

Grads Invade City, Campus for Homecoming Festivities

Johnson Hall Dedication; Football on Kincaid Field, Features

Whoopie! Whattime! 23 skidoo!

Saturday is the big day! The alumni riot into town today for a big time, to renew old friendships, and to cheer Oregon on to a victory over our ancient enemies, O. A. C.

Special trains will bring the grads home to their old campus. All trains will be met by the University band. The Lane Automobile club has provided 100 cars to carry the Homecoming alums to the campus.

Homecoming festivities start tonight with the big rally parade and frosh bonfire on Kincaid field.

Saturday: At 10:30 Johnson hall will be dedicated (HUH?) A campus luncheon "a la cafeteria" will be served at noon between McClure hall and the men's gymnasium. The big game with O. A. C. on Kincaid field is scheduled for 2 o'clock.

The official Homecoming festivities will be concluded with a big dance and reception at the new armory.

What's this? . . . O. A. C. game, Kincaid field? Dance at new armory? Johnson hall dedicated?

Nope. Not quite as "fishy" as it sounds. This was the schedule for Oregon's first Homecoming. The first organized Homecoming was held on our campus Saturday, November 13, 1915. It attracted 150 alumni. Oregon's second Homecoming, November 4, 1916, brought 400 grads back to the campus. This compared with the estimated alumni representation of 1100 (700 registered, and approximately 500 attending the game alone) at the 1929 Homecoming.

Although the first Homecoming was held in 1915, the frosh bonfire on the night preceding the annual brawl with O. A. C. (or Oregon State if you will) seemed to be an established tradition at that date. As nearly as we can determine, the custom originated on November 10, 1915, in a pre-O. A. C. game rally. The fire was constructed by the frosh in pyre form on the old Kincaid field.

In 1926 the site of the bonfire was moved to Skinner's butte and the flaming "O" was constructed for the first time.

The Homecoming program and activities have descended almost intact since the first get-together in 1915—truly Oregon possesses traditions. The war introduced the only gap, in 1918, throughout the years in organized preparations for returning alums.

The program itself has undergone few changes. At various periods noise machines and noise floats, with a prize for the greatest uproar, have been a part of the pre-game rally. The noise-making floats are again being used this year. The old-time atmosphere of the frosh pajama parade will also be revived, with the ralhers donning the traditional sleeping garments.

The campus luncheon of the first Homecoming has also been retained through the years, undergoing only a few evolutionary changes. In the early stages it was served "cafeteria." After the food was "collected," the students and alums gathered in a congenial, rollicking crowd around big tables in the men's gym and sometimes in the handball courts.

In those days they often served creamed chicken with appropriate trimmings. Today, we gather in the Igloo to enjoy the delicacies of the modernly efficient "box" lunch.

Girls Are Slightly Hurt in Post-Rally Mishap with Auto

Evelyn Shaner, senior in English, would appreciate it if the driver of the car that knocked her down at 11th and Hilyard, last night after the rally, would furnish her with a nice pair of crutches so she can go to the Homecoming dance tonight, not to mention a pair of silk stockings to replace those ruined.

Miss Shaner, Elinor Henry of Eugene, and Hazle Corrigan from Astoria were all hit, knocked down, and dragged a short distance by the car, which was driven by Willard Arant, Forest Grove. All were bruised to some extent but Miss Shaner was most seriously injured, since she was almost pulled under the left wheel of the slowly moving sedan. She declares, however, that the accident will not keep her from the Homecoming dance, if she has to go on crutches—hence the above suggestion to the driver. How about it, Arant?

A car stalled in the center of the intersection was blamed for the accident. A roadster drove over the curb on the northeast corner, narrowly missing the girls. Somewhat startled, they started to cross the street. The stalled car cut off both Arant's view and the girls', and the slow pace of the car is said to be all that kept the accident from being more serious.

EMERALD of The... AIR

Negro spirituals will be featured by the Oregon Yeomen double male quartet when the group sings this afternoon at 4:15 during the Emerald of the Air period, broadcast over station KURE. The program will commence with the singing of the Oregon pledge song, and the remainder of the 15 minutes will be taken up with popular negro spiritual selections, Jack Bauer, conducting the program, announced.

The singers listed on the Yeomen quartet are: First tenors, Gordon Fisher and Kenneth Klentzle; second tenors, Dean Beistel and Jack Spittle; baritone, Gene Pearson and Ralph Coie; basses, Rolf Bodding and Lewis Long. Hadley Crawford is director of the group and Jack Bauer is manager.

The downtown rally and noise parade will be broadcast by KORE, according to the announcement of station officials, and the Oregon State-Oregon game Saturday afternoon will also be put on the air.

Hayward Field Gates Will Be Opened at 12 o'Clock

Gates at Hayward field will open at 12 noon for the game today, the graduate manager's office announced. Tickets will go on sale at the field at 11 a. m.

Plenty of covered reserved seats will be available, according to the announcement, at the regular price of $2.50. Unreserved seats will sell for $1.50.

"Touchdown" at McDonald
At last—the ideal football picture. No, he didn't make that last minute run, and that is just what makes "Touchdown" one good picture. Starring Richard Arlen and Jack Oakie, this picture opens with some good shots of the Rose Bowl tournament. Arlen and Oakie are players on a small team under the coaching of "Pop;" they win the game from the bigger school and then Arlen decides to become a coach.

The outcome, while different from the usual run, is expected, but it is powerfully dramatized and is really better than the opening stages of the play warrant.

Frankie Kenin's orchestra completes the bill. The news-reel shows the pictures of the N. Y. U.-Oregon game.
"Flying High," with Bert Lahr and Charlotte Greenwood, is coming to the McDonald Sunday.

"Hell Bent for Frisco" at Hellig
Charles Delaney and Vera Reynolds, is showing at the Hellig theatre for today only.

"The Ruling Voice," starring Walter Huston and Loretta Young, is coming to the Hellig Sunday for a three-day run.

Beery at Colonial
In keeping with the spirit of Homecoming, the Colonial theatre will not open its doors till 5:45 this evening, when "The Secret Six," starring Wallace Beery will show for the last time.
"Son of India," with Ramon Novarro, is coming to the Colonial for a two-day run Sunday.

Tom Tyler at State

Alumni Members Served Lunch by Beta Alpha Psi

Beta Alpha Psi, accounting honorary, will entertain its alumni members at a Homecoming luncheon today in the Green Lantern room at 11:30 a. m. Phil Janney will be toastmaster, but there will be no speeches. Many of the state's prominent C. P. A.'s will be present. Ernest Alne, president, is handling details of the meeting. The luncheon will be livened by the appearance of the Oregon Yeomen quartet and the Harmony Twins, Wally Telford and Kenny Lord. Rolf Bodding, vice-president, is handling the music and featured entertainment.

"The luncheon will be short and snappy," Janney said last night, "in order to let the visitors get to the game in time to find their seats."

FRESH

in nature's way

CAMELS are never parched or toasted!

FRESHNESS and flavor in a cigarette trace right back to natural moisture.

If you overheat or process tobacco so harshly as to dry out all natural moisture you drive out freshness and flavor too.

Camel never parches or toasts the fine Turkish and mild Domestic tobaccos it uses—they are naturally smooth, cool, mellow, with natural moisture retained.
