

Campus Swim Tournery Will Be Run Today

Individual Champions To Be Crowned

Close Races Are Expected In Each of Six Events To Be Staged

The individual swimming championship meet for the campus will be held this afternoon at 4:30 in the men's pool. Those eligible to enter the meet are the individuals or relay teams who made one of the three best times in each event in the intramural swimming tournament, which took its final bow for this year yesterday.

The events to be run off in this individual meet are the same as those in the intramural tournery. They are 80 yard free style, 40 yard back stroke, 40 yard breast stroke, 120 yard medley relay, 60 yard individual medley, and 120 yard free style relay.

The individuals or relay teams eligible for each event follow:

80 yard free style—Privat, Yeomen; Gearhart, S. A. E.; McKim, A. T. O.

40 yard back stroke—Sears, Yeomen; Grady, Chi Psi; Pratt, Beta Theta Pi.

40 yard breast stroke—Paul, Kappa Sigma; Travis, Chi Psi; Kirby Yeomen.

60 yard individual medley—Thompson, A. T. O.; Morrow, Theta Chi; Sanford, Yeomen.

120 yard medley relay—Yeomen (Kirby, Sears, Privat); Chi Psi (Travis, Grady, Gould); Kappa Sigma (Paul, Favier, Watts).

120 yard free style relay—Kappa Sigma (Wright, Paul, Watts); Yeomen (Depp, Smith, Privat); Sigma Alpha Epsilon (Robertson, Clift, Gearhart).

The victor in each of these events will be crowned champion of that particular event on the campus.

HONORS COUNCIL WILL WORK IN DEPARTMENTS

(Continued from Page One) tutors much credit on their teaching load; and students who undertake it all too often find that they have taken on Honors in addition to the other University requirements. But the Honors work is slowly shaping up into something which the Council hopes will prove of genuine significance in the intellectual life of the University.

For students who are shrewd enough to take advantage of it, and who are at the point where they can work on their own, it offers a chance to escape from the educational automat system of elective odds and ends which all too frequently is the best they can do under the old system. At least, by choosing one variety or other of Honors, they can achieve unity and continuity in their courses for the latter years of their college work.

In a sense, the Honors students represent a college within the college, pursuing, it is to be hoped, liberal arts studies with something of the same zeal, though not with the same immediately practical end, as students show in the professional schools. Why should not students who are vitally interested in academic work have at least as much special attention as athletic shock-troops and the high-power Boy and Girl Scouts who run the activities? The motor-minded can say with Aeneas, thinking of their college days, "Of these things I was a large part"; but the true student, who has felt and thought his way through a field of learning, can say of his studies: "These things are still a part of me."

Near Will Meet Winner Of Jewett-Meissner Tilt

The all-campus golf tournament has reached the final round. Bob Near entered the finals by winning over Don Olsen, 2 and 1, in a close match at the Eugene Country club. Near traversed the course in 74, Olsen in 76.

Near will meet the winner of the Wilson Jewett-Bill Meissner tilt next Sunday in a 36-hole finals match on the Eugene course.

Beta Alpha Psi Initiates Cress, Bishop, Cannon

Accounting Honorary Heads Plan New Activity

Three men, majors in accounting, Warren Cress, senior, Delford Bishop, and Arthur Cannon, juniors, were initiated into Beta Alpha Psi, national honorary professional accounting fraternity, last Sunday in the men's lounge of Gerlinger hall. Breakfast at the Anchorage followed, at which Professor C. A. Kelly spoke on the organization of professional accountants in this country and in England.

Officers of the Oregon chapter are Ernest Alne, president, Rolf Bodding, vice-president, and Addison Smith, secretary. C. A. Kelly is faculty adviser.

Frosh Drilled To Stave Off U of W Babes

Clarkson To Appear in Husky Fray

Closely Contested Struggle On Tap as Old Rivals Tangle in Seattle

The University of Oregon Frosh are back at the practice grind in preparation for their game with the University of Washington Babes. Whereas this seems to be Oregon State's lean year when it comes to a Rook football team, the Babes at the northern school have plenty of first year men that may come close to putting the red light on the advances of the yearlings.

Art Clarkson and Cotting who played high school football in Seattle will have a chance to show the home-town folks what kind of a team they turn out down here. As if one drubbing isn't enough for the University up there. Perhaps the Frosh will make it two straight over the Babes. You'll remember that when the Babes came down here last year, the Frosh led by Mark Temple and Joe Lillard ran up a 25-6 score. This week-end in Seattle, it is the fond hope of the rest of us down here that we won't run into any wailing protests about illegal passes, and other referee's decisions.

ON LILLARD FROM THE SOUTH

From Hal Fraundorf, who graduated from Oregon last year and is now working down South comes the word, substantiated by a newspaper clipping or two, that that part of the country is more or less burned up about Lillard. Take a look at this bit of comment from there—"The Derailing of Midnight Express Lillard" of Oregon was as hypocritical as a wine brick. It shows Pacific Coast conference to be a medley of chicanery, urbanity trimming and nonsense. It is funnier than "Gandhi in a dress suit." And so that is that. He also goes on further to inform us that the Oregon cause was appreciated by

The University of Washington freshman football team is busy preparing for their annual combat with the Frosh. They are still stinging under the impact of the trouncing they received last year here at Eugene when the Frosh outclassed them 25 to 6. As big brother does, so does little brother, this is true when considering the two schools, namely the University of Washington and the University of Oregon. It is a foregone conclusion that the varsity game will always be a "bear" because of the intense rivalry between the two schools. The first year men seem to pick up this feeling without any urging, and this year are primed to carry on where the varsity left off. They have their work cut out for themselves because the Babes are out for revenge and with the added confidence of playing at home expect to trounce the Frosh. The Frosh, however, have another answer as to the result.

IN THE PRESS BOX with Walt Baker

THE Oregon Frosh squad, fresh from administering a lacing to the O. S. C. Rooks, will find that they have what probably will be a much tougher battle on their hands this coming Saturday with the University of Washington Babes.

most of the "common herd"—that is, the rank and file of football fans that stand on the outside of the pale of officialdom; and that the Butlerization of football is practically a very white elephant.

COLONEL BILL ON SICK LIST It seems that Colonel Bill Hayward, who is acting in the capacity of trainer for the varsity back East is having a little trouble with his own physical condition. Dan's wire from the East informs us that Bill was feeling under the weather during the first couple of days of this week but that he's back on his feet by this time and ready to whip the squad into shape for the game next Saturday. It would put Oregon in a deep hole if Hayward could not be on deck to lend a helping hand in the conditioning of the boys this week. With a lot of sore shoulders, weak ankles, and miscellaneous injuries, the Webfeet will need all the attention that they can receive to iron out the effects of last Saturday's fracas with the Nodaks.

THE RADIO SITUATION

KORE will as usual broadcast the wire reports of the Oregon-N. Y. U. game next Saturday—and will be the only radio station in this part of the country to get it on the air. It's rather a bad situation—in fact it's terrible, when the high-power stations in Portland, two of them, will broadcast the same game at the same time, between a Washington team and a California team, while an Oregon team is playing, 2,000 miles away—and not a word. That happened last week-end and from all that we can find out, such will be the same condition this week-end. How do they get that way? Doesn't Oregon's football prospects rate even a broadcast when they go East to play one of the most headlined teams in the country? Is a Harvard game of as general interest in this part of the country as a native team? We'll have some more to say tomorrow, when we've collected a little more dope that's coming in.

Variety of Newest Books Placed on Seven Day Lists

The best of the new books in biography, history, science, philosophy, religion, and art, are available in the University library from the Seven Day bookshelf, according to Mrs. Mabel E. McClain, circulation librarian. The books may be taken out for seven days, with a fine of five cents a day for both students and faculty on overdues.

The Seven Day bookshelf is located in front of the circulation desk in the main library. It contains about 30 of the most important and latest books. Among the list are Goldenweiser's "Robots or Gods;" Duhamel's "America the Menace;" Robeson's "Paul Robeson, Negro;" Craig's "Henry Irving;" Adam's "Epic of America;" Marshak's "New Russia's Primer;" Rose's "Outline of Modern Knowledge;" Mumford's "Brown Decades;" Shaw's "Road to Culture;" and the "Education of a Princess" by Marie, Grand Duchess of Russia.

HISTORY OF INSURANCE TOLD BY PROF. CLAIRE

(Continued from Page One) a price upon the life of a freeman, which is above all price." That was also the practice in France.

In view of this, the first attempt to establish life insurance in the United States seems interesting. It was made in 1769 by a mutual benefit association of Presbyterian ministers.

Insurance was not at first commercial in nature, finding its footing in social, religious and benevolent societies, as early as third century before Christ, among the Egyptians, Chinese, Hindus and Greeks. The germ of the mutual association goes back to Greece and Rome.

Marine adventures after the Middle Ages were the cause for the development of marine insurance. Today, in England, most of the risks taken are of this nature.

In 1666 London was swept by the great fire and plague. After 1681 fire insurance was a growing business.

Not all branches of the economic world can boast of such chance beginnings as can the insurance underwriter, in looking to Lloyd's Coffee House on Tower street.

Yeomen Triumph Over Phi Psi in Final Swim Meet

Intramural Championship Goes to Victor by Score of 30-11

By JOE SASLAVSKY

The Yeomen are the intramural swimming champions. They had no trouble in defeating Chi Psi, 30 to 11, yesterday to capture this title.

Two thrillingly close races in the 40 yard back stroke and the 40 yard breast stroke featured in what otherwise was a drab affair. In the back stroke event, Sears of the Yeomen and Grady of Chi Psi came in neck and neck, Sears tipping the back wall of the tank with his fingertips by the barest fraction of a second ahead of his opponent. The same thing happened in the breast stroke event, but the principals in this act were different, Travis of Chi Psi nosing out Kirby of the Yeomen by a hair-line.

Events Won Easily

As for the other events, they were taken easily by the winners in each. Privat of the Yeomen took the 80 yard free style without much opposition. Sanford of the Yeomen swam away from his foes in easy style to take the 60 yard individual medley.

In the 120 yard medley, the Yeomen swam the last lap without any company because the Chi Psi anchor man was disqualified for "jumping the gun." The Yeomen took the 120 yard free style relay in their stride.

The Yeomen overcame difficult obstacles on their path to the donut swim crown in the form of opposition from the Phi Psi, Kappa Sigs, the S. A. E.'s, and Chi Psi.

Results of Meet 80 yard free style—Privat, Yeomen, first; Gould, Chi Psi, second. Time, 0:47 2-5.

40 yard back stroke—Sears, Yeomen, first; Grady, Chi Psi, second; Culp, Yeomen, third. Time, 0:26 3-5.

40 yard breast stroke—Travis, Chi Psi, first; Kirby, Yeomen, second; Sanford, Yeomen, third. Time, 0:27.

120 yard medley relay—won by Yeomen. Time, 1:18 3-5.

60 yard individual medley—won by Sanford, Yeomen. Time, 0:42 1-5.

120 yard free style relay—won by Yeomen. Time, 1:06 3-5.

Education Department Mails October Journal

The October issue of "The High School," a journal published by the Oregon Education department, which was placed in the mail yesterday, was devoted to social science.

This journal is published by the education department in the interests of secondary education in Oregon and the Pacific Northwest.

PROFESSORS TO TALK At the Josephine county Teachers' Institute to be held in Grants Pass, October 29 and 30, Professors

SEWING EXHIBITED Miss Mary E. Starr's class in sewing exhibited their first work today. The 16 pupils each made a pair of cotton pajamas.

Women Students—Attention!

- 1. Do you attend A. W. S. mass meetings?
2. If not, why not?
3. What kind of program at mass meetings would interest you?

- 1. Music.
2. Vocational talks.
3. Group discussions.
4. Other suggestions:

Drop this into the ballot box in the entrance of the old libe when you have filled it out.

Stanford Ace

Phil Moffatt, the 160-pound Indians' backfield threat. Moffatt last week in Seattle only got in for part of the game but he threw a scare into the Huskies with a couple of brilliant runs before he was replaced.

Entrants in All-Campus Tournaments Advance

Play in all-campus tournaments is progressing in a fairly satisfactory manner, according to Earl Boushey, director of these events.

Competition in the handball singles tourney has reached the quarter-finals. The semi-finals are next on the schedule for the handball doubles.

In the tennis singles play, the third round has not yet been completed. The entrants in the tennis doubles contests have played the amazing total of one match with the result that the championship will not be decided for rather a long time.

The horseshoe tournament has shown the greatest advance, play now being in the finals. The golf entrants have boosted their division into the semi-final round.

schumacher of the political science department, will speak on "Present Day Problems at Home and Abroad." Harold S. Tuttle of the education department, will lecture on "Creative Education" and "The Compensations of Teaching." Oren F. Stafford, of the school of chemistry, will speak on "New Movements in the Field of Science."

Orangemen Turn Out for Varsity Basketball Drill

Coach Slats Gill Cuts Squad To Twenty Men; Four Lettermen Back

OREGON STATE COLLEGE, Corvallis, Oct. 27.—After several days of preliminary workouts, Coach "Slats" Gill has cut his varsity basketball squad to 20 players.

Four lettermen are numbered among this group. Coach Gill has been sending his men through individual offensive drill, with each man working on front turns, pivots, and short lay-in shots. As yet the squad has not scrimmaged but have drilled some on man-to-man defense.

The tentative Orange hoop squad now includes Merrill, Thomas, Fagans and Lewis, all lettermen; and Mason, Heartwell, Drysdale, Johnson, Mack, O'Connell, Lamb, Pease, Buckley, Shepard, Lenchitsky, Brown, and Quirk. K. Davis, E. Davis and MacDonald are expected to report after the football season is completed.

Morse and Parsons Will Meet With Crime Board

Wayne L. Morse, dean of the school of law, and Philip A. Parsons, dean of the school of applied social science, will leave Thursday for Portland to attend a meeting of the state crime commission.

Mr. Morse and Mr. Parsons are on the executive committee that is to report to the commission on the proposed program of activities of that body during the next 18 months.

RECOVERED and REPAIRED

Prepare for the rainy winter days; have that old umbrella repaired and re-covered.

UMBRELLAS

RECOVERED and REPAIRED

Prepare for the rainy winter days; have that old umbrella repaired and re-covered.

HENDERSHOTT'S

770 Willamette Phone 151

Co-Ed Tap Classes

Wednesday—7:30 P. M. 50c a LESSON Ballroom Lessons by Appointment

Vernon-Katherine Dance Studio

119 East Broadway Phone 515

Advertisement for 'GUILTY HANDS' featuring Lionel Barrymore, Kay Francis, and Madge Evans. Includes text: 'Now Playing', 'Tense mystery... baffling suspense... with the peerless Barrymore... lifted to new triumphs of screen appeal... through a vivid, vibrant characterization!', and 'with LIONEL BARRYMORE, KAY FRANCIS, MADGE EVANS'.

Advertisement for 'The LAWYER'S SECRET' featuring Fay Wray, Clive Brook, Charles Rogers, Richard Arlen, and Jean Arthur. Includes text: 'NEW SHOW TONIGHT SPECIAL', 'Who was guilty?', 'His lips were sealed by a woman... Should he betray her—or keep it a lawyer's secret?', '5 great stars in one gripping drama!', 'SOUVENIR PHOTO OF CLIVE BROOK To every lady tonight!', and 'COLONIAL'.

Advertisement for 'HISTORY OF INSURANCE TOLD BY PROF. CLAIRE'. Includes text: '(Continued from Page One) a price upon the life of a freeman, which is above all price.' That was also the practice in France. In view of this, the first attempt to establish life insurance in the United States seems interesting. It was made in 1769 by a mutual benefit association of Presbyterian ministers. Insurance was not at first commercial in nature, finding its footing in social, religious and benevolent societies, as early as third century before Christ, among the Egyptians, Chinese, Hindus and Greeks. The germ of the mutual association goes back to Greece and Rome. Marine adventures after the Middle Ages were the cause for the development of marine insurance. Today, in England, most of the risks taken are of this nature. In 1666 London was swept by the great fire and plague. After 1681 fire insurance was a growing business. Not all branches of the economic world can boast of such chance beginnings as can the insurance underwriter, in looking to Lloyd's Coffee House on Tower street. MEASLES AT INFIRMARY The infirmary has one case of measles. Harry Elde is the stricken patient. Catherine McEntee, Katherine Dunker, Robert Setters and Thomas Tongue are also ill.

Advertisement for 'SEWING EXHIBITED' featuring Miss Mary E. Starr's class in sewing exhibited their first work today. The 16 pupils each made a pair of cotton pajamas.

Advertisement for 'Women Students—Attention!' with a ballot box for voting on mass meetings and program suggestions.

Advertisement for 'The Champion McKay Stitcher' featuring a sewing machine and 'CAMPUS SHOE SHOP' at 843 East Thirteenth Street.

Advertisement for 'YOU MADE HIM A STAR!' featuring Ivan Lebedeff and 'GAY DIPLOMAT' starring Genevieve Tobin and Betty Compson.