Hayward To Pick 19 Men To Make Trip

Comparison Shows Field Event Firsts Split Among Six Teams

Oregon Favored To Take Pole-Vault, Shot; Huskies Weak

(Editor's Note: This is the second of two stories giving the comparative times and strength of teams entered in the Northwest conference meet at Seattle Friday and Saturday.)

By BRUCE HAMBLY

The names of six more track men were added to the list of Webfoots leaving tonight for the Northwest division conference meet at Seattle by Coach Bill Hayward yesterday, making a total of 19 Oregon representatives.

Virgil Scheiber, Paul Bale, Len Steele, Jack Zane and Bob Hall are the final men to be selected for the trip. The group will leave at 6:30 p. m. for Seattle. Preliminaries will be held Friday and the finals on Saturday.

Accompanying the team will be Hayward; Fred Reid, student manager, and Bob Officer, trainer. As a reward for long and faithful service on Hayward field, Abe Campbell, caretaker of the grounds, will be taken along with the team after the members had all chipped in to help defray expenses.

Field Events Discussed

Yesterday the track events, up to the two-mile run, were discussed and the comparative times of the best from each of the six schools entered were given. Today's article will deal with the remaining track and field events.

Oregon has a chance to place in both the low and high hurdles, if comparison of times made this season mean anything. In the low hurdle Art Holman's mark of :24.4 last Saturday against the Beavers is only .2 of a second slower than the best time of Brodie of Washington. Brodie and Hubert Allen have both turned in times of :15 flat in the high. Mitchell of W. S. C., however, has the best time for the low this year with :24.1. Oregon State has several high hurdlers who are likely to upset the dope in this event.

Although the crack Husky mile-relay team has turned in by far the fastest time in the Northwest, Hayward refused to concede them that event. Their time of 3:17 is four seconds better than Washington State's mark of 3:21. Oregon's team of Dolloff, Holman, Rollway and Marls did the mile in 3:22 last Saturday.

Oregon Favored in Discus Oregon should be a cinch to take first in two of the field events—the pole-vault and discus. Bob Robinson is by far the leading vaulter of the Northwest. Boone and Matilla of W. S. C. will probably give him most of his competition.

Interest in the discus lies in the fight for second place between Buse of Washington, Hein of W. S. C., and Williams of Idaho. Jack Zane, a newcomer to Webfoot ranks, has done over 140 feet in practice and may spring a surprise if he comes through. Moeller seems a certainty for first place.

The Huskies are certain of first and perhaps second places in the high jump. McNeil and Dunn are the Washington threats, while their chief opponent should be Nelson of Montana.

Allen Broad-Jump Favorite Whiting of Washington defeated Allen of Oregon in the broad jump at Seattle, but Allen has improved so much in the last two weeks that Hayward thinks he may come in ahead of the Husky ace. Ruth of Montana, Beaty of Oregon State and Lainhart of W. S. C. are other possible point winners.

Hein of Washington State, Davis of Oregon State and Lockwood of Montana have all done better than 190 feet in the javelin. This is both Oregon's and Washington's weak event.

Oregon State's only apparent chance for a first place is in the shot-put. Bergerson is the best bet among the shot-putters, but will have to be in top form to defeat Ramsted of Washington. Jensen of Idaho may also figure in the final tabulations.

College Diplomas Accumulate

WASHBURN COLLEGE, Topeka, Kan., May 27.—After spending four or more years in college to earn a diploma, a great many graduates do not claim their sheepskins, according to Dr. D. L. McEachron, college treasurer. Some of the 500 accumulated diplomas date back 15 years.

Ready for Title Meet

These Oregon track stars are among the 18 men Bill Hayward is taking to Seattle today for the northern championship meet. Moeller has the discus in his hand, Hill is showing his "mile" stride, Siegmund is clearing the high hurdle, and Bobby Robinson is shown clearing the pole-vault bar.

Webfoots Sock 'Em;

This Webfoot baseball team is the hardest hitting one, Oregon's had in many a year. Statistics tell the look over the batting averages. Eight regulars, headed by LeRoy Shaneman, husky catcher, and Johnny Londahl, keystone man, are batting over the coveted .300 mark. A team is generally lucky if it has four or five such hitters. But the most interesting thing is that the season average for the whole team is .317. That's about 50 points higher than an average ranking for a ball team to have.

Sharp Hitters—

Oregon hasn't any men of the regular slugging type, the kind that knock 'em a mile or strike out. The fellows this year are much more dangerous at the plate for they are continuously getting those sharp singles, and occasional doubles. When these kind of blows are raining out, home runs aren't needed.

May Beat Staters—

Here are some more statistics. Oregon, in the 14 games played, has scored an average of eight runs per contest, as against not quite seven for the opponents. This doesn't mean much. After all the important thing is the number of games won and lost. The Webfoots have just broken even. They still have the final feud with the Staters to look forward to, and prospects are good for taking these two games. The pitchers have been going fine, and there certainly is nothing wrong with the hitters.

The Chicago Meet—

Today the track men are leaving for Seattle for the championship meet. Whether Oregon will send any men to the national meet this year has not been decided yet, and probably won't be until tonight when the finance committee meets. Last year Bob Robinson, Ed Moeller, and Ralph and Clarence Hill, were sent to Chicago and they attracted a lot of attention. Robinson tied for second place in the pole vault while Moeller gave the discus a heave that would have broken the record had he not barely stepped on the edge of the circle. The official disqualified him but said afterward that it could have been allowed.

Three Should Be Sent—

It is certainly to be hoped that if it is at all possible, three or four Webfoots will be dispatched to represent us at Chicago this time. Ralph Hill, who has been running two races in every meet to win points for the team, should have that last chance to run the mile alone. He deserves the opportunity to get the recognition which would come to him if he staged one of his great races in the East. Bob Robinson has the ability to break the world's record in the pole vault, and it would mean much for Oregon if he was to set his mark at the Chicago meet. Moeller is quite apt to come through in the discus, too. Yes, these men must be gotten to Chicago somehow.

Hawaiian Swimming Teachers To Be Here

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. McDonald, expert swimmers from Waikiki Beach, are to locate in Eugene again this summer as instructors in swimming and fancy diving. At present they are at the Anchorage raceway.

With them is their small daughter, Lottie Bell, who held the world's baby swimming championship by her performance of using all strokes correctly and diving from a ten-foot platform at the age of two years eight months.

The McDonalds spend each winter in Hawaii giving instruction in swimming at the famous Waikiki Beach.

Duck Seniors Will End Play With Beavers

Bloom, Arnett, and Barnes To Close College Careers

Webfoots Will Meet O.S.C. In Wind-Up Games Of Season

Three seniors will be playing their last baseball games for Oregon this week-end when the Webfoots meet the Oregon State nine Friday and Saturday. Both teams are pointing for the wind-up of the season.

Dave Bloom will pitch his last game under the Lemon Yellow against his old rivals, the Beavers. The past two years Bloom has been a leading Webfoot hurler. Kramer Barnes, fast outfielder whose specialty this season has been making spectacular catches, is completing his third year. Barnes is hitting well over the .300 clip this season and Oregon will find it hard to replace him in the outfield next spring.

Arnett Finishing

The other regular who is finishing for sure is Vern Arnett, the southpaw flinger who filled in so well in the outer garden. This is Arnett's first year of varsity baseball, but Vern will graduate at the end of the term. Cliff Potter, who has been holding down third, is a senior but may be back again next year as he has another year of competition ahead.

The Oregon State team will have Al Brown, their stellar slugging pitcher, and Lefty Woodward on hand to treat the Webfoots to some fancy hurling. Ralph Coleman's gang took two from the Ducks early in the season, but Bill Reinhart has polished his team since then and the Webfoots will have their best warpaint on. The man that Oregon is gunning for is Al Brown and he will be lucky to get off with his scalp when the array of Webfoot sluggers line up at the plate.

Correction

The announcement of the marriage of Miss Elizabeth McCord to Charles Spear which appeared in yesterday's Emerald was an error, and the information was apparently given out as a practical joke by fraternity brothers of Mr. Spear.

Shaneman Leads Duck Hitters in Conference Tilts

Compilation of the Oregon baseball players' batting averages for the 14 conference games played shows a marked increase over the average two weeks ago.

Roy Shaneman, with a .380 mark, leads the entire team. The Webfoot catcher also leads in times at bat with 58 and in hits with 22. Johnny Londahl is second in batting with .377 while Kermit Stevens, shortstop, is a close third, two points behind Londahl.

Kappa Deltas Take A O Pis to Tune of 27-10 in Ball Game

Kappa Deltas walked all over the A. O. Pis in the kitten ball contest last evening to the tune of 27-10. Dorothy MacLean was the outstanding player, playing on the mound for the winning team. She also made two home runs, both in the same inning.

The first inning was scoreless, the second proved more profitable with the A. O. Pis bringing in one run, and the Katsydis brought in three. After that it was easy going with the losers trailing more all the time.
