

Entrance List In Polyphonic Contests Open

Living Groups To Enter Quartets, Sextets

Cups Now Held by Yeomen And Hendricks Hall To Be Displayed

Registration for the 1932 Polyphonic contest trophies is now in progress, George Barron, president of the board of directors, announced last night.

Liberal interpretation of the rules governing competition for the two 30-inch silver Polyphonic trophies was decided on yesterday by the board of directors of the University Polyphonic choirs, Barron revealed.

The permanent board of governors concurred in the decision. This board includes the dean of the school of music, Dr. John J. Landsbury, the head of the voice department, Arthur Boardman, and the head of the public school music department, Mrs. Anne Landsbury Beck. The numbers to be sung this year were announced Saturday. Registration is now open.

The rules provide that women's organizations competing shall name six singers and three alternates, and the men's organizations shall name four singers and four alternates. The contest will be held in April.

The board of directors has decided that the requirement of registration of alternates need not be strictly enforced. Of course, Barron pointed out, no one who is not registered will be permitted to take part in the contest. Accompanists need not be registered, and need not be members of the organization competing, although it is best that they should be, he said.

The accompanist, however, may not coach the contesting groups during their performance. Any member of the school of music faculty may be obtained to coach any

Women Will Call For Dance Dates To Leap Year Hop

CO-EDS! Dust off your campus crates, Rolls Royces, or size sixes, for Saturday night you'll be ringing fraternity doorbells.

In keeping with the leap year idea for the Gamma Alpha Chi fashion dance, Harriette Hoffmann, president, decrees that all women must call for their dates and escort them to the hop in royal style. No expense must be spared, she says, to make this affair the biggest and best treat for Oregon men.

group of entrants, the arrangements of the coaching to be determined by the particular group and the coach.

The restrictions on the contestants are slight, Barron concluded. The songs, listed Saturday, are not difficult. The third number to be sung by the men will be without accompaniment, but it is not hard, Barron pointed out. The Oregon Yeomen, who won last year's cup contest, were represented by four untrained voices, but their harmony won the judge's vote. Barron expects a large registration this week.

DANCE DISKS

Recent Records Reviewed
By LARRY FISCHER

Just Friends
Oh! What a Thrill
Jack Denny and his orchestra.

Mr. Lucky Strike's favorite orchestra comes forth from Montreal and puts out two of the season's best numbers on one of the season's best records. "Just Friends" needs no comment, and if you have heard Jack Denny, he needs none, either. But this arrangement deserves quite a bit of it, and favorable, too. Soft, slow rhythm puts you in a receptive and—may we say—sentimental mood, which should be ideal for dancing and for midnight bull-sessions. The piano work near the end of the record is very outstanding, and usually calls for an encore. You'll like this one. The other side is no less attractive. It is a little faster, but still with the good ol' sentimental quality, helped quite a bit by the vocalist, whose name doesn't appear on the record. Lots of good trumpet work features this side, but doesn't draw from the abilities of the rest of the band. This record, on the whole, inspires us to say, "More records from Jack Denny!" And, to answer our cry, out comes another one, which we review tomorrow, which features two tunes featured on the Lucky Strike hour.

Address On China To Be Given Here By Koo March 10

Reports coming to the University from dozens of colleges and universities in the East regarding the work of Dr. T. Z. Koo, associate general secretary of the World's Christian Student federation, reveal the dynamic influence of his oratorical abilities and personality. It is stated by authorities here.

He is scheduled to speak here at an all-University assembly on the morning of March 10, on "The New Renaissance in China."

From Dartmouth college comes the comment, "It is hardly necessary to say how thoroughly delightful and challenging it was to have Dr. Koo with us. His address on Manchuria and world peace was a keen and penetrating analysis which closed with a challenging plea to back up the agencies of peace with a deep spiritual vitality."

From Cornell university, Ithaca, New York, "His visit has gone wonderfully—full houses and every one enthusiastic." Many have said his was the finest address they have ever heard.

Then from Vanderbilt university, Nashville, Tennessee, come the comments of Dr. Koo's visit, "All in all it was a remarkable day for us here. Every one who heard Dr. Koo said it was one of the most unique addresses he had ever heard."

Dr. Koo is a graduate of St. John's university, Shanghai, and a recognized scholar of unusual attainment. His early work was with the Chinese government railway. In recent years he returned to formal Christian service.

On his tours, Dr. Koo has spoken with considerable authority on the subject of Chinese students. He has maintained that the educated youth in his native country are a group to be reckoned with in international affairs, and that they truly represent the spirit of the Chinese people.

Display of Travel Books Featured at High Hat Libe

Why not travel by book in these days of depression? Thus Miss Nancy Roberts of the Co-op book balcony called attention to the display of books on travel in one of the Co-op windows.

A few of the books and their authors are: "The Sea Devil's Fo'c'sle" and "With Lawrence in Arabia," by Lowell Thomas; "The Log of the Sun," "Jungle Days," and "Edge of the Jungle," by Carveth Wells; "Mexico," by Stuart Chase; and "Pechuck," by Richard G. Montgomery.

"Pechuck" is the story of the life and adventures in the arctic of Lorne Knight, a native of Hillsboro, Oregon. The author, Richard G. Montgomery, is the grandson of J. K. Gill, founder of the stationery store in Portland which bears his name. Montgomery is now advertising and employment manager of Gill's.

Campus May Visit 'Lure of Music' Class at 9 Today

ANOTHER open meeting of the "Lure of Music" class will be held this morning at 9 a. m. in the music auditorium. Everyone on the campus is invited to hear the special lecture which George Hopkins will give.

"Unity and Composition in Music" is the designation of the lecture which Hopkins, head of the piano department of the school of music, will illustrate on the piano as he talks.

Visitors are asked to sit in the rear of the auditorium, as the front portion is reserved for students enrolled in the course.

Bank Management Class To Inspect First National

Practical Viewpoint of Various Departments To Be Gained

The class in bank management under Daniel D. Gage, associate professor in business administration, will visit the First National bank tomorrow morning in an effort to get a practical viewpoint of the workings of the various departments.

Particular attention will be paid to the trust department, a section of the bank little known to the average man, according to Professor Gage. The class will be conducted through the department by Rogers W. Kimberling of the First National, who will give the class the instruction concerning the operation while on the grounds.

The class is conducted as a follow-up to the course offered by James H. Gilbert, dean of the college, in money, banking and crises, presenting the practical aspects of the situation.

Eight members of the class will make the trip.

TALKIE TOPICS

Rex—"The Big Gamble," featuring Bill Boyd. Showing today and Thursday.

Heilig—"Forbidden," featuring Barbara Stanwyck. Showing till Saturday.

State—"Soul of the Slums," and vaudeville acts. Showing till Saturday.

Colonial—"Mata Hari," starring Greta Garbo and Ramon Novarro. Showing till Saturday.

McDonald—"Beast of the City," with Jean Harlow and Walter Huston. Showing for the last time today.

Huston at McDonald

By J. A. NEWTON
"The Beast of the City" is powerful propaganda against modern crime. The final fade-out packs a wallop that'll snap you to attention and make you realize that present-day technicalities of law can only be overcome by meeting the criminal on his own ground and using his own methods.

Walter Huston as the Irish and modest police officer who determines to "clean up this town" but is hindered by legal tricks, takes the picture. His part is the biggest, and he does his acting in the biggest way. Jean Harlow's part is small but well-done. It's so well done that you dislike her, or rather the character she portrays. But who can deny that she is decorative?

By dint of sheer determination and Irish stick-to-it-iveness Huston as Fitzpatrick wins place of chief of police, and becomes a nuisance to public nuisances. His brother, also of the force, becomes involved with the blond who is in the pay of the racketeer, done by Jean Hersholt, and eventually with the gang.

"The Passionate Plumber" is the title of the picture with many funny circumstances which is coming to the McDonald for two days. Buster Keaton, Polly Moran and Jimmy Durante are the leads.

Garbo at Colonial

Weird dance rituals to pagan gods, international intrigue, unbridled passions, romance and the certain doom of a firing squad. All these things go to make up the glamorous story of "Mata Hari," showing at the Colonial till Saturday as the auspicious co-starring debut of Greta Garbo and Ramon Novarro.

The plot depicts the engrossing career of the fascinating Mata Hari, whose beauty and glamour as a dancer enables her to win her way into the confidence of Allied officers and thus to furnish the enemy forces with strategic war plans. When she finally falls in love with one of the many men whom she has betrayed, it is too late and she is forced to face a firing squad.

Faculty Film Review

A frenzied beating of native drums, torches describing wild vivid arcs through the air, the graceful movements of a dancer—then without warning, guns bark, swords clash and the enemy raids the town. This is a glimpse into the heart of the "The White Devil," Faculty club film which is showing at the Colonial this afternoon.

Lil Dagover, Ivan Moskoukine, Betty Amann, and Fritz Albert, all continental stars, have the leading roles in this fine picturization of a thrilling tale of war, loyalty and love. Filmed in the upper regions of the Alps, the picture has a wealth of beautiful settings.

The actresses too are very easy to gaze upon, and Ivan Moskoukine is especially handsome. Dashing Cossacks, white-clad soldiers, and bespangled generals lend a color and richness to the picture which is neither lavish nor garish. Acting is exceptionally well executed, intense feeling is expressed in a simple but forceful manner. Naturalness plays a big part in the success of the actors. Tragedy, comedy, melodrama, and action are all presented each in its own way, some in the foreground, some in the rear, but all blended into a harmonious whole.

Musical scores are appropriate and supplement the dialogue in many places. The singing by the Don Cossack choir is good.

Vaudeville at State

Meredith and Snoozer Jr. are headlined in the four acts of vaudeville which are showing at the State theatre for the remainder of the week. "Rampant Age," starring Minna Kennedy, is showing in conjunction with the stage presentation, which incidentally is the only one of its kind offered at any of the Eugene theatres.

Bill Boyd at Rex

"The Big Gamble," starring Bill Boyd in the leading role, is showing at the Rex for the next two days.

MASONS TO HEAR DUNN

Frederic S. Dunn, chairman of the Latin department, will give an address at a "pot luck" dinner sponsored by the McKenzie River lodge at the Masonic temple tonight. His topic will be "Catholic Saint With a Protestant Moral."

Spring Term

Monday, March 28, and Monday, April 4, are the enrollment days for the Spring Term at the Eugene Business College. Special attention will be given to shorthand, typing, bookkeeping, and accounting.
