

Plans for Frosh Picnic Complete; Tomorrow Is Date

Swimmers' Delight Scene Of Get-Together, Waker Says

Plans for the annual frosh picnic are complete and preparations are progressing rapidly, Jack Walker, general chairman, announced last night. Swimmer's Delight has been chosen as the most suitable location for the picnic, which will be held tomorrow from 4 to 11.

Features of the afternoon will be kitten ball games, swimming races, tug-of-war, and many other attractions. Nancy Suomela, chairman of the entertainment committee, announced that there might also be a hog-calling contest if the sophomore's left any in Farmer Brown's pen after their calling contest last Saturday.

In the evening refreshments will be served. The menu will consist of sandwiches, salads, pickles, potato chips, Eskimo pies, and coffee. An added attraction for the evening will be a marshmallow roast around a huge bonfire.

From 7 to 11 o'clock in the evening there will be dancing in the pavilion and the music will be furnished by a campus band directed by George Barron, former member of Johnny Robinson's Varsity Vag-

Freshman Pays Election Bet; Pi Phi's Duck Him

FINALS in the political race were staged at the mill race last night. With hair flying and also dresses, the Pi Phi gang drove madly up to the Sigma Pi Tau house, grabbed one mild freshman, took him at a wild pace to the Kappa Sig bridge, and heaved him over the railing. Time: 2 minutes.

It was a consolation election bet. Jim Ferguson was the victim, and it was Helen Shingle that headed the feminine brigade. One look at the crew that swarmed around him, and Jimmy gave up, subdued. An honest man hasn't a chance with co-eds gone wild, let alone a freshman.

abonds. Feature numbers will be offered and prizes given for the best dancers.

The heads of the committees working under Walker are as follows: Music, Hubert Totten; entertainment, Nancy Suomela and Bud Meyer; publicity, Erwin Laurance; refreshments, Theresa Gauntlett; transportation, Chuck Thomas; patrons and patronesses, Adrienne Sabin.

"I would like to see every member of the freshman class out there that can possibly go,"

Boardman Lists Solo Singers for Verdi 'Requiem'

Thielsen, Petzold, Bryson, Davidson Will Appear In Sunday Mass

Nancy Thielsen, soprano, Agnes Petzold, mezzo-soprano, Loren Davidson, tenor, and Roy Bryson, basso, will be the soloists for the Verdi "Requiem," which will be sung at 4 p. m. Sunday afternoon at the Music building, Arthur Boardman, conductor, announced last night.

Miss Thielsen is a senior student in music. Her home is in Salem. She was soprano soloist in the University Glee club performance of Gounod's "St. Cecilia Mass" at Christmas time, and has appeared in numerous campus dramatic events.

Miss Petzold is a graduate student from Oregon City. She sang in Rossini's "Stabat Mater" with the Polyphonic choir Easter Sunday.

Loren Davidson, a Eugene resident, is tenor soloist of the Eugene Gleemen, and sang the tenor solo in Bach's "Shepherd of Israel," given last November.

Roy Bryson is an assistant professor in the voice department of the University school of music, and sang the bass solos in the presentation of Handel's "Messiah" in December.

The Verdi "Requiem" was composed by the writer of many familiar grand operas. On the death of the composer Rossini, whose "Stabat Mater" was sung at Easter by the Polyphonic choir, the most famous Italian composers were asked to submit small compositions which might be worked into a great musical memorial to the composer. The plan fell through, but Verdi's offering was so well liked that he was asked to complete a funeral mass, with the "Liberia Me" as a foundation.

The unexpected death of Verdi's close friend, Alessandro Manzoni, the Italian poet, prompted Verdi to complete the "Requiem" as a tribute to Manzoni.

Obsidians Plan Climbing Party on Friday, Saturday

THE Eugene Obsidians will climb the Middle Sister, 10,369 feet above sea level, Saturday and Sunday. They have extended a special invitation to any University of Oregon students that may wish to take this opportunity to take a most interesting trip under capable leadership. The leader of the climb is to be Don M. Woods, graduate student in chemistry.

In order to arrange transportation, it will be necessary to sign up for the trip either in person or by calling by phone the Waldorf Paint store, 1038 Willamette, phone 1963. The list will be closed at noon tomorrow. Cars will leave Waldorf's at 8 a. m. Saturday, driving to Frog Camp. The party will leave Frog Camp about 11 for the four-mile hike in to the overnight camp.

Each member of the party must provide his own food for both days, including the lunch for the climb. Coffee will be furnished by the leaders. This will be a snow climb entirely, so proper equipment should be brought. For information about food or equipment, call Don Woods, 196-W

JACKSON LISTS NEW BUSINESS STAFF HEADS

Carol Werschkul, sophomore in English, is executive secretary and new statistical manager. Edith Peterson, freshman in history, will again be financial administrator.

Martin Allen, freshman in journalism, was appointed manager of the copy department. For the past year he has been an assistant copy writer. Myrtle Kerns, junior in journalism, will be his assistant.

More Next Fall
Many of the assistants for these major positions will be chosen from this year's office force, Jackson stated, and will be given out next fall.

Jackson is taking over the work of Tony Peterson, retiring business manager. He is a junior in business administration and has been active in advertising work. He has been circulation manager and foreign advertising manager for the past two years and is also a member of Alpha Delta Sigma.

WHAT SHOW TONIGHT?

Colonial—Marion Davies in "The Bachelor Father."
Heilig—"The Gorilla," and vaudeville.
McDonald—Dorothy Jordan and Thomas Meighan in "Young Sinners."
State—Dorothy Mackaill in "Bright Lights."

Dorothy Jordan Scores
Dorothy Jordan, most charming of recent Hollywood discoveries, proves her ability in "Young Sinners," playing today at the McDonald.

In this comedy-drama of wild youth that's lots better than it sounds, she proves that acting ability is combined with her fresh beauty. The film is interesting as program pictures go, has some rather fine comic scenes, but is made double worth seeing by Miss Jordan's work. The cinema also is a vehicle for Thomas Meighan's return to the screen.

"Bachelor Father" Funny
Speaking of good program pictures, "The Bachelor Father," playing today at the Colonial, is a hilarious comedy. Marion Davies does better work in this than she has shown for some time.

The story is filled with delightful complications that center about an old rake's desire to gather about him all the stray children he has gained throughout his amorous career.

"Gorilla" at Heilig
What is held to be the last word in chills and merriment on the talking screen comes to the Heilig theatre today in "The Gorilla." This is the show that held Broadway entranced for a full year, besides a long series of runs on stock circuits. One of the horror films like "The Bat Whispers," and "The Cat and the Canary," "The Gorilla" offers a new version of mystery play.

Melodrama at State
Vivacious Dorothy Mackaill is the featured player in the State's Thursday feature, "Bright Lights," a melodrama of Broadway adventures. Others in the cast are Noah Beery, Daphne Pollard, and Frank Fay.

Debate Squads To Hold Banquet This Evening

A banquet for all members of the debate squads will be held at the Anchorage at 6 o'clock tonight, according to Hobart Wilson, forensics manager. The banquet is being held to honor the members of the Pacific Basin debate touring squad, who leave Eugene this evening, for Portland, where they will embark June 2 on their 35,000-mile trip.

Awards will be presented at the banquet to members of this year's debate squads by Dr. R. C. Hoerber, head of the speech division. All members of the debate squads are invited to attend, Wilson said.

Deuel and Gile Survive Net Tournament Play

Fred Deuel and Bob Gile forced their way through a large field in the all-campus tennis tournament to reach the final round of play Monday. Bud Swenson gave Deuel tough opposition in the first set but lost 7-5, 6-0 when Deuel hit his stride in the second.

In the other semi-final match Gile disposed of Carl Gerlinger 6-3, 3-6, 10-8 after a drawn-out struggle. Gile and Deuel will meet later in the week for the championship, which concludes all campus tourney competition for the school year.

SUMMER SHOES
are COOL and COLORFUL

You'll like it because it is linen, one of the smart fabrics for summer wear. The so-slender Cuban heel makes this shoe stand out from all the rest. It's just the thing to add the finishing touch to your summer ensemble. As a rule it is impossible to buy such fine shoes for such low prices—but Buster Brown offers these for those discriminating women who do like fine things.
