Commerce Men
Plan Annual Meet

Oregon-made goods, the "On to Oregon" campaign, the Columbia Valley development, and agriculture on the program of the Chamber of Commerce will be but a few of the topics to be discussed here by experts in this field during the 11th annual conference for commercial secretaries held under the auspices of the school of business administration, March 23, 24, and 25, it was announced by David E. Faville, dean of the school.

The conference will open Monday morning with registration and a technical meeting. The forum luncheon at noon will be featured by a talk by W. B. Dodson, Portland chamber manager.

A discussion on "The University in Community Service," by President Arnold Bennett Hall will feature the dinner at the new dormitory. Other addresses and motion pictures showing the International Pacific-Yukon-Alaska highway are also on the program. Tuesday morning will be devoted to discussions on problems of agriculture.

The highlight is to be the awarding of the Christy Thomas cup to the chamber secretary who writes the best paper on chamber organization and chamber work. The cup was donated a year ago by Christy Thomas, manager of the Seattle Chamber of Commerce. Dean Faville is in charge of the contest.

The annual business meeting and final committee reports will bring the conference to a close. Presiding officers for the luncheons and dinners are A. F. S. Steele, Eugene; C. T. Baker, Medford; G. C. Barlow, Astoria; Earl Reynolds, Klamath Falls; and Lynn Sablin, Portland.

Accommodations may be had at the new dormitory, and special rooms will be available for secretaries' wives.

'Ethics of War' Discussed At Congress Club Meeting

Ethical justifications for war were discussed vehemently pro and con by members of the Congress club at their regular meeting last night.

The argument branched off somewhat from ethics to other aspects of war: economic, religious, and psychological.

"A Study of Communism" is the subject scheduled for the next meeting of the club, which will be April 1. Kenneth Fitzgerald will introduce the topic.

Dr. I. A. Allison, of OSC, Speaks to Classes Here

Dr. Ira A. Allison, professor of geology in the school of mines at Oregon State college, completed a two-day visit yesterday for the purpose of lecturing to geology classes and holding seminars at the University. Doctor Allison's visit is part of the exchange program inaugurated last year when Dr. Earl Packard, professor of geology spent three days lecturing at Oregon State.

"Sez Sue"
SHOPPING NEWS

Spring Vacation

Will soon be here and "Sue" is just sure that you'll want to look your best when you arrive home. How about a nifty suit, a jaunty hat and matching accessories? You must be complete—so don't forget a remembrance! "Sue" hopes that you will all have a perfect rest after a hard week of exams and that you will be ready for more work and fun next term! Adieu!

Greeting Cards!

Surely today or tomorrow is someone's birthday, and the Oregon Pharmacy has a new supply of the best-looking novelty cards. Whether it is for your mother, father, sweetheart or friend, you'll be able to find just what type you care for here. While birthdays come and go term papers will stand over us. If you need any typing paper, ink, or other necessary articles, "Sue" or "Walt" will be able to help you. Why not write the folks as to when you arrive? A branch of the Western Union is right here on the campus—so very convenient for you too! Don't forget to take home a box of delicious Whitman's chocolates, which will certainly smooth the path for those grades.

A Bit of Jewelry?

Or any other small gift that you might like to take home. The folks at home will certainly enjoy something from Eugene. Laraway's Jewelry store has a complete line of pewter, fountain pen and pencil sets, clocks and watches. If you have need for any of these, you're sure to find exactly what you want at Laraway's. "Sue" was told that your hostess, mother or sweetheart would certainly appreciate a small gift for their kind consideration. Maybe we ought to heed "Sue's" advice!

It Won't Be Long

Until you will be Home, greeting all the old "home town pals," and of course you will want a new spring outfit to make a good impression. Come down to Euster Brown's Shoe Store, on Willamette street, where you can find the most collegiate in footwear. It's lucky, too, that they are featuring woven sandals now—just the thing you will want for spring vacation. They're practical, good-looking, and, oh, so comfortable! You will be able to wear your woven sandals everywhere, from the street to the first spring picnic.

Rain--

Don't let it bother you, when you're able to purchase lovely spring knit suits so reasonably priced at the U. of O. Ko-Ed Dress Shop, next to the College Side. These suits are obtainable in different color combinations and also in one and three pieces. Have you a soft straw hat from last year? If so, bring it in and you may have it reblocked to this spring's fashions. In order to feel real spring-like you should get some of the lovely lingerie. Darling lace-trimmed shorts and also those cute two-piece dance sets!

IF JANICE HEDGES WILL GO TO THE FOX McDONALD THEATRE BEFORE NEXT SUNDAY, SHE WILL RECEIVE TWO PASSES.

Someone Dear--

Who is not near will appreciate a remembrance from you, and the University Florists on Thirteenth can supply that remembrance. Through the Florists Telegraph Association you can send flowers to someone far away who will enjoy flowers on St. Patrick's Day. If you are planning on entertaining here on that eventful day, the University Florists are able to give you most any kind of decorations. They have even green carnations to carry out the spirit. A few flowers scattered around the house will lend that homey atmosphere that is always so charming. "Sue" knows this because it has been handed down to us for ages, and our elders certainly ought to know!

Home, Sweet Home!
Will soon be everyone's theme song, because "Sue" knows that you are all going home soon. And of course you want to take a little gift to Mother and Sister. Or if you are planning to stay with a friend during spring vacation, be sure to take a remembrance to your hostess. Come down to the Oriental Art Shop, right next door to the Eugene Hotel, and select the gifts you will want—clever new bridge sets, tapestries, and lovely bits of glassware and pottery which will meet with the approval of the most exacting hostess.

Woman's Crowning Glory

Can be made even lovelier by the correct hairdress, naturally. In other words, the bobbed-haired girls should have individual contour haircuts; and the long-haired girls, a finger wave or permanent that will bring out this feature. Call Kramer's Beauty Salon—the phone number is 1-8-8-0—and make your appointment for this afternoon. With Nestle circular permanents, marvelous finger waves and contour haircuts, Kramer's is just the place to get your hair dressed. You will meet "the crowd at home" next week, so look your best.
