Two Parties Formed; Tickets Announced Election to be Held Next Week Under Supervision of A. S. U. O.

With two candidates for president, Joe Renner and Howard Steib, both of Portland, already announced, nominations for freshman class officers will get under way today at 4 o'clock in the Villard hall assembly room. The meeting will be supervised by Brian Minnaugh, student body president.

Running on Renner's ticket are Althea Peterson, Eugene, candidate for vice-president; Mary Gould Parsons, also of Eugene, for secretary; and Bob Zurcher, for treasurer.

Steib's Lineup Given

Steib's political lineup consists of Kay Sanders, Portland, running for vice-president; Kay Dunbar, another Portland candidate, for secretary; and Edward Thomas, from Montana, independent member running for treasurer.

Minnaugh issued the following statement: "The class of 1935 must realize the necessity of having experienced and capable leaders. It is of paramount importance that every member of the freshman class attend the meeting today and consider the candidates as they are presented for nominations."

Election Supervises

The election of candidates, which according to the A. S. U. O. constitution follows the nomination date by seven days, will take place next week under the supervision of Walt Evans, vice-president of the student body.

Music Season Will Open Tonight With Soprano

Miss Roach to Sing, Accompanied by Miss Underwood

The University music season will open tonight at 8 P. M. with a song recital by Emmilienne Roach, soprano, in the music auditorium. Mrs. Roach is an assistant in the voice department, and has been heard on the campus many times. She will be accompanied by Aurora Potter Underwood, of the piano department of the school of music.

The program will be composed of 17 songs, opening with a recitative and air from Haydn's "Creation," and closing with a group of four modern Russian songs, including Rimsky-Korsakov's "Cradle Song," a familiar lullaby, and two Rachmaninoff numbers. Songs by Brahms, Strauss, Debussy, and Buzzi-Peccia, along with three airs from Mozart's opera, "Don Giovanni" complete the program.

Mrs. Roach was soprano soloist in last year's presentation of Handel's "Messiah," and also sang in recital. She is a student of Arthur Boardman, head of the voice department.

Real 'Hard Times' in Europe Not America, Says Schmidt

Dr. F. G. G. Schmidt, head of the department of German, who has just returned from an extended tour of the European countries, said yesterday that the American people do not know how well off they are, economically and politically. During his trip this summer Dr. Schmidt made a study of these conditions abroad as compared with those of America.

"Germany appears to be prosperous, but that is only on the surface," he said. "The only countries which are really well off are Scandinavia, Denmark, Czechoslovakia, and France." The reason for Germany's deplorable condition centers around the vain efforts to pay the war debt, he went on to say. "Even France admits that Germany would have to be the wealthiest country in the world to pay off the tremendous bill."

In order to meet payment on its debt, Germany is taxing every-

Work For Dad's Day Begun By Student Group

Celebration to be Held On October 24

Frosh-Rook Game Planned As Feature Event; Helpers Named

Actual work for the sixth annual Dad's day celebration on October 24 started yesterday with the announcement of the student directorate by Ken Jette, general chairman. This directorate in conjunction with a corresponding faculty committee will make complete arrangements for the Dad's day events.

Those working with Jette will be: May Masterton, secretary; Ralph David, publicity; Aimee Sten, banquet; Peggy Slauson, hospitality; Edward Schweiker, arrangements; Esther Kaser, program; and Virgil Langtree and Madeleine Gilbert, special features.

Preceptors to Play

"This committee was chosen after a careful consideration of the work to be done and the candidates available," said Jette in announcing his appointments. "The load on the committee this year is greater than it has ever been before, and I have been particularly desirous of securing capable and dependable workers. Arrangements must be complete in every detail for the entertainment of our Oregon Dads."

The little "big game" of the year between the Oregon freshmen and the Oregon State Rooks will provide the football atmosphere for the week-end celebration. With many outstanding prep school stars on both freshmen teams, this game is expected to hold as much interest as any of the varsity games.

Awards Planned

With Dad's day only two weeks in the offing, Jette especially urges that all students write home at once sending invitations to their fathers. As in previous years, awards will be given to the living organizations having the greatest number of Dads present. Further announcement as to the awards will be made at a later date, Jette said.

In addition to the special features being planned for the Dads at the respective living organizations, there will be a banquet for the guest fathers on Saturday, October 24. The banquet will start in plenty of time to permit attending the football game immediately afterward. Although plans are not yet definite, the banquet is tentatively set for McArthur court.

Appointments of sub-committees will be announced soon, along with details as to purchasing tickets for the banquet and football game.

Oriental Motif Will be Used at M. E. Reception

At the reception for University students to be held at the First Methodist church, Friday evening at 8:00, an Oriental idea will be carried out in the entertainment, decorations, and refreshments.

Hosts and hostesses for the evening will include Dr. William Kuykendall and Charles H. Brechtel, representing the official board of the church; Mrs. Frank C. Gordinier, from the Ladies Aid of the church; and Prof. A. R. Sweetser, Prof. Charles G. Howard, and L. J. Temple, representing the Wesley Foundation committee.

A magician and music by foreign students are some of the entertainment, Thelma Shuey, social chairman of the Wesley foundation, announced. Miss Shuey is being assisted by the following: Beatrice Simon, chairman of the decoration committee; Francisco Tubban, chairman of the program committee; Carol Johnson, chairman of the invitation committee.

Washington Game Tickets Sale, At University Co-op

THE GRADUATE manager's office again wishes to remind the students that they should get their tickets for the Oregon-Washington game now. The tickets are on sale at the Co-op store at the price of $1.00 to all holders of student body cards.

Before entering the game each student will be required to give his written signature which must correspond to that which is on the student body card, according to Washington authorities. This rule is to prevent students from selling or giving their tickets to other persons, and will be strictly enforced, it is reported.

Onthank Directs Attention to Fire Prevention Week

The need for observance of Fire Prevention Week, October 4-11, on the campus was brought to attention yesterday by Karl W. Onthank, dean of the personnel administration.

"It seems advisable at this time," Mr. Onthank said, "since there are so many new students, that they should become familiar with alarms, fire-fighting apparatus, and exits." Fire drills were suggested by Mr. Onthank as a means of acquainting the new student with these things.

Special attention was called to trash in the basement and the piling of wood too close to the furnace as causes of fires. House officers were advised to carry out the recommendations which were made at the time of the fire inspection during spring term.

"The greatest danger is that someone in a far corner room does not hear the alarm or someone doesn't wake up," Mr. Onthank said. "This is the reason that each organization should have fire drills. At some time the housing committee may make a visit of the houses to see how quickly they can be vacated."

Spanish Club Will Hold First Meeting Monday

La Corrida de Todos, campus Spanish club, will hold its first meeting of the year next Monday evening in the Westminster house at 7:30 P. M., according to Bob Wilson, president of the club.

The date of the meeting is Columbus day in the United States, but in Spanish speaking countries it is called "El Dia de la Raza," or the Day of the Race. This is a red letter day in the Spanish calendar, and is celebrated in the schools and by the people.

All new students in Spanish are cordially invited by the president of the club to attend.

Westminster Prepares for Church Night 'Excursion'

A "Gold Digging Excursion" awaits visitors at Westminster house on church night, tomorrow evening, announced Rev. J. M. Adams.

"We will hold a come and go evening between the hours of 8 and 10 at the house on Kincaid and 14th street," he said.

There will be decorations under a scheme of "Westminster Minds Associated," Cecil Espy having charge of this work and Margaret Sprague taking care of the general arrangements.

Dominion Status Will Satisfy Indian People, Says Mondol

Country's Problems Due to Religious Beliefs and Lack of Education

Dominion status for India will satisfy virtually every Indian and will put the country on an economic equality with the rest of the world, allowing free competition of capital and production instead of the present situation in which England has the control. This is the opinion of H. K. Mondol, a native of India, who led a discussion in the "Y" Hut Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Mr. Mondol is touring Oregon and Washington under the auspices of the Methodist church and was brought to the campus by the University Y. M. C. A.

"Five shillings out of every pound of the Englishman's money come from investment and trade with India," Mr. Mondol said in answering a question as to the value of India to England. India has tremendous natural resources in tea, rubber, oil, cotton, and jute. It could, if necessary, supply the world's present needs in these products, according to the speaker. "India is indeed the fairest jewel in England's crown."

The London conference on India has accomplished nothing so far, largely because of the British cabinet difficulties. Ghandi is the only representative for India at this round table. This is the greatest tribute of confidence and the greatest responsibility placed upon any one man's shoulders in history, thinks Mr. Mondol.

Ghandi has the support of nearly every one in India, because of his democracy and character in mixing with the poor classes and because he gave up his position as a successful lawyer to devote his life to the cause of his people. "Those who are not backing Ghandi are not backing him because of selfish interests."

Most of India's problems are due to religion—the wrong kind of religion, in Mr. Mondol's opinion. If the religion permitted the eating of the products of animals, such as flesh, eggs and milk, the poverty of India would be greatly reduced.

The caste system has broken down to some extent. Men eat together, but there is yet no intermarriage. "Probably in 10 years the caste system will be completely broken down, but I don't know," the speaker smiled, "India is a strange land."

President Hall to Deliver Address Before Freshmen

Speech Will be Given in Music Auditorium Today At 10 P. M.

With an eye to the application of an aesthetic viewpoint to the everyday world, President Arnold Bennett Hall will deliver the second of his talks to the freshmen this morning at 10 o'clock at the school of music auditorium. The title of the president's discussion will be "Emotional Problems and the Student." He will stress the development of the student's artistic and appreciative ideas, paralleling the more prosaic object of gaining a livelihood.

Dr. Hall is noted nationally along the lines of harmonious union of the intellectual and emotional minds in education; in fact, it was he who was instrumental in procuring the Carnegie appropriation for research in this field. The president will also round out the contacts made in the former addresses before the freshman class.

All freshman classes at 10 will be dismissed and every frosh is expected to attend. A large gathering was present at the talk Tuesday, and an equally good attendance is expected today.

The speech will be strictly informal in order that Dr. Hall may approach the freshmen on more intimate ground. This will be the last scheduled freshman assembly of the term, and also President Hall's last chance to greet the freshman class as a body.

Karl W. Onthank, dean of the personnel bureau, is in charge of the arrangements.

Marjory Haas Elected Secretary of Juniors

Marjory Haas was unanimously elected secretary of the junior class at the meeting in Villard hall Tuesday night.

She is replacing Carol Werschul, who failed to return to the campus this year.

Two Days Left to Enter University Or Add Courses

ONLY two more days remain for students to enter the University or to add additional courses, according to a statement issued from the registrar's office yesterday. Registration gates will be closed Saturday morning, October 10.

Graduate students, including graduate assistants, have only today and tomorrow to register without payment of a late registration fee. Registration after tomorrow night will involve a penalty fee of $2. Further delay will increase the penalty.

McMullen Chosen Head of Congress Club at First Meet

Socialism as Depression Remedy Discussed By Group

Roy McMullen, sophomore in business administration, was elected president of the Congress club last night in a meeting over the College Side.

Other officers elected were Otto Vonderheit, vice-president; Donald Saunders, secretary; and George Bennett, sergeant-at-arms.

"Is Socialism a Remedy for the Present Economic Depression?" was the evening's topic. Rolla Reedy, junior in education, presented the affirmative side of the case, while Ethan Newman, junior in economics, gave the negative arguments. The members of the club seemed to show a slight preference for the principles of socialism in that they offer a control of production and elimination of "blind competition." This was regarded as necessary in stabilizing business and preventing the recurrence of such deep depressions as the present one.

Walter Hempstead, instructor in speech, gave some observations and suggestions. "Communism" will be the next subject discussed. Donald Saunders will introduce the topic.

Social Functions Should Be Scheduled Promptly

Schedule social functions early is the advice to campus living organizations by the dean of women's office. Since only five dates are open for dances this term, houses should sign up immediately to obtain the evening they wish.

This year a new policy regarding dance petitions will be put into effect. No petitions will be granted unless an appropriate list of chaperons is submitted. At least three couples, two of University connection, must attend. An official list in the office of the dean, containing a list of persons available, may be consulted for suggestions.

Petitions must be filed with the dean of women a week before a dance or the affair will be cancelled.

Deck Laid for Rally at Depot; Dance at Igloo

Team Will Entrain for North at 6:30

Dance at Igloo Will Climax Rallying at Eugene Before the Game

Oregon students have two chances tonight to redeem their standards of rallying, at the down town depot at 6:30 when the Varsity team entrains for Seattle, and again at 7:30 when the first rally dance of the season will be held at McArthur court, declared Carson Mathews, head of the Oregon Rally committee.

Houses can use their own discretion in the matter of serving early dinners, but are urged to turn out in full force at the Southern Pacific depot at 6:30 when the band will be out on exhibition and the team will board the train for Washington. Students can "grab a piece of pie in one hand and run," but everyone is asked to appear tonight to give the team a rousing send-off.

Dance at 7:30

The rally dance will be held at the Igloo at 7:30 and will last until 9 o'clock. Most houses are postponing study-table, so that freshmen, who are required to attend, can be at the dance as well as upper-classmen.

The music will come from an eight-piece orchestra which is composed of some members of Johnny Robinson's Varsity Vagabonds and of other well known campus orchestras.

Nominal Charge

A nominal charge of ten cents per person will be made to defray the expenses of the dance. Any profits resulting from the charge will be used for future rallying. Admittance can be gained only at the main entrance on the west side.

"Oregon students can show their preference for either rallies and rally dances or just rallies alone by the size of the attendance tonight," said Mathews. "If this first dance is successful it will be followed by others, otherwise not."

Station rallying and the directing of the crowds in the Igloo will be under the supervision of the rally committee. This committee of 14, headed by Mathews, is composed of: Hal Short, Jack Wood, Ethan Newman, Gordon Day, Hugh Chapman, Ferd Fletcher, Marge Swafford, Marguerite Tarnell, Esther Hayden, Lucille Krause, Lucille Weber, Ellen Seranson, and Marie Meyers.

Co-eds Must Get Parents' Consent for Seattle Game

In the excitement of dashing off to Seattle for the big game Saturday, Co-eds are warned by the dean of women not to forget the necessary permission from home. All girls planning to attend the game must have their parents' consent before leaving the city.

Signing out at the dean's office will be required of out-of-town girls who are living off the campus.

Debaters Meet Ranga Iyer, India Nationalist Leader

It was one of those hot, sticky nights in southern India, that the University of Oregon Pacific basin debate team, on their way from Colombo to Madras, had the pleasure of meeting G. S. Ranga Iyer, present deputy leader of the Nationalist party in the Indian legislative assembly, and author of "Father India," the book which turned the tables on Kathryn Mayo's "Mother India."

Ranga Iyer, with Ghandi and Nehru, the present leader of the Indian National congress, went to prison in behalf of "Swaraj" in 1921.

Robert Miller, one of the Oregon debaters, described the meeting.

Leader Is Modern

"It chanced that a young American missionary from Kentucky was on the train and he informed us, during a stop, that Mr. Iyer was two coaches back. We dashed back, expecting to meet one of those saintly-looking individuals which, to most Americans, characterizes the Indian Nationalist movement.

"But, we were introduced to a short worldly-looking gentleman with a bacchanalian stomach which he attained to French 'bad beer and good wine.' Contrary to the Nationalist scheme, his dress was European. His tastes were not idealistic, as he described with enthusiasm the 'Folies Bergere' as 'the most exquisite piece of art' he had ever seen.

"It was this later statement that caused a stolid and patriarchal Catholic priest in the same compartment to break in on the conversation.

"That, my friend, is why India is not prepared for independence." "The priest was an impressive sight. His glasses covered eyes that were sharp and fiery. His long white robes, red sash, and his jet black beard added dignity to (Continued on Page Three)
