

Clay Appoints Committees On Frosh Bonfire

Use of Skinner's Butte Doubtful, Avers Head

City Council Said Against Construction of Blaze In Municipal Park

Committees for the Homecoming bonfire were announced last night by Chuck Clay, general chairman. Separate meetings of the committees will be held today and next week on the call of the chairmen.

Leaders of the special committees are J. D. Welch, materials; Jeff Howard, construction; Bill Wheeler, clean-up; Stanley Klein, hauling; Leo Merle, vigilance; and Helen Nelson, food. George Condon is assistant general chairman.

Clay said last night that it was undecided whether Skinner's butte would be available for the bonfire. Members of the city council are said to be adverse to permitting use of the city park.

The same vigilance committee will be used for all duty during the week-end. Sites to be guarded are the fire, Oregon seal, lemon "O", and the senior bench.

Materials Committee

Members of the materials committee are: Lester Jacobs, Bill Roberts, Dale Fischer, Bill M. Davis, Bill Green, Bob Prescott, Orrin Brownson, Jim Dutton, Jim Ringrose, Herman Hendershott, Ben Newman, Bill Lake, Parks Hitchcock, Bill Davis, Hartley Kneeland, Mike Pinkstaff, Dick Shearer, Glenn Bechtold, and Jim Wells.

The construction committee is composed of Junior Porter, assistant; Don Thompson, Malcolm Bower, Bob Zurch, Joe Renner, Bob Emmens, Merle Sleeper, Victor Dallaire, Tom McCall, Lee Allen, Hal Holmes, Clyde Kalwell, Warren Graham, Nick Walton, Harold Meier, Bob Riddell, Bob Williams, Harry Ward, Bill Neighbor, and Roger Early.

Clean-up Workers

Clean-up committee members are: Dan Brassel, Jerome Clement, Ellsworth Johnson, Charles McCormack, Bill Gearhart, Jack Malder, Charles Halloway, Don Stout, Don Schnabel, Dick Moorehouse, Jimmy Newhall, and Mark Lewis.

Hauling of materials will be handled by: Leonard Jones, Bruce Campbell, Gramp Themmell, Bob Fagan, George Massey, Albert Calderwell, Don Evans, Herman Hendershott, Wilson Broms, Clayton Wentz, and Bob Morris.

Food To Be Served

Food will be taken to the workers by the following: Mary Gould, Parsons, Louise Thomas, Dorothy Orth, Eleanor Barker, Kay Sanders, Shirley Hendrix, Jean McDonald, Harriett Campbell, Maryline New, Katherine Hill, Betty Bardwell, Jean Frazier, Eleanor Wharton, Louise Stein, Constance Lewis, Gail McCready, Elizabeth Dinstrup, Louise Erwin, Betty Kleinsorge, Mary Stewart, Violet Walters, Lucile Stewart, Peggy McKie, Peggy Gullion, Margaret Weed, Marie Saccomanno, Lucyann Wendell, Louise Beard, and Alice Gerot.

Members of Phi Epsilon

Kappa Go on Hike Today

Members of Phi Epsilon Kappa, professional physical education fraternity, will leave from the men's gym this afternoon at 12:30 for a hike. They will go by auto to Coburg, from where there is a three-mile hike to Lost lake.

A weenie roast and coffee will be the agents for furnishing refreshment. The hikers will return early this evening. Officials of the honorary announce that any one interested is welcome to go on the walking trip, provided he signs up in the men's gym.

Paul R. Washke of the physical education department will address the group Monday evening at 8 p. m. in Dean Bovard's office at 1259 E. 14th street on the subject of the development of athletics.

FIVE IN INFIRMARY

New patients in the infirmary are Rachel Locke, Harriet Holbrook, Helen Binford, and John Farrar. Louise Thomas is still ill.

Poets Are Asked To Give Oregana Choicest Verses

NOW is the time for all good poets to come to the aid of their yearbook. There are a number of blank pages to be filled with choice examples of campus verse, and the editor of the yearbook's literary section urges that all campus scribes prepare their contributions and leave them at the Oregana office in McArthur court before December 1.

Any type or description of poetry on any theme will be considered, but some phase of University or marine life is preferred.

Sunday's Recital Will Present Two Fine Composers

Bach's, Schubert's Works To Be Played by John Evans

Two of the greatest composers of all time will be represented at the twilight organ recital to be given Sunday at 5 p. m. by John Stark Evans, University organist. They are John Sebastian Bach, famous for his intelligent and precisely organized compositions, and Franz Schubert, whose works are immortalized because of their beautiful melodies.

Bach's air from the Suite in D is commonly known as the "Air for the G String" because it was rearranged by Wilhelmj to be played on the G string of the violin. This celebrated classic will be first on the program.

The second number will be the "Allegro Moderato," from "Unfinished Symphony," by Schubert. The main theme of this symphony has been plagiarized in a current light opera, and is probably familiar to many students. The effects in this composition were never played for Schubert, and they were entirely the result of his imagination. His reasons for not finishing this have never been ascertained.

The remainder of the program will consist of three short numbers, "Scherzando—Dragon Flies," "To the Rising Sun," from "The Norwegian Tone Poems," and "Hymn of Glory." This last number is dedicated to the American Legion and is appropriate for Armistice Day. Pietro Yon, the composer, is at present the organist of St. Patrick's cathedral in New York City.

Plans To Send Delegates To Convention Discussed

Eleventh Meet of Student Group To Be at Buffalo

Plans to send a limited number of delegates to the eleventh quadrennial convention of the Student Volunteer Movement at Buffalo, New York, December 30, 1931, to January 3, 1932, were discussed at a round-table meeting of students yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Miss Lucille Day, traveling secretary of the Student Volunteer Movement, led the discussion.

A committee headed by R. B. Porter, executive secretary of the Y. M. C. A., will work with the Student Christian council in making arrangements for the Oregon delegates to attend the meeting.

S. P. Company Places Low Fare Car on Crack Train

Southern Pacific has placed a coach on the "Cascade" between Portland and Eugene and has removed the extra fare requirement between these and other Willamette valley major points, according to F. G. Lewis, local agent.

The coach will be in service only between Portland and Eugene and the extra fare has been removed between these and intermediate points only. Southbound from Eugene the train will continue to be an extra-fare, all-Pullman train.

The "Cascade" leaves Eugene northbound daily at 11:40 a. m., arriving Portland at 3:20 p. m.

Choir of Two Hundred Will Sing 'Messiah'

Handel's Masterpiece To Be Interpreted

2 Sections of Polyphonic Chorus Will Appear December 13

More than 200 singers, the combined first and second divisions of the University Polyphonic choir, will give Handel's "Messiah" Sunday afternoon, December 13, was the announcement of George Barron, president of the choir, made late last night. The University symphony orchestra will accompany the chorus, and Arthur Boardman will direct.

The crowded fall term music calendar has necessitated the postponement of the Homecoming concert, originally scheduled for Sunday afternoon, November 15. Mendelssohn's "Hymn of Praise" will be sung by the first division with orchestral accompaniment shortly after the first of the year.

Here is the roster of the Polyphonic choir.

First division, Polyphonic choir; Arthur Boardman, director.

First sopranos: Sara Addleman, San Francisco, Cal.; Christine Baxter, Fresno, Cal.; Grace Burnett, Eugene; Jane Kanzler, Portland; Emmelienne Roach, Eugene; Helen Voelker, Portland; Virginia Hillen, Portland; Ruby George, Eugene; Lucy Norton, Eugene; Agnes Petzold, Oregon City.

Altos: Louise Marvin, Portland; Lucille Cummings, Salem; Margaret Simms, Salem; Margaret Hammerbacher, Grants Pass; Norma Chincock, Grants Pass; Marjorie Hoyt, Long Beach, Cal.; Roma Gross, Eugene; Alice Woodson, Eugene; Margaret Williams, Elgin; Rose Simons, Eugene; Margaret Heltzel, Salem.

Tenors: Hadley Crawford, Eugene; Victor Bryant, Eugene; Kenneth Roduner, Portland; Jack Spitler, Astoria; Charles Lane, Aberdeen, Wash.; Martin Geary, Beverly Hills, Calif.; Dean Beistel, Eugene.

Baritone: Ralph Coie, Creswell; Thomas Johnson, Hood River; Gifford (Buck) Nash, Eugene; Eugene Pearson, Eugene; William Sievers, Portland.

Basses: George Barron, Ashland; Ed Fisher, Salem; Karl Klippel, Eugene; Gene Love, Eugene.

Second division, Polyphonic choir; Roy Bryson, assistant director.

First Sopranos

Christine Balsiger, Eugene; Bernice Baynard, Newberg; Clarissa Campbell, Portland; Sigrid Christ, Redmond; Thelma Clarke, Eugene; Marian Clarke, Portland; Gretta Cocking, Eugene; Genevieve Crum, Elgin; Elsie Eschbeck, Klamath Falls; Betty Evanson, Medford; Helen Ferris, Long Beach, Cal.; Uldine Gartin, Cottage Grove; Martha Goodrich, Eugene; Ruth Griswold, Eugene; Lindy Hango, Boardman; Oma Johnson, Eugene; Frances Jordan, Portland; Elizabeth Kaser, Portland; Esther Kaser, Portland; Mary Lou Kent, Eugene; Loree Laird, Creswell; Jean Lewis, Eugene; Esther Loffstedt, Astoria; Lucille Lowry, Medford; Eula McMillan, Lexington; Florence Nombalais, Eugene; Ida Parsons, Eugene; Norma Pickles, Oregon.

(Continued on Page Two)

Emerald Workers Will Miss Bill Gratke at U. of O. Press

By ELINOR HENRY

Thursday night it was Bill to whom the night editor and his assistants turned when headlines would not fit. It was good-natured, teasing Bill Gratke who saw that the Emerald was properly made up, that all the ads were where they ought to be, and that all the stories were on the front page that should be there.

But last night it was Steve who ruled the Press from his imposing stone. Bill Gratke, abdicating monarch, came to the University press awhile to help Stephen Cady, the new compositor, but year-long, steady work at the Register-Guard has lured him from his place on the Emerald, even as it lured Bob Huston, his predecessor, two years ago.

Stephen Cady has worked for the past two years as foreman of the composing room for the Medford News, with which Arthur Schoeni, editor of the Emerald in 1929-30, has been connected since his graduation.

"Mr. Cady comes very well recommended," Robert C. Hall, superintendent of the University press, said last night. "We are fortunate to have so able a man to fill the place. I very greatly regret Bill Gratke's leaving. He has been not only a very competent workman, but a very pleasant gentleman to have around. He has made a friend of every student who has been associated with him."

That Bill was a friend to every student was even more definitely stated by Willis Duniway, editor of the Emerald.

"It is no use trying to pay tribute to a man who has so completely won the hearts of all with whom he has come in contact," he said. "In the two years that Bill was with us he had come to be known as the 'Grand Old Man of the Emerald,' and he justly deserved this title. I shudder to think of the many mistakes and humiliations the Emerald would have suffered if it had not been for Bill's watchful eye and untiring effort in making the Emerald one of the best-looking college papers in the country."

"I am sure that I speak for the

(Continued on Page Two)

Decorations for Soph Informal To Be Begun Sunday

Chincock Tells of Motifs For Dance Programs Of Affair

Sunday morning at 9 o'clock all committee members will report to the Igloo to start construction and decoration for the sophomore informal scheduled for Tuesday, November 10, at McArthur court.

Programs for the all-campus function will be carried out in maroon and silver and the motif will harmonize with the northern idea, it was announced by Norma Chincock.

Members of Skull and Daggers, sophomore men's honorary, will be in charge of tables, serving punch and cookies, according to the refreshments chairman, Virginia Hartje.

Patrons and patronesses for the dance will be: Dr. and Mrs. Arnold Bennett Hall; Mr. and Mrs. Burt Brown Barker; Dr. and Mrs. Charles Leslie Schwering; Mr. and Mrs. Virgil D. Earl; Dr. and Mrs. James H. Gilbert; Mr. and Mrs. Karl W. Onthank; Mrs. Alice Macduff; Mr. and Mrs. Paul W. Ager; Mr. and Mrs. Earl M. Pallett; Mr. and Mrs. John Stark Evans; Mr. and Mrs. Ronald H. Robnett; Mr. and Mrs. Wayne L. Morse, and Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Crumbaker.

The sophomore dance this year will be strictly an informal affair, according to Neal Bush, general chairman. In former years there has been some disagreement, but this year formals and tuxes will be taboo.

"The sophomore informal is a free dance and everyone on the campus is invited to attend," Bush stated.

REPORTS ON MEETING

At the Pan-hellenic meeting yesterday, Barbara Conly, delegate to the national convention, gave a report on the conference. Miss Conly returned Tuesday noon from the convention which was held in St. Louis October 27, 28, and 29.

(Continued on Page Two)

Drive Planned To Tidy City Homecoming

S. P. Advertises Game; Plans Special Trains

Merchants Making Efforts To Present City in Gala Array

Tentative plans to unite with the Eugene Register-Guard and with the merchants of the city in a campaign to have the citizens of the city tidy up the lawns along the principal thoroughfares of the city during the Homecoming week-end, November 13, 14, and 15, are now in the process of development, according to an announcement made last night by Wayne Emmott, assistant chairman.

Roger Bailey, decoration chairman, announced that the merchants were making a special effort to have the entire business district completely decorated by Tuesday. He also stated that McMorran and Washburne would break out in full regalia tomorrow. "According to advance information from the merchants, the town shows promise of being decorated as never before in the history of Homecoming," Bailey said.

O. S. C. Plans Feature

Carson Mathews, rally chairman, revealed the fact that, in addition to the two bands parading between halves, possibilities loomed for both Oregon State and the University putting on a feature each. Full plans for these separate features will be announced at an early date. He also announced that plans for policing the field and taking care of the crowd in order to avoid disturbances which have, in the past, marred these traditional games from time to time, were being formulated.

Carolyn Haberlach reported that the housing committee, under the direction of Ed Reames and working in cooperation with Mrs. Charlotte Donnelly, housing director of the University, were progressing rapidly and that very little difficulty was anticipated in securing accommodations for the visitors.

S. P. Advertises Game

The local Southern Pacific office has announced that more than 8000 broadsides have been mailed by the railway company to alumni members of Oregon and O. S. C., Multnomah club, Portland, and

(Continued on Page Two)

University Students Will Conduct Church Services

Wallace Campbell, Rhodes scholarship candidate, and Rolla Reedy, president of the Y. M. C. A., will conduct the morning services at the Harrisburg Methodist church and will talk to a young people's meeting at the First Methodist church in Salem Sunday evening.

The sermon will be preached by Reedy, and Campbell will lead the opening worship services. The minister of the church is ill, and has asked the Deputation team of the Wesley foundation to send representatives to fill the pulpit for the morning service.

At Salem the two will talk on the present economic situation, the engagement being arranged through the Deputation team.

Depot Is Holding Varied Collection Of Stray Articles

LOST or misplaced articles turned in at the University depot this week include: One zipper purse. Four books. Two Eversharp pencils. One lady's coat belt. These things will be returned to the original owners if called for.

Anderson, Horn Are Working on New Daily Paper

Two Journalism Graduates Executives on Eugene Morning News

Yesterday morning the initial issue of the Eugene Morning News, Eugene's new daily, was published under the management of two University graduates.

John Anderson, managing editor, and Dick Horn, business manager, are both graduates of the school of journalism. Anderson finished in 1923 and worked on the Coos Bay Times until he received a position on the Portland Telegram. He became city editor of the Telegram in 1929, and has held numerous important publicity positions. He is a member of Theta Chi social fraternity, and was elected to Sigma Delta Chi, national journalism professional, and Phi Mu Alpha, national music honorary.

Horn, who graduated in '30, has been connected since that time with the Eugene District News, from which the Morning News has grown. While in the University he was affiliated with Sigma Phi Epsilon, social fraternity, and with Alpha Delta Sigma, men's national advertising professional.

The new publication was built up from an advertising sheet called the Shopping News, which was started last February. The News found a prosperous field and thrived. It presently decided to become a newspaper, and as a result the Eugene District News began publication.

With the United Press leased wire bringing in world-wide reports and a large staff of county correspondents already recruited, the Morning News is equipped to keep its readers well informed.

Westminster To Present One-Act Play Sunday

A one-act play, "Mother Earth and Her Children," will be presented by students of the Westminster freshman group Sunday evening at 7:30 at the Central Presbyterian church. It was announced yesterday by Charlotte Eldridge.

Miss Eldridge, deputation chairman for the freshman group, is directing this fast-moving vehicle, which has world peace for its theme. Members of the cast are Laura Goldsmith, Pauline George, Sage Madden, Bill Gearhart, Harold Myers, Bob Poely, and Tom Ballantyne.

Following this initial performance, the play will form part of a peace program which the freshman group is preparing for deputation work. Dean Philip A. Parsons of the school of applied sociology plans to use this program in the University's extension service to the rural communities of Lane, Linn and Douglas counties. The play will be supplemented with music and a talk on the 1932 Disarmament conference.

Students who are interested in assisting with the full program are requested to consult Charlotte Eldridge or Charles Martin.

Art Majors Will Decorate Architecture Corridors

Several advanced students in drawing and painting at the art school have undertaken the work of decorating the halls in the school of architecture building.

The actual work of decoration has not as yet been started but a committee under the supervision of Mr. Lance Hart and Mr. Andrew M. Vincent, both of the drawing and painting departments, are making plans for the project.

Burg Helps in Timely Rescue Of Castaways

Modern Crusoes Picked Up on Pacific Isle

Former Student Journalist Aboard Yacht Camargo On Eventful Cruise

When the three modern Robinson Crusoes were found on a lonely Pacific island 12 days ago, few, if any, of the students here realized that a former member of the Oregon student body took part in the rescue.

Amos Burg, who attended the University from 1926 to 1928, was on board the Ju-

Amos Burg, Ilius Fleischmann expedition yacht, Camargo, representing the National Geographic society, when it first located the castaways on October 24.

As he was taking pictures and gathering material for his write-ups of the Camargo's cruises, Burg was on hand when the yacht put in at Cocos, a tiny island 500 miles from Panama. There signs of habitation and notes prompted the men to notify United States officials by wireless of the unusual discovery. The United States gunboat Sacramento from Balboa, Canal Zone, answered the call and raced to the search which terminated in the rescue of the three men who had existed on the island since their shipwreck in April.

At the time of the discovery, Burg was making his fourth expedition in the interests of the Geographic Society, for which he has been writing since his student work here in the University.

Eric W. Allen, dean of the school of journalism, stated last night that Burg was granted permission to work as a special student here in '26. Burg decided, before coming to the campus, to become a professional explorer. He majored in journalism to develop his skill in writing. While here he conceived the idea for an Alaskan trip over the old Gold Rush trail of '98. He wrote to the National Geographic Society and asked them if they would be interested in a write-up with pictures of the trip. The society wrote to Dean Allen for Burg's qualifications and received a high recommendation for the young journalist.

After the trip, Burg came back to Oregon long enough to write his story in the familiar atmosphere of the shack. The society accepted the article and paid Burg $1000 for it, and at the same time, invited him to come to Washington to lecture for them. Following this, he was given a contract for a tour of the United States.

His first article appeared in the National Geographic magazine for July, 1930, under the title, "Today on the Yukon Trail of 1898!"

A recent article by Burg appeared in the August Geographic of this year, telling of his trip with Dr. George Rebec, dean of the graduate school, over 3000 miles of northern trails.

"Amos is one of the finest fellows we have ever had in the department," Dean Allen said. "Though he came here without completing his high school work, he made good as rapidly as anyone. I think he has a very great future."

Burg had just returned from accompanying Dr. William Beebe of the New York Zoological society on a scientific expedition to the West Indies when he was assigned to the Fleischmann expedition by the society. He is making colored and moving pictures to supplement a series of articles for the society's magazine.

TURNBULL IN PORTLAND

George Turnbull, professor of journalism, left Thursday evening for Portland, where he will continue his research work on early journalism in the Pacific Northwest. He planned to work and gather data in the libraries in Portland and also from the Oregon Historical association. He will return to Eugene early Sunday morning.

When Mark Temple Scored the First Touchdown Against N. Y. U.

Here's Temple, Oregon's star in the Webfoots' win last Saturday against New York university, crossing the Violet goal line for the first touchdown. Temple is the man indicated by the arrow. This photo came to the Emerald by air mail and special delivery through the courtesy of Harry Grayson, sports writer on the New York World-Telegram. Grayson was formerly sports editor of the Oregonian, and was connected with papers in San Francisco and Los Angeles before going east.