

Waffle Luncheon Tickets on Sale At Houses Today

Varied Entertainment To Be Offered at Serving Organizations

Tickets for the all-campus waffle luncheon, scheduled for Saturday, April 30, will be distributed to the various living organizations today, announced Margaret Hunt, chairman of ticket sale, and thence will be dispensed to the students.

The tickets entitle the bearer to one waffle, free, and extra waffles and coffee can be purchased for 15 cents. Working on the ticket committee are Mary Lou Dodds and Marian Henderson.

In addition to the dancing to be held at each house serving waffles, a tap dance novelty by Marian Camp and Louise Marvin will be presented once at each house. Other entertainments are being planned.

Students unable to procure tickets may get them at the door from any of the hostesses. Frances Keene has announced the following list of hostesses who will supervise serving and handle finances: Alpha Phi, Louise Thomas; Chi Omega, MaryGolde Hardison; Delta Gamma, Frances Keene; men's dorm, Kay Briggs; Alpha Chi Omega, Louise Barclay; and Hendricks hall, Louise Stein.

Emerald-Colonial Contest Continued

Announcement was made yesterday by Thornton Shaw, managing editor of the Emerald, of the continuation of the Emerald-Colonial weekly contests held throughout the fall term but discontinued during the winter term.

Donald Fields, freshman in journalism, piled up a score for the past week of 80 points to win the contest. This total doubled the amount of any near competitor. Almon Newton and Elinor Henry came in second with a tied score of 40 points each.

The point system used for these contests was inaugurated the first of this term when the Emerald copyreading staff was consolidated with the reportorial staff.

Shaw said that these weekly contests would continue throughout the remainder of spring term.

Veatch Elected Head Of Philomelete Group

Wanda Veatch, sophomore, was elected president of the Woman-in-Her-Sphere group of Philomelete at a meeting of the group held Sunday afternoon.

Other newly-elected officers are Lucile Driver, vice-president and Ruth Holman, secretary. The outgoing officers are Genevieve Dunlop, president; Ruth Dupuis, vice-president; and Lucile Terrill, secretary.

The group made plans for a canoing party and an over-night trip to Peter's lodge.

Works of Shakespeare Prize for Hamlet Essay

What is your conception of Shakespeare's "Hamlet"? Is it a spectacular melodrama, a profound psychological study of an introvert, or a problem play about revenge?

Write your solution in an essay form from 200 to 500 words long and submit it before Thursday noon to the Corridor in care of the Emerald. The result? A handsome leather-bound copy of the famous English dramatist's complete works donated by S. Stephenson Smith, associate professor of English, or, if the winner already possesses a copy, the equivalent in cash.

Foreign Trade Group To Have Guest Speaker

Dan Gould, district manager of the American Mail line, will be a guest of Pan Xenia, foreign trade honorary, on Tuesday, May 3. Mr. Gould will present films on Oriental travel subjects in connection with the Pacific basin cruise to be given by Pan Xenia this summer.

In addition to this, Mr. Gould will present a series of technicolor films illustrative of Japanese life.

The meeting will be open to the public. Alfred Lomax, international president of Pan Xenia and professor of business administration, advises that the cruise will leave on July 23. All students, members of Pan Xenia, or otherwise interested in taking the cruise should consult Mr. Lomax immediately.

Petroleum Geologist Speaks at Condon Hall

Chester W. Washburne, one of the few authorities on petroleum geology, of New York spoke today to geology majors at 4 o'clock in Condon hall on the subject of the Origin of Normal Faults.

Mr. Washburne, who is visiting his brother, Carl Washburne, prominent merchant, graduated from the University of Oregon in 1905. He was a student under Dr. Condon, Oregon's premier geologist, and is one of the most famous men to be graduated from the geology department, according to Edwin T. Hodge, professor of geology.

His explorations in South America and contributions to the geologic knowledge of that country as well as the state of Oregon are very extensive.

Douglass Gets Request For Old Newspapers

Mr. M. H. Douglass, University librarian, has just received a request for information concerning files or single copies of Oregon newspapers published from 1847 to 1870 inclusive from Douglas C. McMurtrie of Chicago, who is at present engaged in compiling a history of Oregon printing.

The University library is in possession of many of the early newspapers, but it is desired that any such newspapers in private ownership be reported also. Any students knowing the whereabouts of newspapers published within the above period are asked by Mr. Douglass to report that information to the Emerald office or to the office of the librarian.

WAA Meeting Will Be Held in Gerlinger Today

A mass meeting of W. A. A. will be held today at 5 o'clock in the league room of Gerlinger hall, it was announced yesterday, Dorothy MacLean, president.

The meeting has been called for the purpose of hearing a report on the A. C. A. C. W. conference held at the University of Southern California two weeks ago. Representatives from all western coast W. A. A. were present at the convention. A short business meeting is also planned.

Former Dean Directs Glee Club to Victory

Ralph Lyman, dean of the University school of music previous to 1918 and director of the glee clubs, has just coached the Pomona college glee club to victory in the national intercollegiate competition at St. Louis, April 9.

Pomona's singers have won in the Southwest Pacific intercollegiate competition several times, but have never before entered the nationals. Their victory was overwhelming in view of the fact that they had traveled in their chair cars for three days nearly across the continent, arriving at St. Louis late on the night before they were to sing, and placing far above Yale's famous glee club.

Library Receives Many New Books

Several new books have just been received by the library, including "Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes," by Silas Bent; "Counter-Statement," by Kenneth Burke; "The Story of My Life," by Clarence Darrow.

"The Young Revolutionist," by Pearl S. Buck, author of the year's best seller, "The Good Earth," has recently added to the seven-day collection. Included in this group are "The Excellent Becomes Permanent," by Jane Addams; "Parade of the Living," by John H. Bradley; "Analysis of Art," by DeWitt Parker.

Five recent issues of "Life and Health" have been loaned to the University library by Mr. B. F. Smith, who hopes that they will be of some interest to the students. These may be consulted in the periodical department of the main library.

MUSIC HONORARY AFFAIRS GIVE SOCIAL AFFAIRS

(Continued from Page One)

program and tea at Gerlinger hall at 4 p. m. The committees for the tea are: program chairman, Alice Hombach; refreshments, Armen Jameson and Martha Patterson; invitations, Jane Kanzler and Peggy Sweeney.

This evening a program with the alumnae will be given at 8 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Rex Underwood with Madame Rose McGrew in charge.

Thursday, April 28, a formal banquet will be given for Mrs. Redewill at the Anchorage at 5:30 p. m. Josephine Chapman will be toastmistress. Mrs. Redewill is the only speaker. After the banquet a model initiation ceremony will be given at the home of John Stark Evans.

ROUSTABOUTS OUT OF POLITICAL SKIRMISH

(Continued from Page One)

ments of the deaths of Londahl, Wilson, Cliff Potter and Commodore Westbrook Hamby, leader of the contingent. This left the Roustabouts up a tree, so to speak, for they had no president. They then hurriedly commandeered Cap Roberts for that purpose, announced Mike Mikulak as junior man, Mahr Reymers as senior man, Duke Shaneman as vice-president, and again loomed strong on the political horizon.

But still they were not on easy street. Their spectacular doings finally awakened the campus' dormant powers and things were starting to hum. David Wilson announced a ticket and included Cap Roberts on it, thereby depriving the Roustabouts of their second president. This left the dissensionists only two alternatives, either to run Shaneman for president or to disband, and Shaneman himself chose the latter way out.

But while all this had been going on, Hall also had been active, and, influenced partially by a group of influential campus leaders, he contemplated several changes in his party lineup to offset the new threat offered by the Wilson faction.

Thus the Roustabouts have retired from the field, but one of their men remains on a leading ticket and they have the personal satisfaction of realizing that they have written a sensational chapter in Oregon's political history.

JUNIOR WEEK PROGRAM MADE KNOWN TODAY

(Continued from Page One)

aquatic exhibitions. At 10:30 the mothers will hold a general mass meeting at Guild hall, at which time a group picture will be taken, and officers for the following year chosen.

Hendricks hall will entertain the visitors at tea on Saturday afternoon, prior to the unveiling ceremonies of the Pioneer mother in the Women's quadrangle at 4 o'clock. The banquet will be held at the Igloo at 5:30, and the famous canoe fete at 8:30.

Sunday, the last day of the week-end, will be comparatively quiet. All Eugene churches will hold special services for the mothers in the morning, and the University orchestra and polyphonic choir will give a concert at the Music auditorium from 3 until 4.

PHI THETA UPSILON NAMES NEW OFFICERS (Continued from Page One)

Rorer, from material gathered by the Philomelete hobby groups. The price of the book will be 25 cents. The retiring officers are Janet Osborne, Eugene, vice-president; Edith Luke, Eugene, secretary; Marjorie Swafford, Oregon City, treasurer; and Dorothy Dupuis Wynd, Eugene, editor historian.

Studios Suspend Dietrich, Cagney In Salary Dispute

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., April 26. (AP)—Marlene Dietrich, blonde beauty from Germany, and James Cagney, two of the best money making performers for the movie business, were suspended by their studios today because of disputes over their work and salary, respectively.

Hardly more than 24 hours after Paramount Studio suspended Josef Von Sternberg, noted director and discoverer of Miss Dietrich, she was lopped off the payroll for not showing up for work on a picture which Sternberg had refused to direct.

At the Warner studio, it was said that notice of suspension had been sent to Cagney, who had been holding out for $4,000 a week instead of the $1,600 he has received under a long term contract. Cagney said he had not received the suspension notice in the mails.

Eight Students Register In Jewett Speech Tilt

The list of entries in the Jewett advanced contest in public speaking for men was considered complete yesterday with eight entries. The contest is to be conducted as an after-dinner speaking affair with Roger Pfaff, Pacific Basin debater, acting as toastmaster.

The eight entries are: Thomas Hartfel, Art Potwin, Wallace Campbell, Rolla Reedy, Jim Landye, George Bennett, Otto Vonderheit, and Wu Tang.

PERSONAL MEETING IS HELD WITH KIDNAPERS

(Continued from Page One)

man in the shadow of a New York cemetery April 2. The New Jersey official also disclosed the colonel is planning to meet John H. Curtis, Norfolk (Va.), intermediary, on a boat off the Virginia coast, where they hope to complete the new negotiations and obtain return of the child.

It was stated on the same high authority that $1,500 of the original ransom bills have been recovered, most of them in or around New York, but that investigators have been unsuccessful in tracing them.

SPRING DANCE RECITAL GIVEN HIGH ACCLAIM

(Continued from Page One)

were soft, slow, strong; her gown rose red, her emotion intense. Mendelssohn's Song Without Words No. 15, by the advanced choral, was classic in nature; the restraint and beauty by Greek art... like a song poignant enough to call forth both pity and fear. Song Without Words No. 27, by the senior majors, had all the autocracy of the Caesars and the precision of military movement.

The most popular number, and one which was distinctly humorous, was a Russian dance, Tschakowsky, done by Marian Moorehouse, Harriet Londahl, Faye Knox, Dorothy MacLean and Nellie Schaeffer.

Novelette (The Pink Tea), interpreted by Alyce Cook, was a satire on manners: "How-do-you-do? I'm so glad to see you..." gushing, wounded vanity, acceptance of an apology, the airing of social graces.

Lucille Hill in her Hungarian Rhapsody No. 2 by Liszt was a woman in a flame red dress. That was all, but that was enough. She was a woman, svelte and lithe, running the gamut of human emotions.

TALKIE TOPICS

Lupe Valez and Leo Carrillo in a scene from "The Broken Wing," now showing at the McDonald.

WHAT AND WHERE
McDonald—"The Broken Wing," Lupe Valez and Leo Carrillo. First night.
Colonial—"Devotion." Ann Harding. Today only.
Rex—"The Big Shot." Eddie Quillan, Maureen O'Sullivan. State—Double bill. "Honor of the Family," Bebe Daniels, and Warren Williams, and "The Fighting Marshal," Tim McCoy.
Heilig—"High Speed."

Mexican Bonfire
If Clara Bow is a Brooklyn Bonfire, then Lupe Valez should be a Mexican one. She appeared in the Ziegfeld Follies lately (if we remember correctly) and she's supposed to have made the glorified girls look like our Nell. She's got it all right.

"The Broken Wing" is a story telling what passes when an aviator drops in unwillingly on a bandit (Leo Carrillo) who keeps him captive. George Barbier, the Jiggs of the screen, is in it also.

What Gentlemen Prefer
Ann Harding is the blond, and the show is "Devotion" at the Colonial tonight only. A well known story done over, so they say, but with a cast and with dialogue which makes it a fine show. Tomorrow the Faculty club show will be "Journey's End," one of the finest last year. Those who saw this play given on the campus last Hur" with sound effects added to the silent show of a few years ago.

"Big Shot" at Rex
Eddie Quillan is the "Big Shot" we suppose. He plays the small town boy who's always trying to put over a big business deal, and he finally succeeds, which makes everybody feel just fine. Maureen O'Sullivan is in it, too.

Hot and Cold
Hot lead and cold steel are combined in the double bill at the State today. They're showing "Honor of the Family" with Bebe Daniels and Warren Williams, and "The Fighting Marshal" with Tim McCoy. The former has to do with swords and the latter with revolvers, being respectively a story about duels to defend honor, and gunplay to catch crooks. Two days.

Lindley Receives $250 In Banker Scholarship

Myrl R. Lindley, Portland, junior in business administration, was awarded the American Bankers association loan scholarship at a recent meeting of the committee of judges.

The award, based on scholarship, achievement, and financial need, amounts to $250, and is given annually through the auspices of the American Bankers association. The money is to be used in carrying on the receiver's college education and broadening contacts with the business world.

The committee in charge of selecting the winner consists of David E. Faville, dean of the school of business administration; Daniel D. Gage, associate professor in business administration; W. T. Gordon, vice president of the First National bank of Eugene; and Virgil Earl, dean of men.

Commonwealth Review Takes Article by Joyce

"Early Development of Oregon Public Utility Regulations" is the title of an article written by J. W. Joyce, research assistant in the economics department, which will be published in the May number of "Commonwealth Review," a journal of applied social science, published by the University. Dr. John Mueller of the sociology department is the editor of the publication.

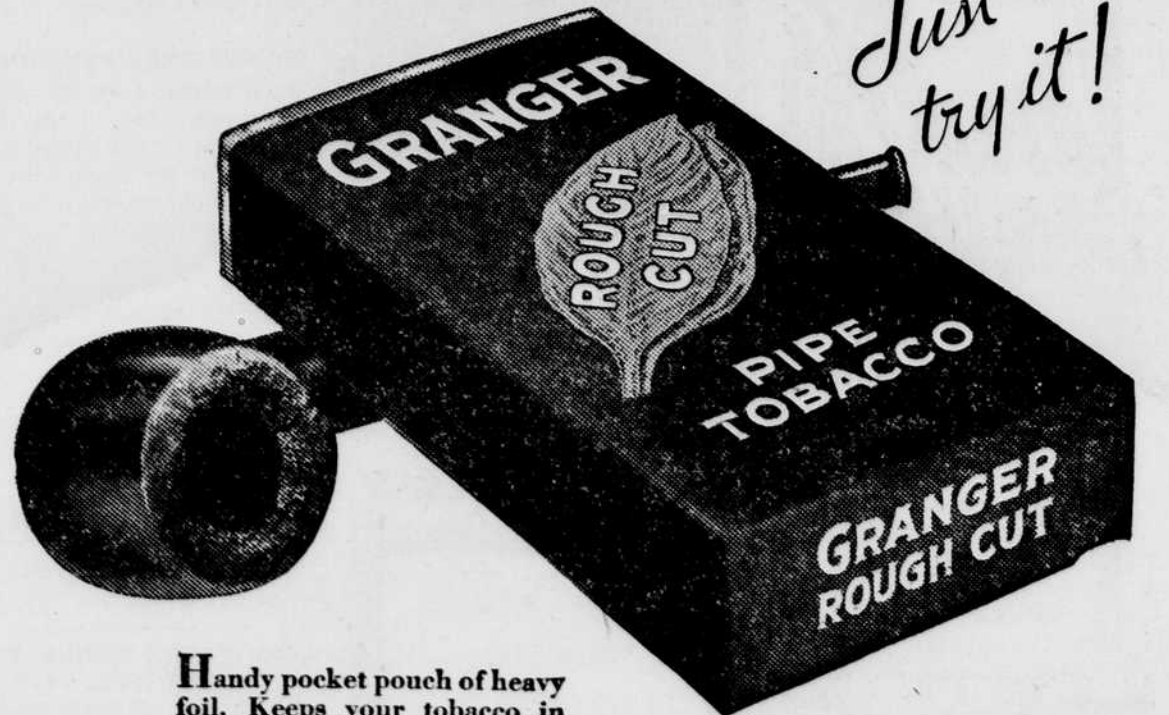

The article is the first of a series of two for which Joyce has been doing research work during the last few months. It covers the period from 1843 to 1900.

fall at the Guild theatre will find the show almost untouched; the only difference is the experience of the actors. Tomorrow night comes "Ben

"My daddy..your gran'daddy..told me

...that the man who makes pipe tobacco has to know his business." Colonel Wellman handed down to Granger his 1870 secret that mellows and flavors tobacco as nothing else can.

Handy pocket pouch of heavy foil. Keeps your tobacco in better condition and makes the price lower. Hence TEN cents.

YOU CAN DEPEND ON A LIGGETT & MYERS PRODUCT

"Eugene's Own Store"
McMorran & Washburne
—Phone 2700—
Ethel Cripe
Personal Representative from the Salon in Philadelphia of Frances Denney
Here this week to give free consultation and advice on your personal beauty problems.
PHONE 2700 FOR APPOINTMENT—TOILETRIES DEPT.