

Rally at 5:30 P. M. To Start Homecoming

Jamboree At Men's Gym Is Day's High Spot

Big Dance Scheduled For Post Rally Crowd

Campus Clothes in Order For No-Date Affair; Starts at Nine

Topping off the first day of Homecoming with a bang, the Journalism Jamboree, lucky Friday the 13th dance, will hold forth tonight at the men's gym amidst colored spotlights and flying serpentine.

The fact that the dance is strictly a no-date affair is assurance that the hall will be crowded with Oregon and Oregon State students and a host of alumni, said Merlin Blais, general chairman of the affair, last night.

Jam Begins at 9
The Jam begins promptly at 9 o'clock, leaving plenty of time for rally enthusiasts to get there. Campus clothes are in order along with rooters' lids, but rally pajamas are taboo.

Gallons and gallons of free cider will be furnished to the gang. The Kampus Knights, Carl Collins' eight-piece orchestra, will furnish the music, and three or four lively features are promised during intermissions, including the "Max" girls' trio. Bill Duniway will be master of ceremonies.

Patrons Named
Following are the patrons and patronesses: Mr. and Mrs. Hal E. Hoss, Dean and Mrs. Eric W. Allen, Mr. and Mrs. William M. Tugman, Mr. and Mrs. George Turnbull, Mr. and Mrs. Arne G. Rae, Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney King, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Shumaker, Mr. and Mrs. Paul R. Washke, and Mr. and Mrs. Earl E. Boushey.

The dance is being sponsored jointly by Sigma Delta Chi and Theta Sigma Phi, honorary journalistic fraternities.

Works of Oregon Artists Exhibited at Art Building

Pictures by University Students and Faculty Shown

An exhibit of the work of Oregon artists is now on display in the little museum in the school of architecture and allied arts at the University. The exhibit is part of that shown recently in Portland as the fifth annual exhibition of the Oregon City of artists.

Pictures by several of University of Oregon artists, a number of which won prizes at the Portland showing, are included in the collection, which is declared to be one of unusual merit. Four of the landscapes of Alfred Schreff, long famous for them, are in the exhibit. Victoria Avakian, Eyer Brown, Maude I. Kernes, Andrew Vincent, and N. B. Zane, all from the local art school, are represented by a number of pictures, as well as Nellie Best, and Lucia Wiley, students.

All townspeople and visitors over Homecoming are invited to see the exhibit, which includes work from artists in every section of Oregon. Much of the subject matter, too, is of local interest. The little museum is open from 8:30 to 11:30 in the morning, from 1 to 4:30 in the afternoon, on weekdays, and from 2 to 5 on Sunday afternoons.

Prose and Poetry Group Holds Business Meeting

Peggy McKie was elected vice-president of Prose and Poetry group of Philomatele for the coming year at a meeting held last night at the Alpha Omicron Pi house.

Plans for a map of countries and authors studied during the year were made.

The next meeting of the group will be held a week from next Tuesday in the women's lounge, and will be entirely devoted to a study of the poet Tagore of India.

Saturday Classes To Be Dismissed For Homecoming

CONTRARY to previous announcements, there will be no classes held tomorrow.

The student advisory committee late yesterday afternoon decided that because of the large number of alumni expected on the campus for Homecoming, and the responsibility of the students in planning entertainment and making arrangements for visiting "grads," all Saturday classes will be dismissed.

This action, however, is not to be considered as setting a precedent, said Dean Onthank, personnel director, but as special action advisable this year.

Rough Silent Men Stake Claims on Campus Diggings

Gold! Gold! Gold! The days of '49 are reappearing in Oregon! This morning at 9:40 o'clock a gold strike surpassed only by the famous gold rush to California will be in progress on the field just east of Condon hall. Bearded prospectors of the '49 clan will be busy panning for that most precious of precious metals—gold.

This bewhiskered, claim-jumping outfit will be, however, only the pledges of Condon club going through their initiation. The Condon club is the Oregon chapter of the National Geological and Mining Societies of American Universities.

It is rumored that, as in all gold rushes, there will be much shooting, claim jumping, and toughness. Five rough, unkempt miners will be at the scene of mining activities. "Calcite" Cliff, "Pyrite" Peck, "Staurilite" Stafford, "Hematite" Harris, and "Galena" Gonzales will all be on the scene doing their bit.

Alumni Lunch To Be Held At Men's New Dormitory

Sons and Daughters Appointed on Decoration Committee

Daughters and sons of alumni as well as nephews and brothers have been appointed on a committee on decorations for the alumni luncheon at Homecoming. The committee members, all of whom are freshmen, are Bernard Asheim, chairman; Margaret Ann Morgan, Jack Copeland, Josephine Waffle, Max Duniway, and James C. Ghorrmley.

The Alumni luncheon is to be held at noon Saturday of Homecoming at the men's new dormitory, at the same time that the student lunch is being served at the Igloo.

There are only 200 places available, Miss Calkins pointed out, and therefore, alumni who do not make their reservations before Friday night will have to make other arrangements. Tickets for the student lunch at the Igloo may be purchased by alumni. "We expect that most of those who cannot be accommodated at the Alumni luncheon will buy tickets for the lunch at McArthur Court," said Miss Calkins.

Asheim, chairman of the committee, reports that the decorations will be worked out in the Oregon colors and that special favors and features are being arranged by his freshman committee.

Dr. Moore To Give Lecture On Greece November 18

Dr. A. R. Moore, instructor in animal biology, will give an illustrated lecture on Greece, November 18 at Oregon hall at 8 o'clock.

Dr. Moore traveled in Europe last year and spent much of his time in Greece. He took all the pictures himself. The lecture will be on findings of archeologists in Athens and other parts.

College Paper Officials Open Session Here

Twelve Publications on Coast Represented

Meet Opens With Banquet Address by Dean Allen; Dance Given

The eleventh annual conference of the Pacific Intercollegiate Press association was officially opened yesterday with a luncheon at the Green Lantern tavern. The 24 editors and managers of college publications in California, Nevada, Idaho, and Washington will be guests of the associated students of the University for the next two days.

At the luncheon Dean Eric W. Allen, journalism school, who was first honorary president of the association, extended greetings to the delegates. He also gave some history of the association which was originated on the Oregon campus.

Dues Lowered
In the business meeting, held in the Journalism building, the delegates voted the reduction of the association dues from the previous rate of $30 for dailies, $20 for bi-weeklies, and $15 for weeklies to the flat rate of $15 for all members. The question of the association affiliating itself with a national press association was also brought up. The discussion of the various problems that have arisen during the past year will be taken up in the business meeting today and Saturday.

A dance was given at the Lee Duke cafe last night for the delegates. At dinner the visitors were guests of members of the Emerald staff at various fraternity houses.

Delegates Listed
The delegates representing their member publications who are present at the conference are: William H. Simmons, editor, and Bert Taylor, manager, of the Daily Barometer at O. S. C.; Bob Merriman, manager, and Joseph Jackson, editor, of U. of N. Sagebrush at Reno; Paul Jones, editor, and Conroy Gillespie, manager, of Idaho Argonaut at Moscow; Carroll Plagenn, manager, and Roy Sardegren, editor, of Washington Evergreen at Pullman; Jack S. Muson, editor, and Arthur Ribbel, manager, of Daily Californian at Berkeley; Richard J. Freindlich, editor, and M. Lewis Thompson, manager, of Stanford Daily at Palo Alto; Edward P. Morgan, editor, and Miss Neilson, manager, Whitman College Pioneer at Walla Walla; Tom Patterson, editor, and Dean Harrell, manager, of Daily Trojan from Southern California; A. Maxwell Clark, editor, and Lee Ringer, manager, of Daily Bruin of U. C. L. A., at Los Angeles; and the representatives of the University of Washington Daily at Seattle, and the Willamette Collegian at Salem.

Women Are Free First Time Tonite To Join Pep Rally

WOMAN—the emancipated! Tonight at 5:30 she can don her low heels, stock up on pep, and be at Cocanut Grove to join the men of Oregon on their long trek to 7th and Willamette streets.

For the first time in campus history, she will march, shoulder to shoulder with the men, marching as they march, and chanting as they chant. She can stagger heroically down 11th street to Oak, on to Willamette, and from there to 7th street—where, climaxing her long pilgrimage she can lend her lung-power to man's in a last burst of enthusiasm. It's the first time—and the worst or best time, take your choice.

Bonfire Reported Ready as First Light of Dawn Comes

Guards Stationed Around Campus, Butte; Co-eds Serve Workers

The frosh bonfire is ready! Skinner's Butte, scene of the frosh bonfire, hummed with activity last night. A large crowd of freshman men gathered to put the finishing touches on the great mass of logs, paper, and old lumber which will be set off tonight, and to provide assurance that no invasion from Oregon State would be successful in undoing their work.

When first arriving at the foot of the butte the reporter was stopped by an important looking individual who proved to be Leo Merle, chairman of the vigilance committee, and was allowed to proceed to the scene of the bonfire only after much arguing. Only freshmen were being allowed admittance.

Several small bonfires illumined

the clear, cold night and provided warmth for the frosh who packed around them.

Helen Nelson and her cohorts were dispensing baked beans, slightly burned; bread, and a dark liquid which she called coffee, to the hungry workers.

Howard Steib, class president, was doing his best to impress his fellow freshmen with the importance of his office.

Parks Hitchcock was busy trying to get some publicity for himself.

Chuck Clay, general chairman of the bonfire, and Jeff Howard, construction chairman, were conspicuous by their absence.

On the campus the freshmen were doing their duty also. Several groups were stationed in different sections of the campus to guard against another invasion of paint daubers. Coffee and sandwiches were served from a station in front of the Administration building.

Selling To Be Continued in Co-op, Living Groups, Schenk States

The 500 tickets for the annual Homecoming dance to be held at McArthur court Saturday night, which were placed on sale Tuesday have been going fast, according to Harry Schenk, business manager of the Homecoming reception.

If enough tickets are left the sale will be continued until Saturday. They may be purchased at the Co-op or from the ticket sale representatives at the men's living organizations on the campus.

The representatives are as follows: Alpha hall, Chuck Stryker; Alpha Tau Omega, Torrey Schell; Alpha Upsilon, Ed Kirby; Beta Theta Pi, Bill Barendrick; Chi Psi, Bob Trimmi; Delta Tau Delta, Hal Short; Friendly hall, Chuck Kleinger; Gamma hall, Geo. Economy; Kappa Sigma, Jack Edlefsen; Omega hall, Ike Kafoury; Phi Delta Theta, Dick Goebel; Phi Gamma Delta, Sheldon Dunning; Phi Kappa Psi, Art Adams; Phi Sigma Kappa, Chuck Foster; Pi Kappa Alpha, Tom White; Sherry Ross hall, Larkin Williams; Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Larry Jackson; Sigma Alpha Mu, Hank Levoff; Sigma Chi, Ned Kinney; Sigma Nu; Al McKelligan; Sigma hall, Roland Blantz; Sigma Phi Epsilon, Duane Frisbie; Sigma Pi Tau, Litton Bivans; Theta Chi, Ray Foss; Zeta hall, Collis Kaseberg.

Helen Binford Discusses European Impressions

Attitude of Students Different; Work Is Main Object

The thing that impresses one most during a visit to European universities is that students go to colleges for academic purposes rather than to have a good time, was the opinion expressed by Miss Helen Binford at the last "Sunday Supper" at the International house.

Miss Binford, who was one of eight women students of the United States selected to travel through Europe as a representative of the Y. W. C. A., visited many places of interest there.

Next Sunday, Professor Juan B. Rael of the department of Romance languages of the University, will speak about the people of New Mexico, who are of pure Spanish stock and are still living in the ways of Old Spain. It was from these people that Mr. Rael gathered folk tales which he compiled last year to be published in the form of a book.

TWO STUDENTS SPEAK
Rolla Reedy, junior in education, and Wallace Campbell, senior in sociology, spoke at the Walker high school on depression and social planning.

Revival of Old Lid Tradition Peps Campus

Green and Yellow Caps Bloom Everywhere

Rumors That Lidless Will Be Barred From Game Discredited

In order to quiet the rumor that only students with rooters' caps would be admitted to the rooting section Saturday, Kermit Stevens, president of the Order of the "O," declared today that all students would be admitted but that those wearing the lids would have their choice of seats.

The campus-wide campaign for the wearing of rooters' lids which has been sponsored by the lettermen has met with success, Stevens said.

All Lids Sold
"All rooters' caps available had been sold at 5:30 yesterday afternoon. The order which we placed called for 900 lids and it fell through. We were able to obtain only 600, all of which have been purchased," Stevens stated.

When advised that there was some adverse criticism concerning the stand which the Order of the "O" has taken on the question of rooters' lids, Brian Minnaugh, president of the associated students, made the following statement:

Revives School Spirit
"I cannot understand this attitude. In my opinion, this revival of an old tradition has done much toward building up the school spirit, which has been at low ebb for some time.

"There are, of course, some students on the campus who feel they cannot afford to spend the money for the rooters' lids, but I think they are in the minority. All the larger universities of the country require the wearing of rooters' lids to the football games.

"The Order of the 'O' has taken no drastic steps, so far as I know, to enforce the wearing of the lids, and I think the greater part of the student body will agree that they have rendered a real service to the University."

Tryouts for Men's Debate Team To Be Thursday

Tryouts for men's varsity debate will be held Thursday evening at 7:15, November 19 in Villard hall. The question will be: "Resolved, That the cutting of wages has materially retarded recovery from the present depression."

Drawing for speaking places will begin at 7:15 and each speaker will appear alternatively affirmative and negative.

All men students, except freshmen are eligible. Members of varsity squads in preceding years are expected to try out under the same rules as new candidates.

John L. Casteel, associate professor of English, requests that everyone who expects to enter the tryouts should sign up in the speech department to speak on either the affirmative or negative or the question.

Students Must Get Game Tickets From Co-op Now

LAST warnings were issued yesterday by the graduate manager's office, for students to get their special tickets for Saturday's game at the Co-op. These tickets will be required along with student body cards in order to get in the rooting section gate, Ronald H. Robnett, assistant graduate manager, stated.

On presentation of a signed student body card at the Co-op a special student ticket will be issued, free of charge.

All Plans Completed To Entertain Grads For Big Week-End

Noise Parade Positions Scheduled for Rally

Men, Women To Gather At Cocanut Grove For Serpentine

When the president of the freshman class touches a match to the huge "O" on Skinner's butte at 6 o'clock tonight, all the pent-up Homecoming spirit which has been growing for the last two weeks on the campus will let loose. Final plans for the myriad of features planned for the entertainment of the hundreds of alumni and visitors have been completed, John Penland announced, and all is in readiness for one of the greatest celebrations ever held on the Oregon campus.

Student committees have been working feverishly all week to complete their work and, according to Penland, "everything has gone off as smoothly as could ever be desired." Homecoming signs are being rushed to completion by the various fraternities and will be judged tonight. Decorations about the campus and downtown streets have been nearly finished.

Registration Begins Today
Registration of alumni will commence this afternoon in Johnson hall. More than 275 rooms are still available to visitors who have not secured them as yet. Carolyn Haberlach and Ed Reames, in charge of the housing, have announced a list of students who will be on hand to escort the visitors to their rooms.

The committee includes John Pennington, Harold Birkinshaw, Bud Weiss, Lucile Lowry, Parma Clark, Maxine Reed, Martha Goodrich, Annabelle Powell, Marylou Patrick, Lucille Coate, Dorothy Andoraale, Louise Barclay, Kathleen McNutt, Dorothy Esch, and Helen Binford.

Roger Bailey, in charge of decorating the campus, announced that volunteers to help in finishing the decorating on the campus and down town were needed. Four arches have been erected on the campus and down town stores are co-operating in every way to make this the most colorful Homecoming as far as decorations go, in history.

Luncheon Plans Completed
Plans for the student luncheon in McArthur court Saturday have been completed. The lunch will start at 11 a. m. and students may fill up before the game until 1 p. m. A clean-up committee, which has been requested to appear at the Igloo after the game and clean up the debris before the Homecoming dance, has been announced by Alexis Lyle, chairman.

Neal Bush will act as chairman and he will be assisted by Bob DeGraft, Harlan Boals, Bill Douthit, Floyd Deeds, Max Metschan, Donald Fields, Chuck Weber, Carrol Hollen, John Parker, Gene Brewer, and Jim Ghorrmley.

Decorators from Portland were on the campus yesterday to complete the work on the Igloo for the huge Homecoming dance to be held Saturday night. Harry Schenk, in charge of the ticket sales, stated that large numbers have been sold, and predicted a large crowd of students and visiting alumni.

Thirty Hike to Spencer's Butte Over Armistice Day

Thirty participated in the hike to the top of Spencer's butte, sponsored by the Wesley foundation for an Armistice day celebration.

A sunset vespers service under the leadership of Donald Saunders, devotional chairman of the Foundation, was held at the summit.

Thelma Shuey was in charge of the hike.

Burning O Will Set Off Pent-Up Student Spirit

Signs and Decorations Are Nearly Completed; Arches Built

The entire stage is set for this evening's noise parade, first feature of the Oregon Homecoming program, with rally-mad students, bombs, rockets, fuses, and noise floats all scheduled to deafen the returned alumni and the citizens of Eugene.

The Oregon students will gather at Cocanut Grove at 5:30, men in pajamas and women wearing low-heeled shoes. From there will start the chanting double serpentine which will wind west on Eleventh street, headed by the band and the Order of the "O" men, all pajama clad.

At the intersection of Oak street, the noise floats will be waiting and will join the serpentine. Ferd Fletcher, in charge of this feature, stated that all floats must be ready at 5:30, and must be absolutely movable. Only the minimum number of men needed to operate the floats will be allowed upon them.

Parade Positions Chosen
Parade positions were chosen by lot, last night, at a meeting of the rally committee. Floats will proceed in the following order:

1. Alpha Tau Omega and Delta Tau Delta.
2. Sigma Nu and Kappa Sigma.
3. Sigma Chi and Chi Psi.
4. Sigma Pi Tau and Sigma Phi Epsilon.
5. Phi Gamma Delta and Theta Chi.
6. Sigma Alpha Mu and Alpha Upsilon.
7. Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Phi Sigma Kappa.
8. Alpha hall and Gamma hall.
9. Phi Delta Theta and Pi Kappa Alpha.
10. Beta Theta Pi and Phi Kappa Psi.
11. Friendly hall.
12. Sherry Ross hall and Sigma hall.
13. Zeta hall (speaker's float).

Sparklers To Be Used
At Tenth street the parade will travel west to Willamette. As it turns down the main street, the huge bonfire will be lighted on Skinner's butte, and will blaze throughout the rally. Jack Wood has secured sparklers, fuses, and other equipment to be distributed among the members of the parade to be displayed on Willamette.

Gordon Day, in charge of the judges, has prepared their stand on the canopied east entrance of McMorrin and Washburne. The judges secured are Carl Tunne-man, Art Hendershott, and Elmer Byrne. Floats will be judged 75 per cent on noise and 25 per cent on originality. Two awards will be given, presented by Smith and Watkins Motor company, and the Hoffman Jewelry store.

Spotlights Promised
At the intersection of Seventh street, the band will fall out, and the serpentine will break up to fill the sidewalks. The noise floats will continue on to Sixth street, where they will be parked, and their operators will return to Seventh street, where the last float bearing the speaker's platform will be halted.

Spotlights will be played upon the platform as Kelsey Slocum, yell king, leads Oregon yell, and four Oregon men—staunch supporters—will give short pep talks. These speakers will be Baz Williams, Bob Mautz, Brian Minnaugh, and Dick Smith.

The rally will break up in time for students to catch the train for Corvallis for the Frosh-Rook game, or to attend the annual Journalism Jamboree, scheduled for 9 o'clock at the men's gymnasium.
