The engagement of Miss Gladys Gregory to Keith Fennell, of Eugene, was announced recently at a special dinner given at the Alpha Xi Delta house.

A miniature bride and bridegroom stood on the top of the center one of three heart-shaped boxes of candy.

Miss Gregory is a junior in physical education. Mr. Fennell was graduated from Oregon State college last June. He was formerly a student here.

WHAT SHOW TONIGHT?

Colonial — Pauline Frederick in "The Sacred Flame."
Heilig — Alice White in "The Naughty Flirt."
McDonald — Joan Crawford in "Dance, Fools, Dance."
Rex — Boles and LaPlante in "Captain of the Guards."

John Boles in French Musi-Drama

Based on the stirring song, "Les Marseilles," and the loves and life of its composer, Roget De Lisle, "Captain of the Guard" is the attraction at the Rex theatre today.

Bringing the music of Charles Wakefield Cadman, the voice of John Boles, and the blonde beauty and vivacity of Laura LaPlante in one picture, is a treat for the patrons of any theatre.

The drama deals with the hot and bloody days during the French revolution, pictured in the film by huge battle scenes between the rebels and the king's guardsmen. As many as 7,000 soldiers are used in several scenes.

Joan Crawford Back Again

"Dance, Fools, Dance," the latest talking picture starring the glamorous Joan Crawford, opens today at the McDonald theatre.

The story, with a Chicago locale, principally concerns the underworld and newspaper life of the metropolis. Lester Vail, a newcomer to the screen who recently made his debut in "Beau Ideal," is the Crawford's leading man.

Others in the cast include Cliff Edwards, William Bakewell, Earle

OREGON OFFERS GOOD COURSE IN FINE ARTS

(Continued from Page One) she is a failure, Miss Stuart said. "After all, money making is not such a noble thing. Fortunately not all women have to put their education to practical use. There are many other things a woman can do besides earning money. I have observed that college alumnae in homes of their own make good wives, apply their college learning to problems of the home, and accomplish as much as their mothers did with much less flurry."

Following Miss Stuart's talk, tea was served on the sun porch. She will be here this morning for appointments.

Pauline Frederick, appearing at the Colonial today in "The Sacred Flame."

Foxe, Natalie Moorehead, and Hale Hamilton.

"Sacred Flame" Fine Drama

Without benefit of the fanfare of zealous publicity, or scenes pornographic in intent, is a rare jewel of a cinema now being shown at the Colonial theatre. It is called "The Sacred Flame," with Pauline Frederick in the cast. Somerset Maugham wrote the play, one of the most interesting products of his pen. Telling a dramatic story of a mother, tolerant, and world-weary, it keeps the essential Maugham attitude—the world and life is basically tragic—in the poignant conflict unfolded. Lila Lee, Conrad Nagel, Alec Francis, Dale Fuller, and Walter Eyrone are in the cast.

Alice White at Heilig

A night police court is the scene of the beginning of Alice White's romance, "The Naughty Flirt," which comes to the Heilig today. Paul Page is the object of the cinematic affections of the star, whose role is that of a girl who has tried everything in life. Others in the cast include Myrna Loy and Robert Agnew.

Marksmen Boost Separate Scores In Week's Shoot

Team Total Drops; James Moynahan Tops Oregon Rifle Teammates

Although the team total for the Oregon rifle team in last week's shoot is not as high as that of the previous week, less variation is shown in individual scores and some are generally higher than expected, Captain C. H. Bragg, coach, said yesterday.

The ten men who stand highest in marksmanship for the week and whose total scores were sent to the six competing teams are: James Moynahan with a total of 361 points; Harold Minturn with 360 points; Robert Reiling, 352 points; Gaylord Cox, 351; Vernal Shoemaker, 350; Claude Conder, 348; Spencer Raynor, 348; Carey Thompson, 347; Edward Judkins, 345; and James Morgan, 339.

Carey Thomson, high point man at the end of the first week with 371 points, was replaced by Moynahan, who also holds the record for a high score for the week in any one position. His score for the sitting position is 100, or perfect. Spencer Raynor previously shot a perfect score in the prone position but it is considered easier than sitting.

The team total of 3501 points has been forwarded to the following competing schools whose scores will be received some time during the week. Cornell university, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Michigan State college, New York Stock Exchange rifle team, Oregon State college, and South Dakota State college.

This week, the third of intercollegiate competition, Oregon has among its opponents one school which has established a record for its excellence in marksmanship. This is the University of Washington which took second place in the ninth corps area gallery matches last year. The others on the list are: Stanford university, Washington State college, Rose Polytechnic institution, Culver Military academy, and North Carolina State college.

The topic will probably be, according to Dr. Caswell, "The Atom and the Universe."
