Hawaiian Cruise Bringing Enrollments From Entire State

Empress of Japan Sails From Vancouver on June 20

With summer and the University of Oregon's annual Hawaiian cruise almost at hand, Dean Alfred Powers, of the extension division in Portland, visited the campus yesterday making final plans for this year's trip which will start on June 18 and continue until August 5 as last year.

Enrollments have come in from all over the country, stated Dean Powers. Two reservations came from Louisiana, several from Washington, one each from Minnesota, Ohio, Colorado, and Idaho, and the majority from Oregon and northern California. Even though another cruise is being conducted this summer to Alaska, reservations have come from two school teachers in Anchorage, Alaska, for the Hawaiian trip.

Schedule Given
Transportation has been secured on the Empress of Japan which will sail from Vancouver, B. C., on June 20. The student quarters are in the second cabin plan of the boat, directly next to the first class accommodations and are accessible to the library, the office, four classrooms—two of which are on deck, and the swimming pool. Members of the party will leave Portland on the evening of the 18th on special Pullman cars for Vancouver. Students will be given a short time to visit in Victoria on the way out. Arrival in Honolulu will be on June 25 and the departure on July 31, allowing a stay of 37 days in the islands.

In Honolulu the cruisers will stay at the Punahou dormitory located near the University of Hawaii from where tours of the islands, town trips, and beach excursions will be available. All arrangements in the islands are being made by Thayne M. Livesay, director of summer sessions at the University of Hawaii, who will return to Seattle with the party at the completion of the tour in order to carry on some special graduate work he is doing there. Dean James H. Gilbert, of the college of literature, science, and the arts is the director of the entire cruise.

Fees Announced
The price of the tour is $375 complete which includes the summer session fee in the universities of both Oregon and Hawaii, round trip train fare to Vancouver and back, berth and meals on board the Empress Japan, and room and board while on the island. The normal load that can be carried is 10 to 11 term hours. Reservations have come in rapidly and only a few places remain to fill the block of rooms reserved by the University on the Empress.

Posters are being placed on the campus this week advertising the summer session and the dates of the trip. Additional bulletins and material are available in the offices of the extension division here on the campus.

Slide for Dance Will Be Greased Says Order of 'O'

Roy Hughes, chairman of the Order of the O barn dance which will be held May 22, announced at a meeting of the club last night that plans were progressing in great shape for the affair. George Christensen, in charge of decorations, declared that he was getting the slide greased up again, slicker than ever.

It was also determined that punch would be served for refreshments during the evening, while it was mentioned that there would also be hay around in bales.

The next meeting of the lettermen will be at the Beta house Tuesday. All members are asked to be there with their sweaters, as Sam Wilderman will take pictures. The meeting last night was held at Phi Gamma Delta.

SENIORS!

Don't forget caps, gowns and announcements. Orders must be placed at the "Co-op" by May 10th.

Over 300 Couples Attend Mortar Board Ball

Over 300 couples attended the Mortar Board ball, annual campus affair, which was an event of Friday evening at the Eugene hotel. The ballroom was so crowded that collegiate dancing became a fine art.

The feature of the dance was the Kwama pledging which took place late in the evening. Nineteen girls were taken in, a line being formed in the lobby and filing through the ballroom between an arch made by the members of Skull and Daggers, sophomore honorary for men. Mrs. Nelson Macduff, assistant dean of women, was made an honorary member, and was taken in by her daughter, Betty Ann.

The real, honest-to-goodness feature of the evening, however, was the dating proposition. The women took the men and paid all of the bills, but by the end of the evening were somewhat tired of "wearing the trousers," what with opening and closing doors, holding heavy overcoats, and trying to satiate a masculine appetite (we realize that the men would doubt the validity of this implication).

Dorothy Eberhard was chairman for the dance. She was assisted by Kathryn Langenberg, Colin, Mildred McGee, Daphne Hughes, Bess Templeton, and Margaret Cummings, all members of Mortar Board.

The guests of honor for the event were: Dr. and Mrs. Arnold Bennett Hall, Dr. and Mrs. Charles Leslie Schwering, Dean and Mrs. Hugh L. Biggs, Mrs. Nelson F. Macduff, Miss Consuello McMillan, Dr. and Mrs. E. E. DeCou, and Miss Beatrice Milligan.

Cyril Igoe and Day Foster Engaged

Another engagement which is of especial interest to campus society is that of Miss Cyril Igoe and Day Foster, which was announced Sunday morning at a breakfast and bridge party at the home of the bride-elect.

Place-cards representing a microphone with the announcement written inside were used for telling the news. The breakfast table was decked with orchid and white flowers. The date for the wedding has been set for Friday, June 5.

Mr. Foster was graduated last year and is a member of Bachelor and Alpha Delta Sigma, advertising honorary. He is at present in business with the KORE radio studios.

Gertrude Hill Has Charming Spring Wedding

One of the most charming of spring weddings took place Sunday afternoon when Miss Gertrude Hill became the bride of Murlin Drury at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew L. Hill, here in Eugene.

The ceremony took place before a screen of greenery and flowers, with a large bell, from which white ribbon streamers ran to large baskets of flowers on either side, attached to the top of the screen.

The sister of the bride, Miss Josephine Hill, was bridesmaid, and Schuyler Southwell was best man.

The bride wore a gown of pale green inset with lace, carrying a shower bouquet of pink roses, white sweet peas, and white baby breath. The bridesmaid wore coral chiffon and carried roses and sweet peas in deep tones.

Don Eva sang "At Dawning"

Mrs. Warren M. Korstad (Julia Marguerite Vodjansky), whose marriage was an event of April 14.

and "Oh Promise Me" preceding the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Drury were both graduated from the University. She is a member of Sigma Kappa, Pi Lambda Theta, and Phi Chi Theta. Mr. Drury was awarded his degree by the school of architecture last winter term. He was a member of the University orchestra and of Phi Mu Alpha.

They are now making their home at 1158 Hilyard street.

Eleanor Flanagan Announces Engagement

One of the most outstanding of the spring engagements was made known Monday night with the announcement of the betrothal of Miss Eleanor Flanagan to Alan Ames of San Francisco.

The announcement was made at the Kappa Alpha Theta house, of which Miss Flanagan is a member, when a huge black and gold box of candy was passed.

Miss Flanagan was graduated last year after having been exceedingly active in campus affairs. Mr. Ames, who was a transfer from the University of California, was graduated last term.

The wedding is to take place in San Francisco in early August, after which the young couple will make their home in the bay city.

Helen Elliott Engaged To Oregon State Graduate

Forecasting the combination of the Beavers and the Ducks, Helen Elliott announced her engagement to William S. Eliassen, graduate of Oregon State college, at the Kappa Delta house Friday evening. Place-cards were orange beavers holding tiny logs, in which the engagement was told. The centerpiece was a combination of a beaver dam and a duck pond. The school colors were further carried out with the candles at one end of the table yellow and green, and those at the other end black and orange. Favors were yellow ducks filled with salted nuts.

Miss Elliott is a member of the mathematics honorary, the music group of Philomelete, the polyphonic choir and the orchestra. Mr. Eliassen is a member of Phi Tau Chi honorary at Oregon State. He is now coach of basketball and instructor at Mill City high school. The wedding will be an event of August 28.

Senior Women Invited to Tea

A definite invitation has been extended to every graduating senior woman on the campus to attend the tea which will be given this coming Saturday afternoon, May 2, in Alumni hall by the members of the Eugene branch of the American Association of University Women.

The affair begins at 3 o'clock with a program in which Miss Lois Johnson will play on the piano, a play will be given by the Junior division of the A. A. U. W., Miss Roberta Spicer will play on the cello, Miss Irene Moore will sing, and students of Mrs. Kenneth W.

Upper News Staff Named for Men's Issue of Emerald

Robert Allen Selected for Post of Associate Editor

Masculine effort at superiority in journalism was a step nearer its goal last night with the appointment of the upper news staff for the annual men's edition of the Emerald. In a determined endeavor to boost the stock of the male issue, Editor Rufus Kimball and Managing Editor Thornton Gale combed the campus for outstanding talent to publish the Friday edition.

Robert Allen will act as associate editor for the "All Men's Emerald," while Roy Sheedy and Warner Guiss will be day and night editors respectively. The upper news staff is as follows:

Editor, Rufus Kimball.
Managing editor, Thornton Gale.
Associate editor, Robert Allen.
Day editor, Roy Sheedy.
Night editor, Warner Guiss.
Sports editor, Edward Good-nough.
Political editor, Merlin Blais.
Publicity editor, Stephen Kahn.
Theatrical editor, Duane Frisbie.
Features: George Root, Kenneth Fitzgerald.
Editorial writers: Jack Bauer, Ralph Yergen, George Erickson.
Special assignments: Rex Tussing, Dave Wilson, Harry Van Dine.

The staff of reporters will be announced tomorrow.

In an effort to surpass the women's edition of the Emerald which will appear in the near future, Kimball is making elaborate plans for the Friday issue. The stake of a party to be provided for the staff of the issue judged better is evoking keen competition.

Last year the men's edition, edited by Dave Wilson and Robert Allen, was judged superior to the women's issue, headed by Mary Klemm and Elise Schroeder. George Turnbull, professor of journalism, who was judge last year, will act in the same capacity in the present contest.

Moore will entertain with a dance.

The play which is to be presented by the Junior division is "The Low Silk Hat" by Lord Dunsany. The cast includes Mrs. Kenneth L. Shumaker, Miss Grace Griggs, Miss Mabelle Beakley, Miss Gladys Haskins, and Mrs. V. C. May. Mrs. Eyer Brown is the director.

Mrs. William M. Tugman is general chairman for the tea. She is being assisted by Mrs. Percy W. Brown, chairman for refreshments; Mrs. Ralph Martin, decorations; Miss Bertha Comings, invitations; Miss Celeste Campbell, program.

In the receiving line will be: Mrs. Virgil D. Earl, president; Mrs. Arnold Bennett Hall, Mrs. Dan E. Clark, Mrs. C. L. Schwering, Mrs. O. F. Stafford, Mrs. Wallace Potter, and Miss Kathryn Fry. Receiving about the rooms will be: Mrs. George S. Turnbull, Mrs. Warren H. Day, Miss Minnie Reid, Miss Bertha Comings, and Mrs. M. S. Power.

Those who will pour are: Mrs. Nelson F. Macduff, Mrs. E. E. DeCou, Miss Mozelle Hair, and Mrs. Louis H. Johnson.

Those who will serve are: Mrs. Eyer Brown, Mrs. Sam Wilderman, Miss Vida Buehler, Miss Rose Robinson, Miss Marian Lowry, Miss Kathryn Baily, Mrs. Grover Cordz, and Mrs. Arthur Bushman.

Phi Theta Upsilon announces the pledging to honorary membership of Mrs. Alice B. Macduff and Mrs. J. Maxwell Adams.

WHAT SHOW TONIGHT?

Colonial — Mary Pickford in "Kiki."

Heilig — Romberg and Hammerstein's operetta, "Viennese Nights."

McDonald — Norma Shearer in "Strangers May Kiss," and "Under Suspicion," and "Second Wife."

Norma Shearer at McDonald

When Ursula Parrott wrote "The Divorcee" and it was made into such a delightful vehicle for Norma Shearer, some doubted if there ever might be such an ideal type picture again, but it seems that Ursula Parrott must have had the Shearer in mind when she wrote "Strangers May Kiss," which comes to the McDonald today for the rest of the week.

In addition to Miss Shearer, Robert Montgomery, Neil Hamilton, Irene Rich, Marjorie Rambeau, are in the cast.

"Kiki" Closes Today

This is your last chance to see Mary Pickford do the hoyden to a fare-thee-well in "Kiki," playing at the Colonial theatre.

Supported by Reginald Denny, she enacts the story of an irrepressible madcap in love with a musical show owner. Much of her acting is to the point, but the story is an impossible one in this treatment. Her cast is entirely unexciting. Why does the Colonial allow their shorts to sag to such a low level. The latest irritant is the continued use of idiotic cartoons that beg everyone to sing. None ever do.

Heilig Has Operetta

Eugene's most colorful show of the season is "Viennese Nights," now showing at the Heilig theatre. By all means see it. The photography is better than we have ever seen as Hammerstein and Sidney Romberg, whose names need only to be mentioned in the musical show world, are responsible for it. A good cast includes Walter Pidgeon, Jean Hershold, Louise Fazenda, Alexander Gray.

Eugene's first all-variety program, hailed as "spice o' life," will be presented Thursday all day by the Colonial, it is announced by W. B. McDonald, manager. The bill will follow the style set by the famous New York Newsreel theatre, although on the program here will be a number of cartoons, comedies, and unusual reels added. The show will run continuously all day, starting at 2 o'clock, and the price of but a dime will be charged afternoon and night. If the "spice o' life" is successful, it will be repeated at intervals.
