

Pioneers Come From Behind To Win Close Game From Gonzaga Quintet, 33 to 31

Last Quarter Rally Defeats Bull Dog Five

Oregonians Look Tired After Hard Tilt

Levoff High Point Man for Winners; Roberts, Robinson Star

SPOKANE, Wash., Jan. 13.—(Special to the Emerald)—The University of Oregon basketball team, looking tired after their hard conference games of the week-end, came from behind to beat the Gonzaga quintet tonight, 33 to 31. Two last minute field goals gave Oregon its margin of victory.

Gonzaga started with a brilliance that could not be stopped and ran up 13 points before Oregon scored. The Pioneers, with Levoff and Robertson leading the attack, evened up the score by the half.

With Gonzaga leading in the fourth quarter, Oregon staged a rally and tied the score at 29-all. A Gonzaga field goal gave the losers a momentary lead but two Oregon field goals in quick succession brought the win.

The game was slow, with plenty of personal fouls being called. Levoff, Oregon forward, was high point man, with 11 points. Robertson and Roberts starred for the winners, while Teddie, Gonzaga forward, was the outstanding player for the losers.

The summary:

Oregon (33)	Fg	Ft	Pf
Levoff, f	3	5	0
Roberts, c	3	1	2
Calkins, g	2	1	0

Freshmen Open Season Against Democrat Quint

Jefferson To Have Strong Team in Game With Frosh Friday

Coach "Pink" Callison will put the finishing touches on his freshman basketball squad tonight in the final workout preceding the opening game with Jefferson high school tomorrow evening at the Iglou.

The Jefferson team, although it is not heralded to be equal to the one which represented the Democrats in last year's hoop season, is a formidable outfit and should offer the Frosh plenty of competition. Last year, Gehrke's squad won the Portland interscholastic maple court title, and represented the Rose city in the state tourney.

Only one of last year's regulars, Phil Penn, is back this season. The remainder of the squad is made up of players who, in spite of their inexperience, are improving rapidly. The Jefferson squad is expected to give Benson and Lincoln a hot race for top honors in the Portland league this year.

This will be the year's first game for the beatings. The Democrats, however, have played several pre-season games and are beginning to work as a unit.

Webfeet Basketeers Lead in Northern Scoring Race

Calkins Holds High Point Honors in Conference

Four Oregon men, Calkins, Levoff, Roberts and Robertson, lead the Northern division basketball players in scoring to date. The Oregon men, with two more games played than the others, have big margins over the remainder of the conference players. Captain Windy Calkins with 33 points leads, followed by Hank Levoff and Cap Robertson with 30.

The standings, including games of Monday and Tuesday nights:

Calkins, Oregon	33
Levoff, Oregon	30
Roberts, Oregon	30
Robertson, Oregon	30
Hoisten, W. S. C.	20
Grenier, Idaho	20
Thomas, O. S. C.	17
Fagans, O. S. C.	15
Nelson, Washington	13
Wicks, Idaho	13
Gordon, W. S. C.	12
Swygard, Washington	12
McLarny, W. S. C.	12
Barrett, Idaho	11
Cairney, Washington	10
Lewis, O. S. C.	10

IN THE PRESS BOX With Bruce Hamby

WONDER what happened up there in Pullman Tuesday night when Oregon upset the highly-touted Cougars, 42 to 29? Bill Reinhart must have hit upon a combination that clicked. Anyhow, the Webfeet will be home today, at the top of the league with a 500 per cent standing. True, all the rest of the northern division teams have the same, but Oregon has played twice as many games. This is enough reason to put them at the top of the list.

The coming two-game series with Idaho next Monday and Tuesday nights should pack them in. A couple of victories here would mean that Oregon must be rated as a title contender. Looking at the matter in cold blood, however, it must be admitted that two Washington teams appear to be better equipped to face the rigors of a sixteen game season. Their men are larger and there are more of them. Washington State has three men who are of all-star caliber—Holsten, McLarny and Gordon. Washington has four members of last year's coast championship team back.

But with Jack Robertson, Windy Calkins and Cap Roberts apparently getting into stride, Reinhart's outfit may prove to be a great stumbling block in the title race. For the first time this season, Robertson, sophomore forward, played the ball of which he is really capable. In pre-season games he looked like a "million." His first conference competition may have caused him to have the usual bugaboo of all sophomores—stage fright. Calkins is one of the most dependable men on the squad. And Cap Roberts showed that he can take care of himself against any center in the league. Reports from Pullman stated that he blocked the taller Gordon out on three-fourths of the rebound plays.

Whoops! Dean James H. Gilbert to the fore with a new nickname for Oregon athletic teams. And not a bad one, either! "Trappers" is the moniker suggested by Dean Gilbert as a suitable change from Webfeet. And he has some logical reasons to back up his name, that even Dick Neuberger couldn't beat. Reading from his letter to the Emerald last night:

"In the first place the trappers were the pioneers of pioneers. Their explorations and their exploits long antedated the covered wagon. For generations they alone held sway in this Oregon territory. They endured untold hardships, they showed dash and courage, fortitude and almost unbelievable hardihood. . . . "Fecular aptness inheres the phrase 'Trappers' because of the names so frequently attached to our opponents in athletic contests. Call the roll of the menagerie—grizzlies, cougars, bears, bruins, and last, but not least, beavers. If the prowess of Doc Spears' men keeps on increasing they will be able to trap, skin and otherwise exterminate the miscellaneous fauna of the Pacific coast region and hang up the well-dried peltries in the Igloo. Moreover the special prey of the early Oregon trappers was the beaver and the significance of this relationship needs no further comment. If they call us 'high hats' it would be a beaver addressing its remains.

"May I also add that these hardy Oregon trappers might ultimately overcome the Trojans even without stopping to fabricate a wooden horse. They were just that resourceful."

Hurray for Dean Gilbert! Why don't some of those who like to sit back and criticize the backers of "Pioneers" offer a few good suggestions? Stealing a bit from "Lemon Palooka," "Twenty-seven cents to the winnah."

Theta Sigma Phi Arranges Open Literary Meeting

Final arrangements were made concerning the open literary meeting of Theta Sigma Phi to be held in alumni hall at the Gerlinger building Tuesday evening January 19, at 8 p. m., at the short business meeting held yesterday afternoon. William Tugman, managing editor of the Eugene Register-Guard, is to speak on vocations for women.

It was also decided that the no-hostess luncheon to be given the wives of the editors, who will convene on the campus for their annual Oregon Press conference next week-end, will be held Friday noon at the Green Lantern Inn.

Jobs Still Open On Emerald Staff; Anyone Eligible

THERE is still an opportunity for a number of students to try out for the position of copy-reader on the Emerald staff, according to an announcement made yesterday by Thornton Shaw, managing editor.

Tryouts are now being held and the staff will be announced later in the week. Any student is eligible to serve on the staff.

There are also two positions open on the secretarial staff, it was announced.

Application for any of these positions may be made at the managing editor's office in the Journalism building.

Queries of Etiquette Pour In to Service Group Box

Are Sports Clothes Suitable for Campus Dance?

Are you perplexed by an etiquette problem? If so, just slip a question on the subject into the Phi Theta Upsilon-Skull and Daggers' question box in the College Side and it shall surely be answered in the Oregon Courtesy book.

Here are a few queries that have been pouring in during the past week:

Is it a fraternity wish to invite a man and his wife over to dinner, which one should they ask?

Should a patroness' program be filled out before a dance?

Is it always necessary to have a chaperone for a small group party of both fellows and girls?

Is it very bad form to wear sports clothes to a campus dance such as the Sophomore Informal?

In what position on the bread and butter plate should the butter knife be placed?

Another list of representative questions will be published in next Thursday's Emerald.

Paths to New Prosperity Topic for Lecture Tonight

Philip A. Parsons, dean of the school of applied social science, will speak at the Y hut tonight at 7:30 on the subject, "How is the New Civilization Different?"

Dear Parsons will endeavor to explain the new economics, moral, and religious standards for all classes of people which sprang up during the prosperity period of the last decade. He will comment on the probable changes that will or should take place when economic prosperity returns.

The meeting tonight is the first of a series of winter term discussion groups being held by the University Y. M. C. A. on the general topic: "The New Civilization." Sessions will be held each Thursday evening from 7:30 to 8:30. The group is open to both men and women.

Supreme Court Formally Receives Law Faculty

The faculty of the law school paid a call to the state capitol Tuesday and was tendered the honor of a formal presentation to the supreme court, it was learned yesterday.

The five members of the law school staff were at a session of the court. At the request of Chief Justice Henry J. Bean, the introduction was made formal and they were presented by the dean of the law school, Wayne L. Morse. The others of the party were: Carlton E. Spencer, Charles G. Howard, Orlando J. Hollis, and Guy S. Claire.

Oregon Physicists Plan Attendance Conference

Most of the members of the physics staff will attend the Oregon College Physics conference, at which the instructors of the physics departments of all higher educational institutions in the state will be present, to be held Saturday at Linfield college in McMinnville.

Members of the staff here to present papers at the conference, are: Dr. A. E. Caswell, head of the department; Dr. W. P. Boynton, professor of physics; and Dr. W. V. Norris, professor of physics and mathematics.

Ether Disturbing Aspirants to Get Tests at 1 Today

HAVE you a secret yen to speak before the microphone, where your "looks" will make little difference? If so, would you like to try it sometime without cost to you or the taxpayer? The Emerald radio director puts these questions to the student public, and if there is any response, the following supplies the required information: Call today at 1 o'clock or before in room 1, Johnson hall. Ethan Newman and Cleta McKinnon have been named to conduct the tryouts, and successful aspirants will be cast in skits and plays to be broadcast over KORE during the Emerald of the air.

Porter Announces Series Of Discussions on India

Five Years' Residence in East Will Furnish Topics

Beginning Sunday, January 24, R. B. Porter, secretary of the campus Y. M. C. A., will give a series of six talks on India at the meetings of the University Sunday school group of the First Methodist church.

The content of these lectures is to give the students a more intelligent and sympathetic understanding of India, according to Mr. Porter. The speaker has lived in that country for five years and will base his material on his experiences there.

The topics for each Sunday are as follows:

January 24, "India—the Land and Its People."

February 7, "The Caste System of India."

February 14, "Women and Family Life in India."

February 21, "What Is Hinduism?"

February 28, "Mahatma Gandhi and the Nationalism Movement."

March 6, "Have Christian Missions a Future?"

Evolution of Calendar Is Subject for New Course

Prof. Frederic S. Dunn is offering a new course in the Latin department, suggested by the needs of some graduate students and duly sponsored by the dean of the college.

The cause is based upon Ovid's Fasti and involves a discussion of Roman festivals upon which our own modern fast-days are based; a study of the calendar as evolved from ancient days; the origin; and latterly the 13-month year, as now inevitable. In other words, it is a "timely" topic, delivered through the medium of an Augustan poet.

The class will meet at 11 o'clock on Tuesdays and Thursdays in Oregon hall.
