

Board Puts Off Meeting Until This Morning

Committee Discussion Necessitates Change

Mrs. Pierce Again Absent From Deliberations of Education Body

By DICK NEUBERGER PORTLAND, Or., April 29.—(Special)—What was expected to be one of the most important sessions of the state board of higher education never materialized today.

The conference, scheduled to start at 1:30 p. m., was to have been for the principal purpose of providing an operating budget for the coming 1932-1933 school year.

Members Gather Early

To show their good intentions, the board members gathered three and one-half hours early, at 10 a. m., and immediately went into closed session as a committee.

Scheduled for Today

After considerable discussion the postponed session was re-scheduled for 9:30 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Mrs. Walter M. Pierce was not present at the meeting place at the University club, although board attaches said every possible effort had been made to inform her of the session.

Sigma Delta Chi To Hold Initiation

The ceremonies will be followed by a meeting of the organization at which Eric W. Allen, dean of the school of journalism, will address old and new members on problems facing the school with regard to its status next year.

The neophytes are: George Sanford, Joe Saslavsky, Cecil Keesling, Bruce Hamby, Jim Evans, Embert Fossum, Cliff Gregor, Eugene Mullins, Vincent Mutton, Howard Pettit, Bill Eberhart, and Dave Eyre.

WALKER BEATS LEVINSKY

CHICAGO, April 29.—(AP)—Mickey Walker, floored in the first round, came back to win a ten-round decision over King Levinsky in their battle fought before a crowd of 18,000 or more in the Chicago stadium tonight.

Pioneer Mother Arrives on Campus, Inspects New Home

By PARKS HITCHCOCK A lady we know in the upper circles of the University, tipped us off that the Pioneer Mother was arriving secretly on the campus.

Workmen, surrounded by the usual onlookers, were putting the statue on the pedestal when we arrived.

It seems the entire statue is hollow.

Four Convicted of Manslaughter in Lynching Affair

Mixed Jury Asks Leniency For Defendants in Massie Case

HONOLULU, April 29.—(AP)—The four defendants in the Joseph Kahahawai lynching case were convicted tonight of manslaughter by a racially mixed jury which asked leniency.

A loud sob broke from Mrs. Thalia Massie, central character in the unusual chain of circumstances surrounding the case, when the first verdict was announced.

The maximum penalty for manslaughter is ten years imprisonment. They were charged with second degree murder, which calls for a penalty of 20 years to life imprisonment.

When the defendants had arrived, the jury, composed of five Americans, three Chinese, a Dane, a German, a Portuguese and an Hawaiian, filed in, solemnly Judge Davis asked:

"Gentlemen of the jury, have you reached a verdict?"

"Yes, your honor," said John Stone, American and foreman, rising.

"We, the jury, find the defendant, Thomas H. Massie, guilty of manslaughter. Leniency recommended."

The next verdict, the same as for Massie, applied to Mrs. Fortescue. In rapid order the clerk then read the verdicts applying to the two enlisted men. Neither Lord nor Jones showed emotion.

Conklin To Deliver Last Love Lecture

"Psychological Aspects of Love and Marriage," the final number of the lecture series will be presented Monday night at 8:15 o'clock in the men's gymnasium.

Approximately 600 students have attended each of the preceding lectures of the series. The topics were "Sociological Aspects," "Biological Aspects," and "Pre-Marital Problems." Speakers were Dr. Harold Leonard Bowman, Portland pastor; Dr. Lena Kenin and Dr. William Livingston, both of the University of Oregon medical school.

There's room in there for three men.

When they were going to seal the statue to the pedestal, someone was inspired with a brilliant thought. It seemed a shame to waste all that space. A hurried search was made for something to stick into it. Something to preserve for wondering posterity.

Quiet Rules In Politics After Day's Activity

Campaigns Expected To Open Monday

Plans Made by Houses To Hear Candidates at Group Meetings

By JULIAN PRESCOTT Quiet prevailed in campus politics yesterday after several days of strenuous activity lining up tickets and preparing nominating speeches.

Campaigns are expected to break out with restored vigor early Monday after the week-end rest during which political steam will be worked up. Managers of the two tickets will be getting in fuel for the high pressure needed on election day, Thursday.

Leaders of the Hall ticket were busy, however, lining up their followers behind Bill Bowerman and Gordon Day, new candidates for vice-president and senior executive man. Bowerman and Day were named by the Hall party after Ned Kinney and Orville Bailey had been declared ineligible.

The Wilson party confined its efforts to the publication of a paper in which it is planned to present ramifications of the party platform. The first edition, which appeared late Friday, contained articles on ineligibility and the Forum and suggestion of a ball game.

Police Dog Found Suffering From Strange Malady

A stray police dog was the central figure of a dramatic "poisoning" episode on the campus yesterday morning.

The dog was found writing in convulsions in the art patio by Professor Ira Brown and Bob Van Nice, student.

The twitching was evidently caused by strychnine poisoning.

The good Samaritans carried the dog out to the lawn in front of McClure hall, laid him down tenderly and rushed for the dispensary for an antidote.

Mrs. Beck Returns From Trip East

More than 5000 delegates attended the national music supervisors' conference at Cleveland, Ohio, according to Anne Landsbury Beck, head of the public school music department of the University music school, who has just returned from the conference.

Mrs. Beck, as president of the northwest supervisors' conference, assisted the four other regional presidents in directing the national convention. For the past year Mrs. Beck has been a member of the editorial staff for the Supervisors' Journal, the official organ for the national association.

Lonely Ring Reposes In Dispensary Drawer

Out of its hiding place in the cash drawer at the University dispensary an old ring came yesterday. Dispensary nurses said the ring had been in their possession for about six months, waiting for its owner to claim it.

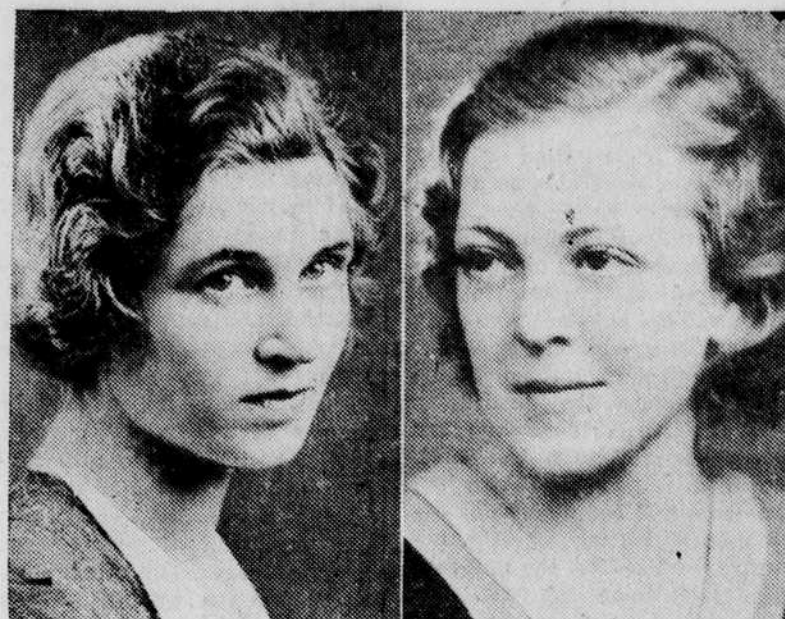

The ring has an old-fashioned gold setting, in which are two garnets and two small pearls. Nurses believe some woman student lost it there long ago.

Appear In Hamlet

Inez Simons, left, and Marian Camp played leading roles in the drama department's production of "Hamlet" in the Guild theatre last night. The play will be again produced tonight.

Guild Hall Hamlet Production Wins Audience's High Praise

Depictions by Love, Stipe Said To Be Unusually Well Done

By BOB GUILD and S. STEPHENSON SMITH

The Guild Hall company played Hamlet to a full house last night in Gerlinger hall, which had been transformed by George Andreini and his lighting assistants into a close approximation of an Elizabethan theatre, with a larger fore-stage, and a stylized palace interior for the inner stage.

Porter Accepts Crete, Nebraska, Ministerial Post

YMCA Secretary To Leave Next Month To Take Pastorate

Coincident with his return from Chicago, where he attended a conference of young Methodist ministers, the Rev. R. B. Porter, executive secretary of the campus Y. M. C. A., announced that he had received and accepted a call to be the pastor of the Congregational church at Crete, Nebraska.

The fact that this field offers him a chance to get back into his chosen profession, the ministry, and at the same time work with students in Doane college, which is supported by the Congregational church, swayed Mr. Porter to accept the position.

Yin Kitsu Threw A Shrapnel Bomb Declares Charley

Someone howled at last. Somebody got real sore at Japan. That somebody was Yin Kitsu. Yin Kitsu, Korean revolutionist, and member of the left wing, threw a bomb.

The bomb, shrapnel-laden, stocked with Chinese gunpowder, nearly slaughtered half the important Japanese in Shanghai.

They are still picking shrapnel out of the Japanese minister.

Fanatic as the would-be assassin undoubtedly was, he stuck up for his country.

It only made the Japs sorer at the Chinese.

As usual, Will Himself was still the greatest aid to the cast, because he supplied in this play enough good stage business and "sure-fire" situations for a dozen plays.

McKennon will be given the leather-bound volume of the complete works of William Shakespeare. This prize was offered by S. Stephenson Smith for the best essay dealing with Hamlet as a spectacular melodrama, a profound psychological study of an introvert, or a problem play about revenge.

Student Forum Faces Definite Organization

Campus Representatives To Meet Monday

Credential Blanks Allotted Living Groups To Insure Delegations

Permanent and definite organization of the new student forum will share the spotlight with A. S. U. O. elections in student government affairs next week.

Brian Mimnaugh, Associated Students' president, announced last night that the Forum would meet in Guild hall at 8 Monday evening to pass on the report of the organization committee which he appointed last week.

Groups Get Representation Until the forum accepts a permanent plan for representation, the organization committee is asking all living organizations to send two official delegates to the Monday meeting.

Credential blanks will be sent to all house and hall presidents and to heads of independent organizations Monday which will entitle the bearers to voting power at the meeting.

"These credential blanks must be properly signed," said Dave Wilson, chairman of the committee, "and will entitle the bearers

Masculine Talent Turns to Editing Oregon Emerald

The gentlemen of the press cursed unreservedly last night when copy was slow at the Emerald desk. They exercised the manly prerogative of swearing right out loud when Associated Press dispatches on the meeting of the state board of higher education were incomplete.

And they did all this without a single furtive glance around to see if there were females in the office. For the Emerald was decidedly not a co-educational enterprise—it was the men's edition.

With Managing Editor Thornton Shaw covering the women's physical education beat and Editor Bill Duniway relegated to the infirmary run, George Sanford and Parks Hitchcock, editor and managing editor for a day, organized a crew of masculine typewriter maulers and put out the daily without help or hindrance of a feminine nature.

Other officials of this morning's paper were as follows: day editor, Ralph Mason; news editor, Oscar Munger; society editor, Jack Belling; sports editor, Joe Saslavsky; literary editor, Roy Sheedy; reporters, Jay Seahorn, Hubert Totton, Maximo Pulido, Dave Eyre, Francis, Pallister, Don Fields, J. Almon Newton, Cliff Gregor, Julian Prescott, and Sterling Green.

A banquet was held at the Anchorage after the ceremonies.

Dispensary Will Help Indiscreet Sunbathers

Subburned? Then go to the University dispensary. With Old Sol doing his best yesterday afternoon, Dr. Fred N. Miller, University physician, and his staff of doctors and nurses made ready with the latest salves, oils and ointments for the rash of sunburned students they expect today and Monday.

Backs, arms, and legs that received too much of the sun's rays will be dealt with gently, Dr. Miller promised. "If students would only learn to take sun baths in small doses at first, they would save themselves and us needless trouble," the University physician commented.

Schnabel Sells Schnozzle's Suit; Sure Some Stuff

DARK skies of depression cleared dramatically yesterday for Ed Meserve, freshman in pre-law. Without a cent in his pocket in the morning, Frosh Ed last night had one whole dollar.

The heart-rending story in yesterday's Emerald of Meserve's failure to sell an old worn-out suit to a secondhand store came to the attention of Dan Schnabel, another freshman in pre-law.

Schnabel bargained with Schnozzle (that being Meserve's best-known nickname). The result: Schnabel sold Schnozzle's suit at an "ol' close" shop for $1.25, deducted 20 per cent commission, and turned $1 over to Meserve.

Times are not so bad after all, Meserve says now.

Six Living Organizations To Be Scenes of Eating And Dancing

A waffling the campus will go! This afternoon from 12 to 2 p. m. the campus will indulge in its first waffle party. It has had doughnut dunking parties and dime crawls but now the syrup will pour as the University populis display their best sports apparel at six different living organizations on the campus.

This luncheon, newly inaugurated on the campus, is sponsored by the upperclass commission of the Y. W. C. A. for the purpose of establishing a fund for sending girls, who are financially unable, to the northwest Y. W. C. A. summer camp at Seabeck, Washington.

All houses on the campus have been contacted by the Y. W. commission and have tickets for their members. Other students wishing to attend may secure tickets at the door of Alpha Chi, Chi Omega, Delta Gamma, Alpha Phi, Hendricks hall, and the men's dorm where the waffles can be secured and dancing will take place.

Evelyn Kennedy, chairman of the feed, last night announced a list of house allotments to these

The cars that are to take the party will leave Westminster house at 1 o'clock Saturday and will return late Sunday.

Older members of the party will include Rev. and Mrs. Fred Morrow from the Corvallis Westminster house, Rev. Milton S. Webber, Dean Onthank and daughter and Mr. and Mrs. Max Adams.

With Ken Roduner playing the part of Robin of Bagshot and assisting with the organization and detail of the chorus work, and an all-star cast of students and faculty, the campus and townspeople are to be treated to one of the finest exhibitions of dramatic production when "The Beggar's Opera" is presented at the Music auditorium, May 13 and 14.

The men's chorus has been in rehearsal for over a month and the organization and work is practically in shape. They portray a band of cutthroats, led by their dauntless henchman, MacHeath, played by Gifford Nash, and pre-

Ducks Defeat Oregon State Ball Club 10-7

Bill Reinhart Receives Birthday Gift

Ken Scales Is Hero of Fray; Second Game Today on Home Field

By BOB RIDDLE CORVALLIS, April 29.—(Special)—It was Admiral Bill Reinhart's birthday here today so his walloping Webfoots went out and earned the right to keep such a monicker by slaughtering the offerings of two Oregon State pitchers from all corners of the lot for a 10 to 7 win.

Bill was highly elated and reminded the players that he will have another birthday tomorrow when the Ducks play a return encounter with the Beavers on Reinhart field.

Much of the credit for the win goes to Ken Scales who hurled a nice eight-hit game and knocked in six of the ten runs scored by the Webfeet.

He doubled in the sixth with the bases full, scoring three tallies, singled again in the seventh inning for another marker, and brought in still another on a hard hit ball to second base in the final inning.

All in all Reinhart's crew connected for 17 safe bingles during the nine inning affair, to eight for the Orangem. They looked rather bad during the first five frames, both at bat and in the field, but came to life in the sixth to count four runs on a like number of hits and a pair of State errors.

Batters Tally First

It looked at the start as though the contest was going to be a tightly contested affair, for both Scales and Woodard, Beaver left-hander, hurled superb ball for the first two innings. Clarke's single on the first ball pitched was the only hit obtained by the Orange during this time.

This did not last long, however, for the big Beaver bats got going in the third when, with two out, they gathered three runs on two hits and two errors. Clarke walked on four pitched balls, stole second, and scored on Johnny Mack's Texas leaguer back of second. Johnson, the next man up, then tripled to tally Mack from first. Jensen, right fielder, then laid one down in front of home plate, which Shaneman scooped up and tossed to Chester, but the

Grounds Crew Laying Foundation at Villard

The maintenance crew of the grounds department are placing a new foundation under the east entrance of Villard hall due to the rotten condition of the original timbers.

According to George York, superintendent of grounds, the ones being removed are the same ones placed there in 1887 when the building was constructed and have served their day.

Other construction by this department includes the building of a number of new bleachers to accommodate an additional 420 spectators at the Canoe Fete to be held junior week-end.
