Sunshine Is Real Boon to Ball-Tossers

Pitchers Have Initial Work-Out

Reinhart Twirls to Boys With Varying Luck; Mimnaugh Homes

By BOB RIDDLE

Real baseball weather for the past few days has allowed Bill Reinhart and his varsity ball crew an opportunity to discover just what type of material is on hand. Pitching candidates, who have been gradually warming up, are now taking regular turns on the mound, and the position, doubtful at first, begins to look as though it might be adequately filled. If the number of applicants for the job means anything Bill should have few worries.

Yesterday's drill was well-rounded, including fly-catching, hitting, infield practice, and pitching. Four pitchers toiled on the mound. McKelligan, a sophomore hurler, started the parade, and lasted for a short while when Watkins was called upon, faring little better against first squad sluggers. Bryant, a right-hander with a world of stuff, showed the best form. He fanned five in a row and allowed only pop-ups to the remaining men.

Reinhart took a try at chucking himself for a short while, and his old "floater" was baffling the boys with great success until Mike Mikulak swung wildly at an outside pitch and hit the fence in far left field. This rather rattled poor Bill and after four straight hits he was forced to go the way of all flesh. He was heard to say as he walked off the field that this must be his off day.

Several long hits featured Monday's practice. Brian Mimnaugh, outfielder, collected the longest of the day when he cleared the right-field fence by three feet. Potter, Shaneman, Stevens, and Horner all connected with several clean hits.

The positions on the first team were filled by McCall, first base; Londahl, second base; Stevens, short-stop; Mikulak, third base; Potter, left field; Palmer, center field; and Chatterton, right field. Chester, veteran first-sacker, is alternating with McCall afield to keep in condition while his injured foot heals.

R. T. Oliver Has Article Published in Journal

Robert T. Oliver, graduate assistant in the speech division, has been placing articles on speech in various magazines, and on March 20 in the magazine section of the Oregon Journal his "In the Hobo Jungles" appeared.

In the quarterly Journal of Speech Education Oliver placed an article on "Training for Conversational Speaking," and "Growth of Interest in Conversation; a Bibliography." The same magazine has asked Oliver to prepare an article on "Christ as a Public Speaker."

In the American Speech magazine, Oliver's article on "Jungles," the jargon of the hobo, appeared.

The Texas "Rah! Rah! Boys"; Prospects Good at Oregon

By DICK NEUBERGER

MAJOR league baseball today. The Washington Senators and the Boston Red Sox staged the prologue before the President and Mrs. Hoover yesterday, but the big pennant jamboree doesn't start officially until this afternoon when all teams in both the National and American leagues go into action. Among those seeking regular positions for the first time will be our old friend from Oregon State college, Long Ed Coleman, trying to displace Bing Miller in the outfield of the Philadelphia Athletics. That's a large-sized assignment for any young man, but thus far Ed has done remarkably well. He already has shown to Papa Mack's satisfaction that his bat is far lustier than Bing's ever was, and his fielding Mike Mikulak has been lively enough to prove to everyone that the veteran Miller doesn't shade him very much in that department.

There will not be so many college boys trying out for positions this year, largely because of the economy program that has forced every club to reduce its playing squad materially. Strangely enough, the lad regarded as the outstanding college prospect in almost a decade is still doing business in the University of Texas infield. He is Capt. Ray Ater of that club, whose big bat has functioned so effectively against major league pitching that already more than half the managers in the big leagues are trying to attach strings to him.

Against the Chicago White Sox the other day, with Ted Lyons himself on the mound, Ater bopped out two home runs and a brace of singles. His work against other major league pitchers has been equally as sensational. Jack O'Brien, assistant football coach and head freshmen baseball coach here, tells me the University of Texas is the center of college baseball in the United States. The Longhorns always have a team of almost AA caliber, says Jack.

Speaking of college baseball teams, Oregon isn't going to have such a bad outfit itself this spring. Given any break in the pitching, the Webfoots will go a long way toward the northern division championship. A veteran infield is on hand with Duke Shaneman, Captain Johnny Londahl, Cliff Potter, Kermit Stevens and Leland Chester all back. Brian Mimnaugh and Omar (Slug) Palmer are back to patrol the outer gardens.

In addition to these lads there are three or four outstanding newcomers in Mike Mikulak, Chip Chatterton, Mickey Vail, Coop Cupporetto and Bud Pozzo. As soon as he can show Bill Reinhart that his footwork is as nimble as his bat is lusty, Mikulak probably will command a regular position.

Oregon will hit hard this year. That much is apparent. Shaneman, Londahl, Stevens, Mimnaugh and Mikulak all should clout above the .300 mark. There are no major league scouts up this way, but there may be a Capt. Ray Ater among that bunch. You never can tell. Incidentally, the fence-busting Ray plays shortstop.

The metropolitan sports-writers called the Texas team the "Rah! Rah! Boys" the first trip out. But after seeing them play once, they changed their attitude from one of derision to admiration. The college lads actually made the major leaguers look rather foolish in several exhibition contests.

Colonel Bill Hayward has been confined to his home with a bad cold the last four or five days. He just got out of bed yesterday, but was so weak from his illness that he was in his office at McArthur court only a short time. The court doesn't seem the same when Colonel Bill isn't around.

Mike Mikulak says all persons who want enlarged copies of the pictures taken at the farewell banquet for Doc Spears can order them from him at the Pi Kappa Alpha house. They are 50 cents each. The members of the coaching staff who were there—Prink Callison, Jack O'Brien, Bill Reinhart, Johnny Kitzmiller, and Colonel Hayward—already have signified their intentions of getting copies.

Spring football is moving along nicely. The hot weather has speeded the boys up rather than slowed them down. If the weather and the size of the turnouts permit, Prink Callison hopes to play the first practice game by Friday afternoon.

See where Ben Eastman cracked another record last week—the 880-yard run this time. They can't hold down that boy. Wonder if an 11th hour telephone call from Dink Templeton spurred on Ben as it did when he shattered the 440 mark?

The University of Southern California is doing its customary complaining over football prospects. You can't take the Trojans seriously, however. They did the same thing last year, which certainly ought to indicate they might be hollering "Wolf!" this time.

Senate Will Probe Board's Activities

WASHINGTON, April 11—(AP)—The story of how the farm board spent and loaned most of the $500,000 given it by congress was promised today by the senate as it voted for a complete investigation of the board's activities.

Along with that, however, it agreed to go thoroughly into the operations of the cotton and grain exchanges whose members generally have been opponents and critics of the board.

The inquiries were provided in a resolution, by Senator Norris (R., Neb.), which went through without a record vote. No time was set for the inquiry to begin.

The resolution asked that the investigation, which will probably be made by an agriculture subcommittee headed by Norris, to determine whether stabilization operations could not have been performed better by cooperatives than the stabilization organizations set up by the board.

Colonel Pillow To Visit Military Department

Colonel Jerome G. Pillow, R. O. T. C. officer from the 9th corps area headquarters at San Francisco, will be in Eugene to make the annual administrative inspection of the local unit on April 20, according to Major F. A. Barker of the military department.

Colonel Pillow will arrive in the morning and will stay here until about noon when he will leave for Corvallis to inspect the unit at Oregon State.

Donut Tennis, Golf Complete Starting Play

Friendly Hall Wins Lone Divot Digging Tilt

Phi Delt, SPE, Beta, and Yeomen Win in First Of Net Matches

TODAY'S DONUT SCHEDULE

Tennis
 4 P. M.
 Alpha hall vs. SAM
 Friendly hall vs. Phi Psi
 5 P. M.
 Phi Delt vs. Delt
 Sigma hall vs. SPE
Golf
 Delt vs. Beta
 SPE vs. Pi Kap

Both the intramural tennis and golf tournaments got under way yesterday. Phi Delta Theta, Sigma Phi Epsilon, Beta Theta Pi, and the Yeomen were the winners in the net matches, while Friendly hall emerged victorious in the only divot digging tilt of the day by conquering Phi Kappa Psi for an easy success in a forfeit. The Yeomen and Chi Psi, who were slated to vie in the other golf match, postponed their fuss until this afternoon.

The Phi Delt horde of racket wielders overwhelmed Alpha Upsilon, three matches to none. The SPE's took two out of three from Omega hall; the Betas trounced Sigma Pi Tau soundly by winning all three contests. The Yeomen won without a struggle, as Kappa Sigma defaulted.

Summary of the Phi Delt-Alpha Upsilon match:

Jack Murphy, Phi Delt, beat Ray Adams, 7-5, 6-2; Windy Calkins and Ferd Fletcher, Phi Delt, defeated Philip Overmeyer and George Anderson, 6-3, 6-3; Ed Cross and George Chamberlain, Phi Delt, won from E. Kerby and Clair Christopherson, 6-4, 6-4.

Summary of the SPE-Omega hall battles:

Bob Foley, SPE, conquered Robert Fagan, 6-4, 6-2; Robert Hardy and Robert Coen, Omega hall, outlasted Myrl Lindley and Ed McKelown to win, 5-7, 7-5, 6-2; Kendall Lottridge and Lawrence Roof, SPE, overcame Carl Gross and Jim Landyne, 9-7, 6-3.

Recapitulation of the Beta-SPT frays:

Art Potwin, Beta, annihilated Mike Marlatt, 6-0, 6-0; Sam Shenk and Al Stoehr, Beta, defeated Louis Pista and Allen Carley, 6-2, 7-5; Carl Gerlinger and Don Siegmund, Beta, crushed Jim Ferguson and Jim Dinsmore, 6-0, 6-0.

Good Weather Speeds Work on Athletic Field

With the advent of good weather, work on the turf athletic field east of McArthur court is progressing rapidly, reports George York, superintendent of buildings and grounds.

Actual seeding is under way and the finishing touches will be added within the next few days.

Another project started yesterday was the plowing of the vacant lot south of Condon hall. This will be leveled and seeded to grass to enable the use of a power mower in order to remove a former eyecore and add to the beauty of the campus.

'Shysters' Called To Fairway for Golf Tournament

GOLF muscled into the regions of the law school bulletin board Monday when a list of tryouts for a lawyer golf tournament was posted. According to the announcement, the tourney will be played off first among the students of the law school, and the final team will be selected in this elimination process.

Regulations governing the tourney call for the law professors to don the knickers and answer the call of the tees and greens.

Red Geer is chairman of the law school tournament and Preston W. Gunther is athletic manager for the school.

DONUT CHATS

by JOSEPH SASLAVSKY

Some of the participants in the donut tennis tournament now in progress prance merrily on to the courts without racket and balls in hand. They seemingly have the idea that the men's gym is altruistic enough to furnish these implements of tennis warfare. Jack Hewitt, who is in direct charge of the net matches, warns the netmen to show up with these necessities and to show up punctually, before the scheduled time if possible.

Last call today for entrants to sign up for the various all-campus tourneys is the edict of Earl Boushey, supervisor of intramural athletics. He indicates that the battles in these rivalries are scheduled to get off to a flying start tomorrow. Tennis singles, tennis doubles, golf, and horseshoes are the menu for the athletically inclined who hope to win one of the sundry titles.

Another order issued from the men's gym concerns the intramural golf tournament. Although the fees have a leeway of a complete day in which to play off their struggles, Boushey states that these matches must be played on the day in question and not later. Results are to be phoned in to the office of the gym.

Local Theatre To Sponsor Unique Guessing Game

READERS of the Emerald and other local newspapers will have opportunity this week to guess the measurements of Johnny Weismuller, premier swimmer, who comes to the McDonald theatre Wednesday in the screen adaptation of Edgar Rice Burroughs' famous story, "Tarzan, the Ape Man."

The contest, sponsored by the theatre, will have as prizes both merchandise awards and tickets to the McDonald. The blank below can be filled in and sent to the McDonald theatre:

A. D. Pis, Friendly Hall Win Trophies

The Associated Women Students sponsored a highly novel and successful all-campus carnival Saturday evening clearing approximately $200, according to Virginia Hancock, general chairman. It is planned to hold the carnival as an annual event.

In the competition for the most attractively and appropriately decorated booth, Alpha Delta Pi won the loving cup donated by the Heads of Houses organization with their "Pop a Prof" concession.

Marcel Stewart had charge of the booth which featured cartoons of the well known faculty people at which the crowd threw rubber balls. Ellis Thompson, senior in education, did the drawings. The color scheme for the booth was yellow and green and yellow flood lights added the finishing touches to their "Oregon" idea.

Friendly hall was judged the winner of the Sigma Alpha Mu award for their dart throwing booth. Arrows were thrown at colored disks of paper which were mounted on a yellow background. Arthur Olsen was chairman of arrangements.

Illness Causes Delay Of Drama Production

Because of the sudden illness of Ty Hartmus the date of the presentation of "Lady Windermere's Fan" by the drama division has been postponed until May 20, it was announced yesterday by Mrs. Ottilie T. Seybold, head of the division.

This will make "Hamlet," to be presented on April 29 and 30, the first presentation of the term.

WebfootGrid Stars Await Practice Tilt

Callison Plans Varsity Scrimmage for Friday

Over Forty Aspirants for Regular Berths Take Daily Workout

By BRUCE HAMBY

Like to watch a real, full-fledged football game in your shirt-sleeves? You'll have your chance next Friday afternoon when Coach Prink Callison sends two picked teams together in the first of a series of spring scrimmages. The game will be held on the practice field just east of Hayward field and will start about 4 o'clock.

Friday's game will give Oregon fans their first glimpse of just what effect the 1932 football rules will have. The new kick-off rule, in particular, will be watched with interest. The new rules prohibiting use of hands and the flying tackle and block are two other features that will be enforced.

The forty-odd candidates opened the third week of the spring practice yesterday afternoon. Callison spent most of the afternoon working with the players in individual groups, winding up with scrimmage. Elmer Brown, Bill Bowerman, Stan Kostka, Joe Walsh, "Pepper" Pepelnjak and Howard Bobbitt did most of the ball carrying in the informal scrimmage.

Gene Shields, line coach, assisted by his brother, Marsh Shields, a former Oregon star, and Irv Schulz, spent the afternoon working with the sophomore linemen. Fundamental blocking and dummy practice will be the order of the day for the linemen for the remainder of the spring session.

The two teams which will play next Friday will not be announced until just before the game. They will be picked with an eye to equality, Callison announced, and should put up a close battle. The winning team will receive a reward from George Godfrey in the form of passes to the Colonial theatre.

At the end of the spring practice season, a regular length game will be played similar to the one staged recently at Corvallis, Ed Coleman from Portland, likely will play for the A's.

GOODYEAR TO TALK

George Goodyear, graduate assistant in chemistry, will discuss his research on isolation of the yeast nutritive, at a dinner to be held by the chemistry research club, this evening at 6 in the new men's dormitory.

Robin E. Moser, graduate chemistry student, is in charge of the affair.

Senior Figurers Humble Juniors In Ball Tilt, 11 to 7

THE SENIOR accountants humbled the junior accountants in kitten ball Saturday afternoon on Kincaid field, 11 to 7.

Professors C. L. Kelly and O. K. Burrell played with their students. The game was umpired by Professor O. O. Gage. Batteries were for the seniors: Bradley, Loomis, and Coad, Cress. For the juniors: Cannon, Smith, and Adams.

Major Leaguers To Open Today; Reds Get Hafey

All 16 Teams Will See Action in East; Ed Coleman May Play

By ALAN GOULD

NEW YORK, April 11—(AP)—A series of eleventh hour developments today, all calculated to have a distinct bearing on the pennant races from the outset, marked the preparations of the major league baseball clubs for the general opening ceremonies, scheduled tomorrow in eight cities under dubious weather conditions.

While a cold wave blew into the Midwest and a rainstorm swept the East, the world championship Cardinals handed the dope sheets another jolt by trading the National league batting king, Chick Hafey, to the Cincinnati Reds in exchange for Pitcher Bennie Frey, and Harvey Hendrick, an all-around handy man.

One of the Cardinals' chief rivals, the Chicago Cubs, must start the season without Elwood English, star short stop, out with a broken finger, while another contender, Brooklyn, tries the veteran George Kelly on first base to fill the gap caused by the disablement of Del Bissone.

The New York Yankees since coming back to the big town, have shaken up their lineup for the opening skirmish of their pennant battle with the Athletics at Philadelphia. Sammy Byrd, due to his spring sensational hitting, was picked to replace the veteran Earle Combs in center. The infield was due to start with Lyn Lary at shortstop, the position he played last year, and his spring place at third taken over by the spectacular recruit, Frank Crosetti. Two recruits, Dib Williams and Ed Coleman from Portland, likely will play for the A's.

Senators Win in 10th

WASHINGTON, April 11—(AP)—Henry Manush's double, scoring Buddy Myer in the 10th inning, gave the Washington Senators a 1-to-0 decision over the Boston Red Sox in the Season's opener today, played before a crowd of 15,000 including President and Mrs. Hoover. General Alvin Crowder twirled for the victors.

Bill Hayward Is Recovering From Illness

Veteran Track Coach Is Out First Time

Trackmen Work Despite Absence of Coach; Starr at Head

By MALCOLM BAUER

Colonel William L. Hayward was up and around Sunday for the first time since he was confined to his bed more than a week ago because of a severe cold. The veteran track coach and trainer was also out again yesterday to take advantage of the sunshine which has been favoring western Oregon for the past few days.

About a week ago Colonel Bill let a cold get the best of him, and has been forced to remain in his bed instead of personally supervising his track and field athletes in their daily workouts. Last night, however, after his first day of marked activity, he was feeling much better; and from all indications Bill will be back in his accustomed role as head track coach at Hayward field in a day or so.

Starr Takes Charge

In the absence of their coach and trainer, the Webfoot track and field athletes have been working just as hard as ever. Led by Paul Starr, sprint man, and captain of the squad, the athletes have been taking their workouts regularly. Starr, a junior in business administration, who earned his first letter last spring, has been setting his charges through their paces every day so as not to lose time in preparation for the first meet, less than two weeks away.

Girls vote for PIPES (for men!)

ASK any girl you know to name her favorite smoke—for men! Ten to one she'll say a pipe!

She's discovered—trust her bright little eyes—that it's the BIG men, on the campus and off, who welcome the mental stimulation and relaxation they get from this real man's smoke.

And if she's very wise in the ways of smokers, she'll go one better than that. She'll tell you the men who know, smoke Edgeworth!

No two ways to get a doubly satisfying smoke when you fill up your pipe with this famous old blend. It's a happy combination of choice burleys—cut long to give you a cool, slow-burning smoke. And its mellow flavor and rich aromahavemade Edgeworth the favorite pipe tobacco on 42 out of 50 campuses.

Help yourself to a pipeful next time someone pulls Edgeworth out of his pocket. Pick up the familiar blue tin yourself at any good tobacco stand. Or for a special free sample packet write to Larus & Bro. Co., 105 S. 22d St., Richmond, Va.

EDGEWORTH SMOKING TOBACCO

Edgeworth is a blend of fine old burleys, with its natural savor enhanced by Edgeworth's distinctive and exclusive eleven process. Buy Edgeworth anywhere in two forms—Edgeworth Ready-Rubbed and Edgeworth Plug Slice. All sizes, 15¢ packet package to $1.50 pound humidifier tin.

Spring Is Here!

At last (perhaps) and the Oakway Golf Course is smooth and green—very inviting with its close-cropped true-putting greens.

Oakway score cards are accepted (when endorsed by the management) for credit on your physical education attendance.
