Kappa Delta Is First on House Scholastic List

Sigma Kappa and Alpha Xi Delta Hold Second, Third Places

Men's Organizations Lead By Friendly Hall, Sigma Hall, Chi Psi Lodge

Kappa Delta took the lead in the rating of house grades, according to figures released by the statistician's office yesterday.

Friendly hall was the first of the men's organizations with a rating of 50.941. Sigma hall with an average of 47.161 was second, and Chi Psi lodge third with 46.850.

Flunks Not Counted

The grades of graduate students, law students, and fifth year architecture students have not been included in the ratings and no account is taken of hours not passed, whether withdrawals, incompletes, conditions, or flunks.

All sorority, all-women, and non-sorority ranked closely for fall term, the averages being: All-sorority, 47.939; all-women, 47.784; non-sorority, 47.500.

There was a greater distinction in regard to men. The ratings were: All-University, 43.771; non-fraternity, 41.364; all-fraternity, 39.593.

The entire list is as follows:

Graduate School Shows Small Gain Winter Term

Figures on the enrollment to date in the graduate school are now available in the office of the dean, Dr. George Rebec.

Winter term represents a gain of three students over the fall term total, the figures being 185 and 188 respectively. There are 86 students enrolled in the Portland extension of the school.

Counting the summer school total of 210, the total figure for the year reaches 506. There are 25 new students enrolled this term.

Einstein Accepts Dr. R.C. Tolman's Universe Theory

Math students take heart—all is not lost. Albert Einstein has just indicated his acceptance of Dr. Richard Chase Tolman's theory of a non-static expanding universe.

By agreeing with Dr. Tolman, Einstein has swept aside his original hypothesis of cosmology.

And so, all you math students keep on and maybe you too some day may startle the world with your revelations in mathematics.

Two-Day Run of 'The Single Man' Starts Tomorrow

Wilson and Simons Play Leads in Typical English Drama

'The Single Man,' the four-act comedy by Hubert Henry Davies, will open at Guild theatre Wednesday evening.

The play will also be produced Thursday evening, and is acted by the members of the class in technique of acting, under the direction of Cecil E. Matson, assistant in the drama department.

Hobart Wilson plays the male lead of Robin Worthington, the sought-after 'single man' of the play, and opposite him Inez Simmons as Miss Hazeltine, the secretary who finally wins out against youth and scheming.

Gwen Foss as Maggie. Gwen Foss takes the part of Maggie Cottrell, the little girl whose youth and prettiness attract Robin. Her playmates, Dickie and Bertha, are played by Harvey Welch and Neva Lois Thompson.

These players all had parts in the group of one-act plays given last term, 'The Breaking of the Calam,' 'The Devil Comes to Alcaraz,' and 'The Dear Departed.'

Has English Background. The scene of the play which is laid in the country home of a very prosperous English writer, promises from all reports by the Theatre Workshop class, to typically English in atmosphere.

'The Single Man' will be the only modern costume play on the boards this quarter, as the Guild Theatre players are working on Shakespeare's 'Twelfth Night.'

Tickets for 'The Single Man' are now on sale at Guild hall. For reservations call local 216. All seats are 50 cents.

Four Students Will Help On Yeoman Dance Plans

As the final step in the plans for the Oregon Yeomen dance, which has been set for the twentieth of this month at the Craftsman club, Clifton Culp, general chairman for the affair, last night appointed a committee of four men to work with him in preparing and decorating the hall.

Francis Pallister, Kenny Campbell, and Ingram Kjosness will assist Culp in the decorating; and Jack Bauer will take charge of the features which are being planned.

This dance is the winter term informal event of the Independent men's club. If it is as successful as the Yeomen believe, another dance will be held spring term, say club officials.

Oregon A.W.S. To Be Hostess At '32 Meeting

Intercollegiate Group Will Hold Third Conference On Local Campus

Ann Baum, Delegate From University, Elevated To Presidency

The Associated Women Students of the University will be hostesses to the third annual conference of the Oregon Intercollegiate Associated Women Students in 1932, it was decided at the banquet which concluded the second annual meeting at Oregon State college Saturday.

At the same time Ann Baum, as Junior official delegate from the University, automatically became president of the state organization for the next year. According to the constitution which was adopted at the conference, the junior delegate from the school which will be the scene of the conference the following year is elected president of the state group.

Stunt Show Seen. Representatives from Oregon State, Oregon, Pacific, Willamette universities, Ashland and Monmouth normals attending the meeting.

Robert H. Seashore, professor of psychology, will leave Friday to attend the final sessions of the committee on growth and development, of the White House conference on child health and protection at Washington, D. C.

The first session of the conference, which was held in Washington, D. C., during November of last year, was called by President Hoover in order to have specialists working in any field on Child Welfare and Protection summarize and interpret the work done in their field.

Financial Problems Discussed. Financial problems also occupied a good part of the discussion. Oregon State college, Ashland (Continued on Page Three)

Discussion Hours Will Begin Tonight

Seventeen Organizations Sighted for Meetings

The winter term discussion hours will begin tonight at 6:30 in the 17 men's organizations that signed up for the meetings last week when letters were sent to all of the houses on the campus giving them an opportunity to schedule discussions for the two evenings, February 10 and 24.

University Third in U.S. for Extension School Enrollment

Wisconsin, Minnesota Lead In Correspondence Course Students

With a registration of 3108 students enrolled in correspondence courses during the year 1929-1930, the University of Oregon placed third in the entire United States in number enrolled in this phase of education, according to a recent bulletin of the office of education of the United States.

The University of Oregon is also the largest institution of higher education in the state, from point of full time student enrollment, according to the bulletin, which showed a total on October 15, 1930, of 3344 at this institution regularly enrolled. Second to Oregon was Oregon State Agricultural college, with 3319. Among the 87 state institutions listed in the bulletin, only 14 have a larger student body than the University here, while the Oklahoma Agricultural and Mechanical college has exactly the same number.

Robert Seashore Will Attend Child Health Sessions

Professor To Visit Eastern Laboratories While At Conference

Robert H. Seashore, professor of psychology, will leave Friday to attend the final sessions of the committee on growth and development, of the White House conference on child health and protection at Washington, D. C.

The University of Oregon women's debate squad is debating this question the entire season. It is one, however, that is of extreme interest. 'The British empire, with all its wealth, men, guns, and battleships, the greatest empire the world has known, is actually being humiliated, held as naught, but a naked figure who looks like a distorted baby, and known to millions as Mahatma Gandhi,' John R. Mez, associate professor in economics, stated recently in an interview with the Emerald.

No Previous Experience. Although Jane Warner and Catherine McGowan have had no previous varsity experience, both have been active previously in forensics, and have been working exceedingly hard in preparation for the debate.

Both Miss Nobach and Miss Telford are seniors at Washington, and have had one year of freshman debate and three years of varsity debate. The former is the president of Delta Sigma Rho, national debate honorary, at Washington State.

When It Rains In Illinois It's News, Says Bill

CAMPUS CENTER, Eugene, Feb. 9.—This writing for newspapers is funny business. It's darned hard to tell what's news and what isn't. It seems that when it rains in Eugene there ain't anything said about it, but just let it rain in southern Illinois and it's in every newspaper.

Jack Blanchard Dies in Portland; Ill for Week

Jack Marshall Blanchard, 20, a sophomore in the school of business administration, died last Saturday night in Portland after a week's illness. He was a member of the Chi Psi lodge.

Mr. Blanchard graduated from Grants Pass high school and was a member of the freshman track team last year. The funeral service will be held in Grants Pass today at 2 o'clock.

Ticket Sale For Annual Senior Ball Gets Start

Formal Invitations May Be Obtained at Co-op by Ticket Holders

Governor Meier Included In List of Outstanding Patrons Invited

Tickets for the Senior ball, formal dance scheduled for Saturday night, February 14, in Gerlinger hall, went on sale in the various fraternities and halls yesterday, and the sale will continue for the next few days.

Patrons Outstanding. One of the most outstanding lists of patrons and patronesses ever drawn up for a University campus dance was revealed with the publishing of programs for the ball.

W.S.C. Debaters To Meet Oregon Women at 8 p. m.

McGowan and Warner To Tell Audience Gandhi Is Benefit to India

The question, 'Resolved, that Gandhi has been a benefit to India' will again be debated tonight at 8 o'clock in 105 Commerce building. At this time Jane Warner and Catherine McGowan, members of the women's debate squad, will uphold the affirmative in a non-decision debate with Evelyn Nobach and Helen Telford of Washington State college.

Complete arrangements have been made for the carrying out of the decorative scheme, members of the directorate having conferred over the week-end with a representative from the John L. Stark company, who will supply the decorations.

Will Sell Tickets. Ticket representatives have been chosen as follows: Cal Bryan, S. N. Brown, Howard Stafford, Keith Maguire, Hank Baldrige, Jim Dezenford, Ray Bell, Jack Rhine, Ferd Fletcher, John Penland, Fred Felter, Al Spalding, Harold Blackburn, Sol Director, Howard Johnson, Jim Stott, Carey Thomson, Phil Cogswell, Hal Paddock, Phil Coffin, Lynne Downs, Ivan Kafoury, Stanley Darling, Jesse Bradley, and Lloyd Ramp.

Miss Hair To Visit Eastern Oregon

Extension Division Sends Representative on Tour

In response to numerous requests from parent-teacher associations throughout the state for information on the subject of adult education, Miss Mozelle Hair, director of extension activities, will spend some time in eastern Oregon speaking and holding personal conferences with University extension students in Baker, Malheur, Union, and Umatilla counties.

Miss Hair will visit Pendleton February 12 where she will observe morning and afternoon conference hours at the Pendleton public library. On February 13 she will be in La Grande, and Baker will be visited on the 14th. February 16 she will make her headquarters at the public library in Ontario.

Miss Hair is scheduled to speak on programs of parent-teacher associations in Owyhee, Nyssa, Huntington, and Haines.

Yours, —BILL ROTERS.

Campus Snake is Visitor in Class At 105 Commerce

The bursting buds and the shoots of grass must have been terrifying to a 12-inch garter snake, an inhabitant of the campus, for he fled to shelter under one of the seats in room 105 of Commerce building, and tried to conceal himself as a ham sandwich or a pencil or something yesterday afternoon.

Anyhow, he was there when the members of the 2 o'clock social science class arrived, and, although he opened his mouth as wide as he was able, he couldn't seem to terrify anyone except one or two fair damsels, who recoiled as he uncoiled. At the end of class some helpful frosh thrust him out of the window and watched him wriggle limply away. Snakes don't appreciate college, so it seems.

Penland Appoints Five To Aid With Junior Shine Day

Men of Class Will Polish Students' Shoes Next Wednesday for Dime

Five members of the junior class were appointed to positions on the Junior Shine Day directorate yesterday by John Penland, general chairman of the event.

Penland, who was appointed to his position a short time ago by Art Potwin, president of the class, stated that on Wednesday, February 18, a number of male members of the class of '32 would make their debut in the 'amalgamated order of royal bootblacks' when they will set up their stands on the campus and shine the shoes of fellow students for the sum of one dime.

Those who have been named on the directorate are Ken Scales, Sandy, assistant chairman; Helen Kaufman, Portland, secretary; Connie Baker, Grants Pass, ticket sales; Paul Bale, Piedmont, California, stands and properties; and Ted Montgomery, Eugene, publicity.

It was understood that a number of sub-committees would be appointed in the near future.

'Nothing less than 2500 shines' is the aim of the directorate for this year's event, stated Penland.

Cougars Beat Oregon 37-31; Halt Late Rally

Webfoots Score 20 Points In Big Drive But Fall Short of Victory

Gordon, Washington State Center, High Point Man With 15

(From the W. S. C. Evergreen). PULLMAN, Wash., Feb. 9.—(Special to the Emerald)—The Washington State Cougars took a thrilling contest from the University of Oregon hoop quintet here tonight by a 37-to-31 score. A wild Oregon rally in the last few minutes nearly upset the Cougars as the visitors piled up 20 points to the Staters' one.

Cougars Hold Lead. With 12 minutes to go, Washington State led 32 to 11. Roberts and Eberhart were sent into the lineup and started a desperate last-minute rally. Eberhart, lanky forward, scored seven points as the Webfoots ran wild. Stevens, Roberts, and Calkins sent in a barrage of baskets to nearly knot the score with three minutes to go.

Hoilsten and Gordon, Cougar scoring aces, sank last-second field goals to end the game 37 to 31. Oregon In Lead. During the first period the visitors kept the score tied most of the time. For a while they led, but Huntley Gordon, Cougar center, was on and scored 11 points to give the Red Devils a 20-to-9 lead at half-time.

Eberhart Scores 10. Jean Eberhart, with 10 markers, led the Oregonians. Billy Keenan, forward, played a fine floor game for the visitors. Gordon took high point honors with 15 points. Willis, McLarney, and Holsten starred for the Cougars.

The lineups: Wash. State (37) (31) Oregon Holsten (7) F..... (2) Keenan McLarney (8) F..... (4) Calkins Gordon (15) C..... (10) Eberhart Willis (5) G..... (2) Levoff Pesco (2) G..... (5) Stevens S..... (8) Roberts

Camp Fire Group To Meet Tonight

Officers for Year Will Be Chosen by Members

A general election will feature a meeting of the University of Oregon Camp Fire group, recently organized campus club, scheduled for 8:45 tonight at the Y bungalow. Officers will be chosen for the ensuing year, and plans for the drawing up of a constitution will be discussed.

The campus Camp Fire group was organized last week, and is open to any girl on the campus, who has ever been a member of the Camp Fire girls. It is hoped that the future meetings of the organization will consist of general discussions carried on by the members themselves, although speakers will address the group at stated intervals.

May Masterton, who is serving as temporary chairman of the group, would like every girl eligible for membership on the campus to turn out for the meeting tonight. The meetings already held by the organization were well attended, but Miss Masterton is expecting many more former Camp Fire girls to join. 'The meetings will be very interesting,' she says, 'and they can be made more so by having all girls interested in the Camp Fire movement present tonight, to aid in planning the future work of the organization.'

Church and Its Relations Wesley Club Discussion

What is wrong with the church? What is the place of the church in college life? How can the church be made more valuable to the student? These were some of the questions that were discussed at the Sunday evening meeting of the Wesley club, organization of Methodist University students.

The discussion was in charge of Ernest Swanton, freshman in pre-law; and the worship service was led by Carol Johnson, sophomore in mathematics.
