

Camp Fire Group Chooses Officers At Initial Meeting

May Masterton Is Elected First President of Organization

May Masterton, freshman in pre-library, was unanimously chosen president of the Campus Camp Fire club, recently organized women's club, at a meeting held at the Y. W. C. A. bungalow last night. Sigrid Riddell, sophomore in physical education, was elected vice-president, and Elinor Henry, sophomore journalism major, was selected by the group as secretary-treasurer. These officers will serve for the rest of the school year and the opening of fall term.

The Campus Camp Fire club is composed of girls now attending the University who have been connected with Camp Fire work. All former members of the Camp Fire organizations are therefore eligible for membership, and they are cordially invited to attend future meetings of the group. The club will be a discussion and service group, all work being carried on under the supervision of the women themselves. Speakers, however, will be invited to address the group at some meetings, and it is thus hoped that added impetus may be given to the work planned by the members.

Regular meetings will be held every two weeks, according to a statement issued by Miss Masterton last night. These meetings will be scheduled for every second Wednesday, from 8:30 to 9:30 o'clock, at the Y. W. C. A. bungalow. The next regular meeting of the group is slated for February 24. A special discussion meeting may be called on February 21, since Miss Louise Nunn, Portland Camp Fire executive, will be in Eugene on business at that time.

Gilmore Program Dedicated to U. O.

Broadcast Will Portray Oregon Campus Life

Radio enthusiasts in the West, and those in other parts of the country who can pick up the stations of the Columbia Broadcasting company will get a glimpse of college life at the University of Oregon Friday, March 27 from 8:30 to 9 when the half hour program of the Gilmore College Daze will be devoted to this institution, according to word received here from Chet Crank, vice-president of Botsford-Constantine Inc., advertising company.

Material for the broadcast was furnished by the news bureau of the University, and will consist not only of songs, yells, and distinctive features of University life here, but it will include a description of the institution, and enough historical matter will be given so that the listeners will have a background of Oregon.

The program will be released over the seven stations of the chain extending from Seattle to Los Angeles. These include KOIN in Portland, and KFFRC in San Francisco, and KHJ in Los Angeles. A second University of Oregon program is also planned for later in the year, according to Mr. Crank.

Yeomen Tickets Are Now on Sale

14 Representatives Named Monday by Blais

Tickets for the Oregon Yeoman dance, to be held February 20 at the Craftsman club, have been placed in the hands of 14 representatives, Merlin Blais, Yeoman president, announced yesterday. The dance will be open to all men who are not members of fraternities or halls, and those wishing to purchase tickets may get them from the club's representatives.

This is the only social event of the year held entirely for independent men, and a good time has been promised those attending. The dance will be date and informal.

Those authorized to sell tickets are: Jack Bauer, Jack Belling, Merlin Blais, Elayne Prewer, Wallace Campbell, Beverley Caverhill, Clifton Culp, Evan Hughes, Howard Lee, Ted Montgomery, Ethan Newman, Francis Pallister, Francis Rickert, and Ben Swanton.

Fourteen-Year-Old Latin Club Being Reorganized

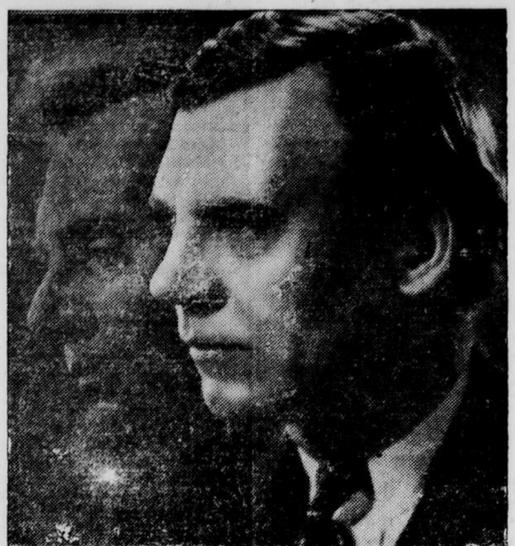

Continuing a club organized on the campus seven years ago, 14 Latin students met at the Phi Mu house Monday night to elect officers and form a program for the remainder of the year.

The new officers are: Frances Frazier, president; Harriet Holbrook, vice-president, and Lucy Howe, secretary-treasurer. Prof. Frederic S. Dunn, head of the Latin department, was made an honorary member.

Collegium Augustale is the name of the group originally formed by all students taking Latin and later becoming Pi Sigma, national Latin honorary, which included only upperclassmen.

The group is now open to anyone who has taken Cicero and Vergil or more advanced courses. Meetings will be held every Monday evening, with one meeting a month open to the public, at which time guest speakers will appear.

WHAT SHOW TONIGHT?

Walter Huston essays the difficult role of Abraham Lincoln in the picture of the same name opening at the Colonial today.

Colonial — Walter Huston in "Abraham Lincoln." Heilig — Loretta Young in "Truth About You." McDonald — Greta Garbo in "Inspiration." Rex — "Once a Sinner," with Dorothy Mackaill. State — John Gilbert in "Redemption," and "Personality," a double bill.

"Abraham Lincoln" Arrives

One of the big dramatic features of the season will open today at the Colonial with the presentation of "Abraham Lincoln," with Walter Huston in the title role. Not just a historical facsimile, this is a picture filled with real drama, every element of suspense, pathos and humor.

The story, scrip for which was written by Stephen Vincent Benet, of the country's best known poets, takes Lincoln from his youth on through the Civil war to the night he was assassinated.

Greta Garbo at McDonald

A new talking picture starring Greta Garbo is an event in the cinema world.

Today sees the first showing of her new picture, "Inspiration," in Eugene, at the McDonald theatre. Included in the star cast are Robert Montgomery, Lewis Stone, John Miljan, and Marjorie Rambeau, all of whom are featured players in their own right.

In her role in this film, Garbo returns to the exotic type of role that made her famous in silent pictures. She is seen as an artist's model who becomes the toast of Paris as a result of her amorous fascination.

Loretta Young Stars in New Film

What is rated to be a delightful comedy opens today at the Heilig.

KORE Program Tonight

7:00 p. m.—Calendar of the Air, UBC.
7:30 p. m.—Hughes Raper of the Air, UBC.
7:45 p. m.—Murray and Harris, UBC.
8:00 p. m.—Long Beach Municipal Band, UBC.
8:30 p. m.—Album of Familiar Faces, UBC.
9:00 p. m.—Dancing Strings, UBC.
9:30 p. m.—Land of Dreams, UBC.
10:00 p. m.—Hughes Paper of the Air, UBC.

It is called "The Truth About Youth," and bears the First National and Vitaphone label. The cast is headed by Loretta Young, David Manners, and Conway Tearle, but that is not all; Myrna Loy is on hand, too, that irresistible siren of the screen, and such players as J. Farrell McDonald, Harry Stubbs, Myrtle Stedman, and Yola D'Avril, all contribute to this romantic cinema of pleasure.

John Gilbert at State

A chance to see the first talking picture of John Gilbert, "Redemption," which caused such a critical furor when it was released, is offered at the State theatre today. It is included on their popular weekly double bill. The other feature is the comedy, "Personality."

Dorothy Mackaill in Tense Drama

Dorothy Mackaill is given a chance at straight dramatic acting in the tense "Once a Sinner," playing at the Rex today.

The story deals with the ghoul of a woman's mistake that rises out of the past to destroy her chance of attaining happiness.

Included in the cast are Joel McCrea, John Halliday, Sally Blane, and Ilka Chase.

Ten Are Elected To Sigma Delta Pi

Gamma Chapter To Initiate Week From Thursday

Ten new members have been elected to Sigma Delta Pi, national Spanish honorary society, it was announced yesterday by Mrs. Edna E. Landros, president of Gamma chapter on this campus. Initiation will take place Thursday, February 19, at 5 o'clock, at the home of Dr. L. O. Wright, followed by a banquet in honor of the initiates who will each contribute to the program.

The new members are: Georgie E. Boydston, senior; Juanita L. Demmer, junior; Beulah M. Drago, senior; Carl J. Furr, graduate student; Margaret L. Moss, senior; Josephine B. Reed, junior; Jean E. Smith, senior; Jesse Lee Stovall, senior; and Harriet Hughson, senior; all of whom are in the department of Romance languages; Frances Puccini, junior in language and literature; and Mrs. Quirina E. Rael, who has been elected as a special member.

Activities of Pre-Schools Shown in A.A.U.W. Slides

Films demonstrating the work being done by children in pre-schools, were shown here Monday under the auspices of the A. A. U. W. The pictures were taken by the Iowa Child Welfare research station at the State University of Iowa, and were borrowed by the psychology department.

The films, which have been used widely, show the type of activities used in pre-schools along social lines. They demonstrate how the children are taught to do things, such as buying railroad tickets, conducting themselves at airports, zoos, etc. They also show the facilities used for indoor and outdoor play and how the children are kept from mere formalities. Dr. Seashore believes that the University will have such a pre-school in the near future.

Spanish Class Luncheon At Green Lantern Today

Spanish dishes will be served to the members of the second year Spanish class of Carl J. Furr, at a luncheon to be held this noon at the Green Lantern. The menu consists of caldo (soup), tamales, con salsa de chile, papas fritas (potatoes), frijoles con chile or arroz al estilo espanol, Spanish salad, spiced Spanish pears, chocolate, and Spanish rolls.

Dr. Ray P. Bowen, chairman of the Romance language department, and Dr. L. O. Wright, professor of the Romance language department, have been invited as special guests. Places have been reserved for 30 people.

WASHINGTON DEBATORS DEFEAT OREGON WOMEN

Dr. Clara M. Smertenko, associate professor in Latin and Greek, acted as chairman, introducing the speakers. Previous to the debate an appropriate atmosphere was created by the showing of pictures taken in India during the University of Oregon debate tour in 1927-1928. These pictures were explained by W. E. Hempstead Jr., a member of the debate team taking the tour, and faculty debate adviser for the women's squad.

McELROY'S DANCE BAND WILL PLAY FOR BALL

out. The Spanish Ballroom orchestra has never before appeared in Eugene, and directorate members believe that the music for this year's Senior ball will be the best ever presented at any campus dance here.

A smooth floor will complete the dancing arrangements. Sol Director, who is in charge of floor, also promised last night. "Special plans are being made to put the floor of the women's gym in the best condition possible, and the dancers at this year's Senior ball will not be handicapped with a poorly finished or sticky one," Director said.

Tickets have been placed on sale in the men's living organizations and at the Co-op. Formal invitations may also be obtained at the Co-op by presenting tickets.

Margaret Hunt Selected As Head of Study Group

Margaret Hunt was elected president of the International Relations group of Philometele, and Ruth Griffin was elected secretary at a short business meeting held last night in the women's lounge.

Members of the group attended the women's varsity debate with Washington State college after the meeting.

The next gathering of the organization will be a tea, on February 17, at Alumni hall, in conjunction with the Mythology division.

F. H. Skipper Will Speak On Advertising Problems

Frank H. Skipper, director of personnel for the Pennzoll company, will speak on "How To Approach a Problem, as Illustrated by the Evolution of a Sales Talk," Wednesday at 11 o'clock in room 105 Journalism, W. F. G. Thacher, professor of advertising, announced yesterday. The talk will be a combination of the speaker's two most successful addresses. The public is invited to attend, Mr. Thacher said.

The visitor has been in business on five different continents, and has done lecture work on all five. For the past several months he has been giving a series of talks on the University of Southern California campus.

Alpha Delta Sigma, professional advertising fraternity, will act as host for the speaker at a luncheon Wednesday noon at the Anchorage.

Dean Allen Will Speak at Faculty Meeting Tonight

Dean Eric W. Allen, of the school of journalism, opened the faculty meeting yesterday with the topic, "Written Examinations versus Term Reports."

He derived some of the material for his discussion from statements of students in his publishing and printing class, who have been asked to give their opinions on this subject.

ONE SMALL BRAIN
can dress you better than a million dollar income!

Vogue has known this secret for ages. Lots of clever women have guessed it too—that one small brain can dress you better than a million dollar income!

It isn't the money you put into your clothes—beyond a certain irreducible minimum, of course. It's your taste, your instinct for the truly fashionable. It's knowing when a style is definitely out, when a new one is worth following. It's knowing how to combine your accessories with several different ensembles... how to make a dress do double duty.

Vogue knows all about making wardrobes fit clothes allowances. Vogue knows what styles are going to be good for more than one season... what particular colours and lines suit you, your figure, your type. Vogue has dressed all sorts of women with all sorts of incomes, from the ones that look swagger in lapin to the ones that scintillate in ermine.

Don't waste a penny of your clothes allowance. Let Vogue help you plan, show you how to be perfectly turned out for every occasion!

stuck together so that he can't sing. Lovingly yours,
—AUNT EMMA.

Dear Aunt Emma:
I am a swell-looking young chap, efficient, bright, and energetic. I gargle lavis daily, am free from gym itch, athlete's foot, and red neckties. I am a bear with the ladies. But there is one thing that bars me from all polite society. Some malicious soul started the rumor that I am flat-footed. The terrible part of this is that it's true. I am now shunned by everyone. What the heck'll I do?

Yours in sorrow,
PILLIAM WITTMAN.

Dear Pilliam:
Your ailment is also a common one. Edgar Beebles, of Yonkers, N. Y., had the same trouble and now he's all right. He died last year. He ate Fleischmann's yeast cakes for it. I will guarantee that after eating 10 yeast cakes per day, at the end of a week you will no longer be flat on your feet—you'll be flat on your back. P. S. Drop around sometime. Helpfully yours,
AUNT EMMA.
