Seattle Will Be First Stop; Two Games Are Slated With Huskies

14 Players To Accompany Reinhart on Annual Road Jaunt

CONFERENCE BASEBALL STANDINGS
	W.	L.	Pct.

Washington State	4	3	.571
Oregon State	4	4	.500
Oregon	3	5	.375
Idaho	1	6	.143

The Webfoot baseball team enroute tonight for Seattle, where they begin their series of road games against the Huskies of the University of Washington Friday and Saturday. The proteges of Tub Graves have a flying start in the conference field with seven victories and only one defeat.

From Seattle the Webfoots journey to Moscow for battles with the Idaho Vandals Monday and Tuesday, May 18 and 19. On Wednesday and Thursday they take on the W. S. C. Cougars at Pullman. The six games in seven days will be a real test of the team's ability. The pitchers, especially, will be in line for plenty of flipper exercise.

14 Players Selected
Bill Reinhart has announced that 14 men will be taken along besides the manager, Tom Dunham. The players selected are Lee Chester, first base; Johnny Londahl, second base; Kermit Stevens, shortstop; Cliff Potter, third base; Brian Minnaugh, Vern Arnett, and Kramer Barnes, outfielders; Roy Shaneman, catcher; Ken Scales, Edmund Charles, Jack Hughes, and Dave Bloom, pitchers; Chappie King and Slug Palmer, all-around handy men. Minnaugh will return to Eugene after the two games at Seattle.

The two recent wins over Oregon State have made the Huskies a heavy favorite to cop the pennant again this season. The 1930 champions swamped the Beavers Monday and Tuesday, hammering four pitchers for 18 runs during the second encounter.

Season Ends May 30
The Oregon nine, however, has confidence in its ability to beat Washington on account of the thorough fashion in which Scales and his clubmates subdued the Huskies for eight innings Saturday, only to present them with the game in the final round. The day before they drove Putnam, bespectacled Husky pitching ace, to the showers, although they lost the game when Dave Bloom followed his opponent in the midst of a Washington scoring spree.

The next home game will be May 29 with Oregon State. On May 30 the same two teams will wind up the season at Corvallis.

Women To Take Hike On McKenzie Sunday

A hike will be held this Sunday, May 16, according to Ella Redkey, student manager of hiking. This jaunt will be the first after a two-weeks rest period, occasioned by the play-day at Corvallis and Junior Week-end.

Helen Dunshee, who will be in charge of the hike, has requested that all girls meet at the Women's building at 3:30 in the afternoon. Each will bring her own lunch, and they will travel up the McKenzie river, through Springfield to the foot of Mt. Baldy, eating the lunches there and returning at nightfall.

Petition Dances Early, Says Dean of Women

The dean of women's office calls attention to the fact that dance petitions must be in a week before the dance is scheduled to take place. A number of the newly appointed social chairmen have failed to realize this. The petition is required in addition to scheduling the dance on the social calendar.

It's Swim Week, but These Co-eds 'Don't Go Near the Water'

Co-ed swimmers here are helping instruct during the annual swim week put on by the University, the Eugene Y. M. C. A., and the Lane county Red Cross. In the picture are displayed some of their strokes. Upper left, the dog paddle, the first stroke and the easiest a person can learn, being demonstrated by Rose Smith, Ruth Ludington, Mildred Koch, and Nellie Schaeffer. At the right, Rose Smith on the ground and Camille Clemenson, standing, show that there is more than one way of floating. You don't need a pond to learn to breathe properly in the water. At the lower left, Kamille Klekar shows how you may learn in a pan of water at home. Doris Payne is holding the pan for her. At right, Lorraine Beardsley, Jean Skene, Kamilla Klekar, and Camille Clemenson demonstrate the arm movement in the crawl.

Tough Schedule

The Webfoot ball team, departing on its road trip this afternoon, will run up against a fierce schedule. Six games in seven days are to be played. The first stop will be at Seattle tomorrow and Saturday for two more skirmishes with the title-bound Huskies. Then after a rest Sunday, the team will battle four days straight, first with the Vandals and finally with the Cougars.

May Break Even

If the Oregon club gets an even break in games won and lost on its trip, that's all that can be expected. The pitching staff as well as all other departments of the team would have to be functioning perfectly to do any better. Considering what has happened in the first half of the season which is just over, we can hope for improvement, but should not expect too much. The only strength the team has shown so far has been in hitting. But while the fellows have scored enough runs to win twice as many games as they have, they managed to kick in enough so that the other team couldn't lose.

Scales Improves

Given a little support in the field, the two regular pitchers, Dave Bloom and Ken Scales, should get a victory or so apiece. Scales, especially, has improved decidedly. His pitching performance against the Huskies in the last game here, until the fatal ninth inning, the disaster of which wasn't his fault, was about the best of the league so far. We can't think of any other pitcher who has gone 8 innings allowing only one run.

Others Inexperienced

Scales and Bloom, who have done most of the pitching so far, can't be figured to handle more than about half of the coming contests. Ed Charles and Jack Hughes, the other two hurlers are both inexperienced and so far have not showed very much. Just how Reinhart will get by those last two games with Washington State is hard to guess. Another good hurler is certainly needed.

MacNaughton's Driving

Malcolm MacNaughton, of Portland and also now of Stanford, who is ranking number one man on the Card team, has the reputation of being one of the longest drivers in golfdom. His drives from the tee are accustomed to traveling 300 yards. MacNaughton, however, will have strong competition when he meets George Will for the championship. George not only hits the ball hard, too, but straight. And this factor on the narrow fairways of the club is of supreme value. It's going to be mighty interesting, this golf match.

Batting Averages Show 8 Webfoots Above .300 Mark

Arnett Is Nominal Leader; Londahl Heads List Of Regulars

The Webfoot batting leader at present is Vern Arnett, pitcher-outfielder, who has plastered out five safe blows in ten official times at bat for an even .500 average. The regular with the highest average, however, is Johnny Londahl, the blond second sacker. Johnny is pounding the apple at a .429 clip. Brian Minnaugh, student body prexy-elect and regular right fielder, is tied with Kermit Stevens, shortstop, in number of runs scored. Each Duck player has nine to his credit.

Ranking next to Londahl, the heaviest Oregon sluggers in order of their averages are Dave Bloom, Minnaugh, and Lee Chester.

With eight batters hitting over .300 the offensive part Oregon's playing is better than usual. However, the totals may shrink during the swing northward which leads off with a tussle on the Husky diamond at Seattle tomorrow and includes separate series with Washington, Idaho, and Washington State.

Batting averages for conference games follow:

	AB	R.	H.	Pct.
Arnett	10	0	5	.500
Londahl	28	7	12	.429
Bloom	15	3	6	.400
Minnaugh	32	9	12	.378
Chester	28	7	10	.357
Stevens	33	9	11	.333
Shaneman	31	6	10	.323
Barnes	29	5	9	.310
Potter	34	6	10	.294
Scales	14	0	4	.286

King	23	4	6	.261
McClaren	2	0	0	.000
Palmer	1	1	0	.000
Hughes	1	0	0	.000

Picnic Supper Planned By Cosmopolitan Club

The Cosmopolitan club is to have a picnic supper next Tuesday evening, it was decided last night at a meeting of the executive committee. Cars will be furnished to transport members from the International house at 6 o'clock to the home of Mrs. C. A. Cressey on West Nineteenth street.

After the supper, Warren D. Smith, professor in geology, will show slides on South America.

The next gathering scheduled for the group will be the annual picnic held jointly with the Corvallis organization, which is to take place May 23 at Idlewood, a resort near the Benton-Lane county line. This year members of the Cosmopolitan club from Albany college have been asked to attend.

Track Squad Ends Practice For Dual Meet

Nineteen Men Chosen To Make Trip to Seattle Next Saturday

Injuries to Robinson and Moeller May Reduce Points for Ducks

By BRUCE HAMBY
Tryouts in the 100-yard dash yesterday finished preparations for the dual meet with Washington next Saturday, and Coach Bill Hayward completed his squad of 19 men, leaving Friday for Seattle. Virgil Scheiber, who has been recuperating from a strained tendon, staged a great comeback yesterday by winning the 100 and gained a place on the squad. Scheiber, Paul Starr, and Paul Bale finished in the order named with not more than six inches between the three. The time was not announced.

Gloom Spreads
A nice, dark shadow of gloom was spread yesterday as Coach Hayward related the loss of several of his stars. Ed Moeller, star discus hurler, has a bad leg and will be far from his best Saturday; Al Edwards, one of Oregon's few javelin throwers, turned out yesterday for the first time in weeks; and to top it all, Bobby Robinson, counted on for sure points in the pole-vault, developed a bad knee. He will make the trip, however, and should be able to beat out the Husky vaulters, crippled as he is.

All the above statements are vouched for by Hayward as the authentic lowdown and not merely the usual pre-game sob story. Hayward is not the coach to spread false talks about his men.

Weak in Field Events
Oregon's chief weakness will be in the field events. A scarcity of men has proved to be a great handicap, despite the fact that the men now out are point winners in their events.

The complete list of men making the trip and the events in which they will be entered:

- 100-yard dash—Scheiber, Starr.
- 220-yard dash—Bale, Starr.
- 440-yard—Marrs, Dolloff.
- 880-yard—Moran, Holman.
- 1 Mile—Hill.
- Two-mile run—Hall, Steele.
- High hurdles—Allen, Siegmund.
- Low hurdles—Holman, Siegmund.
- High jump—Palmer.
- Broad jump—Allen, Holman.
- Pole-vault—Robinson.
- Shot-put—Stadelman, Moeller.
- Discus—Moeller, Zane.
- Javelin—Palmer, Edwards.
- 1 Mile relay—Marrs, Holman, Dolloff, Rollwage.

Baseball Practice Hard on Windows, Official's Opinion

One hundred dollars in one month for broken windows on the campus is the next thing to the last straw which broke the camel's back, according to Mr. G. E. York, superintendent of building and grounds on the campus, and he urges that measures be taken to curb this excessive breakage rate.

The larger part of this breakage, which occurred during April, is contributed by Mr. York, to the opening of spring baseball practice among amateurs who show a marked degree of carelessness in regard to the place they select in which to practice. As a typical example he cites the case of a group taking some pictures near the arts building which cost the University $2.50 because in posing for the picture a baseball was thrown through one of the large windows.

The distribution of breakage covers a wide area, Mr. York said, but is more predominant around the men's houses, which would tend to prove his contention that baseball practice is the major cause.

He asks that the proper authorities take measures to regulate the practice places of the baseball fans and asks that they refrain from using windows as back-stops in all cases.
