the Gerlinger building last evening.

"It is the appeal to reason that constitutes the last word in philosophy. Science cannot destroy the world of values. It may destroy belief in it, but it cannot destroy the structure itself. It can come nearer destroying its own significance. True science rarely talks nonsense, but the so-called scientific philosophy does," Dr. Urban said.

Week Observing Foreign Affairs Judged Successful

McGee Says Third Annual International Event Meets Purpose

Ending with two performances of the annual pageant, the Parade of Nations, the third consecutive International week here on the campus came to a close Saturday night after a series of highlights including addresses by Dr. G. B. Noble, professor at Reed college, and Dr. Roy A. Akagi, Japanese author and educator.

Dr. Conklin Will Address Ministerial Association

Dr. Edmund S. Conklin, head of the department of psychology, will address the Eugene Ministerial association at a banquet this evening, in the last talk which he will give before leaving to take up his winter term position at the University of Chicago. His topic will be "The Peculiarities of Middle Life."

Saturday Classes Failure, Faculty Members Believe

The opinion that Saturday classes are failing to attain their object appears to be a fairly well-founded belief among faculty members, it was revealed after some inquiry. Numerous reasons were advanced to substantiate the finding of Dr. A. E. Caswell, professor of physics, who made a survey some time ago and discovered that Saturday classes appeared to be failing to relieve the stress on buildings, one of the chief reasons for their inception, according to Dr. J. H. Gilbert, dean of the college of literature, science and the arts.

Collegian Turns Coup d'Etat on Infirmary Staff

A dire swindle has been pulled on the nurses at the infirmary, and oblivious of the fact, they pursue their daily occupations without remorse or regret. A few weeks ago, while a certain young lady was confined to the care of the health service, one of her admiring male friends dropped around to visit her. At the door of the infirmary, however, he encountered difficulties.

Not understanding the depths to which college love may go, the nurse who answered the bell refused him admittance. For a few moments our young Lochinvar's spirits fell to the depths of deep despair. True love, however, cannot be suppressed. Returning to his room, our hero bedecked himself in professional looking clothes and a Van Dyke moustache. Then securing a small medical kit, he returned to the infirmary.

Again the same nurse answered the bell and demanded the name of the caller. "Have you a Miss So-and-so here," he asked? "I'm a physician from her home town, and her parents have requested that, as I am visiting in Eugene today, I call to see her." Obligingly, the helpful nurse escorted our hero in disguise to the bedside of his love, and he enjoyed a very entertaining visit.

Week Observing Foreign Affairs Judged Successful

McGee Says Third Annual International Event Meets Purpose

Ending with two performances of the annual pageant, the Parade of Nations, the third consecutive International week here on the campus came to a close Saturday night after a series of highlights including addresses by Dr. G. B. Noble, professor at Reed college, and Dr. Roy A. Akagi, Japanese author and educator.

Dr. Conklin Will Address Ministerial Association

Dr. Edmund S. Conklin, head of the department of psychology, will address the Eugene Ministerial association at a banquet this evening, in the last talk which he will give before leaving to take up his winter term position at the University of Chicago. His topic will be "The Peculiarities of Middle Life."

Saturday Classes Failure, Faculty Members Believe

The opinion that Saturday classes are failing to attain their object appears to be a fairly well-founded belief among faculty members, it was revealed after some inquiry. Numerous reasons were advanced to substantiate the finding of Dr. A. E. Caswell, professor of physics, who made a survey some time ago and discovered that Saturday classes appeared to be failing to relieve the stress on buildings, one of the chief reasons for their inception, according to Dr. J. H. Gilbert, dean of the college of literature, science and the arts.

Saturday Classes Failure, Faculty Members Believe

The opinion that Saturday classes are failing to attain their object appears to be a fairly well-founded belief among faculty members, it was revealed after some inquiry. Numerous reasons were advanced to substantiate the finding of Dr. A. E. Caswell, professor of physics, who made a survey some time ago and discovered that Saturday classes appeared to be failing to relieve the stress on buildings, one of the chief reasons for their inception, according to Dr. J. H. Gilbert, dean of the college of literature, science and the arts.

All Spears Talk Simply Rumor, Is Report Here

Daily Californian Editor Denies Attempts To Secure Services

Rumors Again Branded as 'Newspaper Talk' at Group Meeting

Anything concerning Spears and California coaching situation strictly rumor and newspaper talk.—Arthur M. Ariett, editor Daily Californian.

With this brief wire last night to Vinton Hall, editor of the Emerald, the second series of rumors as to the possibility of Dr. Spears leaving Oregon is spiked by the editor of the Berkeley student paper.

The wire from Ariett continues saying that Graduate Manager Monahan of California and Spears met at San Francisco after the St. Mary's game but no offer was made then or since as far as can be determined both at Berkeley and at Los Angeles, where the coaches and graduate managers of the Pacific Coast conference are holding their semi-annual meeting.

Week Observing Foreign Affairs Judged Successful

McGee Says Third Annual International Event Meets Purpose

Ending with two performances of the annual pageant, the Parade of Nations, the third consecutive International week here on the campus came to a close Saturday night after a series of highlights including addresses by Dr. G. B. Noble, professor at Reed college, and Dr. Roy A. Akagi, Japanese author and educator.

Dr. Conklin Will Address Ministerial Association

Dr. Edmund S. Conklin, head of the department of psychology, will address the Eugene Ministerial association at a banquet this evening, in the last talk which he will give before leaving to take up his winter term position at the University of Chicago. His topic will be "The Peculiarities of Middle Life."

Saturday Classes Failure, Faculty Members Believe

The opinion that Saturday classes are failing to attain their object appears to be a fairly well-founded belief among faculty members, it was revealed after some inquiry. Numerous reasons were advanced to substantiate the finding of Dr. A. E. Caswell, professor of physics, who made a survey some time ago and discovered that Saturday classes appeared to be failing to relieve the stress on buildings, one of the chief reasons for their inception, according to Dr. J. H. Gilbert, dean of the college of literature, science and the arts.

Saturday Classes Failure, Faculty Members Believe

The opinion that Saturday classes are failing to attain their object appears to be a fairly well-founded belief among faculty members, it was revealed after some inquiry. Numerous reasons were advanced to substantiate the finding of Dr. A. E. Caswell, professor of physics, who made a survey some time ago and discovered that Saturday classes appeared to be failing to relieve the stress on buildings, one of the chief reasons for their inception, according to Dr. J. H. Gilbert, dean of the college of literature, science and the arts.

Wandering Webfoot Football Men To Travel 12,284 Miles

By HARRY VAN DINE
Join the marines and see the world—join the Webfoot football squad and see your own country might well be an inducement for promising young football players to matriculate at the University of Oregon. Figures compiled upon receipt of the 1931 Oregon football schedule from the meeting of the Pacific Coast conference at Los Angeles clearly prove that the best way to see the United States is to be good enough to win a berth on the Webfoot squad.