

Forum Group Hears Cases Of Delegates

Organizations Present Data on Members

David Speaks in Behalf of Responsible Student Government

By JULIAN P. PRESCOTT
Delegates from several service organizations appeared before the membership and organization committee of the Forum at a hearing last night to tell of the sizes of their respective groups and the interests they represent. The hearing will be continued at 5 o'clock this afternoon in 104 Journalism building.

The groups represented at the hearing were Y. W. C. A., Associated Women Students, Y. M. C. A., Oregon Yeomen, Phi Theta Upsilon and Philometele, Phi Beta, Kwamas, and Sigma Delta Chi. Others were expected to have delegates at the hearing.

Lucille Kraus told the committee that the Y. W. included in its active membership some 300 women who live in sororities, dormitories and private homes. She expressed the belief that the opinion of this membership would differ widely from that of the living organizations and that it should be given a voice in the Forum.

Speaking for the A. W. S., Louise Webber, president-elect, said that her organization combined the interests of all women on the campus. A different attitude from that expressed in individual living groups would be expressed by the women's assembly, she believed. It was Miss Webber's belief that it would be a broader, less provincial attitude. This opinion, she felt should be represented by upper and lower class delegates to the Forum.

Rolla Reedy, president of the Y. M., expressed the desire that his organization be represented by upper and lower class delegates. He stated that approximately 250 men take active part in the work of the "Y" and that included in this number are many who are not affiliated with any other group. Jay Wilson also appeared in behalf of the Y. M. C. A.

Approximately 85 men take part in the activities of the Oregon Yeomen, it was stated by Merlin Blais, president. Besides this number many who do not live in dormitories or fraternities are affiliated with the Yeomen. George Bennett was also a Yeomen delegate.

Sigma Delta Chi includes in its membership students who are in constant close touch with activities on all parts of the campus, it was pointed out by Sterling Green, newly-elected president. This group, through its journalistic work, forms a close connection with newspapermen throughout

Class in Theater Workshop Busy on 'Hamlet' Properties

With the time growing short before the production of "Hamlet" by the drama division April 29 and 30, the business and technical crews are hard at work. The fact that the women's gymnasium in Gerlinger hall is being used for the play necessitates the construction of a fore-stage in front of the small one already there.

The Theatre Workshop class under the direction of George Andreini have been building a group of unit pieces which can be set up in three hours.

Campus Crates To Stage Exciting Snail Exhibition

A FLEET of wheezing, steaming automotive relics, dashing up Thirteenth street at a break-neck rate of 3-minus miles per hour between cheering banks of thrill-mad students—that's an advance view of the slowest flivver race, to be held May 7, as depicted by Ralph Walstrom, chairman of Campus day for Junior Week-end.

Registration for the event is apparently very simple—just drive up with the old crate, or push it up if necessary, and you're declared eligible. The cars must, however, not be of a later vintage than 1926.

First prize will be 15 gallons of gasoline; second, 5 gallons; and an award for the oldest flivver, 5 gallons.

Reach the Heart Thru the Stomach, Advises Charley

Black Sunday

Adolf Hitler's fascists are now the strongest bunch in the German Reich.

Old war horse Hindenburg took a sock on the solar plexus Sunday when the black shirts came through with flying colors. Hitler feeds nearly half a million of his followers, which may account for his popularity. For a campaign slogan I suggest "Hitlerism or Hunger," or perhaps, "Fasting or Fascism?"

Poor, deluded German youth. France took away military drill, pride of Prussian hearts. So Hitler gives 'em bright uniforms and they go gaily on their way. Solemn rites, secret passwords, mysterious meetings—all the devices that children delight in. German youth is still "playing soldier."

Now the Communists and Socialists in Germany will have to get together and quit fighting each other.

Harmoniously,
WEBFOOT CHARLEY.

"Congratulations!"

Ovis Poli Expedition Ends Miserably in Dark Africa

Explorer Hamby, Wilson, Londahl Are Eaten By Cannibals

DEPTHS OF DARKEST AFRICA—(We dunno the date)—Commodore Westbrook Hamby announced last night in a signed dispatch that he and the 99 members of his party perished last night while they were trying to cross Fairy lake in dug-outs.

IN DARKEST AFRICA, April 25.—(By greased wire, the slickest in the world.)—Well, folks, I was eaten by cannibals today. So were Red Wilson and Johnny Londahl, who gallantly came down here to rescue me. We all passed into the soup with the words on our lips,

No fooling, folks, we made a lovely dish. We were captured just as we were about to get the long-sought ovis poli. Our captor was Chief Little Bear coming down the street. He caused Londahl to be boiled, Wilson was roasted and I was served a la carte with creamed new potatoes.

As Londahl was being served at

Students To Meet For Nomination Of ASUO Officers

Notice of Candidacy Must Be Filed by Tuesday Before 12 P. M.

Nominations for Associated Student offices will be held Thursday morning at 11 o'clock in an assembly in Gerlinger hall, it was announced yesterday by Brian Minnaugh, president. Elections will be held on May 5.

Candidates are to file notices of intention to run for office with the student body president by midnight Tuesday, Minnaugh stated. This is in accordance with the A. S. U. O. constitution.

Nomination by petition may be made up to Saturday noon. The petitions must contain the names of at least 50 students.

A time limit of two minutes has been placed on nominating speeches. It is estimated that even with this provision the introductory talks will take up at least half an hour.

Presidential candidates will be given the opportunity to present their platforms and generally express their opinions on student problems. There will be no time limit on these talks, but it is pointed out by Minnaugh, they should not take more than five minutes to present.

The University band will play. It is not expected that any other business will come up at the assembly.

Announcement of arrangements for the elections will be made within a few days by Walt Evans, vice-president of the student body. Election chairmen will be named at this time.

Dave Wilson Is Candidate for President's Job

Kinney, Bailey Shift Is Seen on Hall Ticket

Roustabouts Grow Serious As Campaign Becomes Three-Sided

By WILLIS DUNIWAY
From the level of a quiet, peaceful campaign, campus politics skyrocketed late last night to unexpected heights of fury.

While Dave Wilson, junior in journalism, pulled the major surprise of the unsettled evening by announcing his candidacy for president of the associated students, relations were strained in the Bob Hall camp and the Roustabouts were booming a new man for the highest job in the A. S. U. O.

Kinney On Spot

Ned Kinney, announced as the vice-presidential candidate on Hall's ticket, was the center of a storm of protest last night. That Red Bailey, senior man candidate on the Hall line-up, would step up to the vice-presidency and that Kinney would go down in the ranks to senior man, loomed as a possible move. An alternative was that Bailey would desert the Hall ticket and announce himself as a candidate for president.

At the same time, Otto Vonderheit, sophomore in business administration, was announced as the candidate for junior finance officer on the Hall ticket.

Secret Meetings Held

The political pots, which up to last night had been simmering quietly, boiled over furiously by midnight as party leaders held hurried secret sessions in many corners of the campus.

The Roustabouts, so far taken only as a joke in the campaign, became a serious threat last night. Last minute reports said that Roy Shaneman, junior in business administration, would be their candidate for president.

Three men—Hall, Shaneman, and Wilson—are thus in the running for president. Other places on the tickets are being revamped hurriedly. With declarations of candidacy due by midnight tonight, it is certain that today will bring clearing skies to the campus political race.

Kwama Pledges Nineteen Women

Nineteen women were honored Saturday evening at Mortar Ball hall by pledging to Kwama, sophomore service honorary.

The new members are: Elizabeth Bendstrup, Gale McCredie, Marygoldie Hardison, Charlotte Eldridge, Josephine Waffle, Virginia Van Kirk, Helen Neal, Eleanor Wharton, Cynthia Liljequist, Virginia Howard, Margaret Ellen Osborne, Blanche O'Neill, Nancy Archobol, Bobby Bequeath, Marie Saccomanno, Louise Rice, Helen Schaeft, and Pearl Base.

The two honorary members of Kwama, Mrs. Hazel Schwering, dean of women and assistant dean, Mrs. Nelson Macduff, participated in the pledging ceremony. Members of Skull and Daggers, men's service honorary, formed an arch with sabres through which the new pledges and old members of Kwama walked to the platform.

Mental Aspect of Marriage Discussed By Dr. Bowman

The more important phase of marriage relationship is mental, in the belief of Dr. Harold L. Bowman, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Portland, who spoke to a gathering of students and townspeople at the men's gym last night. This was the second of a series of lectures of "Love and Marriage" to be given on the campus.

Human beings are ready for marriage soon after the beginning of the period of adolescence as far as the physiological aspect of it is concerned, Bowman said. But they lack two important developments which must appear before married life can reach its most beautiful aspects. In addition to physiological development there must be a psychological development, and also an economic development.

Bowman declared it foolish to denounce petting. Rather, he said, there is a happy medium between sowing "wild oats" and harmful repression. Here again the mental attitude is very important. If petting is done in a spirit of friendship and done with restraint, it may be absolutely harmless. The meaning behind the petting is the big thing.

Intere.* of one sex in the other is normal as it helps the psycho-
