

OREGON SPORTS

A Great Victory.
Bob-Sledding.
'Davis' Punts.

EMERALD SPORTS STAFF
Dick Neuberger Sports Editor
Bruce Hamby...Asst. Sports Editor
Parks Hitchcock, Joseph Saslavsky,
Malcolm Bauer

OREGON WINS!!!!
The Webfoots fooled them all by beating the Cougars last night, 34 to 32. Another battle to-night—McArthur court, the same time.

Oregon Swim Team To Meet O.S.C. Today

Varsity and Duckling Squads To Compete

Splashers Out To Shatter Several Pool Records In Corvallis

Extra! Bulletin! Flash! Bless us if Oregon didn't beat those Cougars last night. What an achievement that is for Bill Reinhart and his lads—two victories in a row over a team that nobody thought could be beaten! Levoff was the lad who got Oregon started, and it didn't take Cap Roberts, Jack Robertson, Cliff Potter and Captain Windy Calkins long to follow in his tracks.

It was a great game and a great victory. Let's hope it happens again tonight. One of the most enthusiastic rooters for Oregon was Slat Gill, Oregon State's coach. He wants Bill Reinhart's boys to get the Cougars out of the way so his team will have another crack at that championship.

AIRPLANES and racing automobiles may be more dangerous than bob-sleds, but that Mount Van Houverberg slide at Lake Placid is no place for the old Flexible Flyer. When they begin to make bob-sleds that bullet through a chute of solid ice at more than 80 miles an hour, you may be sure there is some element of risk involved in riding such a vehicle. The sleds are only a flimsy skeleton of light metal and oak, so it is no easy matter to remain seated upon them. They have to be balanced as dextrously as a bicycle or scooter.

Because of the extreme speed the sleds attain, it is not difficult to imagine the peril connected with losing one's balance or running into the side of the ice chute. Did you ever look out the window of a train traveling 40 miles an hour and contemplate what would happen should you jump? Double the speed and the subsequent results of such a mishap and you have some idea of what would happen at the winter Olympic games should one of the bob-sleds meet with misfortune.

One accident of serious proportions already has occurred on Mount Van Houverberg. The German four-man team catapulted clear over the crest of the chute when it attempted to negotiate one of the more difficult zig-zag curves. All four riders were injured severely, the steersman suffering a fractured skull.

Everything possible to attain greater speed has been done at the winter Olympics. The start of the bob-sled chute is almost perpendicular. The curves have been banked so expertly that men with plenty of courage and skill can take them at full speed. The sleds have been constructed on a more elongated plan and just before the takeoff the runners are heated to a white-hot degree with an acetylene torch.

Most persons put their tongues in their cheeks when they think of sled-racing as a sport, but it's a far, far cry from coasting the old Flexible Flyer down a snow-fluffed hill at home to steering a steel in a role that fits him like a boxing glove!

HEILIG

JAMES CAGNEY

with LORETTA YOUNG GEORGE E. STONE
Saturday Only
"MOUNTED FURY"

TAXI

Hungering for Beaver meat, the Oregon varsity and freshman swimming teams will freshen this noon for Corvallis, where they will lock horns in dual meets with the O. S. C. natators, with water polo games being slated to be played after the meet events are out of the way. Jack Hewitt, swimming mentor, and Roy Brown, student manager, will accompany the squads. The Ducklings are scheduled to meet the rooks at 2 p. m. and the varsity to vie with the Orangemen at 7:30 p. m.

Several members of the Webfoot varsity aggregation are going to make determined efforts to break the pool records at Corvallis, most of these fast times there having been hung up by the Oregon natators in past meets.

Foster Out for Record
Charlie Foster, Oregon varsity star, is out to destroy his own record in the 440-yard swim. Paul Lafferty of the Webfoots will attempt to knock into oblivion the 100-yard breast stroke record held by Steve Fletcher, one of the shining stars on last year's Duck combination. The Lemon and Yellow relay and medley relay squads are also figuring on manufacturing some new times.

The varsity lineup:
400 foot relay—Hug, Oglesby, Pratt, and Needham.
100 yard breast stroke—Lafferty and Fletcher.
100 yard back stroke—Brooke and F. Anderson.
50 yard free—Hug and Pratt or Needham.
440 yard swim—Foster and Stevenson.
100 yard free style—Needham and Pratt or Hug.
Diving—Nigh, Sherman.
220 yard swim—Oglesby and Laurin.
300 yard medley—Brooke, Lafferty and Hug.
Water polo—Lafferty, Oglesby, Hug, Foster, Culp, Stevenson, Bishop, Fletcher, Needham, B. Anderson, Goulet, Rodda, Laurin, and Kidder.

Fresh Lineup Given
The Duckling roster:
400 foot relay—Privat, Ringrose, Simpson, and Gummess, Lindner, or Thomas.
100 yard breast stroke—Paul and Fowler.
100 yard back stroke—Hine and Hart or Moorehouse.
50 yard free style—Paul and Privat.
440 yard swim—Sherman and Zehnbauer.
100 yard free style—Simpson or Ringrose.
200 yard swim—Paul and Gearhart.
Diving—Chilton and Stewart.
300 yard medley—Rine, Fowler, and Privat or Simpson.
Water polo—Ringrose, Privat, Paul, Sherman, Moorehouse, Zehnbauer, Hine, Collow, Glaisyer, Thomas, Gummess, Best, and Heidel.

The best football punter on the Pacific coast last autumn was Keith Davis of Oregon State college. There's very little doubt about that. His accurate long-distance kicking was the main reason for what little success the Orangemen enjoyed on the gridiron. When Oregon outgained the Beavers from scrimmage, Davis kept Oregon State in the game with his arching spirals. Forced to kick from the territory just adjacent to his goal line repeatedly, Davis consistently out-booted all Oregon's efforts. Only his long thumps prevented the Webfoots from overcoming their old rivals.

There were several other outstanding punters on the coast, namely, Shaver of Southern California, Watkins of California and Dahlen of Washington State, but none so good as Davis. If Oregon State's tall windmills were as outstanding an end as he is a kicker, it would take a noteworthy opponent to keep him from being an All-American. Incidentally, he has another season's competition at Ore-

Next Tuesday To See Action In Mat Circles

All-Campus Wrestling Tourney Ready

Light-Heavy Division Holds Promise for Several Torrid Sessions

The annual all-campus wrestling tourney is scheduled to get under way next Tuesday with over 25 grapplers ready to demonstrate their wares and the possibility of a few more candidates signing up at the gym office before the Monday deadline.

The heavyweight class is well represented by three behemoths, Howard "Speed" Lewis, Jim Gemlo, and Howard Clark. Lewis was a bruising fullback on the yearling squad of two years ago, while Gemlo played frosh football last fall. Clark is another football player, having earned a letter on the varsity this season, but a reputation as a wrestler has followed him up from California.

The light-heavyweight scraps promise to furnish the best fireworks of the tournament. Powerful Frank Keltner, who swept the division last year with a minimum of experience, has improved his technique considerably and should make a vigorous defense of his title. George Minturn and Chuck Johnson are the aspirants for his throne. Johnson, "The Wild Bull of the Marshfield Pampas," may prove stronger than Keltner but lacks the champ's experience. Minturn ranks as a dark horse.

165-lb. Bracket Full
The 165-pound bracket has drawn the largest turnout of any division. Walt McCaffery, Doc Kelliher, Charles Nicely, Joe Renner, John Haviland, and Omar Summers are all entered with the wild Scot, McCaffery, conceded the best chance of coping the championship. Last year McCaffery put up a game struggle as a middleweight.

The middleweight crown rests quite secure on Tom Mountain's head as that veteran prepares for his third year of college competition. Mountain can topple most of the heavies and light heavies around the gym so Bob Nunn, Loyd Ruff, and Kayo Mullins have a hard task ahead of them. Nunn and Mullins have demonstrated plenty of strength in their work-outs, but it is doubtful whether they can cope with Mountain's skill.

The 145-pound class brings Charles Martin, Freddy Sears, John Vernon, Ray Clapp, and Chuck Kleinegger together. Clapp is the favorite to annex this title. Wallace Miller, Glen Bechtold, and John Rutenegger are the 135-pounders. John Steverkropp is back to defend his 125-pound honors against Norman Burke and Otto Vonderheist.

As per usual the bouts will start at 4 o'clock on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Friday, each match consisting of two four-minute rounds with two extra two-minute rounds in case neither of the contestants secure a fall or one minute's advantage during the regulation period.

Weighing-in will take place on Monday under the supervision of Earl Boushey and Clair Meisel, who will supervise the tourney. The men are allowed a three-pound leeway in making weight for any division except the heavy-weight, which is unlimited. Drawings will be made at this time for the preliminaries on Tuesdays and Wednesdays.

See where George Sanders, triple-threat sophomore football half-back recently was the co-ed's choice for the most popular man at Washington State college. Sanders is tall, has dark wavy hair and can dance almost as well as he throws forward passes. This means Mr. Sanders must be a pretty fair dancer, for he can pass on a dime and whips the pikskin as accurately as a pitcher throws a baseball.

Another of last night's many surprises was Ike Donin's appearance in the game for Oregon. The ex-Lincoln high had showed considerable possibilities in the few minutes he was a member of the Webfoot team. He's only a sophomore, so watch for him in the future.

OREGON TAKES THRILLER FROM LEAGUE LEADERS

(Continued from Page One)
Holsten led the Cougar scoring with 11 points.

The summary:

Player	Fg.	Ft.	Pf.
Oregon (34)
Robertson, F.	3	0	3
Potter, F.	1	1	1
Roberts, C.	2	1	3
Calkins, G.	2	3	1
Levoff, G.	5	3	2
Donin, G.	0	0	0

Player	Fg.	Ft.	Pf.
Washington State (32)
Cross, F.	2	0	1
Holsten, F.	4	3	3
Gordon, C.	1	4	2
McLarney, G.	3	1	0
Scott, G.	2	0	3
Graham, G.	0	0	1

Total.....12 8 10
Referee: Bobby Morris, Seattle.
Umpire: Ralph Coleman, Corvallis.

Trials Are Listed For Amphibians Monday Evening

TRYPHOUTS will be held again for Amphibian, women's swimming honorary, on Monday, February 13, at 7:30 p. m. The requirements for Amphibian are: to have passed the senior life-saving examination or to pass it within the next two terms, and conform to the following standards: endurance, 11 lengths; form, 2 strokes; speed, 1 stroke other than for form; diving, 1 standard dive in good form.

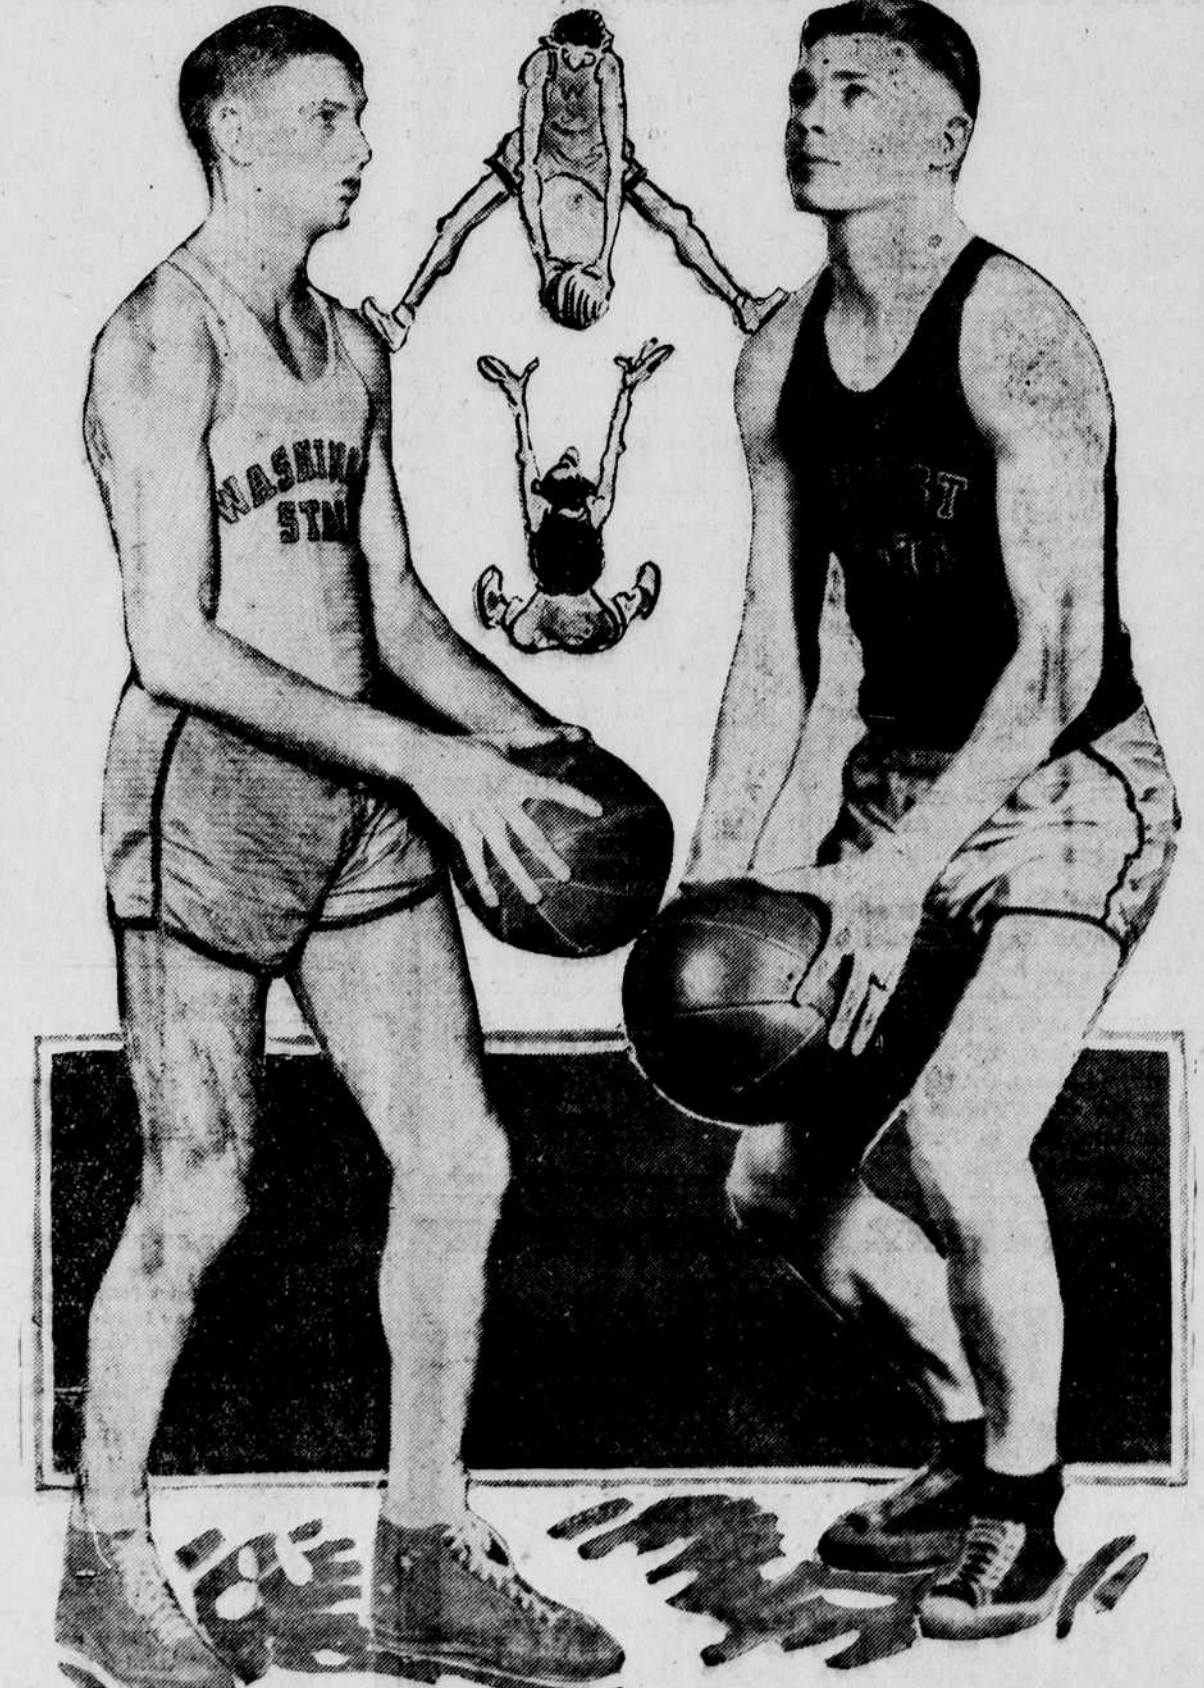

head as that veteran prepares for his third year of college competition. Mountain can topple most of the heavies and light heavies around the gym so Bob Nunn, Loyd Ruff, and Kayo Mullins have a hard task ahead of them. Nunn and Mullins have demonstrated plenty of strength in their work-outs, but it is doubtful whether they can cope with Mountain's skill.

The 145-pound class brings Charles Martin, Freddy Sears, John Vernon, Ray Clapp, and Chuck Kleinegger together. Clapp is the favorite to annex this title. Wallace Miller, Glen Bechtold, and John Rutenegger are the 135-pounders. John Steverkropp is back to defend his 125-pound honors against Norman Burke and Otto Vonderheist.

As per usual the bouts will start at 4 o'clock on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Friday, each match consisting of two four-minute rounds with two extra two-minute rounds in case neither of the contestants secure a fall or one minute's advantage during the regulation period.

Weighing-in will take place on Monday under the supervision of Earl Boushey and Clair Meisel, who will supervise the tourney. The men are allowed a three-pound leeway in making weight for any division except the heavy-weight, which is unlimited. Drawings will be made at this time for the preliminaries on Tuesdays and Wednesdays.

Out To Average Defeat

Here they are, Huntly Gordon (left) and Claud Holsten (right), scoring threats of the league-leading Washington State college Cougars, who face Oregon's Webfoots at McArthur court again tonight, after being barely defeated by the Webfoots last night. The Cougars lead the northern division of the conference at present, and will probably represent the Northwest in the annual playoff. Gordon Huntly was top scorer of the Pacific Coast last year with 128 points. To date this season he has 77 points. Holsten is not far behind with 70.

Phi Delta Townies To Play Kappa Sig In Hoop Contest

The first chapter of what promises to be an annual feud will be enacted today at 1 o'clock in the men's gym, when the town members of Kappa Sigma meet those of Phi Delta Theta in basketball. Both teams have made great boasts as to their strength, but the betting is light on both sides.

A loving (?) cup has been offered for the winner of the tilt. The members of each team promise to give the opponents a hot fight, and it's a toss-up as to who will walk off with the coveted trophy. Eddie Wells is coaching the Phi Delta hoopers. The line-ups:

Kappa Sig
Kneeland.....F.....Woodin
Wells.....F.....Weed
Bauer.....C.....Hakanson
Burr.....G.....Leggett
Olson.....G.....Eberhardt

BEAVER SWIMMING COACH NAMES TEAM PERSONNEL
CORVALLIS, Ore. Feb. 12.—John Kenney, coach of swimming, announced the lineups of the Oregon State varsity and freshman swimming teams, which will tangle with the aquatic squads from the University of Oregon in dual meets and water polo clashes.

The lineup of the Orange varsity is as follows:
400-foot relay—Anderson, Allen, Swarz, Disbrow. 100-yard breast—Van Gilse, Lillie. 100-yard back—Ralston, Alexander. 50-yard sprint—Bowman, Anderson. 440-yard swim—Failing, Ball. 100-yard sprint—Eisenschmidt, Van Gilse. Diving—Sigenthaler, Hagen. 220-yard swim—Eisenschmidt, Ball, Failing, Mueller. 300-yard medley relay—Ralston, Lillie, Anderson.

The rook swimmers are:
400-foot relay—Gearhart, Chapman, Johnson. 100-yard breast—Kirkpatrick, Thompson. 100-yard back—Robbins. 50-yard sprint—Smith, Witherall. 440-yard swim—Staton, Gearhart, Mizulo. 100-yard sprint—Smith, Gearhart, Witherall, Mizulo. Diving—Johnson, Chapman. 200-yard swim—Smith, Staton. 300-yard medley relay—Robbins, Kirkpatrick, Staton.

UCLA Bruins Baseball Nine To Start Grind

Efficient Hurling Staff Anticipated for '32
Exams and Rainy Weather Cause Delay of First Spring Turnout

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 12.—(Special.)—Held up so far by final examinations and bad weather, baseball practice at Los Angeles will get under way here late this week when Al Montgomery, newly installed coach, gets together all prospective diamond candidates with the exception of those taking part in basketball.

With two strong hurlers in the pitcher's box and a capable catcher behind the plate, the Bruins expect better battery combinations than they have had in recent years and consequently a more efficient ball club. Tom Murphy, lean, lanky junior whose delivery helped to beat Stanford's great Dan Johnson last year, is back in the box along with Bill Winter and Paul Webber, relief men in 1931.

Lou "Bud" Rose, first string varsity basketball center, will report at the end of the current cage series with Southern California on February 20. Rose pitched two no-hit, no-run games in a space of nine days as a senior at Beverly Hills high school three years ago, turned down major league offers, and is regarded as the most promising prospect to report at U. C. L. A. since Montgomery came in 1920. Webber is the only left hander of the lot.

Frankovich to Catch
Behind the bag Montgomery will have Mitchell Frankovich, better known as Mike, all-city catcher at Belmont a few years ago and a strong candidate for the berth vacated by Southern California's Joe Ward as the California Intercollegiate Baseball league's leading backstop. Ralph Koontz, regular last season, and his relief man, Bill Campbell, are also out for the job. Koontz may be shifted to the outfield to utilize his ability with the stick.

At present the infield and outfield are problematical affairs. Capt. Bill Brubaker at third base being the only bona fide regular returning. First base may be occupied by Jimmy Soest or Leonard Wellendorf, all-coast football end,

EMERALD ... of the AIR

"Romany," a 15-minute radio play adapted from a story in the current issue of Liberty magazine, will be presented over Station KORE this afternoon at 4:15 during the Emerald of the Air. The cast includes Margaret Ormandy, Bill Anderson, Hagan Moore, Joe Skinner, and Ethan Newman. Helen Shipworth is directing the play, with the assistance of Margaret Hunt and Martin Geary.

both of whom are still out for basketball. Soest held down the berth part of last season, but is better suited to the outfield. Wellendorf has not been in a baseball uniform since his freshman year. Second base is being applied for by Kiyoshi "Oke" Okura, key sack man part of last season, Bobby Decker, and Gene Hirsch. Although Decker is reporting for the first time in college, he has had considerable experience in sandlot baseball and will be a strong addition to the squad.

Hoopsters Turn Out
Three basketball men, in addition to Billy Gilbert who essayed the part for a time last season, will make a try for short-stop. Joe Berry, Glendale junior college transfer, Duane Stevenson, S. M. J. C. transfer, and Charles Church, sophomore, will don university uniforms for the first time after the current basketball season.

With Al Chamie, Earl Painter, and Ted Dennis on the list of regular outfielders lost by graduation, Montgomery will probably send Soest and Gilbert back to the jobs they filled part of last season. There will be no freshman baseball for the Bruins this year.

John Caswell To Conduct Westminster Discussion
John Edwards Caswell will lead the Westminster Sunday evening forum on the subject, "What Can We Believe About God?" at Westminster house at 6:30. Elaine Untermann will lead the worship service.

The meeting will be centered around the various personal experiences which cause the belief in God. A social half hour with refreshments will begin at 6. Those interested are invited to come.

McDONALD

ENDS TODAY WARNER OLAND in 'Charley Chase Chance'
Tonight's Revival at 11:00
JANET GAYNER
WARNER BAXTER
'DADDY LONG LEGS'

Coming Sunday RUTH CHATTERTON with PAUL LUKAS TOMORROW and TOMORROW

FOX REN

TODAY ONLY You Will Laugh Your Head Off

Summerville Zasu PITT'S THE UNEXPECTED FATHER

LAST TIMES TODAY

'EAST OF BORNEO' ROSE HOBART CHARLES BICKFORD
Matinees at 2 and 4

EMERALD ... of the AIR

"Romany," a 15-minute radio play adapted from a story in the current issue of Liberty magazine, will be presented over Station KORE this afternoon at 4:15 during the Emerald of the Air. The cast includes Margaret Ormandy, Bill Anderson, Hagan Moore, Joe Skinner, and Ethan Newman. Helen Shipworth is directing the play, with the assistance of Margaret Hunt and Martin Geary.

both of whom are still out for basketball. Soest held down the berth part of last season, but is better suited to the outfield. Wellendorf has not been in a baseball uniform since his freshman year. Second base is being applied for by Kiyoshi "Oke" Okura, key sack man part of last season, Bobby Decker, and Gene Hirsch. Although Decker is reporting for the first time in college, he has had considerable experience in sandlot baseball and will be a strong addition to the squad.

Hoopsters Turn Out
Three basketball men, in addition to Billy Gilbert who essayed the part for a time last season, will make a try for short-stop. Joe Berry, Glendale junior college transfer, Duane Stevenson, S. M. J. C. transfer, and Charles Church, sophomore, will don university uniforms for the first time after the current basketball season.

With Al Chamie, Earl Painter, and Ted Dennis on the list of regular outfielders lost by graduation, Montgomery will probably send Soest and Gilbert back to the jobs they filled part of last season. There will be no freshman baseball for the Bruins this year.

John Caswell To Conduct Westminster Discussion
John Edwards Caswell will lead the Westminster Sunday evening forum on the subject, "What Can We Believe About God?" at Westminster house at 6:30. Elaine Untermann will lead the worship service.

The meeting will be centered around the various personal experiences which cause the belief in God. A social half hour with refreshments will begin at 6. Those interested are invited to come.

COLONIAL

SUNDAY Meet the Girls!
And have they "taking" ways ... dunt esk!
ZOE AKINS' Trio of Broadway Gold Girls on the Make!

GIRLS ABOUT TOWN
with KAY FRANCIS JOEL MC CREA LILYAN TASHMAN

Plus "FINN and CADDIE"
SINGING WATERS and NEWS

LAST TIMES TODAY

'EAST OF BORNEO' ROSE HOBART CHARLES BICKFORD
Matinees at 2 and 4