

The STUDENT CHURCH

Special Dad's Day services are being scheduled in the Eugene churches for the Sunday morning sermons at 11 o'clock. The University young people's groups are also arranging programs of interest to the visitors.

BAPTIST

A special welcome to University Dads will be given by R. S. Shelley, at the morning services at the First Baptist church.

The University Sunday school class meets at 9:45, and the Baptist Young People's union at 6:15. Ronald Blanton will lead the latter meeting.

CHRISTIAN

Dr. S. Earl Childers will preach on "The Kind of Men Needed for a New Age" at the 11 a. m. service.

The Loyal Bereans will again have Mrs. R. M. Day, who has been attending an international convention of the Christian church in Wichita, Kansas, for their teacher. The class meets at 9:45. The University Christian Endeavor will hold installation of officers at 6:15. Claude Darling will lead the discussion of "Helping the Spiritual Growth of Countries" for the remainder of the devotional hour.

CENTRAL LUTHERAN

"Dad's Greatest Task" will be the theme for the Rev. P. J. Luvas' Sunday morning sermon.

A Fire Side hour is scheduled for the Luther Leaguers at 6:15 in the evening.

COMMUNITY LIBERAL (Unitarian)

R. V. Portor, secretary of the campus Y. M. C. A., will speak at the morning service, his topic being India. Mr. Portor is well qualified on this subject, having lived in that country for some time. "Education" will be the topic discussed at the round-table meeting of the Young People's organization, to be held at the manse at 7. Louise Clark is in charge during the evening.

CONGREGATIONAL

The Rev. Clay Palmer will discuss "A New Concept in Religion" for the University Dads attending the Sunday morning services.

The student forum, at 6 o'clock, will again endeavor to find answers to the following three questions: (1) What does archeology say about the Flood Story of the Bible? (2) What is purposive evolution? (3) What bearing has the Kellogg pact on disarmament?

EPISCOPAL

Two services are listed for the Episcopal church. At 8 o'clock there will be a corporate communion of fathers and sons. The sermon subject for the 11 o'clock service is "Experience and Fellowship."

The student council will meet in the men's lounge at Gerlinger hall at 7, to consider the topic, "Good and Evil." There will also be installation of officers at this time.

UNITED LUTHERAN

"Jesus' Attitude Toward Society" is the sermon on which the Rev. F. S. Beistel will preach at the Dad's Day service at 11 o'clock.

The Luther League will enjoy a social half hour at 6 o'clock, followed by a discussion of the "Church in South America," led by Mrs. F. S. Beistel.

METHODIST

Special music by John Stark Evans and the sermon, "Christianity and Prophet Motives," by the Rev. C. F. Ristow, are the Dad's Day plans for the morning services. Affiliate membership will be granted to students at this time. This is an arrangement whereby the student retains his membership in his home church, but may enjoy association while attending school.

Frederick K. Davis expressed the theme of his impersonation of Nicodemus, as "Except a man be born anew." This will be given at the 9:45 meeting of University class.

"Christ's Answer to Economic Problems," led by Rolla Reedy, will be the first of a series of three subjects on the present economic situation to be considered by the Wesley foundation. Mr. Reedy has had training in this type of work, having traveled with J. Stitt Wilson, noted socialist, during the past summer, and having engaged in soap-box orating and preaching on economic subjects.

PRESBYTERIAN

Robert Hardie will extend a greeting to the Dads at the morning services, and Judge R. H. Back, Vancouver, Washington, will give the response. The Rev. M. S. Weber will preach on "Our Surplus Fathers."

The morning class for freshman students will take up the subject of "Budgeting Time and Money." The upperclass group meeting at the same time, 9:45, will endeavor to answer the question, "Can the Mind Heal the Body?"

Colored stereopticon slides will be used to illustrate the topic, "Adventures in Friendship," which will be discussed at the 6:30 gathering of the Westminster forum. The slides depict social service among the American Indians, the negroes, and the mountain white. A social period will precede the devotional meeting at 6 o'clock.

Colonial To Award Pass For Most News Stories

The reporter who writes the most stories and the campus journalist who writes the best story for this week's Emeralds will each receive a free show, presented in the form of a pass from the Colonial theatre.

There are no rules as to the length or type of story. Every story that goes on the schedule sheet will be counted from the snappy feature with the Gothic head to the scoop carrying a screaming banner.

The prizes are to be awarded each week during the year, according to the manager of the Colonial theatre, the donor.

Recital To Be Held Tuesday For Students

Brockman, Moore Will Appear in Duet

Landsbury Avers Opening Concert Sets Sterling Standard for Year

The first student music recital of the year will be given Tuesday night at 8 p. m. in the auditorium of the Music building. Frances Brockman, violinist, and Elaine Moore, pianist, both of Eugene, will be presented.

Except for the Tuesday preceding Armistice day, there will be a student recital every week for the rest of the fall term, Arthur Hopkins, manager of the recitals, announced last night.

That the opening recital will set an unusually high standard for the year is the conviction of Dean John J. Landsbury. Miss Brockman has won numerous music contests, and is widely known throughout the Northwest. Her recital of last year, while still a student in the University high school, brought startling comment, and her selection as concert master of the all-Northwest high school orchestra confirmed the statements of music critics that she was exceptionally talented.

Student of Underwood

This 17-year-old violinist holds a four-year scholarship offered by Phi Beta, honorary music sorority, and among other prizes, won first honors in her section in the statewide contest of the Federated Women's clubs of Oregon. She is a student of Rex Underwood, head of the violin department of the University school of music.

Miss Brockman was chosen concert master of the combined high school orchestras of Oregon, Washington, Idaho, and Montana in open competition with 300 other young musicians at Spokane. The position amounts virtually to acknowledgment as the best musician in the Northwest, Dr. Landsbury stated. Elaine Moore, a sophomore in the school of music, was heard in recital last winter. She is an advanced student of Aurora Potter Underwood. Miss Moore and Miss Brockman will play Mozart's Sonata in D-major for piano and violin. Helene Robinson, of Eugene, will accompany Miss Brockman's other numbers.

Other students who will appear in recital this term are Aimie Sten of St. Helens, Vivian Malone of Eugene, Norma Lyon of Marshfield, Lenore Lage of Hood River, Lois Johnson of Athena, Eugene Love of Eugene, Maude Stehn of Eugene, Roberta Spicer of Eugene, and Ruth Hoover of Roseburg. The program of Tuesday night's recital will be announced soon.

EVANS TO PLAY AGAIN IN SUNDAY PROGRAM

sors of the Twilight organ recital series. Mr. Evans has announced that he will endeavor to play any numbers requested by members of his audience. The programs are designed to last not more than 45 minutes. All Eugene people, and especially University students, are invited to attend.

PENLAND WILL MAKE HOMECOMING BIG EVENT

Homecoming signs is to welcome the grads back, and any efforts to "razz" O. S. C. will be strictly taboo," he said. "Any signs which fail to comply with this stipulation will be utterly disregarded by the judges in making their choices for the prize."

Nurses in War Honored By Talk Before Alpha Tau

American nurses who have given their lives during the World War were honored at the dedication of the new hospital at Bordeaux, France, which Miss Elnora Thomsen, professor of nursing and nursing education at the Portland school of social work, attended last summer. Miss Thomsen addressed the members of Alpha Tau, University nurses' fraternity, in the Woman's lounge at Gerlinger hall Thursday night, and told them of attending the dedication of the hospital. She was the honor guest while there.

Another interesting feature of this new hospital at Bordeaux is that there is one room named for every state in the United States in it. While in Europe Miss Thomsen attended the International Conference of Nurses' associations at Geneva, Switzerland.

Hodge Speaks on Africa At Master Mason Meeting

The Master Masons of the University of Oregon met Thursday night at the Craftsman club. Dr.

E. T. Hodge gave an illustrated lecture on Africa, A. L. Lomax, business ad student, talked on "The Founding and Purpose of the Club," and Bob Stehn, senior in business ad, told of the future plans of the club.

ano selections by Miss Mary Gale. A. R. Martin, president of the club, presided.

The club will meet again on Thursday, November 12. Frederick Dunn, professor of Latin, will be the speaker of the evening.

WELCOME DADS—

THIS is your day! Do with it as you please—and may it be a happy one. The students have spent weeks planning for your entertainment, and these representative merchants of Eugene hope and feel that it will be one of those "rare" occasions for you.

They, the undersigned, are vitally interested in you and your children, and it is their sincere hope that DAD'S DAY will be a connecting link between you—the University—the student body—and the people of Eugene. Again they say WELCOME! Remember your pleasure and happiness are theirs—your problems are their problems. May they not discuss them with you? A personal visit to these representative merchants of Eugene is solicited.
