

Carnival Plans For All-Campus Fest Culminate

Virginia Hancock Gets Chairmanship

Houses Will Erect Booths In McArthur Court for Event on April 9

The first steps were taken last night towards the preparation of an all-campus carnival, to be held April 9, with the appointment of Virginia Hancock as general chairman and announcement of sub-committees to work under her.

Ann Baum, president of the Associated Women students, who made the appointment advised by Ronald Robnett, assistant graduate manager, said that the idea was new to the campus. Similar carnivals have been held upon southern campuses and gave the inspiration for the one which will be backed by the associated students.

Committee Workers Listed

Working under Virginia Hancock will be Kay Briggs, assistant chairman; Margaret Compton, secretary; Myrtle McDaniels and Muriel Kolster, boothers; Esther Hayden and Madeleine Gilbert, publicity; Helen Burns, dancing; Bobbie Bequeth, tickets; Lucile Kraus, finance; Charlotte Ellridge, feature; Mary Lou Patrick, decorations; Margaret Hunt, food raffling; and Gwen Elmsmore, clean-up.

McArthur court, chosen as site for the event, will be completely bedecked with carnival paraphernalia on that week-end, which will be closed to other dances. The affair will be no-dance, with the entire campus participating in making it successful.

Booths to be Constructed
According to present plans, the construction of the booths, peculiar to carnivals, will be allotted to various living organizations. The sale of novelties, food, etc., at these stands will be entirely under their supervision.

A limited expense account will be given each group to insure uniform and fair operation. A campus orchestra will be secured and jitney dances will further lend to the carnival air.

Indian National Movement To Be Topic of Mr. Porter

"The National Movement in India" will be the subject of a talk by R. B. Porter, secretary of the University Y. M. C. A., tomorrow night at 8 o'clock at the International house before an open meeting of the International Relations club.

Mr. Porter spent five years in India and has given a number of speeches before churches and other groups since his return three years ago.

INDIAN COACH ILL

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, March 1—(Special)—R. L. (Dink) Templeton, Stanford track and field coach, who has been confined to bed with acute arthritis since November 8, is now being treated in a San Francisco hospital. It is not expected that Templeton will be able to do any active coaching this year.

No Study Tables For Frosh Going To AWS Program

ALL freshmen in living organizations on the campus will be excused from study tables in order that they may attend the A. W. S. stage show and movie, "The Gay Diplomat" to be shown tonight at the Colonial theatre, it was decided by heads of houses yesterday.

The campus vod-vil performance will be presented at 8:45, and will consist of a short fantasy, "Ashes of Roses," tap dancing, by Louise Marvin, singing by Sally Adleman, and the Phi Mu trio.

Similar movies and stage attractions will be sponsored regularly by the Associated Women Students during spring term, it was announced by Ann Baum, president.

Mimnaugh Warns Frosh To Redon Their Green Lids

ALL freshmen are warned by Brian Mimnaugh, president of the associated students, to take their green lids out of the moth balls and start wearing them, inasmuch as all tradition violators will be checked, beginning today, pending the establishment of a new plan for enforcing traditions.

Election of YWCA Cabinet Officers To Begin at 9 a. m.

This Vote Will Also Elect Upper Commission Officers

Nominees for officers of the Upperclass commission are as follows: Evelyn Kennedy and Emma Bell Stadden. Vice-president: Lois Greenwood and Geraldine Hickson. Secretary and treasurer: Marigold Hardison and Cynthia Liljequist.

Only individuals who have signed membership cards this school year may vote in these elections. Election returns will be announced tomorrow and students are requested not to call the bungalow for results before then.

Doctor Noble Will Speak At Cottage Grove Monday

Harold J. Noble, assistant professor of history, will speak at Cottage Grove next Monday evening, March 7, on American Commitments in the Far East.

This is the first of a series of lectures to be given at Cottage Grove by members of the University faculty, on a community program arranged by a number of organizations in that town. The lecture will be given in the high school building.

Frosh Natators To Hold Closing Banquet Tonight

Members of the frosh swimming team will gather at the Anchorage tonight at 6:30 for a post-season conclave and banquet, according to Jack Hewitt, coach of the natators.

Honorary captains of swimming and of water polo for the recently completed swimming season will be named. Speeches and the awarding of numerals will also be on the program. Willie Paul, star of the Duckling squad, will be chairman.

Frosh To Hold Class Meeting Thursday at 5

Action on Proposed N. S. F. A. Amendment Up

Nomination of Treasurer, Frosh Glee Chairman Also Listed

Freshman class activities will swing under way tomorrow evening when the first class meeting of the term will be held. The time will be 5:00 p. m. and the place will be announced in tomorrow's Emerald, according to Howard Steib, president of the class.

Action will be taken on the proposed amendment to the student body constitution regarding freshman class elections offered by the N. S. F. A. committee under the leadership of Robert Hall, president of the body. A resolution will be presented advocating the endorsement of the amendment.

Steib Backs Plan
Steib, himself, heartily approved of the plan in a statement last night.

"I believe that the plan advanced by Mr. Hall and his fellow committeemen represents a step forward in the elimination of the 'racketeering' tendencies in student body and class elections.

"The amendment will receive my

Washington State Women Debaters Win Over Oregon

Wells, of Oregon State, Is Judge for Contest; Explains Verdict

The Washington State college women's team won the decision over the Oregon co-eds in a hotly contested debate last night.

The question discussed was: "Resolved, That the divorce laws of the state of Nevada should be condemned." Oregon maintained the affirmative case.

Debaters Named
The Washington representatives were De Lora Weber and Constance Kerwin, both debaters of experience. Bernice Conoly and Geraldine Hickson defended the Oregon side.

Earl Wells, assistant professor of speech at Oregon State college, awarded the decision at the conclusion of the contest, after first explaining how he had arrived at the verdict.

Decision Explained
He claimed that he was fully convinced by the Oregon speakers that the divorce laws of the state of Nevada were designed for commercial purposes. He discounted the objection of the negative to

Welfare Director Talks To Westminster Cabinet

Relation of Gospel To Present Problems Explained

Dr. Joseph A. Stevenson, general director of the department of moral welfare of the Board of Christian Education of America, has been a guest at Westminster house for the past two days.

Tuesday evening he spoke to a group of Westminster cabinet members and explained the vital connection of the Gospel has toward solving the present day problems. Yesterday he addressed a special University high school assembly.

The department of the Presbyterian church which Dr. Stevenson heads is organized for the promotion of international friendship and world peace, law enforcement and prohibition, social and sex hygiene, and narcotics traffic suppression. The department gathers and organizes dependable information on social and moral problems through its research bureau. It cooperates with nearly fifty organizations with similar aims.

110th Anniversary of Birth Of Thos. Condon Tomorrow

Campus Not To Observe Day Honoring Famed Pioneer Geologist

Tomorrow marks the 110th anniversary of the birth of Thomas Condon, pioneer geologist of Oregon and member of the first faculty of the University, to whom Condon hall is dedicated. No special campus observance of the day will be held.

Dr. Condon, well remembered by older members of the present faculty, taught here for 30 years and was an outstanding geologist of his time. He was born in Ireland on March 3, 1822 and died in Eugene February 11, 1907. On the campus he was instrumental in putting the University on a sound financial basis when it was first established. His fine collection of fossils taken from Oregon beds is now in the possession of the school.

One of the first celebrations of Dr. Condon's birthday was a special assembly at the University in 1900 when the faculty presented him with a fine Morris chair of oak, and the students gave a gold-ink stand.

Besides Condon hall, a geology club for men on the campus is the Condon club, and two great oak trees north of Villard hall are the Condon oaks; all named in honor of Oregon's pioneer geologist.

Personnel Head Of Union Pacific To Address AWS

Miss Lobdell Will Discuss Women's Vocational Opportunities

Avis Lobdell, director of women's personnel and public relations for the Union Pacific system, will speak to the mass meeting of the Associated Women students tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock in Alumni hall, Gerlinger building, on the subject of "Vocational Opportunities in Personnel Work for Women."

Miss Lobdell was the first woman to do welfare work on any railroad in the country. She was formerly a journalist in Portland and was press agent for the Portland Orpheum theatre. She has spoken here on three different occasions and appeared as speaker for the first All Commerce day, sponsored by the school of business administration.

She will arrive at 12:30 tomorrow morning and will be met by the vocational guidance committee composed of Jean Failing, Edith Peterson, and Ann Baum. Miss Lobdell will be entertained at lunch by the women's business administration honorary, and at 2 o'clock will be taken over the campus.

At 3 o'clock she will be available for interviews in the dean of women's office. Following the mass meeting Miss Lobdell will have tea with members of the executive council of the Associated Women students.

Difference of Opinion Shown by Contest Votes

Winner To Be Model at Fashion Hop; Tickets Going Fast

"Two minds with but a single thought" doesn't apply to all Oregon students when it comes to selecting the Rollin girl's double. Until late last night no co-ed's name had been submitted more than once.

The Gamma Alpha Chi contest to find the girl looking the most like the well-known hosiery model closes Thursday noon, when the final ballots will be taken from the box in the old library and given to the three judges.

Between that time and the fashion dance at Cocoanut Grove Saturday night, all the contestants will appear before Mrs. Alice B. Macduff, Mrs. Spencer Collins, and W. F. G. Thacher, who are to make the final selection. The name of the winner will be kept a secret until the style show, when she is to appear as one of the models.

Names of contestants may be phoned in to Mary Lou Patrick chairman of the contest, at the Kappa Kappa Gamma house or submitted on the ballot in the Emerald.

Double Checks Trounce Whoopsters in WAA Meet

All four of the W. A. A. basketball tournament teams played yesterday. The Double Checks beat the Whoopsters 26 to 15, and the Double N's took the Rubberlegs, 23 to 17.

This afternoon at 4 o'clock the Whoopsters and Double Checks will play the third game of the tournament.

School Heads Meet in Salem On Curriculum

Presidents Kerr and Hall Present Arguments

Recommended Changes To Go Before Education Board Monday

SALEM, March 1.—(Special)—The curriculum committee of the state board of higher education was here in session here at a late hour tonight, hearing the opinions of Dr. Arnold Bennett Hall, president of the University, and Dr. W. J. Kerr, president of Oregon State college, on possible changes and consolidation of courses for the two schools.

Final recommendations of the curriculum committee will be submitted to the board for action at its meeting next Monday. C. C. Colt, of Portland; Cornelia Marvin Pierce, LaGrande; and F. E. Callister, Albany, comprising the curriculum committee, have spent the past few weeks seeking reductions in expenditures through possible elimination of courses at the schools and combination of departments between Eugene and Corvallis.

Dr. Hall left the campus yesterday noon for Salem, and had not returned to Eugene as the

Program Given For Dual State Commerce Meet

Chamber of Commerce Officials To Gather Here March 21

Further details for the twelfth annual conference of the Oregon-Washington chamber of commerce secretaries were released last night by David E. Faville, dean of the school of business administration.

Speeches that have been added to the program to be staged on the Oregon campus March 21, 22, 23 are those of W. D. E. Dodson, of Portland, on the development of industries; and that of L. P. Sabin, Pull Us Out of the Depression?"

The subject of the speech to be presented by Philip A. Parsons, dean of the school of sociology, has been definitely announced as, "A State Program of Community Service."

The Christy Thomas cup will be awarded at the luncheon Wednesday, March 23.

The trophy is awarded by Christy Thomas, manager of the Seattle chamber of commerce, to the chamber secretary who presents the best paper on some phase of chamber of commerce work.

The papers this year will treat particularly with the function of chamber committees in the organization.

Any secretary, paid or unpaid, is eligible to compete. Papers must be handed in by noon, March 21, at room 105, Commerce.

Accommodations for visiting secretaries may be had at Zeta hall, a section of the new men's dormitory at reasonable rates, beginning Sunday, March 20. Special rooms are available for secretaries' wives.

Obsidian Shelf at Library Gets Pamphlet by Hodge

Twelve copies of a magazine-sized pamphlet on "Mount Multnomah, Ancient Ancestor of the Three Sisters" by Edwin T. Hodge, professor of economic geology in the University, have been placed on the Obsidian shelf at the library.

The pamphlet was printed by the University of Oregon in 1925. Numerous photographs and diagrams accompany the printed material.

But the Fascists haven't a chance. Anything they start is bound to be a fight to the finish.

Prophetically,
WEBFOOT CHARLEY.

Attend Assembly (EDITORIAL)

THE CAMPUS' greatest chance to revive a lagging school spirit is at hand this afternoon. Each student's biggest opportunity to learn the inner workings of campus politics and student government is here.

A student body assembly at 4:30 this afternoon in Villard hall will for the first time tackle in open forum actual campus and student government problems. Every student who feels the slightest sense of his or her partnership in the A. S. U. O. owes it to himself to be present and enter into the discussion.

The question will be a live one—house line-ups in spring term campus student body elections. Both sides of the question will be presented, and open discussion then invited from the floor.

Women have announced that their living organizations will keep out of party line-ups this spring. Whether or not they can steer their course is a matter of vital interest to every student.

"If the campus wants good student government," says Brian Mimnaugh, president of the A. S. U. O., "it must back the student administration. The reception accorded the discussion today will spell victory or defeat for our plans for an awakened, active, cooperating student body." Read that statement carefully. Today's assembly is a great chance for the A. S. U. O. to forge ahead.

ATTEND THE ASSEMBLY!

Music Program Sunday Afternoon Proves Pleasing

By JACK BAUER
The best performance since Verdi's "Requiem," sung last spring, was given Sunday afternoon in the music auditorium by the University Polyphonic chorus and the University orchestra, directed by Arthur Boardman. Kenneth Roduner, tenor; Grace Burnett, soprano; and Agnes Petzold, mezzo-soprano, were the featured soloists. Rose Simons, contralto, was too ill to appear. Miss Petzold was hastily substituted.

The balance between the choir of 40 voices and the orchestra of 65 pieces was admirable. Supporting the soloists, both choir and orchestra performed nicely. The soprano and tenor solo voices were not heavy, however. The musician-ship of all three merits the highest praise.

The "Requiem," of course, offered

HALL PASSES M. S. EXAM

Frank Hall, graduate student in architecture, last week passed his preliminary examination for a master of science degree. Clair Meisel, University wrestling coach, will take a similar examination Friday.

Peggy Sweeney, also a junior music major, is a student of Rex Underwood, professor of violin in the school of music.

Edna Whitmer will accompany Miss Sweeney.

Whitesmith Stresses Need For Leadership in Y Speech

The opportunity and demand for intelligent leadership in the American society of today was pointed out by the Rev. Ernest M. Whitesmith, pastor of the Unitarian church of Eugene, in an address on "The Educated Man's Duty in an Industrial Society," last night at the Y hut at a meeting of the University division of the League for Industrial Democracy.

Mr. Whitesmith declared that it was time for educated people to take advantage of the present situation and establish themselves in power. He pointed out that the reason most of the so-called radical and progressive movements never accomplish anything is because "they merely chase themselves around in circles.

"The United States needs a type

Spring Political Tactics Hang In Balance Today

Student Body Assembly May Be Determinate

All-Campus Meet at 4:30 This Afternoon Vital, Says Mimnaugh

The uncertain course of campus politics during spring term will be swayed to a large extent by the results of the student body assembly called for this afternoon at 4:30 in Villard hall, is the belief expressed last night by Brian Mimnaugh, president of the A. S. U. O.

"Will the houses line up for political tickets or not?" That is the question slated to undergo a free-for-all argument this afternoon. With political rumors and nebulous "line-ups" already an unrecurrent of discussion everywhere on the campus, Mimnaugh declared that every living group should be deeply enough affected by the outcome of this afternoon's gathering to warrant the sending of a strong delegation to Villard hall.

Hedges, Potwin to Speak
Janice Hedges, upholding the recent decision of the heads of houses to keep out of party line-ups, will take the floor in a brief statement of her case. She will be followed by Art Potwin, who will point out the risks of abandoning a system of open, clearly defined house line-ups, for a system which might allow free access to under-cover political machines. Each will speak for seven minutes.

Mimnaugh will himself present the subject and open the verbal pyrotechnics. Following the arguments, the meeting will be thrown open to free discussion from the floor. Speeches will be limited to three minutes.

Discussion Results Vital
"I expect plenty of fireworks," Mimnaugh admitted. "It must be remembered, however, that the question is not one of party line-ups, but of house line-ups, and

Student Musical Program To Feature Violin, Piano

Jane Kanzler, pianist, and Peggy Sweeney, violinist, are to appear on the second student program of the week at the Music auditorium Thursday evening at 8.

Miss Sweeney was to have been presented on the program last night, but due to unforeseen incidents her part was postponed until Thursday. In her place Gene Love, basso, and Brandon Young, harpist, were presented. Freda Stadter, pianist, was presented on this program also, as slated.

Jane Kanzler is a junior in the school of music, and studies with George Hopkins, professor of piano in the school of music.

Peggy Sweeney, also a junior music major, is a student of Rex Underwood, professor of violin in the school of music.

Edna Whitmer will accompany Miss Sweeney.
