Varied Entertainment Lends Color to Colonial Rout

A costume dance that varied the informality of a frontier revel with the gracious formality of a Colonial ball was the Colonial Rout dance given last night at Gerlinger hall in celebration of the bi-centennial anniversary of the birth of George Washington.

Students and faculty turned out for an evening of a new type of entertainment for the Oregon campus, with frontier skirmishes and hilarious tavern scenes offsetting the staid minuets and square dances. Modern dancing, of course, was the principal diversion.

Distinguished Americans of Revolutionary days were presented in a reception on the stage, with Marion McClain playing the leading role, that of Washington himself.

Dance suites played by a chamber music ensemble under the direction of Rex Underwood lent atmosphere to the event, as did Agnes Petzold's singing of English ballads, with a harp accompaniment by Doris Helen Patterson.

Costumes were varied and striking, representing every phase of early American life.

The student committee on the affair was composed of: Myrtle McDaniels, chairman; Bob Hall, business manager; Marian Camp, features; Kermit Stevens, properties; Adrienne Sabin, refreshments; Harriette Chase, secretary; Ethan Newman, orchestra; Rose Simons, music; Geneva Barr, decorations; Emma Bell Stadden, costumes; Jack Bellinger, publicity.

The faculty committee included: S. Stephenson Smith, chairman; Lance Hart, decorations; Russell K. Cutler, athletic stunts; George L. Andriene, lighting; David E. F. Valle, grand marshal; Maude L. Kerns and Marjorie B. Forchmer, costumes.

Thelma Nelson, Sterling Green, Bob Hall and Jeff Howard assisted on the publicity committee. Geneva Barr, Crissie A. Burlingame, Don Confrey, Gene Love, Harvey Welch, and Bernice Ellis assisted on the lighting committee.

Striking Decorations To Feature Dormitory Formal

Calla lilies, silhouetted on large mirrors by colored spotlights, will provide the striking decorative scheme planned for the formal dance in the ball room of the new men's dormitory. Alpha, Sigma, and Omega halls are sponsoring the affair.

Patrons and patronesses will include Dr. Philip A. Parsons, Miss Hilda Swenson, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. G. Thacher, Miss Genevieve Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Kimberling, and Mr. and Mrs. George P. Hopkins.

Charles Stryker is in charge of arrangements for the affair. Features will include Ivy Walkem in an acrobatic dance, Howard Halbert in violin selections, and Miss Patty Starr, three-year-old tap dancer.

Alpha Chi Omega Formal To Feature Grecian Theme

"A Grecian Garden" will be the motif for Alpha Chi Omega's formal dance tonight at the chapter house. Stained glass windows and tall Candelabra will combine with the classic architecture of the building to carry out the idea. Miss Crissie Burlingame is in charge.

Patrons and patronesses will be Dr. and Mrs. R. D. Horn, Mr. and Mrs. Lance Hart, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Callahan, Mrs. Anna Hart, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Bushman.

Kappa Alpha Theta To Have Formal Tonight

Kappa Alpha Theta will decorate its chapter house with palms and spring flowers for its formal dance this evening. Miss Mary Lou Muncy and Miss Marian Camp are in charge of the program, decorations and music, and Miss Laura Drury is arranging for refreshments.

Acting as patrons and patronesses will be Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Rosson, Mrs. Grace Russell, Mrs. Elizabeth Talbert, Dr. and Mrs. Robert H. Seashore, and Mrs. Edward M. Pitt.

Formal Dinner To Precede Dance at Chi Omega Tonight

Chi Omega will give its formal dance this evening at the chapter house, preceded by a formal dinner for the guests and patrons and patronesses.

Patrons and patronesses will be Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Horn, Dr. and Mrs. R. H. Ernst, Mr. and Mrs. Marion McClain, and Miss Florence Thompson.

Phi Sigma Kappa Slates Formal Dance at Osburn Hotel

Phi Sigma Kappa will hold its formal dance tonight at the Osburn hotel. Patrons and patronesses will be Mr. and Mrs. Burt Brown Barker, Dr. and Mrs. C. L. Schwering, Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Caniparoli, and Mr. Louis Artau.

Mrs. Mowry To Entertain At Waffle Supper Sunday

Mrs. Lettie Mowry, chaperon for Delta Zeta, will tomorrow give the third of a series of Sunday evening waffle suppers for chaperons of other sororities.

The guests tomorrow will include Mrs. Elizabeth Talbert, Mrs. W. H. Doane, Mrs. A. L. Wall, Miss Sue Badollet, and Mrs. M. Patrick Barboulet.

Parisian Underworld Scene Planned for Alpha Upsilon Dance

The lowliest of Parisian underworld haunts would be put to shame by the decorative scheme planned by Alpha Upsilon for its informal "Apache Idea" dance to be given this evening. Guests will be in costumes.

Patrons and patronesses will be Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Lomax, Mr. and Mrs. Max McKinney, Mr. and Mrs. Ivan McCollom, and Mr. and Mrs. Eyer Brown.

Winter Sports Theme To Feature Sigma Chi Dance

Skis, skates, snowshoes and other winter-sports paraphernalia will be used to decorate the Sigma Chi house tonight for an informal dance. Ned Kinney is in charge of the event.

Patrons and patronesses will include Mr. and Mrs. Russell Cutler, Dr. E. C. A. Lesch, Mr. and Mrs. John L. Casteel, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Reinhart.

Sigma Pi Tau To Have Dance at Lee Duke's Cafe

Harry Schenk, Cleland Wallinger and Louis Pista form the committee in charge of arrangements for the Sigma Pi Tau informal dance tonight at the Lee Duke cafe.

Dr. and Mrs. W. E. Milne, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Kelly, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Van Loan, and Mr. John Allen will act as patrons and patronesses.

Hendricks Hall Girls Sponsor All-Campus Tea

Another all-campus tea was given Tuesday afternoon by Miss Zona Owen, head resident at Hendricks, in the drawing room of the hall. Mrs. Kenneth Shumaker poured, and Miss Beulah Campbell acted as hostess.

Assisting Miss Campbell were Miss Helen Bellou, Miss Allison Miss Helen Belloni, Miss Alison Huntley, Miss Ethel Reid, Miss Elstein.

Smith Sacrifices His Soup-Strainer For Noble Cause

S. STEPHENSON SMITH proved yesterday that he too can sacrifice for a cause—provided the cause be worthy enough.

The noted associate professor of English last night appeared at the Colonial Rout minus his time-honored facial herbiage—he had sacrificed his moustache in the cause of realism.

"Of course no Colonial gentleman would wear a moustache," he explained when solicitous friends asked if the razor had slipped. "Furthermore, in ten days nobody will know that it was gone."

Hartfiel To Speak In Oratory Meet In Salem Monday

Pre-Law Student Chosen To Represent School in Speech Contest

Tom Hartfiel, a sophomore in pre-law, will be the representative of the University in the "George Washington Oratorical Contest," to be held in Salem on Monday, February 22.

Hartfiel was selected to represent the University after winning the campus tryouts held some time ago. He has chosen as the subject of his oration, "Washington the Courageous."

This meet is one of the many phases of the nation-wide celebration in honor of George Washington during the year of his bi-centennial anniversary.

Congress recently appropriated $1,250,000 to be expended, through a commission appointed by the president, on patriotic fetes and competitions to create a greater interest in this national event.

The state contest is divided into preliminary and final divisions, the former to be held at Willamette college, and the latter in the hall of representatives of the state-house.

The contestants awarded the first five places in the preliminaries will be eligible to compete in the final session to be held during the evening of the same day.

The winner of first place will receive a silver medal and $50 in gold. He will also be the representative of Oregon in the regional contest to be held later, the winner of which will be eligible to compete in the national finals to be held in Washington, D. C. Second and third places will be awarded $30 and $20, respectively.

Walter E. Hempstead, instructor in speech, will accompany Hartfiel to Salem.

of Love and Marriage," and Dr. Edmund S. Conklin on "The Psychological Aspects of Love and Marriage."

Dr. Bowman will, in developing his address Monday night on "Pre-Marital Problems," consider a number of the questions submitted to Mrs. Alto Lewis of the Social Hygiene lecture service of Portland at the close of her address to the women registered in the series.

Of the 150 students registered, every living organization on the campus has been represented. Students who have been active on the committee that has brought about the series are: Otto Vonderheit, chairman of Westminster study groups, and his assistants; Cecil Espy, Leslie Dunton, Alice Redetzke, and Dorothy Morgan.

Dr. Bowman will be available for appointments for private conference with students and faculty members at Westminster house Monday afternoon and Tuesday morning, it was announced by Max Adams, University pastor, yesterday.

By BOB PATTERSON Del Rio at McDonald

The old and the new in exotic Mexico blend pleasingly in the film offering at the McDonald, last times today. The picture is Dolores Del Rio's latest, "Girl of the Rio," and while it cannot be said to be on a level with the star's first two productions it is Norman Foster as the young American, who is infatuated with the dancing girl, steps up to grab the caballero's act, there is an interesting struggle introduced into the plot.

One is never quite sure until the end of the picture which of the two, the Mexican or the American, will prevail, for although the American has the heart of the beautiful Dolores, the Mexican is all-powerful in his native country with the immense prestige his honey has brought him. The strife, though subtle, is evident enough, and shuttles back and forth between them till the very last flicker, when a surprising act of the unfathomable Mexican changes the whole complexion of the situation to a more rosy hue.

A couple of good comedies that succeed in getting a few honest laughs, and a newsreel round out the bill.

Haines at Colonial

"The New Adventures of Get-Rich-Quick Wallingford," featuring William Haines, is showing at the Colonial for the last time today.

A refreshingly new note in talkie fare is struck in "Mother's Millions," which opens at the Colonial Sunday and which gives us all a different slant on life by presenting a story of the romantic and social struggles of folks with too much money.

The picture marks the debut on the talking screen of one of America's best loved stage stars, May Robson, supported by a group of screen favorites that include James Hall, Frances Dade and Lawrence Gray.

As a special feature, the first an evening's entertainment with good characterization and a plot that is fast moving, if rather skimpy.

Old Mexico, somnolent and colorful, is the background for the action, but there is a modern love story between a young American and Dolores as a cabaret dancer, which might as well have been played against a conventional New York City setting. The dialect is just broken enough to give good understanding without losing its realism. Dolores has a couple of good songs that show off her low musical voice.

Leo Carrillo's interpretation of the wealthy playboy caballero is the most enjoyable feature of the picture. He is a gay philanderer, amiable enough until someone gets in his way when he is after something he has set his heart on. In this case Dolores herself is the focus of his attention and when stage appearance of Rush Hughes,

Ann Harding who is starring in "Prestige," which is coming to the McDonald Sunday.

Rogers at Rex

Will Rogers is showing at the Rex today only in "Young as You Feel." "Stepping Sisters," featuring Louise Dresser, Minna Gombell and William Collier is coming to the Rex Sunday. This picture is novel and diverting in dialogue and plot. The story concerns the accidental meeting of three former members of the chorus of a burlesque show. This takes place at the lavish Long Island home of one of the trio who has become a prominent member of society.

Warner Museum Library Receives New Volumes

Three new books, two of which have bearing on the present conditions in the Orient, have been received by the Museum library in Gerlinger hall, according to Rose Robinson, librarian.

The new accessions are: "The Manchuria Year Book for 1931," printed in Tokyo and a gift from the Japanese consulate in Portland; "Far Eastern International Relations," by Morse and MacNair; and "Chinese Garden Architecture," by Edwin Howard. The last named consists of a collection of photographs of minor Chinese buildings, of interest to architecture students in particular.

February Issue Of Law Periodical In Mails Monday

Barnett, Howard Authors Of Articles to Newest Review Edition

The February issue of the Oregon Law Review, quarterly publication of the law school and the state bar association, is now off the press and will be in the hands of Howard E. Green, business manager, for mailing Monday.

James D. Barnett and Charles G. Howard, both members of the faculty, this quarter are the authors of the two articles: the former contributing "The distinction between public and private function in tort liability of municipal corporations in Oregon;" the latter, "The restatement of the law of contracts, with Oregon notes."

The Review contains an editorial by Professor Howard, editor-in-chief, with reference to the service of Oliver Wendell Holmes. It also has printed a communication from James W. Crawford, president of the bar association.

Under the direction of William Kuykendall, student editor-in-chief and under the scrutiny of the school faculty, student contributions again take up a considerable portion of the publication.

Otto J. Frohnmayer, Portland, has prepared the "Note and Comment" department. "Recent Statutes" were reviewed by Charles F. Shimanek, Eugene.

The seven recent case notes worked over for the February number were contributed by William W. Bartle, B. Duval Isaminger, C. F. Shimanek, Thomas T. Chave Jr., Howard E. Green, Urilin S. Page Jr., and Eugene Laird.

Book reviews, "Cases in Insurance," by Guy S. Claire, and "Criminal Justice in England," by Wayne L. Morse complete the issue. Roy L. Herndon is note and comment author; Joseph McKeown, recent case note editor, and Shimanek, book review and statute editor.

Obsidians To Hold Snow Carnival Sunday Morning

Skiing, Snowshoe Races To Be Held For Men and Women

Skiing, tobogganing, and relay races will be the order of the day Sunday, February 21, at Lost Creek ranch on the upper McKenzie highway. The Obsidians are holding their fifth annual winter snow carnival Sunday morning starting at 10 o'clock.

There will be a 12-mile skiing race for men, a downhill skiing race of four miles for men, a snowshoe race for men, and a one-mile ski race for women. Cups and merchandise awards will be given as prizes, and, according to the Obsidians, there are chances for everyone.

The roads are now open, making Lost Creek ranch easily attainable. Lunches may be obtained at the Carnival.

Students are welcome and it is the wish of the Obsidians that many will turn out. All entrants in the races are required to sign up at the shoe department of McMorran and Washburne before Sunday.

She prefers A PIPE (For you)

HER name is Ruth. She's a popular co-ed on a famous campus. Yes, she'll have a cigarette, thank you (and smoke it very prettily). But for you she likes a pipe.

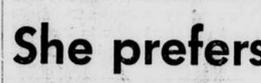

That's one smoke that's still a man's smoke. (And that's why she likes to see YOU smoke a pipe.)

There's something companionable about a pipe. Friendly, cool, mellow... it clears your mind, puts a keen edge on your thinking.

And you sound the depths of true smoking satisfaction when you fill up its bowl with Edgeworth.

There, men, is a REAL smoke. Choice mellow burleys, cut especially for pipes—blended for the man who knows his fine tobaccos. It's cool, dry, satisfying—and you'll find it first in sales, first choice of smokers, in 42 out of 54 leading colleges.

We'd like nothing better than to drop in tonight and toss our own private tin across your study table. But since that can't be, just remember that you can get Edgeworth at your dealer's—or send for free sample if you wish. Address Larus & Bro. Co., 105 S. 22d St., Richmond, Va.
