Phil Harris Victor Record No. 22855

Here, on one record, we get a Lofner-Harris dance tune and an intermission number. All you have to do to get an idea of both sides is to sit near most any fraternity or sorority house radio any night between 11 and 12. The first number is in very slow "drag time" and "Bassoon" Phil Harris does his stuff in his own way to the accompaniment of his orchestra. Remley and Walters accompany the intermission number for two of the innumerable verses. They'd have to put out a Phil Harris album to get them all in, as you probably know, but the two given are good.

Here's some good entertainment. Hear it at White-Marlatt's.

Late-to-Class Sprinters Asked To Keep Off Grass

The grounds department desires the cooperation of all students in keeping off the lawn when there is snow on the ground or during freezing weather.

When there is snow on the ground the sod is soft, and students who are in a hurry to get to class and cut across corners of the lawns soon chop up the grass and create a slick mudhole, reports George York, superintendent of buildings and grounds.

Likewise in freezing weather walking on the lawns is destructive because the soil expands and pushes the grass roots upward, which are broken when trod upon.

The good old U. S. navy is with us again, with its wise-cracking, women-chasing gobs and hard-boiled petty officers, this time in "Suicide Fleet," playing its last day at the McDonald today. This happens to be one of the better pictures of its type, however, and if you still get a thrill from watching a flock of destroyers plowing their way through turbulent seas to the rescue, you will enjoy the film.

Bill Boyd, as the officer, James Gleason, and Robert Armstrong as the gobs play their parts in characteristically cocky manner. Ginger Rogers is the girl with whom all three are in love. The plot is well laid though, of course, improbable, and there is some fine sea photography. Scenes aboard German submarines, in which the characters do not speak Hollywood English, are among the most interesting.

The story is taken from a novel, Marie Dressler, who alternates successfully between comedy and stirring portrayals has brought a blend of both to the screen in "Emma," which opens Sunday at the McDonald. Richard Cromwell, Myrna Loy and John Miljan and others are members of the fine supporting cast.

Buck Jones at Hellig

Buck Jones makes a dashing and romantic hero in his latest thriller, "Ridin' for Justice," which is showing at the Hellig today only.

This is Lil Dagover, who is playing at the Hellig starting Sunday in "The Woman From Monte Carlo."

"The Mystery Ship," which concerned an old sailing vessel used by the German navy to learn the movements of enemy vessels. The idea was evidently inspired by the exploits of Count von Luckner.

"The Woman From Monte Carlo," starring the much-heralded and mysterious Lil Dagover who makes her initial bow to Eugene audiences Sunday at the Hellig. Miss Dagover, recently brought to this country from Germany, is slight, dark, elfin—with unfathomable greenish-brown eyes, an elegant nose, a subtle mouth, and that altogether indefinable charm spoken of as "continental." Lil Dagover was a great favorite on the continent and as Warner Brothers have never been known to pick a "lemon," she will probably constitute one of Hollywood's latest "discoveries."

Gay Comedy at Colonial "Strictly Dishonorable," starring Sidney Fox, Paul Lukas and Lewis Stone, completes its four day run at the Colonial tonight.

"Susan Lennox, Her Rise and Fall," featuring Greta Garbo and Clark Gable is coming Sunday and Monday.

"Beloved Bachelor" at Rex

Paul Lukas, Lois Moran and Charles Ruggles play the leading roles in "Beloved Bachelor," which is showing today only at the Rex.

Andy Shufford at State

"Oklahoma Jim," starring Andy Shufford and Bill Cody is playing at the State today only.

"X Marks the Spot," with Bill Cody and Sally Blane is showing for the first time in Eugene at the State theatre Sunday and Monday.

Let's talk Straight from the Shoulder

WHAT you want in a cigarette is taste. You want mildness . . . smoothness . . . and satisfying pleasure when you smoke.

All right then . . . get this straight. CHESTERFIELD pays top prices . . . yes, and a premium for the ripest, mellowest, sweetest-tasting leaf that grows.

The curing and conditioning is done by specialists . . . men carefully trained in handling these fine tobaccos.

IN BLENDING, also, Chesterfields are different . . . Instead of merely mixing the tobaccos together . . . we cross-blend them. It's like making a new and better-tasting kind of tobacco. That's how we get that Chesterfield flavor. Milder . . . and a more pleasing aroma.

Cigarette paper? Only the purest that's made is good enough for Chesterfield.

PICK UP a package. Note its clean appearance . . . free from heavy inks. It's moisture-proof, too.

And three big factories at Richmond, Durham and San Francisco—operating under the strictest sanitary standards—rush them fresh to you.

Good . . . they've got to be good. Because they're made that way. And most important of all . . . you can taste this goodness in the cigarette. You can tell it in the smoke.

Light up, Mister! Try Chesterfield. Let the cigarette do its own talking.

You'll get the whole thrilling story, in just two words . . . "They Satisfy!"

"Yes Sir - Mild yet they Satisfy"
