Many Formal Dances Will Be Held Tonight

Fraternity and sorority social activities swing into their climax tonight, with formal dances scheduled by Alpha Omicron Pi, Alpha Phi, Beta Theta Pi, Sigma Kappa, Sigma Alpha Mu, and Delta Tau Delta. Alpha Delta Pi will hold an informal dance at the chapter house.

Alpha Omicron Pi will hold its formal dance at the Eugene hotel. Edith Sinnett is chairman for the affair, and Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Robnett, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Rapp, and Mrs. Lucy Abrams will be patrons and patronesses.

Beta Theta Pi will hold an upper-class formal dinner dance Saturday evening, starting at 8:30. Chaperones are Dr. and Mrs. Clarence Spears, Mr. and Mrs. Hal White, Mr. and Mrs. Nish Chapman, and Dr. and Mrs. Sante Caniparoli.

Geraldine Adkins is chairman in charge of the Sigma Kappa formal dance to be held this evening at the chapter house. Patrons and patronesses include Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Beattie, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Walsh, Mr. and Mrs. Irving Mather, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur B. Stillman, Mrs. Jennie Burrows, Mrs. Louis E. Bean, and Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Roberts.

A "color idea" will feature Delta Tau Delta's formal dance at the chapter house Saturday. Colored floods in unusual angles, colors and designs will be the distinctive feature of the decorations. On the committee are Desmond Hill, Bill Graeper, Harold Holmes, Harold Short and Orville Garrett.

Miniature skyscrapers, lined against colored searchlights, will add a unique motif to Alpha Phi's "Penthouse Idea," formal dance to be held tonight at the chapter house. Clever features will add to the novelty. Mary Dixon is in charge.

The Sigma Alpha Mu chapter house will be the scene of a formal dance tonight, under the direction of Bertram Schatz. Patrons and patronesses are Mr. and Mrs. Russell Cutler, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Lomax, Dr. and Mrs. Harold Noble.

Alpha Delta Pi will hold an informal dance tonight in the chapter house, under the direction of Miss Dorothy Foss. Patrons and patronesses will be Mr. and Mrs. John M. Rae, Mr. and Mrs. Rex Wood, Dr. Philip A. Parsons, Mrs. Lucy Perkins, and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Westerman.

Kappa Delta to Hold Valentine Dance Tonight

A Valentine idea will be the motif for the Kappa Delta informal dance to be given Saturday night. Red candles, big hearts, and similar decorations will carry out the idea. Programs in the shape of a heart, with the Kappa Delta crest, will be used. Patrons and patronesses will be Mrs. Alberta Powell, Dr. and Mrs. Earl M. Pallett, Dr. and Mrs. A. E. Caswell, and Mr. and Mrs. L. K. Shumaker. Miss Freda Stadter is in charge.

"Barristers' Ball"

Weos Lawyers from Books The "Barristers' ball," dance of the law school student body, held the center of the social stage Wednesday evening from 8 until 11 o'clock, as future advocates and attorneys deserted law tomes and whirled to the strains of Abbie Green's orchestra.

The dance was held at the Coconut Grove and was attended by about 65 couples, in addition to faculty members of the school of law. Dave Epps was chairman of the affair.

A trio composed of Don Eva, Billy Sleviers, and George Bishop added to the entertainment.

Colonial Rout To Be Held February 19

Reminiscent of the very successful Christmas Revels is the Colonial Rout, pioneer frolic scheduled for Friday, February 19, to commemorate the bi-centennial of the birth of George Washington.

Informality is the keynote of the affair, and a carefully worked out program of stunts and skits will keep the merriment at its height. Students and faculty members are invited to come and become better acquainted. Costumes are optional and guests may come with or without dates.

Myrtle McDaniels is student chairman for the Rout, and S. Stephenson Smith is faculty chairman. Bob Hall, who acted as general student chairman for the Christmas Revels, has been named general manager.

The scheme of the dance will be far removed from the usual colonial costume ball. All the features of a frontier town frolic will be added, including negro clogging acts, strolling singers, burlesque battles, and a number of similar features.

"Mad Hatter" Banquet Scheduled for February 26

Intriguing in name and idea, the "Mad Hatter's" banquet promises to be one of the most interesting affairs of the month. It will be given Friday evening, February 26, in the dining room of the First Methodist Episcopal church.

Alice and her friends of Wonderland fame will be present, including the March Hare and the Dormouse. Members of the club will take the parts.

The banquet is open to all students and faculty members of the University. Thelma Shuey is chairman and Philip Dale is in charge of ticket sales.

Valentine Dance Held By Three Philomene Groups

With the approach of St. Valentine's day, red hearts and predatory cupids become increasingly popular in decorative themes for social affairs. Three groups of Philomene joined in sponsoring a Valentine dance last night at the Westminster house.

Guests will be Mr. and Mrs. were Woman in her Sphere, Nature Study, and Prose and Poetry, and the committee in charge was composed of the presidents of these groups, Genevieve Dunlop, Ann Evans and Margaret Pollitt.

Patrons and patronesses were Mrs. Alice B. Macduff, Dr. and Mrs. C. L. Schwering, Mrs. Alberta T. Powell, and Mr. and Mrs. Max Adams.

Peter's Lodge Committee Invites Faculty for Breakfast

Peter's lodge, after a long period out of the public eye, will step into the social limelight Sunday morning, when members of the lodge committee will entertain several faculty members at breakfast.

Guests will be Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Robnett, Mr. and Mrs. George Godfrey, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Rosson, Tom Stoddard, and Joan Patterson.

The Peter's lodge committee is composed of Louise Webber, chairman, Helen Binford, Muriel Kolster, Marguerite Tarbell, Edith Peterson, and Jean Failing.

Modernistic Mood Features Pi Kap Informal

Modernism in the most modernistic manner was the motif for the Pi Kappa Alpha informal dance given Friday evening at the chapter house. Doorways and decorations carried out the theme.

Patrons and patronesses were Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Horn, Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Stetson, Mr. and Mrs. John M. Rae, and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne L. Morse.

Sigma Nu Entertains With Formal Dinner Dance

Dinner and formal dance were given last night by Sigma Nu at the Eugene hotel. Francis Cheney, social chairman, arranged the delightful program and the decorations.

Patrons and patronesses were Dr. and Mrs. Clarence W. Spears, Mr. and Mrs. L. K. Shumaker, Mr. and Mrs. George Godfrey.

Beta Theta Pi Hosts At Underclass Dinner Dance

Beta Theta Pi underclassmen were hosts at a semi-formal dinner and dance last night in the chapter house. Tables were decorated with candles and spring flowers.

Patrons and patronesses were

Dr. and Mrs. C. L. Schwering, Mr. and Mrs. Belden Babb, and Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Rosson.

Friendly Hall Men Give Winter Term Dance

Friendly hall held its winter term dance Friday evening in the drawing room of the hall. Howard Petit headed the committee in charge.

Patrons and patronesses were Mr. Eastman Rothwell, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hewitt, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Cutler.

Three Initiates Of Tabard Inn Entertained

Ye Tabard Inn chapter of Sigma Upsilon held an informal gathering Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. G. Thacher, following formal initiation. Edgar Goodnough, John Gross and David Carnahan Williams, the initiates, were guests of honor. Refreshments were served.

Westminster Speakers Are Guests of Freshmen

Freshman group of the Westminster house entertained Thursday evening for the speakers who have taken part in their Sunday morning programs.

Guests were Dr. John J. Landsbury, Mr. Ernest G. Moll, Dr. Donald Erb, and Mr. Karl Thunemann. The program was arranged by Lucile Lowry. Jean Lewis headed the committee which served refreshments.

Susan Campbell, Hendricks Freshmen Slate Pajama Party

Freshman women of Hendricks and Susan Campbell halls will join in a pajama party Tuesday evening at 10 o'clock.

The festivities will start in the recreation room at Susan Campbell, where representatives of both halls will present several skits. The party will then go to Hendricks hall for refreshments.

Foreign Students To Be Guests at Party

American students of the International house will give a party for the foreign residents Sunday evening at the club building.

Aside from the fact that a Valentine motif will prevail, Addison Smith, chairman for the affair, will give no hint as to the program.

Formal Faculty Dinner

A formal dinner was given Wednesday evening at the Kappa Delta house for members of the faculty. Guests present were Mrs. Alice B. Macduff, Mr. S. Stephenson Smith, Mr. Arthur Boardman, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stetson, Dr. and Mrs. F. G. G. Schmidt, Dr. and Mrs. John Gano, Dr. and Mrs. Rudolf Ernst, and Dr. Edmund Kremer.

Hendricks Freshmen Plan Fireside Monday Night

Freshman women of Hendricks hall will entertain the upperclassmen at a fireside party Monday evening at 10:30. Elsie Eschebeck is chairman of the affair. Her assistants are Louise Stein and Marie Kylstra. Refreshments will be served.

Conklin's Subject In Lecture Series To Be Mind Study

Psychological Side of Love And Marriage Slated For Discussion

Dr. Edmund S. Conklin, head of the University psychology department, will address the 150 men and women registered in the "Love and Marriage" series on the "Psychological Aspects of Love and Marriage" at Westminster house Monday evening at 8:15.

This is the third of a series of four lectures opened two weeks ago by Dr. Harold Leonard Bowman, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Portland on the "Christian Ideal of Love and Marriage." Dr. W. K. Livingston, at one time University physician and member of the University medical staff, addressed the men registered in the series, and Mrs. Alto Lewis of the social hygiene lecture service of Portland addressed the women on the "Biological Aspects of Love and Marriage" last week.

"Out of the 150 students registered, I find that every living organization on the campus is represented," stated Max Adams, University pastor.

Hazel P. Schwering, dean of women, and Dean Karl Onthank of the personnel department are acting chairmen of the series.

Dr. Bowman will return to the campus to close the series with an address on "Pre-Marital Problems" a week from this coming Monday. He plans to remain in Eugene for several days for consultation with the students and faculty members.

PAINTINGS ON DISPLAY

The Carl Heilborn exhibit will replace the Schreff exhibit in the little gallery of the school of architecture and allied arts beginning today. Heilborn, who is at present studying at the Chouinard school in Los Angeles, was a former student at the University. He was registered in school from January, 1926, to January, 1929.

The paintings in this collection include works in water color and in etching pencil.

By J. A. NEWTON Oland at MacDonald

Warner Oland as Charlie Chan, the Oriental detective made famous by Earl Derr Bigger's stories in the Saturday Evening Post, turns in his usual fine performance in "Charlie Chan's Chance," which will finish its engagement at the McDonald this evening.

Chan is in New York this time. His excuse is to study the methods of the police force in the big city. A man is found dead, and the doctor is ready to stake his reputation on the fact that death is caused by heart failure. Charlie proves that it isn't heart failure, but murder, and sets out to find the culprit.

He wanders about New York from an ultra-modern pent-house to a chop suey joint in Chinatown; hobnobs with members of an exclusive club and with the most slinking of criminals. The criminal is caught in the pent-house, in case you're interested, but isn't its inmate. Incidentally Charlie has an eleventh child born in his absence, but the call of the criminal trail holds him in New York, even though it is an "honorable son."

Oland is supported by a cast which never fails to bring out a good performance. Marian Nixon, as the masked dancer, and H. E.

Ruth Chatterton in "Tomorrow and Tomorrow" which is coming to the McDonald Sunday for three days.

Warner, as the inspector from Scotland yard, are outstanding among these.

"Tomorrow and Tomorrow," featuring Ruth Chatterton and Paul Lukas is coming to the McDonald Sunday for three days.

Hobart at McDonald

Rose Hobart and Charles Bickford are playing in "East of Borneo," which is showing for the last time today at the Colonial. This thrilling tale of jungles teeming wild animals and pagan love concerns a man and his former wife who re-meet in the center of a jungle where danger lurks on every hand. The throbbing native drums and the covetous eyes of a rajah add color to the action which winds up with a breath taking climax.

"Girls About Town," featuring Loel McCrea and Lilyan Tashman is coming Sunday for two days.

Zasu Pitts at Rex

Zasu Pitts and Slim Summerville

who will be on the campus next Monday and Tuesday.

He will meet with the advisory board of the Y. M. C. A. Tuesday noon at luncheon in the Green Lantern, according to R. B. Porter, secretary of the University "Y."

A supper meeting has been scheduled for Tuesday evening at the Y hut with members of the "Y" cabinet.

Dr. Culver has recently returned from a national convention of the Y. M. C. A.

WHAT ABOUT TAYLOR'S ICE CREAM?

Vital Facts—You Should Know
If You Enjoy Ice Cream

Butterfat Content:
Nourishment and nutritive value in ice cream depends solely on its butterfat content. Ice cream, to be healthful, as well as delicious, must contain this material. Taylor's ice cream has the highest test for butterfat in Eugene, averaging 16%.

Bacteria Count:
Grade A milk is allowed a bacteria count of 50,000, and cream 100,000. Our ice cream is made consistently of grade A milk. The plant is regularly inspected by The Pacific Laboratories. A recent test showed the count to be 47,500.

Year Around Freshness:
In making our ice cream we use nothing but fresh sweet cream the year around. This assures you of the same quality, and taste in the middle of summer, as in the middle of winter. Our ice cream is made fresh every day.

Watch Us Make It ---
Taylor's ice cream is not a commercial product, but is made in our own plant, under rigid restrictions of the State Food and Dairying Department. We'll be glad to show you the complete process.
