

SOCIETY

By CAROL HURLBURT

Preppers Take Over Social Affairs
All social activities, and the campus as well, have been turned over to the incoming high school delegates, Oregon's students of the future.

No house dances have been scheduled; everyone is busy at playing host or hostess. The campus is fluttering with delegates' ribbons.

Fashion Show To Be This Morning

The most fashionable affair of the year is the style show, sponsored annually by the Associated Women Students for the high school delegates, which will be held this morning at 11 o'clock in the Women's building.

Here is where beauty and fashion meet; but . . .

"We hate to disillusion you, but surely you must know all college girls don't dress like this, except when in a show!"

Helen Chaney is general chairman for the affair; Alexis Lyle is in charge of models; Irma Logan, music; Frances Drake, properties; Betty Anne Macduff, programs; Marylou Patrick, stunt; Florence White, scenery.

The clothes, which will be modeled, are those which fill out a well-rounded day; trim sports outfits, smart campus clothes, chic afternoon frocks; long, clinging dinner gowns; evening dress striking enough to be classed as "creations"; and brilliant, oriental lounging pyjamas.

The mannequins are: Lounging robes—Marian Camp, Emmajane Rorer, Betty Davis, Lois Floyd, and Barbara Gabriel. Sports—Golf, Eleanor Lewis; riding, Glay Joy; tennis, Virginia Wheeler; swimming, Julia Creech. Campus—Myrtle McDaniel, Barbara Delschneider, Mary Lueddemann, Jeanette Schultz, Peggy Sweeney, and Gretchen Wintermeier.

Mrs. Francis Mullins (formerly Miss Georgia Mae Uphregrave), whose marriage was an event of December 25. Mr. and Mrs. Mullins are now making their home in Eugene.

Afternoon—Josephine Williamson, Virginia Sturgis, Lucy Martin, Marie Myers, Gwen Panton, and Elizabeth Gilstrap.

Dinner dresses—Jane Stange, Elizabeth Wright, Eleanor Coburn, Bernice Congleton, Hester Hopkins, Dorothy Illidge, and Jane Carson.

Formal dress and evening wraps—Elizabeth Strain, Sally Addleman, Rosina Sutton, Margherita Hay, Dorothy Wade, Bernice Berkovich, Carolyn Haberlach, Adrienne Sabin, and Irene Clemens.

A. S. U. W. Banquet Honors Delegates

The Associated Students entertained all high school delegates and advisers at a banquet yesterday in the men's dormitory.

Burt Brown Barker, vice-president of the University, was the main speaker of the evening. The toastmaster was George Cherry, president of the Associated Students. Other welcoming addresses were given by Madeline Gilbert, president of the State Girls' league; by John Adams, president of the Association of High School Student Body Officers; and by Claire Vause, president of the High School Press association. Music was furnished by the University orchestra under the direction of John Stark Evans.

Carol Werschkul was general chairman for the banquet. Ellen Seranus was in charge of decorations and had the tables charmingly arranged with tall, vari-colored tapers and flowers in pastel shades.

Serving was done by Kwama and Thespians, underclass service honoraries.

Tea Given For Girl Leaguers

A tea for all Girls' league delegates was sponsored by the Associated Women Students and was held in Alumni hall from 4:30 to 5:30 yesterday afternoon.

Virginia Grone, chairman for all A. W. S. teas, was in charge. Maryellen Bradford arranged for the refreshments; Miriam Stafford for the music; Kwama and Thespians for the serving.

Katherine Colman, Girls' league president of the University high school, and Dorothy Davis, Girls' league president of the Eugene high school, as well as two other officers from each of the schools, assisted.

Those in the receiving line included: Mrs. Charles Leslie Schwering, dean of women; Miss Conah Mae Ellis, of Spokane; Margaret Cummings, president of the A. W. S.; Constance Baker, Madeleine Gilbert, and Virginia Cooper of Grant high school, newly elected president of the State Girls' league.

Theta Sigma Phi Honors With Tea

Honoring women delegates to the press conference, Theta Sigma Phi, woman's national journalistic fraternity, entertained at tea from 1:30 to 5:30 in the woman's lounge of the Gerlinger building. Lenore Ely was in charge.

Big Sister Movement and Dress Styles Are Chief Topic of Talk

Virginia Cooper of Grant high school, Portland, was elected president of the state organization of Girls' Leagues, at the annual election held yesterday afternoon, Roma Confer of West Linn was elected vice-president, and Jack Hyslop of Corvallis was chosen secretary-treasurer.

The Girls' League conference started yesterday morning with a session held under the direction of Jessie Puckett, president of A. W. S. At this time the delegates were divided into four groups, about 20 girls to a group.

Topics Diverse

Various topics for discussion were brought out in these groups, with the different members of the physical education faculty in charge. Athletics, girls' league projects, the Big Sister movement, and appropriate styles of dress were the topics discussed. Many helpful suggestions on these subjects were advanced by delegates from the several high schools.

Miss Conah Mae Ellis, dean of girls at North Central high school in Spokane, gave the main address at the afternoon session. She gave an inspirational talk, dealing with the way in which a girl should develop her life through personality.

A. W. S. President Speaks
Margaret Cummings, president of the association of women students of the University, gave a brief summary of the activities of this organization on the campus. The A. W. S. entertained the delegates at a tea at 4:30.

Points on finance, social activities, and organization were brought up and the delegates given an opportunity to give suggestions and reviews on them.

This morning the woman's athletic association of the campus is giving an entertainment and style show for the girls' league delegates.

cal education. The ceremony took place at the home of the bride's parents in Kalama, Washington, on Christmas day.

The bride was attired in a long blue chiffon gown and wore a veil of blue tulle. She carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley, yellow roses, and sweet peas.

After a short wedding trip in California, the young couple are now making their home at 1841 Emerald street.

Mrs. Hewitt, who was a junior on the campus last year, is a member of Alpha Omicron Pi.

The other faculty wedding, which took place on December 13, was that of Miss Cornelia Pipes to Louis Myers.

Town Girls Meet At Delta Zeta House

A meeting of the Town Girls' club was held at the Delta Zeta house Thursday afternoon. Louise Smart, president of the club, was in charge.

Heads of Houses Lunch at Anchorage

The regular heads of houses' meeting was held Wednesday noon at a luncheon at the Anchorage.

"How times have changed," sighs the old-fashioned person! Luckily times have changed in regard to women's clothes. No more planning ahead or tiresome "fittings." The modern girl knows she can get a fetching frock for any occasion at—in adaptation of the ripping farce comedy, "Manhattan Mary," which ran many months on Broadway last season.

McDonald Books Comedy
"Only Saps Work," one of the popular more sophisticated types of talkie comedies, is booked for showing at the McDonald Sunday. Included in the cast are Leon Errol, Ziegfeld star, Richard Arlen, Mary Brian, and Stuart Erwin, he of the sad funny face.

Denny in Comedy
Reginald Denny is playing at the Heilig today for the last time in his latest comedy riot, "What a Man." Supporting him are a half dozen of the sleekest beauties of the screen. Denny is well at home in musical comedies, having starred in productions like "The Merry Widow," on the stage.

State Has Western
Wally Wales, hard rider of the rodeo, and lovely Virginia Brown are starred together in "Trails of Danger," opening at the State theatre on Sunday. The film is a typical western, with plenty of bold bad cowboys and a dashing hero.

Mystery at Rex
Ricardo Cortez and Henry B. Walthall, both veterans of stage and screen, are appearing at the Rex theatre for the last time today in "Phantom in the House." The film is a mystery play of the first rank, and includes all the thrills and horrors of the best Van Dine manner.

Al Jolson Opens Sunday
Eugene filmgoers will have their first chance on Sunday to see the popular Al Jolson in his latest talkie-single attraction, "Big Boy," more tuneful, and filled with funnier, brand new wise-cracks, this picture is one of the finest comedies of the season, and promises to keep "mammy" Jolson on the high plane of box office popularity he now enjoys.

Marie and Polly at McDonald
Marie Dressler and Polly Moran are playing in their latest comedy riot, "Reducing" for the last time at the McDonald theatre today. The film has kept the theatre's audiences rolling in their seats for the past four days.

Ed Wynn Goes to Rex
For the first time since the advent of talking pictures, Ed Wynn, one of the best known comedians on the stage will be seen and heard when he opens at the Rex Sunday in "Follow the Leader."

Wynn, who has earned the sobriquet, "the Perfect Fool," is seen

Wesley Club To Be Led Sunday by Esther Lisle

Wesley club services Sunday evening will be in charge of Esther Lisle, who will lead the discussion on the topic, "How Shall We Spend 1931?" Wallace Campbell will have charge of the fellowship half-hour, beginning at 6 o'clock, and Vernon Wiscarson will have charge of the worship service.

The Wesley group sponsoring a "Kid Party" last evening in the basement of the Methodist church.

games he rushes in a substitute the moment he pleases. It would be easy for the fates to decree that a man would play a great deal and still not be rewarded.

Why Not Put It on Accumulative Basis?

I don't think football letters should be so plentiful that every man who went out for the team would get one. They wouldn't mean anything in such a case. But I do believe that the time element should be entirely on a basis of accumulation. If such were the case a situation as of one playing 70 minutes and making a letter and another playing 67 and not making one as occurred this time would not happen. The way it is now it is just a matter of luck. Why not set a definite number of minutes, say between 60 and 80, as the border line, raising or lowering it according to the number of games played each season?

Newspaper Man Visits

Dick Neuberger, high school sports editor of the Oregonian, visited the campus Friday night to cover the basketball game between Commerce high of Portland and University high of Eugene. Neuberger was a guest at Zeta hall.

Cooper in Beach Role

A replica of the famous Six Above mine, one of the richest claims discovered during the days of the Nome gold rush, was built for the talking edition of Rex Beach's "The Spoilers," starring Gary Cooper and playing its last day today at the Colonial theatre.

"Hell's Angels," the most expensive, thrilling, and talked of movie of the year, will be the deluxe attraction at the Colonial Sunday. It is the premiere performance for Eugene. Nearly three years in the making, and costing in excess of four million dollars, this lavish thriller of the war in the air, is far and above the screen sensation of the season. A midnight matinee tonight ushers in its first performance.
