

Artists Honor Three Guests With Banquet

Frank Lloyd Wright, Hunt Bosworth, Roy Jones Prominent Visitors

Allied Arts League Hosts At Dinner, Fun Show In Men's Dorm

With music by a string ensemble, short talks by prominent guests, and a series of farce skits by the students, the Allied Arts league last night entertained more than 150 guests at a banquet in the new men's dormitory in honor of Frank Lloyd Wright, Hunt Bosworth, and Roy Childs Jones, distinguished visitors at the school of architecture and allied arts.

Wright, famous modernist architect, spoke on the campus Saturday night. Bosworth and Jones are representatives of the American Association of Collegiate Schools of Architecture, and are on the campus engaged in a survey of the work of the local school.

Glen Gardiner acted as toastmaster for the banquet. Dean Ellis F. Lawrence introduced the honored guests, each of whom spoke briefly to the guests, most of whom were students. Burt Brown Barker, vice-president of the University, welcomed Wright, Bosworth, and Jones in the name of the administration.

George Murlin Drury was master of ceremonies and Edward Green stage manager of the "Art School Follies." The large cast of the production impersonated members of the faculty, drawing round after round of applause from the audience.

Wright proposed a toast to the fine arts, and called on the audience to pay tribute to his master, the founder of modernism in American architecture, Louis Sullivan.

Bosworth, professor of design at Cornell university and former dean of the school architecture there, impressed individual honesty and personal integrity in the arts. Roy Childs Jones, professor of architecture at the University of Minnesota, pointed out the necessity of directing personal efforts in creative art toward a definite and lofty purpose which is in keeping with the nature of the structure being designed.

SOCIETY

By CAROL HURLBURT

Architect Is Guest of Campus
The main social events of the week-end centered around the entertainment of Frank Lloyd Wright, famous modern architect of Spring Green, Wisconsin.

Last night he was guest of honor at a banquet given by the Allied Art's league at the Men's dormitory. He was entertained jointly at this affair with Hunt Bosworth, former dean of architecture at Cornell university, and Roy Jones, professor of architecture at the University of Minnesota. Both of these men are surveyors from the American Intercollegiate Schools of Architecture, of which the University of Oregon is a member.

Patrons and patronesses for the affair included: President and Mrs. Arnold Bennett Hall, Vice-President and Mrs. Burt Brown Barker, Dean and Mrs. Karl Onthank, Dean and Mrs. George Rebec, Dean and Mrs. Ellis F. Lawrence, and Mr. and Mrs. George H. Godfrey. The University orchestra, under the direction of Rex Underwood, played throughout the evening. Glenn Gardiner, president of the league, was general chairman.

Mr. Wright arrived in Eugene on March 9 and will be a guest until today. His lecture Saturday evening on modern architecture was one of the foremost events of the term. He was entertained with a luncheon at the Anchorage Monday noon by the Architectural club and again at a midnight supper at Lee Duke's. Casey Wicks, president of the group, was in charge of both affairs.

Monday at dinner he was the guest of Professor and Mrs. Richard W. Beck.

The exhibit of his drawings, models, sketches, and photographs which are modern in the extreme, have created more furor on the campus in general, than any other art exhibit for a good many years.

Daniels-Raentsen Wedding Is Event

Miss Mary Daniels became the bride of Karl Raentsch at a simple ceremony held on February 23. Both the bride and the bridegroom were attired in traveling clothes.

Bill Hedlund, senior in business administration, was the best man. Mrs. Raentsch is a freshman in art, Mr. Raentsch a sophomore in economics. Both are from San Francisco, and they intend making a trip to California before proceeding on a wedding trip. Following that they will finish their education.

Balsiger-Kathan Marriage Solemnized

The marriage of Miss Elva Balsiger to Melvin Kathan was solemnized at the home of the bride's grandparents in Newberg, Oregon,

Miss Nana Cramer, president of the newly-installed chapter of Beta Phi Alpha which was at-home Sunday evening from 6 until 8:30 o'clock for 250 campus and town people.

on March 1, the same day and hour that the bride's parents were married 30 years ago.

The bride was gowned in blue satin cut on princess lines, the circular skirt sweeping the floor. A veil of tulle fell in soft folds from a cap circled with orange blossoms. She carried a bridal bouquet of sweet peas, lilies of the valley, and freesia.

Gladys Gregory, sorority sister, was maid of honor. She wore an orchid lace evening dress and carried a bouquet of orchids and sweet peas.

Mrs. Kathan was graduated from the University last year and is a member of Alpha Xi Delta. Mr. Kathan is a graduate of the Oregon State normal school. Both Mr. and Mrs. Kathan are teaching in the Riverton schools.

Miss Sherman Announces Engagement

Miss Polly Sherman, freshman on the campus last year, announced her engagement last Sunday, March 8, to Lewis Seves, senior.

Mr. Seves is affiliated with Sigma Alpha Mu.

The wedding will be held in June immediately following the commencement exercises.

Chi Omegas Hold Style Show

If we follow the spring fashion forecast of the Chi Omega style show, which was held this afternoon from 12 until 2 o'clock at the Eugene hotel, we will find that black and white and brown and white outfits still lead the mode for street and sport wear, although knit sports outfits in pastel shades are coming rapidly to the fore.

For more formal afternoon wear the figured chiffon holds its own. These gowns are almost to the floor and either have no sleeves at all or else boast a dinner jacket of the same trailing material. They have, as a rule, a light background which is made gay with brilliantly colored flowers.

These dresses and evening dresses are the only ones which are as long as those of last year; those for sport and street wear coming no further than half way to the floor.

Especially outstanding was the number of shiny black straw hats, all individualistic as to treatment, that were shown. One of the smartest outfits was a black fur jacket, very short, worn over a black silk dress which was pleated, completed by a dull black straw hat with a long white plume. The hats must match the outfit, and so must the shoes. Black and white or brown and white spectator shoes are as much in vogue this year as last. Shoes for evening wear are of brocade and dyed to match the dress. Very new and chic are Grecian sandals with rhinestone heels, also to be worn for evening. Following a trend of last summer, sport shoes with Cuban heels have been introduced.

Long gloves and very long rhinestone ear-rings also go with evening dress.

This Chi Omega style show is an annual affair sponsored by the alumnae. The models were: Esther and Elizabeth Kazer, Virginia and Sally Roulston, Patricia Mahoney, Mary Frances Lowry, Lucille Weber, Marcella Settle, Marie Fry, and Ione Jordan.

Mrs. Beldon Babb was in charge of the affair, and Mrs. L. S. McCready announced the showings.

The dresses were from Densmore-Leonard, the hats from Heidel, the shoes from Graham, and the flowers from the University florist.

Kappa Province Director Visitor at Oregon Chapter

Honoring their province director, Mrs. Harry Davenport of Spokane, and their house mother, Mrs. W. H. Doane, Kappa Kappa Gamma entertained at tea yesterday afternoon from 4 until 6 o'clock.

Alice Morrow was in charge of the arrangements. The rooms were decorated with daffodils, yellow tulips, and pale green candles.

Doris Helen Patterson at the harp and Martha Patterson on the violin, played several duet numbers. Semi-classical trio numbers were offered by Janet Thacher, Lois Conover, and Betty Lou Hudson.

In the receiving line were: Janice Hedges, president of the house; Constance Baker, vice-president; Mrs. Doane, Mrs. Davenport, Mrs. Charles Leslie Schwering, dean of women; Mrs. A. F. Barnett, president of the alumnae association.

Those who poured were: Mrs. F. M. Carter, Mrs. Eric Allen, Mrs. Nelson Macduff, Mrs. F. A. Chambers, Mrs. L. M. Miller, and Mrs. B. F. Huntington of Portland. Eugene alumnae assisted with the serving.

Only Three Exchange Dinners Listed This Week

This week sees the smallest list of entertainments of any for the term. Only three exchange dinners have been scheduled. Last night Phi Gamma Delta held an exchange dinner with Theta Chi. Tonight Kappa Alpha Theta will entertain Chi Psi and tomorrow night Theta Chi will entertain Alpha Chi Omega.

Lawrences Are Week-End Visitors

Week-end visitors on the campus were Mr. and Mrs. Abbott Lawrence of Portland. Mrs. Lawrence was Miss Elizabeth Talbot before her marriage, which was an event of the Christmas holidays. She is a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma and Mr. Lawrence of Phi Delta Theta.

Main Libe To Be Open All Vacation

THE main library will remain open its regular hours from 8 to 6 during the spring vacation, according to M. H. Douglass, University librarian.

No regular hours will be kept by the reserve libraries but any books at these libraries wanted by the students during the vacation may be obtained by applying at the circulation desk in the main library.

Vesper Service To Be of Interest

Of especial interest this coming week-end is the vesper service which will be held Sunday afternoon at the Music building, when the choir will present "The Seven Last Words of Christ."

Faculty Will Meet

Mrs. Harry Davenport Kappa Kappa Gamma has invited several members of the faculty to meet their province director, Mrs. Harry Davenport of Spokane, who has been visiting here since Monday, at dinner tonight.

Guests will be: Dr. and Dean Charles Leslie Schwering, Dean and Mrs. Karl Onthank, Dr. and Mrs. James D. Barnett, and Mrs. Nelson Macduff.

Mrs. Burton Dunham Visits at Kappa House

Mrs. Burton Dunham, who will be remembered as Myrtle Clark, is visiting at the Kappa Kappa Gamma house until the end of spring vacation. Mrs. Dunham has been making her home in California.

Mu Phi Epsilon Initiates Six Women

Initiation ceremonies for the six new members of Mu Phi Epsilon were held Sunday evening at the home of Mrs. John Stark Evans, retiring president. The initiates are: Margaret Wood, Frances Jordan, Edith Grimm, Amy Hughes, Marvin Jane Hawkins, and Rose Simons.

Installation of officers also took place, Doris Helen Patterson, well-known harpist on the campus, taking over the presidency.

Phi Sigs Receive Wall-Piece Prize

Oregon Pharmacy Gives Leather Trophy

Tuesday morning's Emerald story announcing the winners of the second annual Emerald-KORE radio contest failed to mention the leather embossed wall-piece which the Oregon Pharmacy offered as an additional prize to the organization rated as winner of the grand prize.

This award will go to Phi Sigma Kappa in addition to the nine-tube Majestic radio presented by McMorrnan & Washburne. Other victorious organizations in the contest were: Sigma Pi Tau, second; Oregon Yeomen, third; Alpha Beta Chi, fourth; and Delta Gamma, best opposite.

Sally Addeleman, a member of Delta Gamma, was announced as winner of the Densmore-Leonard trophy for her outstanding work in the women's division of the contest, and Harold Ayers will receive the Paul D. Green trophy given for superior work in the men's section. Ayers is affiliated with Phi Sigma Kappa.

Plane To Drop Theatre Coupons

Free Rides and McDonald Passes To Be Given

Shortly before noon today a plane will soar over the campus with a cargo of tickets to "The Bachelor Father," which opens this afternoon at the Fox McDonald.

Not all of the coupons released from the air will be of the complimentary ticket variety, but 100 will be good for free admission to the picture. The plane will fly as low as possible over the residential sections of the city, so that the tickets can be distributed to as many as possible.

As a special feature, when the plane, one of Herman Hobi's of Hobi Airways, soars directly over the campus just as noon classes are letting out, 10 free plane ride coupons will be dropped, and any student capturing one of those coupons will be taken aloft Sunday for a gratis spin over the valley, according to the Fox McDonald management, who are sponsoring the free plane rides in conjunction with the Hobi Airways.
