

BIG RALLY TO GREET TEAM AT 11:25

O.S.C. Declines To Participate In Joint Lunch

Committees Report Good Progress, Says Penland

Colonial Theater Will Be Host To Group Winning Sign Contest

The proposed Oregon-Oregon State Homecoming luncheon which was to have been at McArthur court preceding the Homecoming game November 14, will be solely an Oregon luncheon, John Penland, Homecoming chairman, announced last night.

Speaking of the decision of the Oregon State group, Penland said: "We are extremely disappointed that the Oregon State representatives have decided not to go in with us on the luncheon as the members of the committees of both schools had previously planned."

He said that, despite this, plans for the Oregon band and student representatives to meet the Oregon State rosters at the Villard station and escort them to the campus were still going forward.

Student Body Cards Needed Alexis Lyle, chairman of the luncheon, said that arrangements were being made to accommodate 3600 diners instead of the expected 5000.

An unusually enthusiastic meeting of the directorate was held last night and Penland announced himself as being jubilant over the rapidity of progress toward final arrangements as revealed by the committee reports.

Carolyn Haberlach, in charge of welcoming and accommodations, reported that the committee, under the leadership of Ed Reames, was working at full speed securing rooms for the expected visitors, and that arrangements for accommodating everybody would be completed in the near future.

12 Grade Points Considered As Initiation Basis

Fraternity Heads Hear Two Plans Offered

Huffaker Suggests System Equal to Previous Requirement

Either 12 grade points or 75-100 of a point per hour, may be the requirements for initiation of pledges into fraternities on the campus starting this fall, it was indicated yesterday when the two plans were put before the interfraternity council for consideration by Dr. C. L. Huffaker, professor of education.

Dr. Huffaker is a member of the special University committee investigating the new grading system adopted this year, and preparing to lay the grade point suggestions before the faculty at a meeting next week.

Eugene, Corvallis Endeavor Groups To Meet Monday

Local Unit Plans To Show Play November 26; Music Committee Chosen

Plans for a joint meeting on November 15 with the Corvallis Young People's Christian Endeavor, at their invitation, were made by the executive committee of the local Young People's Endeavor at a meeting held Monday evening.

The play, "A Pilgrim Wife," will be presented before the society at its regular meeting on November 26, it was decided by the executive council. Miriam Yoder, chairman of the prayer meeting committee, was appointed to make arrangements. The cast, which will be chosen from the members of the Endeavor, will be announced later, she said.

Students To Hear C. S. Bristow Talk On Disarmament

Second of Lecture Series To Be Given in Villard Assembly Tonight

C. S. Bristow, pastor of the First Methodist church in Eugene, will address students and townspeople on the subject of "International Disarmament" tonight at 8:30 in Villard assembly. The talk will be given in connection with the program started last week by the student Christian council to educate the public on the question of world-wide disarmament.

Mr. Bristow has been interested in the problem of disarmament for several years and is said to be well informed on the subject. This lecture is the second to be delivered on the campus on this subject. Harold J. Noble, assistant professor of history, spoke last Thursday on one aspect of the armaments problem.

Two News Groups To Meet Here During Homecoming

Delegates To Be Entertained at Luncheon, Big Game

Besides being the scene of the annual homecoming celebration on November 12, 13 and 14, the campus will be host to two journalistic organization conferences. The Pacific Intercollegiate Press association will hold its conference here during homecoming and the annual fall meeting of the executive committee of the Oregon State Editorial association also will be held on the campus Saturday, November 14.

The editors will have their meeting on Saturday morning in the Journalism building. At noon the committee members will be guests of the University at a luncheon at the men's dorm. And in the afternoon will attend the Oregon-Oregon State game.

ROTC Formation At 11:30 Is Called Off By New Plans

Owing to the change in the hour of arrival of the football team and consequent changes in the reception plans, the scheduled formation of the R. O. T. C. unit at 11:30 a. m. today will not be held.

The R. O. T. C. as a unit will not participate in the reception of the team. All classes in military science will be held as usual today except those scheduled for 11 a. m., which, like all other 11 o'clock sessions, will be dismissed.

Alumni Office Has Big Ratio Return Of Questionnaire

Eight Out of 559 Graduates Have Not Sent Back Data for Record

Of the 559 seniors and graduate students who received degrees from the University last June, and to whom questionnaires were sent, the Alumni office now has on file returns from all but eight.

"I believe this is the best record we have ever had," said Vera Powers, alumni recorder, in commenting on the cooperation extended to the alumni office by last year's graduates. "To have only eight missing out of 559 is really an achievement. Nor are the eight entirely lost, for I am sure we can locate them without much trouble. However, so far they have failed to return the questionnaires to the alumni office."

Eight missing are Calvin Edward Gantenbein, Mrs. Orilla Elizabeth Freeze, George Alexander Le Compte, Frances H. Peters, Bessie Jabusch Woodman-see, George W. Cherry, Eugenia McNaughten, and Leslie Archibald White, M.D. Students who are sure of correct addresses for any of the eight are asked to communicate with the alumni office.

Every student who receives a degree from the University of Oregon is asked to fill out a questionnaire for the alumni records. On file in the alumni office is kept such information as class years, addresses, degrees, honors, marriages, and number of children.

Susan Campbell Fire Drill Jump Causes Injuries

Casualties of Susan Campbell hall's fire drill Tuesday noon included Ethel James, with two fractured bones in her ankle, and Rachel Locke, with a strained ligament. The injuries were sustained in a jump from the fire escape ladder, seven feet from the ground.

Hartfel Wins in Extempore Talk Contest Tryouts

Student Will Represent Oregon in All-State Speech Contest

Thomas Hartfel, sophomore in journalism, speaking on the topic "Capone, Czar of Racketeers," won first place in the speaking contest held at Villard hall at 8 o'clock last night.

Other speakers competing in the contest were: Wallace Campbell, Rhodes Scholar candidate; with "Rackets of Racket" as his subject, and Charles Todd with "To the Rack with the Racketeers." Hartfel will represent the University of Oregon in the after-dinner speaking contest to be held at the Osburn hotel, December 11. At that time representatives from all the colleges in Oregon will meet to speak on "American Rackets."

"Capone controls Chicago from the cradle to the grave," said Hartfel. "He gets two million dollars a week, which is more than any other man in the United States. He spends $35 for a shirt, and I am willing to bet that he spends more for his underwear than I do for my college education."

Dr. and Mrs. Miller became the proud parents of a seven and a half pound baby Sunday morning at the Pacific Christian hospital. The new arrival has been named James Alexander. Mother and baby are doing nicely.

New Members For Advisory Body Selected

Three Seniors To Fill Important Positions

Alexis Lyle, Walter Evans, Roy Herndon, Student Representatives

Roy Herndon, senior in law; Walter Evans, senior in economics; and Alexis Lyle, senior in business administration, have been appointed student representatives on the student advisory committee, Brian Minnaugh, student body president, announced yesterday.

Karl W. Onthank, dean of personnel administration and chairman of the student advisory committee made the following statement:

"Some very fine students have been chosen for work on this committee. Last year invaluable service was performed by the student members in presenting the student viewpoint to the members of the faculty on this committee."

New Policies Adopted

Under a policy adopted last year, the committee gives more attention than previously to the possibility of correcting students' faults before it becomes necessary to take more drastic steps.

The new policy provides for a maximum amount of individual liberty and, at the same time, expects a commensurate responsibility. Assistance to offenders rather than punitive measures is the object of the committee.

The students who have been chosen are widely known on the campus. Roy Herndon, Milton-Freeze, served on the committee last year. He is a member of Frisars, senior men's honorary; Phi Delta Phi, national law honorary; Phi Beta Kappa, national scholastic honorary; besides having won the Hilton law prize in 1930 and serving on several student body committees.

Evans Active

Walter Evans, New York City, is vice-president of the student body, and a member of Delta Sigma Rho, national forensic honorary. He was on the Homecoming directorate last year and was also chairman of the Canoe fete during Junior week-end.

Plans For Welcome Of Webfeet Undergo Complete Shake-Up

Marching Song to Be Sung at Rally With New Words

At last some kind soul has written words for Oregon's marching song, music for which was written two years ago by John Stark Evans, of the school of music faculty. The new words are as follows:

Hit hard! Hit hard! A touchdown wins the game. Let's fight for Oregon—For victory and fame.

Hit hard! Hit hard! We're with you—Everyone Will stand by the men that fight to the end For Oregon.

The rally committee has requested that all students bring copies of these new words with them to the rally this noon. Copies were distributed last night to all living organizations, and those who did not receive them may get them at the Co-op or the front entrance to the main library.

Tradition of Lids Will Be Enforced By Order of 'O'

Rally Committee to Assume Responsibility for Entire Campus Cooperation

Plans for the biggest and best Homecoming in the history of Oregon are receiving the support of the Order of the "O," which is in charge of traditions, freshman discipline, and other campus activities. The order is sponsoring the sale of rosters' lids for the O. S. C. game and, with the rally committee, is assuming responsibility for the entire campus co-operation in wearing lids to the game on November 14.

Re-embarking upon the old Oregon tradition, now almost defunct, the wearing of rosters' lids will be compulsory for those students desiring seats in the rosters' section on the 50-yard line. Those students not so attired will undoubtedly have to find seats elsewhere.

Oregon is practically the only school on the coast where this requirement for games is not enforced. Every institution in the conference uses this as a factor in the carrying out of the card stunts, parades, features and all the rest of the big game activities.

Fire of Webfeet Wilted 'Violets', Writes Tonkon

By HARRY TONKON (Special to the Emerald) Editor's Note: Harry Tonkon, a graduate from Oregon last year, is now a student at New York university. He here gives a few impressions of the game as seen from the press-box.

YANKEE STADIUM, New York, Nov. 3.—The way these Oregon Ducks flew their wings here Saturday was successful in making pansies out of these New York Violets. Known throughout the East as a crushing team, the New Yorkers let it be known that they really are CRUSHED Violets. And now the whole world knows that!

Will these New York sports writers sit up and take notice now? Will these eastern colleges wake up to the fact that real football is played on the Pacific coast? Not one writer gave Oregon an even chance.

Pep Dance To Postpone A. W. S. Dime Crawl

Afternoon Classes To Meet As Usual, Say Officials; 11 o'Clocks Dismissed

Announcement of the earlier arrival of the football team has caused a complete revision of today's rally, which will now commence at 11:25 and will continue until 12:30, when it will be disrupted for afternoon classes, and will be topped off with a huge two-hour rally dance at 7 o'clock in the Igloo, necessitating the postponement of the A. W. S. dime crawl originally scheduled for tonight.

This change became necessary when Dr. Spears vetoed plans for an hour hold-over in Portland for a city rally, and booked passage straight through to Eugene for his football team. They will arrive at the Southern Pacific depot at 11:25 instead of at 12:35 as previously announced.

11 o'Clocks Cancelled

All 11 o'clock classes will be dismissed to enable students to attend the rally in full force. R. O. T. C. men will not be required to be there in uniform, although the band will. Students owning cars are urged to "give everyone a lift."

Cars will be parked on Fourth street in order to leave the parking lot free for the special team cars. After a rally at the depot, students will parade to McArthur court for a team reception. There will be rallying, music, and yells until 12:30, when the gathering will be dispersed for afternoon classes. Houses are requested to serve a late lunch.

Crawl Postponed

Anne Baum, president of the Associated Women Students, has consented to postpone the traditional dime crawl which was scheduled for this evening in favor of the rally dance. The dime crawl will be held next Wednesday.

Plans have been made to make the big rally dance the biggest of its kind, according to Carson Mathews, head of the Oregon rally committee. A charge of a dime a person will be made to cover the costs of operation. Any profit made will be turned in to the Homecoming rally fund to aid in that celebration.

The dance will start promptly at 7 o'clock and will last until 9 o'clock. Students are requested to have exact change in order to facilitate handling of the crowds. An eight-piece orchestra has been secured.

Pleasing Musical Program Presented at Auditorium

Fifty-eight minutes of pleasant program music entertained a responsive audience last night at the Music building. Aimee Sten and Eugene Pearson shared laurels, with two groups each. Vivian Malone and Edith Grim, violinist and pianist, gave an excellent presentation of Handel's Sonata in A major.

Miss Sten's first group, mostly classical, displayed confident understanding and accurate rendition of Beethoven's Sonata, Op. 2, No. 1, Mozart's "Turkish March," Liszt's moody "Il Penseroso," and Rudolph Ganz's transcription of the Schubert music for the "Rosamunde" ballet.

Pearson commenced with the subdued "Come raggio di sol," by Caldara, followed with the serene, "Deh, vieni alla finestra" from Mozart's Don Giovanni, and completely won his audience with the sardonic humor of Moussorgsky's "Song of the Flea." While his enunciation was not clear, his interpretation was expressive, his tone superb. A restrained reading of Wagner's "O, du mein holder Abendstern,"—"To the Evening Star"—composed the final vocal group. Pearson's German was considerably better than his English, from the auditor's standpoint. Edna Whitmer accompanied.

Miss Sten's closing group, romantic throughout, brought Rudolf Friml's "Legende," four melodic Preludes by Chopin, the same composer's quiet "Waltz" in C sharp minor, and the emphatic "Polonaise" in G sharp minor. Miss Sten emphasized the contrasts of tempo and mood in the group, and chose carefully the tonal effects of the unexpanded melodies of the Preludes, the rippling "Waltz," and the strong martial theme of the "Polonaise."
