

Student-Faculty Art Exhibit Opens In Little Gallery

Paintings and Sculpture To Be on Display Until Next Week

A student-faculty exhibit made up of work done in the University art school is now on display in the Little Art gallery of the Architecture building. The exhibit opened yesterday and will continue until the middle of next week. It includes paintings and sculpture done by members of the faculty, and batik, pottery, and weaving done by the students.

This exhibit is all representative of work done by the faculty and students, and includes charcoal drawings, water colors, oil paintings, one bas-relief, two models of capitols being used for the new art museum, a number of colorful shawls, and all types of pottery.

The faculty members whose work is included in the exhibit are Eyer Brown, assistant professor of architecture, Maude I. Kerns, assistant professor of normal arts, Andrew Vincent, assistant professor of painting, Michael J. Mueller, professor of painting, and N. B. Zane, associate professor of designs.

WALLACE CAMPBELL TO ENTER SPEECH CONTEST

(Continued from Page One) both of the University speech department.

At the time of the State Extremopore contest in the fall, a committee was appointed, with Hempstead as chairman, to work out the details of this plan, and at the recent State Old Line contest, held in Forest Grove on March 13, the I. F. A. O. held a meeting and formally adopted the plan.

Campbell took part in the State Extremopore contest this year, and has also been active in varsity debate for two years. The members of the league who will enter speakers are: Oregon State, Willamette, Oregon, Pacific university, Southern Oregon Normal school, Pacific college, Albany, Linfield, and Oregon Normal school.

PLEDGING ANNOUNCEMENT

Kappa Delta announces the pledging of Laverne Stone, of Eugene.

State P. E. Group Will Convene on Campus Saturday

Experts To Hold Two-Day Meeting Under Robert Krohn's Guidance

Physical education, a subject that is receiving increasing attention from educators interested in progress in their field, will be taken up from many angles by experts at the annual meeting of the Oregon State Physical Education association to be held on the campus April 18 and 19, it is announced by Paul R. Washke, professor of physical education here and chairman for the sessions.

200 Expected Here

The whole conference will be in the nature of a "get-together" for people interested in this field, and more than two hundred are expected to attend from all parts of the state. The affair will be very informal, and talks and papers will be interspersed with games and entertainment. The session will conclude at Cascade Resort on the McKenzie, where Sunday will be spent.

The conference will be in charge of Robert Krohn, head of physical education in Portland schools and president of the state association. Addresses will be made by Dr. Arnold Bennett Hall, president of the University; Miss Ruth Robinson, director of physical education for women at Oregon State college, and Dr. John F. Bovard, dean of physical education here. Community singing will be conducted by Otto Mauthe of Oregon State college.

P. E. Demonstrations Set

Practical demonstrations of physical education work will be held for both men and women April 18, with Miss Ernestine Troemel of the women's physical education department and E. R. Knollin of the men's department in charge. Newest developments in this field will be shown.

Delegates will be divided into teams for various games which will feature the program Saturday and Sunday, and a number of interesting events are planned.

COMMONWEALTH MEET TO CONCLUDE TODAY

(Continued from Page One) nicipal board to consider needed legislation some months in advance of each legislature and to iron out conflicting interests, was urged by William Briggs, city attorney of Ashland, one of the principal speakers at the section on city and town problems. During the last legislature the League of Oregon Cities succeeded in passing such advantageous measures as those which protect municipalities against losses entailed in holding property foreclosed for delinquent taxes, and those securing state cooperation in maintenance of state highways which run through cities. Mr. Briggs pointed out.

Cooperation between cities in working out problems and adopting a standard system of accounting was urged by Joe W. McArthur, engineer of Eugene. Provision for the maintenance of several competent men at Salem during the legislature to keep an eye on bills affecting municipalities was advised by J. W. McInturff, city attorney of Marshfield.

More than 10,000 acres of beautiful scenery bordering the highways is the property of the state, and a continuation of this program of purchase and preservation is imperative if Oregon is to keep her place among beautiful states, said H. B. Van Duzer, chairman of the Oregon State Highway commission, at the meeting on conservation problems, presided over by Eric W. Allen, dean of the school of journalism. Robert W. Sawyer, Bend, former member of the commission, told what other state highway commissions were doing in this matter, while Dr. Warren D. Smith, of the department of geology, stressed the importance of preserving natural museums of the state.

Music, drama, the arts and crafts, and other such expressions of ability were declared to be the greatest aid to development of civic spirit, at the round table discussions at the meeting on community organization, with Thomas Potwin, Albany, as chairman. The problem of what to do with the transient occupied the delegates to the administration of public welfare section, presided over by Lucille Montgomery, executive secretary of the Linn County Red Cross. Establishment of a registration bureau was believed to be one solution to the problem.

Delegates were entertained at a banquet Thursday evening, at which Ben Hur Lampman, editorial writer of the Morning Oregonian, was the principal speaker.

ORCHESTRA, GLEE CLUBS GIVEN HIGHEST PRAISE

(Continued from Page One) Bombay." "Uncle Rome" (Homer) was given with full emphasis on the traditional rich chords and soft interludes of the negro's song. Smith's composition, "Archers' Marching Song," reminded one of "Robin Hood" and "Pinafore," and was marked by nice tonal shading of the march rhythm.

The orchestra opened with Bizet's "L'Arlesienne" suite. The remarkably good work of the string-sections and the French horns was spiced with the novelty of John Finley's saxophone solo in the first movement, which did more than miles of printed argument to prove that in certain fields the saxophone has a legitimate place in a concert orchestra.

As soloist in the Saint-Saens' concerto, Howard Halbert drew sustained applause with a consistently excellent performance that held up under the strain of the most difficult passages. His flawless fingering was backed by scarcely less excellent bowing.

Coleridge-Taylor proved himself a skilful composer when he set the text of Longfellow's poem, "Hiawatha's Wedding Feast," to music. Although his work was restrained by the sharp, unpliant metre of the verse, he varied his themes skilfully to fit the meaning of each passage, thus adding real vividness to the cantata as a whole.

The orchestral introduction was interesting as an adaptation of Indian music to the rules of classical.

The men's and women's sections of the chorus were equally effective singing together and alone. They brought out the oddly placed accents of the text with unanimity, and made the most of the charm which lies in the passages descriptive of Pau-Puk-Keewis, the dancer, Chibiabos, the singer, and Iago, the "great boaster."

Loren Davidson's voice was perfectly at ease in the high ranges which his solo demanded of him, and he made the changes from the lyrical melody of some passages to the almost operatic qualities of others effortlessly. His diction was pleasingly precise.

WHAT SHOW TONIGHT?

Colonial—"City Lights," with Charles Chaplin.
Heilig—Richard Barthelmess in "The Lash."
McDonald—Lawrence Tibbett in "The Prodigal."
State—"Cheer Up and Smile."
Arthur Lake.

"The Prodigal" Stars Tibbett

Lawrence Tibbett, opera and screen star, will appear at the McDonald theatre today in "The Prodigal," a story of a young man, who, after running away from some trouble at home, becomes a tramp. Years later he returns home incognito, and is taken into the fold again. His brother and he do not get along at all, and when Tibbett falls in love with his brother's wife, events move very rapidly to a climax.

There is a good deal of the Tibbett brand of singing in the film, the outstanding music being some negro chorals. In the supporting cast are Esther Falston, Roland Young, Stepin Fetchit, Cliff Edwards, and Hedda Hopper.

Barthelmess at Heilig

Richard Barthelmess is the featured star of the current Heilig film, "The Lash." He is supported by a cast that includes Mary Astor, Marion Nixon, James Rennie, Robert Edeson, and Fred Kohler.

From the Bartlett novel of the same name of early California, the picture has good dosages of adventure, romance, and comedy, with a dash of history thrown in.

State Has Comedy

"Cheer Up and Smile," epic of exuberant American optimism, is still being shown at the State theatre. For the discerning it is rather uncomfortably bad. Arthur Lake has the leading role. It is something "to remember him by."

MOTHERS HONOR GUESTS FOR JUNIOR WEEK-END

(Continued from Page One)

mothers' association has been invited to breakfast at Peters Lodge on Saturday morning. All mothers have been cordially asked to attend every event of Junior Week-end, and to arrive early on Friday in order to be present at the campus luncheon.

Special Dinners Sunday

All houses on the campus are cooperating with a special dinner on Sunday, and vespers will be held at 4 in the Music building.

Letters containing the program and tickets for the events have been mailed by the University to all Oregon mothers, and welcome signs will be placed on the campus before the time of arrival. Oregon mother pins, a feature inaugurated last year, may be obtained at Johnson hall at the time of registration.

The directorate in charge of the events as appointed by Helen Chaney is as follows: Wally Baker, assistant chairman; Alexis Lyle, banquet; Irma Logan, registration; Lenore Ely, publicity; John Painton, decoration; Margaret Ormandy, vespers; Hope Shelley, secretary; and Virginia Grone, tea.

The committee planning the tea with Virginia Grone consists of Dorothy Eads, properties; Betty Rebec, music, and Dorothy Illidge, receiving line.

Have us deliver your flowers.

We insure prompt delivery anywhere in town without charge... or telegraph service to any distant point.

OREGON FLORISTS

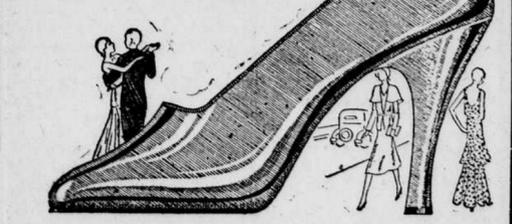

Eugene's Oldest

and Most Complete Emporium

May Stores Inc. 977 Willamette Phone 17

Seamless Pumps

Black or Blonde $7.50 $7.85 AAA to C—Sizes up to 9 1/2

THE FOOTWEAR YOU CHOOSE IS MORE IMPORTANT THAN EVER

Longer skirts, far from detracting from foot-interest—add to it. Your feet must be perfectly shod now—since they are in the spotlight. Choose your Spring footwear from an ensemble point of view—be sure that its lines echo the charm of your Spring costume. That's an easy task if you shop now—from our extensive collections.

Buster Brown Shoe Store

Women's Intramural Tennis Ranks Yet Open

About 25 girls have signed up for intramural tennis, however, there are still places for many more, and anyone knowing the rudiments or interested in tennis is urged to turn out at the courts between 4 and 5, any afternoon of the week, according to Vivian Coss, student manager of tennis. Three practices a week are required of girls turning out for the sport, however, if they are unable to play at the hours designated, they may practice and make report to either Vivian Coss or Miss Margaret Duncan, coach. As yet the courts have not been reserved for intramural practices, so the girls should secure their own courts.

Regular practices will be continued throughout the remainder of this week and the next. The following week two tournaments will be started, one in the beginning group and one among advanced players.

Pajamas on the Campus

Sure, they're going places, and why not? See our new ones for sport, lounging and night wear. PRICED $1.95 UP Many other attractive new things to show you at DELLA BORIN'S Dress Shop "Where you are always welcome" 403 Broadway Phone 2592

"Sez Sue" SHOPPING NEWS

Spring Bargains

Are REAL bargains here, thanks to the Eugene merchants, "Sue" has found! Lots of new styles in dresses and accessories are in the shops—all of them reasonably priced and some at an actual discount! It will pay you to read "Sue's" suggestions below, and then dash downtown for your bargains.

Color's the Thing

So with your new colored sport things and fluffy frocks you will want new colored jewelry of course, especially for April Frolic week-end. At the Oriental Art Shop, next door to the Eugene hotel, "Sue" has found some marvelous-looking wood necklaces and bracelets in all the new spring shades, coral and turquoise included. There, too, you will find the smartest of barbaric jewelry—Algerian, in design and colors—and clever two-tone jewelry, just the thing for the latest two-tone frocks.

A Social Hint

To those who will be hostesses to out-of-town girls this week-end. Take them to tea either today or tomorrow afternoon as a restful pause in their busy week-end. The Green Lantern Tavern has delicious afternoon tea, served in an attractive, collegiate tea room. If you've tasted the pastries and brownies at the Green Lantern, you won't hesitate to take your guests there and be assured that you, as well as they, will be delighted with this special afternoon tea.

Clip This and Say

"Sez Sue" to any of the salesmen in Buster Brown's Shoe Store on Willamette street at any time TODAY and they will sell you a pair of their newest moccasin-toe, crepe-soled sport oxfords at a fifty-cent reduction of their usual price! When you see these shoes, knowing the quality of Buster Brown's stock, you'll agree with "Sue" that it is a REAL bargain. Remember, the shoes you want, in all sizes, at a fifty-cent discount today only, if you bring "Sue's" message!

TO YOU, ELEANOR LEWIS, "SUE" WISHES A HAPPY RULE AS JUNIOR QUEEN! CALL AT THE FOX McDONALD BEFORE SUNDAY NIGHT AND RECEIVE TWO PASSES.

A Co-ed's Delight

Is the new counter in McMorran & Washburne's at which candy and cigarettes are sold. Located on the first floor, directly next to the elevators, this counter, combined with the green trading stamp counter, has a full stock of delicious Bunte's candies, wrapped in five and ten-cent packages, and all the leading brands of cigarettes as well. "Sue" advises you to purchase your candy and cigarettes here from the saleslady at the counter. You'll find it a convenient, pleasant way to shop.

Be A "Sport"

Of course you want to play golf and tennis now. You'll need clubs, balls, rackets, and tees, too, so drop into the Oregon Pharmacy, next door to Taylor's on Thirteenth, and purchase your sport supplies there. "Sid" or "Walt" in the Pharmacy will be glad to help you choose just what you need, and show you their dandy new visors and colored glasses for the sunny days of sports. Try the Pharmacy!

Mondaine Compacts

ALL Colors—Designs—Prices from $1.00 to $4.00

BRISTOW'S

Foot Notes

The shoe must be in perfect keeping with the costume. Black and white, and brown and white, the happy thought of a genius designer in Spectator pumps and oxfords for campus wear... eggshell for street, evening and campus wear... and snake and linen ties.

Materials for the season, whether it be campus or dancing, are fine leather, fabrics, the reptiles, and elkhide, but... it isn't the material but the fashioning that dictates its place in your wardrobe. With this advice in mind your search will, of course, lead you first to...

Burch Shoe Co.

McDONALD THEATRE BLDG+1032 Willamette

Delicious..... at Dinner

and easy to prepare. It is sealed and frozen... ready to slice for the table.

MENU

BRICK
THREE-LAYER BRICKS
Pistachion Salad
Butter Brickle
BULK
Butter Brickle

Phone 1480

Eugene Fruit Growers EXCHANGE

WAVES That Are Distinctive and Chic

The beautiful, smart college girl first thinks of her hair and realizes its importance to her toilette. Softly waved hair makes a lovely frame for the face, whether a marcel or finger wave. We specialize in both—also in shampoos and permanents.

MARCEL 75c
FINGER WAVE 75c

Eugene Hotel Beauty Shop

Follow Through

Swing clean and make the green below par. Take the new nine holes and feel the thrill of something new in golf.

Laurelwood