Oregon After Second Berth On Coast and Beaver Pelt Trophy

By BRUCE HAMBY

Oregon, fighting for a second-place berth in the coast conference, and Oregon State, hoping for some regained prestige after a rather disastrous season, are set to battle for the right to face the University of Utah in Portland next month when they meet this afternoon at 1:30 on Hayward field. Although rain and cold weather may have dampened the ardor of the spectators, it had little effect on the spirits of the players of the two teams for both are rarin' to go.

Oregon State will be at full strength with every man on the squad in tip-top shape; Oregon will be minus the services of Bernie Hughes and Erwin Nilsson, regular linemen. Coach Spears has no alibis, however, win or lose. The remainder of the team is in excellent condition.

Prospects of a muddy field may have lessened Oregon's chances a little, for the Webfeet have not as yet played on a slippery field. The ability of Gee and Temple to kick a wet pigskin may be an important factor in the final score. The Beavers had their first taste of "mudding" last Saturday against Montana.

A light workout yesterday afternoon ended the two weeks of drill that Doc Spears has prescribed for the Ducks. Last night the team left the campus in order to get a good night's rest before the contest. They will return just before game time.

The starting backfield for the Webfeet will be the same that opened against New York university. Bill Bowerman, shifted from end to quarterback, will call signals. Leighton Gee and Mark Temple will fill the halfback positions, as well as do most of the ball-carrying, and Mike Mikulak will do the line-plugging in the fullback post.

President's Wife Stricken at Home With Pneumonia

Mrs. Arnold Bennett Hall Is Not Seriously Ill, Says Doctor

Mrs. Arnold Bennett Hall, wife of the president of the University, was suddenly stricken with pneumonia last night and will be confined to her bed for the annual Homecoming celebration this week-end. Although she has been ill for several weeks, she was not definitely confined until her return from a dinner engagement last evening. Upon consultation with Dr. Fred N. Miller, University physician, and Dr. A. H. Ross, Eugene physician, Mrs. Hall was ordered to remain in bed.

"Any case of pneumonia is serious. However, Mrs. Hall's condition seems safe for the present," said Dr. Miller yesterday.

"It would be impossible to say how long she will be ill but, as far as the Homecoming is concerned, she is not to be bothered with details of the annual celebration," concluded Dr. Miller.

PIPA Delegates Conclude Second Day of Sessions

Editors and Managers Hold Separate Meetings To Discuss Problems

Meeting separately for talks and for round-table discussions editors and managers of college publications assembled here for the convention of the Pacific Intercollegiate Press association, concluded the second day of their three-day session.

The editors in their morning session heard a discussion by Dr. Howard R. Taylor, head of the personnel bureau, on "A Pointed Survey." Arne G. Rae, field manager of the Oregon State Editorial association, addressed the managers on "Seeking National Advertising."

At noon the delegates were guests of Alpha Delta Sigma, professional advertising fraternity, at a luncheon at the Green Lantern tavern.

W. F. G. Thacher, professor of English and advertising, talked to the members of the advertising professional and the press delegates on the value of a "Business Education."

In the afternoon the business of the association was taken up by the separate meetings of the editors and managers in round-table discussions.

The editors went on record as favoring the printing of cigarette and other tobacco advertising in college publications and passed it as a resolution.

Various problems that confront the editor in his work were discussed by the group. Other business was laid on the table to be

State Editorial Committeemen Gather Today

Business Matters Topic For Annual Meeting

Members To Attend Game En Masse at End of Session

The annual meeting of the executive committee of the Oregon State Editorial association will be held this morning on the campus. Members of the committee are coming from various parts of the state to discuss matters concerning the association at the business meeting to be held in the Journalism building at 10 o'clock today.

The executive committee also will definitely decide upon the location for the convention next year. Portland, Grants Pass, and McMinnville are bidding for the convention for next year.

Members of the committee will be guests of the University at a luncheon, and in the afternoon will be guests of the associated students at the football game between Oregon and Oregon State on Hayward field.

Members of the committee who are here at the meeting today are: George K. Aiken, immediate past president, who is editor of the Ontario Argus; Dean Eric W. Allen, school of journalism, ex officio member of the board; Charles F. Bollinger, president of District No. 3 of the editorial association; Ralph Cronise, president of the association, and with the Albany Democrat-Herald; Harris Ellsworth, treasurer, editor of Roseburg News-Review; Arne G. Rae, secretary and field manager; W. Verne McKinney, of the Hillsboro Argus; Alton Baker, publisher of the Eugene Register-Guard; C. J. Gillette, of the Marshfield Coos Bay Times; Mrs. R. E. Bean, of the Freewater Times, and Lucien P. Arant, of the Baker Democrat-Herald.

Loan Board Holds Annual Meeting To Discuss Funds

Student-Aid Principle Increased By Interest

The board of trustees of the class of 1896 held its annual meeting Friday afternoon at 3:30 to decide questions pertaining to the class loan fund administration, created in 1921 for student-aid, by donations of members of the class.

This loan fund now totals $4,522.09, having been increased by $1,513.56 interest since the establishment originally of $3,008.53. At present there are 33 loans outstanding, totalling $3,669.63.

The members of the board of trustees who are members of the class of '96 are: Dr. Clarence W. Keene, of Silverton; Mrs. Jennie B. Harris, and Mrs. Louise Whitton, of Eugene; and Mrs. Fannie Brumfield, of Portland. Ex-officio members are President Arnold Bennett Hall, Richard S. Smith, president of the First National bank, and Paul W. Ager, University controller.

Special Ticket Is Essential for All Students at Tilt

ALL students are reminded to call at the Co-op for their exchange tickets for the game today.

It will be necessary to present the regular student body ticket as well as the exchange ticket to gain admission to the Homecoming game today, according to Ronald Robnett, assistant graduate manager.

'Doc' and 'P.J.' Talk Things Over

Noise Dispenser Wins First Place For A.T.O.-Delt

Rainfall Fails To Daunt Din Raised Through City Streets

With a deafening clatter, the leading float, entered by Alpha Tau Omega and Delta Tau Delta, was last night awarded first place in the biennial noise parade, heralding today's Oregon - Oregon State clash.

Despite the continuous down-pour of "Oregon mist," about 800 loyal Oregon student supporters congregated in the down-town district to view the parade and participate in the rally.

The band, attired in all manner of pajamas and slickers, was followed by the serpentine, which, although short, was gaily attired and full of pep. The 13 noise floats completed the parade. The bonfire, unable to withstand atmospheric conditions, burned fitfully and took some time to burst into a blazing "O."

Preparations for the game have been completed, and the Oregon display will be unique and carefully executed. Meier and Frank company, of Portland, have donated 900 cards to the students for use in card stunts. With this equipment, Ray Force has prepared a routers' section which will

Mainstays in the Beaver Backfield

Harold Joslin, Hal Moe, and Frank Little, all of whom will be in the Oregon State lineup when the whistle blows today, and Reg Rust, reserve halfback. These men will be largely responsible for all the ball-carrying done by O. S. C. today.

Frosh Trounce Rooks 43-20 as Season Closes

Callison's Team Finishes Season Undeclared

Yearlings Show Superior Line Play; Franklin Furnishes Thrills

CORVALLIS, Nov. 13.—(Special to the Emerald)—Coach Prink Callison's driving Oregon freshman eleven finished the 1931 season by burying the Oregon State Rooks under an avalanche of touchdowns to win last night on Bell field in the second victory of the year over the Orange yearlings. The trouncing was a fitting climax for an undefeated schedule for the Frosh.

The superior line play of the Frosh was largely responsible for the overwhelming victory. The fierce charging of the Oregon forwards smeared the Rook offense time and again while they opened huge gaps to enable their backs to get into the open. Brown, Clarkson and Kostka sparkled in the Frosh backfield.

Franklin, the brilliant Rook quarterback, furnished the thrills of the evening and brought himself individual honors by running back two kick-offs for touchdowns with dashes of 90 and 85 yards.

Franklin Scores

Franklin took the opening kick-off on his own 10 and ran through the entire Frosh team for 90 yards and a touchdown. Pangle's try for point was good and the score stood 7 to 0 for O. S. C. yearlings. The hearts of each were cut out, and in the spaces flashed the messages "Beat Oregon" and "Beat O. S. C."

Kappa Sigma won second honors in the contest, a theatre party at the Colonial. Honorable mention went to Friendly hall, Sigma hall, and Phi Mu.

Students in charge of the sign contest were Larry Fischer and George Kotchik, members of the Homecoming directorate.

Grad Meeting To Start Ball Rolling

Luncheon Set for 11:30 At McArthur Court; Game at 1:30

By BARNEY MILLER

Continuing the momentum gained by the huge serpentine, the ear-splitting noise parade and the blazing "O" last night, the Homecoming week-end is expected to climax today into the largest and most enthusiastic celebration of its kind in the history of the University, according to John Penland, general chairman.

While definite registration figures have not yet been secured, by 9 o'clock tonight the registration committee under the direction of Elizabeth Scruggs, is expecting to report the largest numbers of alumni visitors on record. Registration will be open from 9 o'clock this morning until 9 tonight, with the exception of two hours between 2 and 4, when the game is in progress. Accommodations more than enough to suffice the crowd of visitors have been secured, and students will be on hand continually to escort any grad to a room if he has not already secured accommodations.

Alum Meeting at 10 A. M.

The ball will start rolling at 10 a. m. when the alumni meeting under the supervision of Jeannette Aikins, alumni secretary, will take place at Guild hall. Miss Aikins has urged that all alumni be there. At noon an alumni luncheon will take place at the new men's dormitory. Decorations and features for the luncheon have been arranged by students who are sons and daughters of grads.

The Homecoming luncheon, under the direction of Alexis Lyle, Klamath Falls, will begin at 11:30 at McArthur court. All students must bring their student body cards in order to secure entrance. "No ticket—no lunch," said the chairman, "unless, of course, the student has 50 cents with him." The charge for visitors will be 50 cents, also. Don DeForrest's Jantzen Beach orchestra will furnish music for the diners, and Friars, senior men's honorary organization.

Pi Kaps Win Sign Competition and Get Bristow Cup

Kappa Sigs Take Second; Friendly, Sigma Halls, Phi Mu Mentioned

For the second year in succession, Pi Kappa Alpha won the Homecoming sign contest and the Bristow trophy last night. Judges in the competition, W. W. Bristow, Mrs. John Stark Evans, and Mrs. Alice Macduff, said a decision was harder to reach this year than in previous years due to the great amount of originality shown in the signs.

Pi Kappa Alpha's sign showed a beaver and a duck with their arms around each other. The hearts of each were cut out, and in the spaces flashed the messages "Beat Oregon" and "Beat O. S. C."

Kappa Sigma won second honors in the contest, a theatre party at the Colonial. Honorable mention went to Friendly hall, Sigma hall, and Phi Mu.

Students in charge of the sign contest were Larry Fischer and George Kotchik, members of the Homecoming directorate.

O.S.C. Professors Aid in Movement To Help Jobless

State College Teachers To Follow Oregon's Steps In Relief Work

Members of the Oregon State college teaching staff voted yesterday to donate one day's salary a month, for five months, to a fund for the relief of unemployed in Oregon. The University of Oregon faculty voted to do the same thing earlier in the week.

The two institutions are doing this in order to cooperate with a suggestion made by Governor Meier that all state employees make a contribution to a relief fund.

The donations will begin December 1, though adjustments will be made in individual cases if the general plan seems to work a hardship.

Alum Registry To Stay Open Before And After Classic

ALUMNI will be able to register at three different times tomorrow, according to Jeannette Calkins, alumni secretary. The headquarters in the lobby of Johnson hall will be open from 8 a. m. till 1 p. m., and after the game from 4:30 p. m. till 6 p. m. In the evening from 8 to 10 alumni will be able to register in Gerlinger hall during the reception for them there.

Pledges of Alpha Delta Sigma To Be Initiated Sunday

Five Active, Five Associate Neophytes Will Enter Ad Honorary

Formal initiation ceremonies of Alpha Delta Sigma, national professional advertising fraternity will be held tomorrow morning, Harry Schenk, president of the local chapter, announced yesterday.

At 9:30 a. m. tomorrow in the men's room in Gerlinger hall, the following active pledges will be initiated: Barney Miller, Dick Goebel, Steve Kahn, Vinton Hall, and Fred Meeds.

Following this, at 11 a. m., in the Osborne hotel an initiation breakfast will be held. At this time the following associate pledges will formally enter the fraternity: Hal E. Hoss, Oregon secretary of state; James Brattain and Arthur Briggs, of the Portland Journal; Ed Morris, of the Morris Chevrolet company in Eugene; and Alton F. Baker, publisher of the Eugene Register-Guard. A reunion of members of Alpha Delta Sigma will also take place at the break-
