Idaho Hoopsters Start Work With 10 Lettermen Out

Last Year's Freshman Stars Will Add Strength to Vandal Five

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, Moscow, Nov. 16.—For the past week 25 Vandal basketball candidates have been working out daily under the direction of Harold Stowell, former Idaho star and all-coast forward. Coach Rich Fox has been handling freshman football but will take charge of the varsity hoop squad the first of next week.

The first week's work was limited to limbering up exercises and fundamentals with hours of practice shooting and set-up plays claiming much of the time.

When Coach Fox rounds the team into shape he will be greeted by ten lettermen and five new additions from last year's freshman team. Christians, Hall, Barrett, Parks, Hale, Aukett, Wicks, Hurley, and Lacey are the returning lettermen. All of the first five men from the last year freshman team will be pushing the regulars for places on the team. Herman, Geraghty, Grenier, Carlson, and Squance are the new eligibles.

The squad will be materially strengthened by the addition of the new candidates. Grenier at center will give the varsity lettermen a struggle for the pivot position, and Carlson and Geraghty are both fast and accurate shooters.

The squad will have a month's practice before the first games which are scheduled with Ellensburg normal, December 11 and 12.

Wife of President Recovering from Pneumonia Attack

THE condition of Mrs. Arnold Bennett Hall, who was stricken with pneumonia last Friday evening after returning home from an engagement, has been reported as being considerably improved.

"Mrs. Hall is doing very well," stated Dr. Fred N. Miller, University physician.

"It will probably be a week or so before she will be allowed to leave the house. A convalescent with pneumonia, always a dangerous disease, has to be given the most careful attention," concluded Dr. Miller.

Wandering Ducks Prepare for Trip To Sunny South

Squad Leaves Wednesday For Games With UCLA And St. Mary's

The Webfeet are taking to the rails again. After giving local grid fans a chance to watch them in action against Oregon State, Coach Spears and his wandering footballers are preparing to take up the trail once more. This time they are bound for the sunny South.

Next Saturday they meet the up-and-coming Bruins from the University of California at Los Angeles. Thanksgiving, St. Mary's will form the opposition at Kezar stadium in San Francisco. The post-season charity game with Utah was awarded to Oregon State by a committee of Portland sporting editors due to the hard schedule still to be faced by Oregon.

Orville Bailey, end, was the only Webfoot casualty in Saturday's game. He suffered a broken nose when Frank Little used a little too much elbow in blocking him out of a play. He reported for practice yesterday and will finish the season out.

Scrimmage against the freshman squad on defense against U. C. L. A. and St. Mary's plays will furnish the training schedule for the next three days. The team will leave Eugene for Los Angeles Wednesday noon, returning after the St. Mary's contest.

In "Trial by City Desk," Tugman told various incidents where newspaper men have taken the course of justice into their own hands and administered it through the weapon of public opinion which they influence. Sigma Delta Chi, national journalism professional fraternity, sponsored the luncheon. In the afternoon the delegates were guests of the University at the Oregon-Oregon State football game.

RIFLE MATCH ENDS TODAY

Because of lack of time to finish shooting the first elimination in the campus intramural rifle match last Thursday the time limit for teams to complete their first rounds of firing has been extended to 5 o'clock today.

Uclans Are No Longer "Baby" Of Conference

St. Mary's Victory First Big Win for Bruins

Coach Spaulding Pointing For Webfoot Tilt Next Saturday

By STUART WELLS, Sports Editor, Daily Bruin
LOS ANGELES, Calif., Nov. 16.—(Exclusive to the Emerald.)—The Baby has grown up fast!

The U. C. L. A. Bruins from Westwood, once condescendingly termed "The Babies of the Conference" by their stronger rivals, have suddenly emerged from infancy and are now challenging the positions of those who, two or three years back, merely smiled when U. C. L. A. was mentioned.

The Bruins have made great strides since their entrance into the Pacific Coast conference in 1928. This current season is the culmination of many years of hard work, and constitutes a period of major athletic transition for Westwood.

Starting off the season slowly, the Bruins were held to a 0-0 tie by the strong little Southern conference college, Occidental. Following this, the Westwood team journeyed to Pullman, Washington, to take it on the nose, 13-0, after a hard-fought battle. The Northwestern game two weeks later found the Californians in fighting mood back in Evanston, Illinois, where the powerful North-

IN THE PRESS BOX with Walt Baker

REGON and Oregon State have their private feud off their respective chests for another year, and with the final decision last Saturday turning out to be nothing decisive on the score sheet for either team, both schools are where they started from before the game was played.

After watching the game, it would seem that both schools played the most conservative football that either has produced all season—not particularly gentle football, because there were the usual choosings and mudslinging going on—but perhaps both Spears and Schissler were rather cautious about treading upon one another's toes in the way of opening up anything that might look like a long scoring chance—a gamble that would either win or lose the little old ball game. Generally in this traditional battle somebody uncorks a prize long-shot play—one of those kind in the closing minutes of play that either make or break the score. Last Saturday the final gun went off on a comparatively peaceful scene in midfield.

PLENTY OF FIGHT
But let it not be said that there wasn't any fight shown out there. What was probably one of the fiercest games seen on Hayward field in a long time came off last Saturday—witness the fact that the comparative yardage gained from scrimmage plays for the two teams was held down to the least possible point. Both lines were practically on a par with the Oregon line having the edge. Schulz, Bailey and Morgan in particular, with Mikulak backing them up, were perhaps the most outstanding barriers that the Orangemen failed to get through. For Oregon State, Miller, Byington, K. Davis, and Cox, with Hal Moe in Mikulak's role as defensive back, stopped most of the Oregon plays that threatened to get away. Yes, it was just one of those games. If such a thing were possible, Oregon won a "moral victory," as it was termed in some papers in the Sunday writeups—going into the affair the under-dogs and charging the O. S. C. forward wall back on their heels through the whole first half of the game. But 0-0 was the score and that's the way it will be entered upon the roll of the traditional Beaver-Duck football meetings.

THE USUAL CRY
I wonder if Bobby Morris, head linesman, isn't getting just a little bit blind or perhaps he went through the game with a little Hayward field mud in his eyes. Certainly he couldn't have gone throughout that game with all his ocular facilities functioning properly and overlooked the glaring offenses of off-side and backfield motion that were so apparent in the press-box. The long pass in the last half, from Davis to Rust, that netted the Beavers around 40 yards and very nearly changed the tide of the struggle, was a good example. The backfield and line came out of the huddle and up to the ball, and by the time it was snapped Vic Curtin, Beaver end, was in the Oregon backfield and Rust was two good yards on his trip down the field to receive the pass—a lot of yards to be ignored in calling off-side.

It also looked like none of the officials synchronized their two-second count to the halt in the Beaver shift before the ball was snapped. Every time we did it, the play was half over at the end of the time allowed for the halt—maybe they were calling them according to the 1932 rules that haven't come out yet.

Some time ago we read in the Corvallis town paper a column that goes by the moniker of Orange Peelin's in which was a censure of this same Morris and George Varnell for never giving Oregon State the breaks in the games at which they officiated. After taking a look at that shift, we can hardly see just how the Orangemen got off a play which they could possibly have called legal and not have tacked on the usual five-yard penalty. There should be no more crying from that sector about "breaks" and "unfavorable officiating for Oregon State."

Oregon Mothers Will Convene at Portland Friday

THE Portland group of Oregon Mothers will hold a tea Friday, according to word received yesterday from Mrs. Horace B. Fenton, president of the group.

The tea will be held from 3 to 5 at the home of Mrs. O. W. Mielke, at 630 Knott street.

Mrs. Fenton requests that all students write their mothers and inform them of the meeting, urging them to be present.

western Purple was held to 19 points.

Bruins Improve Fast

Following an easy 46-0 victory over Pomona college, Spaulding sent his men against Stanford, then undefeated. The Bruins scored first in the second quarter, were tie dearly in the third, but managed to hang on to a deadlock until the last 18 seconds of play, when the Reds went to the air and pulled the game out of the fire with a completed pass over the goal line.

Then came St. Mary's, defeated by the Olympic club, it was true, but still powerful and strong enough to be the match for the best that the coast had to offer. In two quick decisive thrusts, the Bruins defeated those Gaels from Moraga, beat them decisively after first demoralizing them with a superior offensive attack that left the Gaels gasping. It was almost a rout, and it has been a long, long time indeed since any team routed "Slip" Madigan's crew from Mcraga Valley.

Two Games Left To Play

The victory over St. Mary's establishes U. C. L. A. as a team of major category—one whole year sooner than expected. In other words, the Bruins have arrived, an event that has been anticipated in these parts—sick of Troy dominance—for some time.

Two games are left on the Bruin schedule, games which the U. C. L. A. team desires to take to complete a successful season. The bigger of these two games is the homecoming clash with Oregon next Saturday in the Los Angeles Olympic stadium.

The Oregon game should be a colorful one. All of the old grads will be there as well as a huge Bruin following swelled by the recent victory over St. Mary's.

Oregon's Strength Unknown

Oregon is rather an enigma here. Defeated 53-0 by U. S. C., the Webfeet went back to New York and trounced the New York U. team, 14-6. Now nobody knows how to figure the Ducks, and anything may happen Saturday.

Bill Spaulding, however, is ready for that "anything." With the Bruins firmly established in the win column, Spaulding will not jeopardize his team's prestige with any let-down in practice, and will prepare for the Ducks in the same manner as he has prepared for other foes through the season.

EMERALD of The... AIR

"Peace Prospects in Manchuria" will be the subject of Dr. Harold J. Noble, of the history department, when he speaks this afternoon at 4:15 during the Emerald of the Air period over station KORE.

An authoritative interpretation of the Oriental situation as it stands at present, according to the radio director, will be given. Dr. Noble has spent many years in the Far East, and he is well acquainted with the late historical background and reasons for the more recent developments in the relations between Japan, Russia, and China as they are being conducted in Manchuria.

FROSH GRIDSTERS ILL

Two of the frosh football players, Earl Parker and Jack Chase, are confined to the infirmary. Fred Staver is also ill.

The smoke you like... is the smoke she likes for you!

"I like to see a man smoke a pipe!" You've heard your own girl say it, perhaps. You're sure to hear it wherever girls get together.

They puff away at our cigarettes. But they like to see us have a go at the "strong, silent man's smoke"—a companionable, time-proven pipe.

There is something satisfying about a pipe. It's a slow, reflective, hard-thinking smoke—or a calm, relaxing, restful smoke. The hunter's smoke, the fisherman's smoke, the engineer's smoke—a man's smoke, through and through.

And pipe smokers who know their fine tobaccos tell you there's no blend quite like the fine selected burleys of Edgeworth—the favorite tobacco in 42 out of 50 leading colleges.

Do try Edgeworth. Perhaps you will like it as well as most men seem to. Edgeworth is at your dealer's. Or send for free sample if you wish. Address Larus & Bro. Co., 105 S. 22d Street, Richmond, Va.

EDGEWORTH SMOKING TOBACCO

Edgeworth is a blend of fine old burleys, with its natural savor enhanced by Edgeworth's distinctive and exclusive elevating process. Buy Edgeworth anywhere in two forms—Edgeworth Ready-Rubbed and Edgeworth Plug Slice. All sizes, 15¢ pocket package to $1.50 pound humidifier tin.

Frosh Forensic Tryout Date Set For December 3

Six Debates on Enlarged Schedule of First Year Orators

Tryouts for freshmen debate will be held in Villard hall Thursday evening, December 3. The question for debate will be "Resolved: That the federal government should provide for a system of cooperative controlled industry to supplant our present system."

All members of the frosh class are eligible and are asked to see Robert Oliver, graduate assistant of speech, as soon as possible, if they wish to compete. He will be in his office Thursday for that purpose from 10 until 12 o'clock in the forenoon and from 1 until 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Anyone not seeing him at that time will find him at his regular office hours.

Contestants should be prepared to speak 10 minutes on either the affirmative or the negative of the question.

Freshman debate will be more extensive this year than last and so far a tentative schedule has been arranged for six debates. Their policy will also be to speak before clubs, high schools, and such groups where they can get

Students Warned At Mid-term Must Consult Advisors

MID-TERM warnings sent out to those students whose work at mid-term was not satisfactory are not being returned very rapidly, according to Karl W. Onthank. He urges students to see their advisors as soon as possible and have a conference with them. Warnings were sent to all students low in one or more courses.

If students are unable to find their advisors in during their office hours, they should report to the dean of men or the dean of women.

a large enough audience. The same question will be used as is used in the tryouts.

Daly Group Entertains Guests at Homecoming

The Daly club entertained members of the Oregon State Daly club and Lakeview visitors for homecoming at a luncheon at the Green Lantern Saturday. Fred Reynolds, chairman of the board of trustees of the Daly fund, gave a brief talk. Linton Mushen, president of the O. S. C. club, spoke for that group.
