

Baseball Team Prepares For Idaho Contests

Reinhart Polishes Oregon Nine for Tomorrow's Tilt With Vandals

Players Shifted in Attempt To Produce Winning Combination

WEEK'S SCHEDULE FOR VARSITY BASEBALL
 Wednesday, April 29—Oregon vs. Idaho, at Eugene.
 Thursday, April 30—Oregon vs. Idaho, at Eugene.
 Friday, May 1—Oregon vs. Willamette, at Salem.
 Saturday, May 2—Oregon vs. Willamette, at Eugene.

Billy Reinhart's baseball squad has called off hostilities after the twin set-backs by Oregon State until they take the field tomorrow against the Idaho Vandals, who invade local territory for a two-game series. Billy put the team through a stiff practice yesterday, and the same dish will be served today.

The most obvious faults that showed up during the defeats by the Beavers were lack of polish in handling hard ground slashes and lack of headwork in running bases. Practice should remedy this. In order to give the boys seasoning under fire, Reinhart has secured two games with Willamette, Friday and Saturday of this week.

Reinhart Shuffles Players
 The Bearcat nine has been mowing down opposing schools with regularity and already holds two wins over the Webfoots.

Coach Bill Reinhart started in last Sunday to remodel his ball club with the hope of producing a winning combination. Minnaugh went back to his original position in the outfield where Oregon's strength has heretofore been negligible, and Londahl shifts back to his original post at second base vacated by Minnaugh. The hole left in the infield at third will probably be filled by either Lee Chester, who is a likely-looking hitter, or Orville Garrett, who has the edge when it comes to handling the bag.

Webfoots Heavy with Stick
 During the first two conference games, Oregon showed a punch at the plate that may win some ball games. The twirling staff is weak at present. What they need is hot weather to loosen up the shoulder muscles properly. Vern Arnett, who is holding up the southpaw end alone this year, needs more conditioning before he can put that big curve exactly where he wants it.

Dave Bloom or Jack Hughes is the most likely candidate to start the game against Idaho tomorrow. It will be the Vandals' first conference game. If their baseball team performs no better than their hoop squad or their football eleven, Oregon should be able to climb back out of the cellar, where they were dumped by the Beavers.

Women Will Play First Ball Game Tomorrow Night

Alpha Gams, Kappa Deltas To Start Intramural Schedule

The first sorority baseball game will be played Wednesday night at 6 o'clock on the field south of the Fine Arts building, when the Alpha Gams will meet the Kappa Deltas in answer to a challenge issued last week by the latter to the campus.

This game will mark the first in a series of women's contests, following the initiation of baseball on an intramural basis. Susan Campbell has issued a challenge to play the winner of tomorrow's game. Alpha Chi Omega has challenged Alpha Xi Delta to a game, the date to be determined later. Other teams that have been formed are the Alpha Delta PIs and the Independents. W. A. A. representatives in all living organizations are urged to get in touch with Caryl Hollingsworth and announce their teams in order to be placed on schedule.

The rules followed will be regulation, with a few exceptions, however. A 12-inch "litter" ball will be used, pitching shall be under-hand, and no gloves shall be used. Caryl Hollingsworth and Doris Payne will have charge of refereeing.

Thacher To Address Club
 W. F. G. Thacher, professor of English and advertising, will leave this morning to speak before the Albany Advertising club at noon. He will address the group on the topic, "Saving vs. Spending."

Webfoot Men Star at State Aquatic Meet

Team Gets Honors; Corson and Fletcher Set New Records

Coach Hewitt Pleased at Prospects for Next Year's Team

Taking all but two of the men's events, the University of Oregon swimming team provided an anticlimax to its brilliant season by winning team honors at the Oregon State indoor swimming meet last Saturday at the Multnomah Athletic club of Portland.

The team amassed a total of 34 points, the largest number an Oregon swimming team has ever taken at any state swimming meet, set a new state record in the 150-yard backstroke, broke the Pacific coast intercollegiate breast stroke record, and placed themselves as undisputed champions of the Pacific Northwest.

Needham Wins
 Bob Needham, Oregon, defeated Thomas last year's champion, and Doble, both of Multnomah club in the 220-yard free style. His time was 2:34 2-5. The qualifying heat for the race was run off in the afternoon, and at the time of the race, the rope was dropped too soon and the swimmers were compelled to do it again, making two unnecessary races. Because of this fact the time was not very fast. Needham displayed a strong reserve of stamina, spurning out in the last stretch to win decisively. He also swam two 100-dashes before his race.

Gordon Corson, Oregon frosh, defeated Ed Ralston, Oregon State, one of the best backstrokers in the Northwest, and set a new state record of 1:50.4. Reischmuller, Oregon frosh, placed third in the event.

New Coast Mark
 Steve Fletcher, Oregon, after trailing Paul Lafferty, his team mate, for five lengths of the tank, spurred ahead in the last stretch to win the race and break his own Pacific coast intercollegiate record. Fletcher's time was 2:40 flat and cut off four seconds from the former record. Marvin Rodda, Oregon frosh, placed third.

Francis Oglesby, Oregon, won the 500-yard free style from Charles Foster, his team mate, in 6:27.8.

Eisenschmidt, Oregon State, won the 100-yard free style and set a new state record of 56.4. Thomas, Multnomah, edged in for second place, and McGowan Miller, Oregon, placed third.

Wallace Hug, Oregon frosh, won the 100-yard novice event in 1:02.1. He defeated Lent and Sabin, both from the Portland natorium. Oregon now has the undisputed championship of the Pacific Northwest, having defeated Oregon State and the Multnomah Athletic club twice each. Oregon also placed second in the Pacific coast conference, being beaten only by Stanford.

Ten Webfoots Place
 Thirteen Oregon swimmers entered the meet and ten of the thirteen placed. Every man went to the meet on his own initiative, as the team was not set by the University.

"I am delighted at the prospects for next year," said Jack Hewitt, varsity swimming coach. "Every man on the squad will be back again except Allen and McKim. Also Corson, Reischmuller, Stevenson, Laurin, Rodda, and Hug, frosh swimmers, will be eligible for varsity next season."

McGowan Miller and Steve Fletcher were elected a few weeks ago as honorary captains of the Oregon swimming team. These captaincies were for this season.

Shysters Bow to B.A. Sluggers in Kitten Ball Fray

THE assault and battery case of the law school versus the business ad school Saturday afternoon on the kitten ball diamond resulted in a 13-to-11 victory for the business adders.

Maybe it was due to the fact that the "adders" are always fussing with numbers, which makes them numeral men.

The law school, better known as the "shysters," played a good game, but there were more errors in it than a sieve has holes; probably caused by too much rallying and following the horses.

The business ad "numeral men" will take on the psychology department Thursday to test their reflexes on the "kitten ball" diamond.

At the end of the season next year, two more men will be elected as captains for that season.

Betas and Sigma Chi Victorious in Tennis Matches

Each Defeats Opponent in Two Contests; SAE's and Sigma Hall Beaten

TENNIS MATCHES TODAY
 4 P. M.
 Alpha Upsilon vs. Yeomen.

Attention is called to a mistake in the intramural tennis schedule. The semi-final match in the upper bracket, which now consists of Alpha Upsilon, the Yeomen, Kappa Sigma, and Phi Delta Theta, will be played on April 30 at 5 p. m. and not today at 4, as is printed on the schedule, sent to the various men's living organizations on the campus.

The Betas and Sigma Chi won their intramural tennis matches yesterday, each taking two out of three matches from opponents, the SAE's and Sigma hall, respectively. The Betas entered the semi-finals by their victory, while Sigma Chi was the last team to enter the quarter-finals.

Summary of the SAE-Beta matches:
 Harlow of the Betas defeated Philip of the SAE's, 6-2, 4-6, 6-1; Gilman and Woodruff of the SAE's nosed out Munholland and Reinhart of Beta Theta Pi, 6-4, 3-6, 6-1; Gerlinger and Shearer of the Betas emerged victorious over Krier and Muus of SAE, 6-3, 4-6, 6-1.

There were no golf match scores reported yesterday.

Travel Guide Added To Warner Library

"Glimpses of the East," a travelers' guide of the world, is the latest addition to the library of the Murray Warner collection of Oriental art in the Woman's building. The book came as a present from the Nippon Yusen Kaisha Steamship company of Japan at the suggestion of Dr. John R. Mez, associate professor in economics.

This is the thirteenth annual issue of the book, which is rated as the official guide for shippers and travelers to all the principal ports of the world. It is illustrated profusely with color plates of the scenic cities, ports, and landscapes, and is graded into sections headed by the various countries.

The book will be available to students who are interested, and can be seen at the museum library any afternoon from 2 to 4.

Entries for the men's event are asked to turn in their names to Paul Lafferty at the S. A. E. house; and the women entrants are asked to file their names with Frances Rupert at the Alpha Chi

PHILOGRAMS

SPOT DOPE ON SPORT NEWS By Phil Cogswell

No Baseball Title
 Some team will win the baseball championship of the Northwest this year; probably it won't be Oregon. This is a melancholy prophecy to make, indeed, but the old "hope that springs eternal" isn't springing right now. Four defeats on the chin in exactly four games have taken the props from under our optimism. Just where the team will finish at the end of the season is sad to contemplate. Before when such a state of affairs arose, it was remarked, "There's always Idaho." Well, the Vandals are coming tomorrow. We will soon know how bad the future will be.

Good Spirit Yet
 The ball team is improving slowly and has a good spirit. In every game so far they've had a big lead scored against them in the initial innings, yet have kept pegging away at it. However, there are a lot of good hustling ball teams in the Northwest, as even Willamette showed us. The pitchers are bound to improve in control and stamina, but the hitters will run up against better hurling from the other teams right along. Reinhart is shifting his men around in the field drastically. Maybe he will get an efficient combination yet.

George Will Wins
 George Will and Vince Dolp settled their dispute in the qualifying rounds by going out Sunday and playing off the tie. The matter is only temporary, however, for the number one man today may be challenged and defeated tomorrow. George defeated Vince, 71 against 74. Dolp had a 35 on the first nine and a 39 on the second against Will's 38 and 33. Each made 4 birdies, and Will's score was one under par. Not bad golf!

Theta Chi Pound Out 5-4 Decision Over ATO Squad

Betas and Yeomen To Meet In Cushion Ball Tilt Today

TODAY'S GAMES
 4:00
 Fiji vs. Kappa Sig.
 Beta vs. Yeomen.

Theta Chi broke the A. T. O. winning streak yesterday by clouting the ball for a 5-4 decision that throws the losers back into a tie with Gamma hall for the league leadership. Phi Delta has already won the championship of the other baseball league.

Os Edwards, A. T. O. hurler, had an off day, but for some glaring boners pulled by his mates might have pitched his way out of trouble. Jim Graham of Theta Chi was given airtight support on all but one occasion by his team. A. T. O. took a substantial lead in the first when Benson and Edwards rocketed the ball past second base to score two runs. Theta Chi got one back in the second when Woodward beat out a bunt and the A. T. O. outfield kicked Brown's doubtful hit all over the lot.

The Theta Chi went into the lead the next inning. Cate bounced one out of Benson's glove, and Jeffers plunked a Texas leaguer back of first. Makinen walked to fill the bases and Edwards cut loose with a wild pitch to score Cate. Woodward grounded out to Short, Jeffers scoring on the play and Makinen following him in while the A. T. O. squad went to sleep. Jack Cate placed the fifth run in the bag by slamming out a long hit to right in the fourth that went for a triple when an outfielder misjudged the ball. Cate scored on a misplay at first of Jeffers' grounder.

Bill Whately duplicated Cate's performance in the fifth when his pop fly to right was good for three bases. Harvey Benson then crashed one on the nose for a home run. Theta Chi threatened again in the seventh, but the A. T. O. rally was over. The Theta Chi infield played a steady game throughout, Ralph Brown at first especially giving Graham splendid support.

After being mowed under Saturday by Phi Kap, Kappa Sig broke into the win column yesterday when Sigma Pi Tau forfeited.

The Betas and the Yeomen, soft ball league champions, are pitted against each other today, while Sigma hall and S. A. M. will fight it out Wednesday to determine the other puff ball finalist.
