4. WHETHER YOU GO TO A DANCE OR TO A SHOW KEEP CONSTANTLY REMARKING ABOUT HOW MANY BEAUTIFUL GIRLS THERE ARE AT THE AFFAIR. THIS WILL AROUSE YOUR PARTNER'S JEALOUSY, WHICH IS ALWAYS A GOOD SIGN.

5. On the way home tell her about all the girls you have ever gone out with, which will assure her that you HAVE a past.

THE OREGON CO-ED

"Will you go riding with me," Said little Min McGrack,
 "I promise you quite faithfully
 You won't have to walk back."

Good Heavens! Has it come to that?

We feel that, with the approaching event in the offing, many sweet young members of the male sex will be quite overcome by the seriousness of their social obligations over the week-end, and to aid these bewildered college laddies we now feel duty bound to come forward at this time and offer our second set of etiquette rules. We advise all young men to write these rules on their shirt sleeves so that they will not be without the reassurance of available advice at times when it is most needed.

WHAT EVERY COLLEGE MAN SHOULD KNOW

1. WHEN A YOUNG LADY CALLS YOU UP AND ASKS FOR A DATE STALL HER OFF. TELL HER THAT YOU AREN'T SURE WHETHER YOU CAN GO OR NOT, AND FOR HER TO CALL UP LATER. THIS MAKES HER FEEL THAT YOU ARE DOING HER A FAVOR. ACCEPT AFTER THE SECOND OR THIRD INVITATION.

2. When she calls for you in the evening beat it upstairs as soon as she enters the drawing room. Dress and undress yourself three or four times, and then come rushing down the stairs (dressed, of course) and inform the young lady that you didn't know she had arrived.

3. If she tries to put her arm around you and kiss you in the taxi (tush! tush! We're speaking of the vehicle), push her away from you, and huddle into the corner of the cab. Assume a Billy Sunday injured tone, and repeat the following nursery tale. "I hope you don't think I'm like the average college man. I have principles. I don't let every girl I go out with kiss me." This will put her in her place. Of course, you must immediately weaken, and as the taxi swerves around a corner, lose control of your equilibrium and your principles.

Aviation Class Hears Talk by Meteorologist

Mr. E. L. Wells, government meteorologist of Portland, addressed the commercial aviation class yesterday at 11 o'clock on weather forecasting as a profession and meteorological aids to flying. The complete organization of the government weather bureau was discussed by Mr. Wells. He also told the class how the weather bureau aided fliers by determining the weather in advance so that they are able to tell the type of weather they will encounter on their flights.

Detailed description of the operation of the radio telephone was given by the meteorologist in his talk. Radio telephone is the means by which an airplane pilot is in continual communication with the nearest weather bureau headquarters or landing field. Airmail pilots especially, rely upon this means of communication to keep posted on existing weather conditions.

According to Mr. Wells, most of the important commercial aviation companies are at present making a special effort to train pilots in the elements of meteorology so that when it becomes necessary for them to depend upon themselves in determining the weather, they will have some technical knowledge of it.

BEAUTY PARADE TO BE CAMPUS DAY FEATURE

(Continued from Page One) men to take part in this event will appear later. The march to the "O" will start on 11th and Alder street in front of the Kappa Sigma house, where a roll call will be taken. The tug of war will take place at the railroad bridge immediately after the painting of the "O."

Following the tug of war, the freshmen will proceed to Kincaid field south of Condon hall, where the traditional ceremony of burning the green lids will be held. All Freshmen To Attend
 "The heads of all houses and halls will appoint a letterman or some responsible party in charge to see that all freshmen are present at the tug of war and the burning of the lids," Levoff said. "The Order of the 'O' will be on hand to see that no mishaps occur and that all traditions are kept. A check-up on all freshmen will be made and those not appearing will be dealt with by the Order of the 'O.' Further instructions will appear later."

The baseball game between the University of Washington and Oregon is scheduled for 1:30 Saturday afternoon, and Al Edwards will arrange the athletic contests for the day, which will include a football game at 3.

MOUTH TELLS EMOTIONS BETTER THAN EYES DO

(Continued from Page One) visit to the West. He expressed himself as enjoying it immensely, especially his stay in California where he had the opportunity to observe the various methods of bringing out the emotions in the motion picture industry. He will leave for Seattle today, and after a few more visits to various cities on the coast, he will return to the University of Iowa.

'EAR AND 'AIR

What is a Good Remedy for Spring Fever?

"Being a druggist's daughter I can think of nothing else but medicine."—Dorothy Illidge, junior in art.

"I think a jump in the mill race would be about the best thing."—Betty Karkeet, freshman in social science.

"Less classes, maybe."—Ed Roll, freshman in architecture.

"Lydia Pinkham's spring fever vegetable prescription."—Lloyd Sherrill, senior in economics.

"A lot of long assignments and hard work."—Ben Tanner, sophomore in economics.

BIG SISTERS TO LAUNCH INTO PERSONNEL WORK

 Work Important
 The work of the Big Sisters throughout the year will be of extreme importance, the girls were told yesterday. They will be expected to hold frequent conferences with their Little Sisters, and to help them adjust any academic or social difficulties they may have. If the freshman woman wants to get into activities, the Big Sisters will be expected to place her in the one she is most interested in. A file of all the Big Sisters and their Little Sisters will be kept in the dean of women's office, which will be a record of the work of the older girls and also will show how the freshman women are being helped and to what extent.

Five Rehearsals Of Junior Vodvil Slated for Week

Friday, May 1; Plans Shaping Up Well

Dates for five rehearsals of the Junior Vodvil to take place between now and Friday, May 1, when the event will be presented to the public on the stage of the Heilig theater, were released by the show directors last night.

The schedule as outlined is for complete rehearsals only, and will not affect the practices of the separate acts which will proceed as the individual directors of those acts decree.

Rehearsals will be as follows:

At Coconut Grove, Saturday (April 25) morning at 8 o'clock.

At the Heilig theater, Sunday morning at 8 o'clock.

At Coconut Grove, Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock.

At the Heilig theater, Wednesday night at 11 o'clock. (Dress rehearsal.)

At Coconut Grove, Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The first performance will go on the stage at 8 o'clock Friday evening.

Last Sunday afternoon the first complete rehearsal of the vodvil was held in Coconut Grove before a small group of student and faculty advisers. At this rehearsal the possibilities of the show were clearly demonstrated, but the fact that a lot of good hard practice and expert directing are necessary was also in evidence.

Individual acts have been practicing each evening under the supervision of a student director and a faculty adviser. As a result, a much superior showing of each part of the program is promised by those in charge, for the complete rehearsal Saturday morning.
